School Committee Bans Games of Chance At Legion Field Day

Also Objects To Lottery At Proposed July 4th Field Day At High School Athletic Grounds

The meeting of the Newton School Committee on Monday night was featured by the refusal to grant the use of Claffin Field, the athletic field at the Newton High School, to Newton Post, American Legion on July 4th next if games of chance were conducted at a field day to be held on that date. N. Irving Paterson, chairman of the Field Day Committee was present and explained to members of the School Committee details of the proposed "field day" next July 4th. Sixteen booths would be operated by various veteran organizations, auxiliaries and junior organizations. Full particulars of the activities of each booth were not given. Mr. Paterson, however, did inform the School Committee that it is planned to conduct a "Beano" game at the field day, and also a "Mouse" game. In the latter game there is a board in which are many holes, each numbered. Displayed to view are prizes bearing numbers corresponding to the holes. A live, white mouse is liberated and permitted to scamper over the board to enter whichever hole it chooses. Tickets have been sold, and the person holding the ticket bearing the same number as the hole which the mouse enters, draws a prize.

Professor Kirtley Mather, as chairman of the School Committee, told Mr. Paterson that while he favors entertainment for children on July 4th, he would oppose the use of any school ground for games of chance or lotteries. The other members of the committee unanimously concurred with Mr. Mather. Mr. Mather and his colleagues on the committee also told Mr. Paterson that they would not countenance the sale of tickets at the field day for the raffling of a Ford sedan, an electric refrigerator and a radio, as has been planned. Paterson told the committee that the tickets for these raffle prizes would be designated as donations and that the Chief of Police had stated that by doing this, the conduct of the lottery would be legal. Mr. Mather said that this method is a plain circumvention of the law. He asked Paterson if he does not think that the American Legion should abide by the laws of this State? Mather commented that it is not a good plan for the American Legion to break the laws or circumvent them in a way that would be transparent to any intelligent person. It would not be conducive to respect for the laws of the land to turn over the property of the city for a use that is obviously in violation of the law. Mr. Mather said that it is the duty of the School Committee to look after the morals of the children, and that to permit lotteries or games of chance would demoralize the youth of the land.

Mr. Paterson said that most of the games proposed at the field day involve skill and the "mouse game" was largely fun. He stated that Newton Post, A. L. depleted its welfare fund by contributing to the relief of individuals and various philanthropies, including flood relief. Mr. Paterson said the Chief of Police has given his approval to the field day and its planned activities. Chief Randlett of the Fire Department has put his O. K. on the fireworks exhibition to be given at night, and Supt. of Playgrounds Hermann had stated that only minor damage will be done to Claffin Field. He said that no outside promoters will be allowed at the field day, all activities will be conducted by local people and the money contributed by those attending will remain in this city.

The School Committee called attention to the fact that Supt. Hermann of the Playgrounds has sent them a communication stating that no gambling or games of chance will be permitted on Newton playgrounds. The committee laid the application of the Legion Post on the table and it was stated that the use of Claffin Field will be granted if the features in connection with the proposed field day are eliminated.

New Job In Newton Health Department

A new position has been created in the Newton Health Department—that of "laboratory technician." For the past few years the laboratory work of the department has been done by Koble Perine who is also the agent of the Board of Health. Up to the past few years the work was performed by Dr. Arthur Hudson of Newton. Last July, following the tie-up between the Newton Health Department and the Harvard School of Public Health, a young woman laboratory technician has been assisting in this work at City Hall and her salary was paid by funds provided through the medium of Harvard. In this year's budget the sum of $1200 was provided for the assuming by the city of this salary.

The Newton Health Department has applied to the State Civil Service Commission for names of persons who are certified to be appointed to the position. If no names are received, it is probable that Miss Grace Farrell, who resides in Milton, and who is now serving as laboratory technician for the Newton Health Department, will continue in this work. She is a graduate of Mass. Inst. of Technology.

Welfare Concert Of Newton Post, American Legion

Newton Post No. 48, American Legion, will conduct its Eleventh Annual Welfare Concert at the Newton High School Auditorium on Thursday and Friday evenings, May 7 and 8.

For the past several weeks a large committee, headed by J. Sherman Irving, have been making arrangements to make this year's entertainment the most successful one which the local Post has ever staged. During the past winter the Post Welfare Committee has had many calls to assist needy veterans and their families and at the present time the local legionnaires are endeavoring to replenish the Welfare Fund. This show is staged each spring and all revenue is used solely for welfare work.

The entertainment this year will consist of eleven acts of vaudeville and entertainment, with some of the famous radio stars appearing in the acts; in addition to these prominent entertainers such popular young stars from Newton as Little Clair Silva, clever singer and dancer, with little Jeanne Kerr, the Collins Sisters, and Adele Neff, famous radio entertainer, will also appear on the program. Elizabeth Beamer will feature in Hawaiian dances, and Tom Wall, baritone, will render several popular numbers. The patrons of the show are promised a two and a half-hour program of comedy, entertainment and music.

The committee in charge is composed of J. Sherman Irving, Chairman; John B. Foley, Treasurer; N. Irving Paterson, program; Harold Bailey, Clifford S. J. White, Harold D. Ames, Dr. Thomas F. Dowd, and Richard B. Capstick. Russell I. Francis and Ernest Carver will have charge of the stage arrangements, with Harry McPhee serving as Chief Usher.

Annual Meeting Of Newtonville Library Asso.

The first annual meeting of the Newtonville Library Association Inc., was held at the Newtonville Woman's Club Monday evening for the purpose of electing trustees and officers for the ensuing year and hearing the report of progress to date on the new branch library for Newtonville. George W. Taylor, the president, presided.

Charter and active members present included sixty or more interested citizens who have made possible the payment of $2500 on the old Newton Club property at the corner of Walnut st. and Highland ave. which is to be the location for the future library building. Money given to date was advanced for the purpose of gaining title to this property.

Mayor Childs was present and expressed his interest in the plans. He especially paid tribute to John R. Prescott, one of the trustees, who has written a history of Newton which will be on sale at some future date, the proceeds to go to the library fund. Other speakers included Charles R. Cabot, Paul E. Ellicker, John S. Whittemore and Julius Lucht, chief librarian of the city.

Fred C. Alexander was chairman of the nominating committee and the following officers and trustees were elected, the president and vice-president to be elected later by the trustees: George L. Brooks, Charles B. Breed, Fred C. Alexander, Warren K. Brimblecom, Charles R. Cabot, Mrs. Edwin P. Crawe, Paul E. Ellicker, Mrs. Albert P. Everts, J. P. Gallagher, Mrs. Gorham Harris, Adam Haug (treasurer), William D. Hayley, James C. Irwin, Charles R. Lynde, W. A. MacCormick, Miss Margaret McGill, Mrs. Leroy M. S. Miner, H. W. Orr, I. O. Palmer, William B. Phelps, John R. Prescott, Mrs. Ernest P. Railsback (clerk), George W. Taylor, Rupert C. Thompson and John S. Whittemore.

Police To Discard Sam Browne Belts

The Sam Browne belts which became an adjunct to the uniforms of Newton policemen a few years ago are to be discarded on May 1. The city went to considerable expense in purchasing the belts. It was contended that they would give the policemen a more snappy appearance, and that the belts were needed to support the heavier, modern revolvers with which the Newton department was equipped a couple of years ago. The leather harness which composes a Sam Browne belt has not been popular with a large percentage of Newton policemen, especially the older men whose waist lines project out to a considerable degree. The shoulder straps have been uncomfortable, particularly in warm weather. It is also argued that wearing the revolvers outside their coats places policemen in jeopardy because a person being arrested can grab the weapon. It is also contended that a person being arrested can get a grip on the shoulder strap of a Sam Browne belt, to the decided disadvantage of the policeman making the arrest.

New Police Reserve Force Created

A reserve force for the Newton Police Department was again established this week by Chief Hughes with the approval of Mayor Childs. For some years such a reserve force was in existence, but under Mayor Weeks' administration it was abolished. For the past couple of years the need of such a reserve has been very apparent. No men were available to take the places of regular policemen who were off duty because of sickness or suspensions.

The 10 men appointed to the reserve force in order of their ratings on the eligible list for regular appointments are: Edward Hickey, 168 Nevada st.; Henry Bell, 50 Charlesbank rd.; Charles Lynch, 70 Cottage st.; Thomas Concannon, 14 Wyoming rd.; John Powers, 21 Crescent st.; Joe McDevitt, 15 Maple ter.; Leo Gagnon, 73 Dalby st.; Martin Greeley, 14 Nonantum place; Thomas McEnaney, 121 Highland st.; Francis Barry, 256 Webster st.

Woman Burned To Death At Newton

Mrs. Robert H. Reece, 33, of 6 Country Club rd., Oak Hill, was burned to death shortly before 2 o'clock this morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Ingels, 34 Elliot Memorial rd., Newton. A telephone alarm was received at 1:57 at fire alarm headquarters and at 2:09 an alarm was sent in from Box 83. Mrs. Reece had been visiting the Ingels' home last evening and decided to remain there for the night. Her husband and young daughter, Marietta Reece, were at their home in Newton Centre. Mr. and Mrs. Ingels, who occupied a chamber adjoining that occupied by Mrs. Reece, escaped from the burning house by a rope ladder which was dropped from the roof of a sun porch. Josephine Wynn, a domestic at the Ingels' house was asleep in her room on the first floor. She was awakened by Mr. Ingels. When the firemen entered the burning room they found Mrs. Reece on the floor near the bed. She was taken to the Newton Hospital and pronounced dead. The damage to the house is estimated at about $2500.

Fined $50 For Drunken Driving

Appolit Bronowicki of 216 River st., Waltham, was fined $50 in the Newton court on Monday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested on April 5 at Walnut st. by Patrolman Lawrence Murphy after his car had hit the rear of another automobile which the policeman had stopped. George Peters of Boylston st., Upper Falls, was fined $50 in the Newton court yesterday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. Peters said he had only drunk three glasses of beer before being arrested on April 21 by Patrolman Mullen.

Newton Voters Go Strong For Gov. Landon At Primary Held Last Tuesday

Pres. Roosevelt Gets Practically All of Preferential Votes Cast By Democrats—24 Per Cent of Voters Go to Polls

At the election on Tuesday only 7362 of Newton's 33,000 voters went to the polls to select delegates to the national and state party conventions in June, to express their choice for presidential candidates and to elect members of the ward committees. Throughout the city Gov. Alfred M. Landon of Kansas swamped the field as the popular Republican preference for the presidency, polling nearly ten times the number of choices given former President Herbert Hoover. Landon's total was 3843; Hoover, 400; Borah, 82; Knox, 57; Vandenberg, 225; Frank, 1. A number of Republicans, 28, expressed their preference for the reelection of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. President Roosevelt received the preference of 355 Democratic votes with the names of eight others being written in by the voters. James Roosevelt received 2; Alfred E. Smith, 34; Father Coughlin, 9; Gov. Landon, 8; Gov. Curley and ex-Gov. Ely, 5 each; Borah, 3, and Vandenberg, 1.

In the contest for Republican district delegates to the national convention, Maynard Hutchinson received 5539 votes and his running mate Cecil E. Fraser received 4927 to take a commanding lead over their opponents, Elizabeth Perkins, Colin MacLeod, and Curtis, who received 451, 325 and 239, respectively.

The feature of the contests for election of delegates to the State Republican convention took place in Ward 5 where seven candidates were running for three seats. Frank L. Richardson led the field with 1235 votes. The two remaining places went to John V. Spaulding with 579 and Mrs. Elsie Pullen with 576. Thomas Whitmore Jr., fifth with 510; Threshier, 488; Ring, 196. The defeat of Mr. White, actively supporting the candidacy of Henry Cabot Lodge, 2nd, for U. S. Senator against former Mayor Sinclair Weeks, is generally regarded as an indication of the latter's strength locally. Little intensive work was done, however, to bring out the vote. In Ward 2, Alderman Donald M. Hill and Miss Margaret McGill polled 806 and 714 votes, respectively, to fill the two places from Newtonville. Their opponents, Harold B. Bond and John P. Nixon, Jr., received 524 and 327 votes, respectively. In Ward 3, Rep. William B. Baker and Robert A. Whidden ran far ahead of Oliver K.

Smith. The tabulation of votes gave Baker, 933; Whidden, 854, and Smith, 212. In Ward 4, Mrs. Arthur P. Lane won over Richard Walter by a margin of 353 to 238. In Ward 6, the three delegates elected were ex-Alderman Roland A. Cordingley, Alderman Paul M. Goddard, and Mrs. Ellis R. Speare, Jr. Goddard polled 1039 votes, Cordingley 983 and Mrs. Speare 979 against 236 for Waldman and 96 for Ulin, their opponents. In Ward 1, Alderman John Barwise was unopposed. He received 214 votes against one cast for B. A. Curtis. In Ward 7, Mrs. Frances M. Henry was unopposed and received 474 votes.

Inasmuch as the delegates who were elected to the State Republican convention were selected by the various Ward committees, it is believed that the entire slate will unanimously support the candidacies of Speaker Leverett Saltonstall for Governor and ex-Mayor Sinclair Weeks for United States Senator.

Social Justice Union Can't Use Bowen School

A Newton Centre unit of The National Union for Social Justice, the organization sponsored by Father Coughlin, was turned down on Monday night by the Newton School Committee, on motion of Committeeman Bryant, in its application for the use of the basement of the Bowen School at Thompsonville, Newton Centre, for meetings. Chairman Mather of the committee said it has been the policy not to permit the use of school buildings by any organization regularly for meetings. He said he would favor the use of the Bowen School by the Social Justice unit for one meeting, but not regularly. Supt. of Schools Warren mentioned that the Underwood School at Newton is used regularly by a woman's organization for meetings.

On motion of Mr. Mather the use of the gymnasium at the Warren School in West Newton one afternoon each week by the Church School Club of the West Newton Unitarian Church for basketball practice was refused. The committee believed that to grant such use might interfere with school activities.

THE LANDON TIDE

The candidacy of Governor Alfred M. Landon of Kansas for the Republican nomination for the Presidency took a decided boost on Tuesday when Republican voters of Massachusetts overwhelmingly expressed their preference for him. However, the fact should not be overlooked that outside of one personal appearance each here by Colonel Frank L. Knox and Senator Dickinson, no effort was made to advance the cause of any candidate, except that of Mr. Landon. For some weeks supporters of the Kansan, who is frequently characterized as the "Calvin Coolidge of the Middle West" have been forming local clubs and talking his qualifications. Interest in his candidacy was further advanced the day before election by the statement of ex-Governor Alvan T. Fuller supporting him. Although the percentage of the voters who went to the polls on Tuesday is small more than eighty per cent of those voting prefer Landon. It should also be remembered that those who thus expressed their preference are those voters who are awake to the civic importance of voting and who desire to take part in the improvement of government as they see it. The results in Massachusetts will be regarded as the criterion of the political situation in the East and as the forerunner of further important developments in the political campaign now under way.

Rotary Club

The Newton Rotary Club enjoyed one of its most interesting meetings of the year last Monday when Professor C. M. McConnell interspersed humor with economics in such a way that the group never realized that they had been listening to a really serious subject for a good half hour. Professor McConnell is connected with the School of Theology of Boston University and has given a great deal of study to the Consumers' Co-operative Movement.

He said in part:

One hundred million consumers throughout the world are members of Consumers' Co-operative Societies. These societies range in size and form of organization from small groups of a dozen members to intricate producer-consumer societies like that in England which operates a tea plantation in Ceylon and a wholesale tea distributing organization for English consumers of tea. More than that there are Co-operative Commonwealths like Denmark and Sweden wherein there is virtually a Consumer State. No Danish legislator has within the memory of a living Dane called a tax payer a "baboon." It seems that the Danish lawmakers represent their co-operative constituents rather than baboons.

What is a Consumers' Co-operative Society? It is a group of consumers who have pooled their buying power and have decided to operate according to the seven principles of co-operation established by the Rochdale Pioneers in England in 1844. Briefly stated these principles are: Open membership, each member one vote, liberty to purchase through the society or outside without surrender of membership, patronage dividends, low rate of interest on shares, no credit given nor required, market price for high quality goods. These are the high points of the co-operative movement.

The recent visit of Kagawa aroused great interest in Consumers' Co-operatives. Ten thousand people heard him at the Boston Arena and other thousands heard him at other meetings in and around Boston. This Japanese leader leads all other co-operative leaders in his emphasis on the spirit of co-operation. He knows all too well what a great many others have overlooked—that co-operation comes from within and not from without. He stresses the philosophy and the broad underlying social and economic principles of co-operation and to him co-operation is a way of life.

At the heart of this movement is the principle of production of goods for use and not merely for merchandising. It does not destroy profits in industry but distributes profits to the ultimate consumer who is the pay off man on all goods. It offers to the United States a way out of some of the economic ills which have overtaken us and may forestall a violent upheaval of economic forces if gradually put in operation. But without education in the principles and techniques of co-operation there is little hope for success in this movement.

Within the framework of our political democracy there may yet be worked out economic democracy which will achieve that freedom which the forefathers aimed to safeguard by the Constitution.

Annual Meeting and Banquet

The 59th Annual Meeting and Banquet of the Newton Young Men's Christian Association will be held on Monday evening, May 4th, at the Association Building, 276 Church street, Newton.

Dr. Rex Stowers Clements, Minister of the Church of the Covenant, Boston, will be the principal speaker. Interesting reports, music and a short business meeting are other features of the program.

Eldred M. Peterson is chairman of the Dinner Committee. L. Chase Kepner, E. Graham Bates, and Marvin B. Perry have been appointed by President Frank A. Day to present names of officers for the coming year.

Free Swimming Campaign

The Newton Y. M. C. A. is conducting its annual community swimming campaign next week beginning on Monday afternoon and finishing on Saturday morning. During the week the swimming pool at the "Y" is given over entirely to the teaching of boys who cannot swim, from the schools of Newton and Watertown. Letters to parents and enrollment cards have been taken to each school. This Saturday morning the boys, two hundred and fifty or more, will come to the "Y" for a medical examination, and then will be assigned to a swimming period for each day of next week.

The physicians who will examine the boys are Dr. Theodore D. Clark, Dr. R. E. Johnson, and Dr. T. E. Brown.

The swimming instruction will be given by "Jack" Manning of the Massachusetts Humane Society who has been doing this for the past sixteen years for that organization. Each year Mr. Manning has taught at least one hundred boys to swim during the week in the Newton "Y" pool and many others have been started on their way to learn how.

Baseball

Baseball practice was started last Saturday afternoon at the Newton "Y." Practice will be held regularly now on Saturday afternoons and Wednesday evenings. Lewis C. Bills, who has coached the team for several summers, will be in charge again this season. The plan now is to carry on one team only, with that team playing in the Newton Twilight League.

NEWTONVILLE TOWNSEND CLUB

The regular meeting of the Newtonville Townsend Club is scheduled for Friday evening, May 1st, at the Club Headquarters, 283 Walnut st., Newtonville. Members from the Newtonville, Lower Falls and Wellesley clubs have been invited to attend and anyone interested in the progress of the Townsend Movement is cordially invited. There is no admission fee.

The guest speaker of the evening will be Mr. Alonzo P. Grinnell of Malden, who is very capable of giving a thorough explanation of the Townsend Old Age Revolving Pension Plan. The meeting will open at 8:15 p. m.

A recent bulletin issued by the Newton Chamber of Commerce shows that residential building activity in Newton is on the increase and that for the first three months of the year permits have been issued totalling $589,000. This figure is 36 per cent of the total for Newton and the surrounding cities and towns in the following table:

	Number of Permits	Amounts
Arlington	11	$56,700
Belmont	37	$98,600
Brookline	17	$216,000
Cambridge	4	$5,200
Needham	7	$1,000
Waltham	12	$60,500
Watertown	5	$19,400
Wellesley	32	$292,100
Newton	70	$589,000
	195	$1,628,500

These figures and comparisons are on residential building only and do not include figures on non-residential buildings or repairs. In 1935 the first three months showed 37 permits issued for a total of $308,500 making the increase more than double in number of permits and slightly less than double in total value.

For many years each spring one of the beauty spots in Newton has been at the corner of Beacon and Hammond sts., where the rock gardens on the Stimpson estate have attracted a great amount of attention. The bright colors of various moss phloxes, jonquils, and later azaleas have been outstanding. Passing this estate now stands the realization that in the future the beautiful gardens will exist no more as signs indicate the division of the property into house lots. Such is progress. Hardly a month goes by but what one notes the dissemination of another large estate which for so many years was an outstanding feature of Newton.

There will undoubtedly be considerable local interest in the recent formation of a local Guild of Book Reviewers by Mrs. Ruth Wolfe Fuller of Waban and Mr. Norman Pratt of Newton Centre. This local guild has been formed in affiliation with the National Guild and is one of over three hundred that has been organized in the past three months in forty-seven states. It represents an effort to offer honest, worthwhile, local criticism of good new books to cities and towns which do not receive much benefit from the reviews of Metropolitan book critics or the usual book advertising. It is expected that the work of each individual reviewer will tend to increase as well as help efficiently guide local reading by providing a local personal touch.

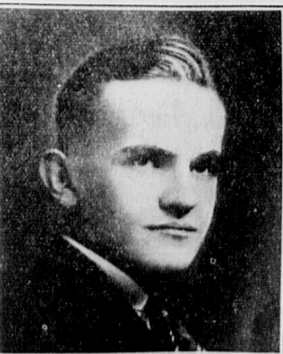

Another interesting occasion is anticipated at the monthly meeting of The Anglers Club of Newton on Tuesday evening, May 5th, at the Hunnewell Club. The guest speaker is Ben Ames Williams, the well known author and sportsman, whose talks are always keenly enjoyed by all sportsmen. This one, in which he will tell some of his interesting experiences, promises a particularly worthwhile evening, since it is expected he will also speak on a topic in which all out-of-doors people have great mutual interest—the conservation of wild life in this country.

The Anglers Club has grown from the few fishing enthusiasts who promoted it in the Fall of 1933, to a club of considerable size, consisting of fishing, non-fishing and junior members. At the present time the first-mentioned numbers, and is limited to, one hundred members. The club enjoys the exclusive rights to a pond in Norfolk which it has stocked with rainbow and brook trout, from which some excellent fishing has been enjoyed, with catches ranging from ten to eighteen inches. A spacious, comfortable shack with fireplace is at the pond for the use of members and their guests.

The promotion of good fellowship and sportsmanship, for which the club was formed, has led to the creation of the junior membership so that younger boys, both sons of members and others, may know the pleasure of fishing with the use of flies.

The Tuesday evening meeting is open to members and their guests only, and a limited number of tickets are available from club members.

With Miss Eileen McWillie of Winthrop, also selected, she will appear in the opening of a cabaret show in New York in the fall. The two girls will also go to New York for motion picture tests.

Kiwanis Club

The regular meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club, Tuesday, April 28, 1936, was well attended, those present including Ulysses G. Wheeler, former Superintendent of Newton Schools, an honorary member of the club. Mr. Wheeler told briefly of his stay in Florida through the winter, and his remarks were well received and his presence appreciated.

ALICE DIXON BOND

President Ernest Gibson introduced the guest speaker, Alice Dixon Bond. Mrs. Bond, a resident of Newton, is a graduate of Mt. Holyoke College and has specialized in literature, engaging herself chiefly in book review work, and incidentally and fascinatingly in the study of our present day authors, not only as authors but as human beings. Mrs. Bond's pleasing manner and her vast knowledge of literature resulted in a pleasant and profitable half hour, a period all too short for her interested listeners.

As a mark of respect and appreciation, the club presented Mrs. Bond with a bouquet of yellow roses at the close of her talk.

MRS. A. M. EATON
Doctor and Acconcheur

All families attended in their hour of bereavement to prepare their loved ones for the coming style.

When required, will embalm bodies by a simple French process, only intended to preserve the subject for a few days, and to obviate the use of a refrigerator and ice, so repulsive to every sensitive mind.

Mrs. Eaton has skill and experience and will no doubt be received in this Garden City with a warm welcome, as one long needed here.

Washington St., Newtonville (near the Depot).

A special meeting of the City Council was held on Tuesday evening. In the Board of Aldermen with Mayor Speare in the chair, following the reading of the journal, Alderman Fowle arose to a question of privilege with reference to the Mayor's recent veto of the report of the Water Committee, to the effect that the present mode of collecting water taxes is entirely satisfactory. The Mayor stated in his veto that the acceptance of the report would sanction an illegal proceeding, as the clerk of the Water Department, who has had the custody of the water taxes, is not bonded.

Fashion Notes

Gauze woven of metallic threads is used as the foundation for small bonnets.

Cherries, berries, hips and haws are among the newest decorations for hats and bonnets.

This summer is to be a parasol season and the stereotyped types of frames have quite gone by.

Hats have peculiar shapes this Spring; one resembles the paper bags in common use by grocers.

Silk hose in bronze are finding many friends among young ladies. These will be very pretty with pink dresses for watering places.

Some of the straw bonnets have the queerest pinched crowns. Others are in horseshoe shape, or are outlined with horseshoe ornaments.

The location of the new depot at Newton Upper Falls, intended to accommodate the people of that village, will be as expected, just where the people don't want it. It will necessitate the climbing of a long, steep hill both in going to and coming from this isolated station—over in Craft's pasture. It should be called "Hickory Cliff" station, as it will not, in any manner, be Newton Upper Falls. Had the station been placed near F. A. Woodward's residence, the hilllites would have been just as well accommodated, and the village people far better than now.

The new Champion chemical engine is expected in about 10 days and will take the place of Steamer 2 at West Newton. The Steamer will be kept in reserve. The Champion is made in Chicago and will be the only engine of its kind in New England. It weighs only 4200 pounds and will be especially efficacious in brush fires and dwelling fires. It is so light it can be taken to any point much quicker than a steamer. It cost $2000.

Miss Pray of the Mass. General Hospital has been engaged as matron of the Newton Cottage Hospital and came over the other day to look the building over. She was much pleased with the location and the excellent accommodation for patients. It is expected that the hospital will open in June and the committee is now busy selecting furniture.

It is expected that the Circuit branch railroad will commence running about May 10th.

Newton Graphic, April 28, 1911

Alderman Gray gave some pertinent facts about the liquor traffic in this city at the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen, and his figures are worthy of study. In one way it goes to show that a large majority of our citizens are rank hypocrites when it comes to voting on the license question each fall, and it would be a discreditable story if Newton were a greater distance from Boston. The solution suggested by the committee, the appointment of a special liquor officer, is worth a trial, and the results will be awaited with interest.

10 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, April 30, 1886

As democratic a gathering as ever came together in Newton assembled last Monday evening at the Hunnewell Club to do honor to Dr. Arthur Hudson, who for 50 years has been an important factor in the life of this city. Those participating in the testimonial banquet to the venerable chemist and bacteriologist constituted a veritable cross-section of our citizens. Present were men of wealth and men of humble means; men who have gained prominence in business and professions, and men who toil at trades. All were equal in one respect—their admiration for Dr. Hudson.

Edward H.

Powers' Paragraphs

The communication sent by the Newton Playground Commission to the Newton Board of Aldermen asking that measures be taken to have the extension of the Metropolitan Parkway from Watertown routed over California st., Nonantum instead of along the shore of the Charles River, will result in vigorous opposition by Nonantum residents. Many years ago the Metropolitan Park Commission (now the Metropolitan District Commission), acquired lands along the banks of the Charles for the purpose of laying out parkways. The action of the Playground Commission of Newton in recommending this drastic change without recognizing the wishes of Nonantum people, or obtaining their sentiment, is causing considerable criticism.

Two reasons have been advanced for the action of the Playground Commission. One is—that should the parkway be built along the river shore, it would prevent a proposed connection between Victory Field and the Allison Playground at Nonantum. The second reason advanced is—that a parkway would interfere with the bathing beach at Allison Playground. Victory Field is a small playground which contains a play area for smaller children and a baseball field. Adjoining it are tennis courts. Allison Playground, some distance to the east of Victory Field, covers a much larger area. It was formerly a gravel pit and because of its unimproved condition, and also because of its isolation, has not been used much in recent years for playground purposes. Several years ago Nonantum residents protested against using it as a playground because it was contended that the low, isolated nature of the former gravel pit prevented proper observation of it by police, and that young children, or even larger boys and girls should not be allowed to play there, unless the area was thoroughly supervised at all times.

California st. has for years carried a large amount of automobile traffic, much of it heavy trucking. Many serious accidents have occurred on it. A large number of young children reside along it and on short side streets leading off it. Residents of Nonantum believe that to make California st. the route of a Metropolitan parkway would add a large volume of swiftly moving traffic to the traffic which already uses the street, and that the lives and safety of Nonantum children, the residents of the district, and the hundreds of workers in the manufacturing establishments at Nonantum who use the street, would be menaced. Furthermore, the specific purpose of Metropolitan parkways would be defeated. These parkways are built at the expense of the taxpayers to provide pleasure drives along rivers, by lakes and through wooded areas.

As for a swimming beach at Allison

Playground. In the opinion of the writer, who is well acquainted with conditions in the Charles River at this point, it would be better for the children of Nonantum if they did not bathe in the river there during the summer months. There is little water in the stream at that period, the flow is negligible, and the condition of the water far from pure. Within the past summer or two, the bathing at the Metropolitan reservation in Watertown had to be stopped temporarily because of the polluted condition of the water in the Charles.

We have heard at various times the past few years about the constant improvement in the postal service. Residents of Newton have been realizing from time to time how superior the postal service is as compared with days of yore. The latest proof is the delivery (or more correctly, the non-delivery) of mail on Saturdays. Because of the rule which went into effect last year, postal employees are now on a 40 hour week. This results in some of the letter carriers not working on Saturdays. The substitutes who take their places have been ordered to deliver two routes. Not being Tarzan Brown or Clarence Mars the substitutes cannot perform the work of two men, and have been unable to deliver all the mail on Saturday mornings. This means that some people get no mail delivered on Saturdays. And Mr. Farley continues to prate about the improved postal service.

Surprises never cease. To think that J. Westcott, former Attorney General of Massachusetts, a stalwart Republican—and the oldest resident of Newton Highlands, would be holding a $7000 job as a legal advisor in Washington under the Roosevelt administration. And Mr. Farley continues to prate about the improved partisanship.

Yesterday we met Commander Charles Walker of Newton Post, American Legion, and N. Irving Paterson, chairman of the Committee on the July 4th Field Day which the Legion Post plans to conduct. Mr. Paterson was the representative of the Post who conferred with the Newton School Committee on Monday night relative to the proposed activities at the Field Day, some of which the School Committee objected to because they allegedly are games of chance. Both Mr. Walker and Mr. Paterson expressed their regret that any impression had been given out that Kirtley Mather had displayed a retaliatory spirit against Newton Post. On the contrary, Mr. Paterson said Mr. Mather was very courteous and expressed the desire to confer personally with members of the Post and arrive at an amicable agreement regarding the Field Day.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Does It Pay To Be Thin?

It is not often that circumstances dovetail as perfectly as did two simultaneous happenings of last week in my humdrum sphere. Convinced by frequent climbing on and off the bathroom scales that I was not forming with the "what you should weigh according to your height" regulations, I resolved to take prompt action. It demanded courage to say to myself, "You are too heavy by far and must reduce." I could have said it and not meant it but to be firm in the drastic step of decreasing the amount of one's calories is an effort. However, it means longer life and diet then why not? More important is the money to be saved on food. A considerable item, indeed.

As all these inspiring and stimulating thoughts were surging through my head and while I rejoiced in my strength of character, the letter carrier delivered my copy of last week's GRAPHIC. There I found the lead story dealt with an increase of $1.20 in the tax rate of Newton. "There goes the money I expected to save at the grocer's and the market, not to mention restaurants and lunch rooms." It is gratifying to think I had resolved to eat less before the city made the decision for me. But who wants to live to a healthy old age if the tax rate is going to be boosted year after year?

Keep 'Em Shining

It was not a matter of direct or immediate personal concern and yet I could not repress a feeling of sympathy for all classes of automobile owners when I read the ukase of Registrar Goodwin regarding the poor character of this year's Massachusetts registration plates. Mr. Goodwin was sympathetic, too, as his imperial command plainly showed. He told the autoists he didn't know what had got into the plates—the extraordinary weather (his own words) or the materials used in manufacture. In the very next line, however, Mr. Goodwin became stern and said in effect, "You know your plates are in poor condition and you also know that a car with those kind of plates is very likely to get the owner in trouble as plates must be clean and legible at all times. So take my tip and get some varnish and go over them and save yourself possible fine and imprisonment as well as the loss of your license."

I feel that Mr. Goodwin means business by what he says and that the public firmly believes that to be true. It will be no surprise to me the coming weeks if the air is freighted with the odor of varnish instead of the perfume of apple blossoms. And won't the demand for varnish go up? As soon as owners realize there is rust on the plates or the paint is peeling, both calamities forecast by Mr. Goodwin, they will be trundling paint pots and welding brushes to keep themselves out of jail.

Middle Ages in Newton

When in the company of books my imagination is apt to take flight whether the volumes be opened, closed or on their shelves. That may explain my sudden excitement at the main building of the Newton Free Library one day recently. Standing at the delivery desk I turned to consult the clock over the front door and beheld, as I thought, a young man walking up the side of the wall at the angle of something over 45 degrees.

Almost at once I knew I was deceiving myself. There are actually stairs built against the wall but they are screened by part of the woodwork. They lead to a room used for storage of the less frequently sought reference books. The door is in the wall and directly back of the clock. Had I been at all observant these many, many years I should have known of the existence of what is called by the library staff, "the clock room."

If you will look for yourself, you will admit there is a suggestion of medieval castles with secret passages, concealed panels, hidden chambers, etc. To me the "clock room" has the fascination of a startling discovery and I'd like some day to enter and gaze through its window on to Centre street. They say it's cold in the room because of its location right over the outside vestibule. Perhaps I'd better postpone my explorations until the weather is warmer.

It Happened in Newton

It is never safe to criticize the younger generation. Just when you think you've got something on them they prove you're wrong and at the same time make you feel foolish. As I watched the youngsters having a gay week's vacation I thought of how little there was for them to do outdoors this time of year. They seemed to be wandering about with no objective. Wrong again. It wasn't an hour later that I found that a group of resourceful rascals had evolved an ingenious plan for annoying an irascible old gentleman in the neighborhood. His new high-priced car was parked in the driveway of his home. On the side facing the street and not visible from the house the youngsters, in the fashion of automobile outdoor salesrooms had hung a sign on the door handle, "Today's Special $125."

Weeks Jr. High

The final meeting of the year of the Weeks Parent-Teacher Association was held on Wednesday evening, April 15. The principal business of the meeting was the election of officers for the ensuing year as follows: Mr. Charles E. Bailey, president; Mrs. Loretta L. Blake, vice-president; Mrs. Kate S. C. Cornell, secretary, and Mr. Ralph O. Samuelson, treasurer. The remainder of the evening was spent in touring the building, inspecting the pupils' classwork and club exhibits and in conferences with subject and homeroom teachers.

Preparations are now taking shape for two important events in May. On Friday, May 8, the Eastern Massachusetts League of Junior High School Publications will hold its annual meeting at the Weeks School, and on Friday, May 15, the annual pageant and concert by Weeks pupils will be given.

The display cabinets contain two unusual exhibits this week: one, a French exhibit, prepared by Miss Haskins' General Language class, shows models of the Eiffel Tower and of the guillotine as well as many pictures of France; the other is a Chinese exhibit showing handicraft and manufactures of China.

Warren Jr. High

The Girls' Annual Gym Meet will be held on May 11 at three o'clock. The color leaders are: Greens, Ruth Lucas, who will lead the entrance exercises; Reds, Anne Cady; Yellows, Jean Hamant; Blues, Thelma Blackey. Members of the various teams and dancing groups have been preparing for the event which is always enjoyable.

The Pops Carnival and Dance will be given for grade pupils in the afternoon of May 21 and again in the evening of May 22. Only for the evening performance will there be reserved tables. The following teachers are in charge of the "Pops": General Chairman, Mr. Regan; Entertainment, Mrs. Swartz; Decorations, Miss Miles; Publicity, Mr. Penny; Refreshments, Miss Turner; Properties, Mr. Acker.

A successful basketball season has just ended which saw 75 homeroom games played and over 300 different boys participate. The winning rooms were as follows: Jr. I—205B; Jr. II—203, 13 (tie); Jr. III—302, 115 (tie).

The intra-mural baseball league has been held up several weeks while a much needed resurfacing of the field is in progress. A small portion of the field gives some opportunity for preliminary workouts.

Our Lady H. S.Toxin Test

The children of the first grades of the Grammar School will receive the Toxin Test on Monday, May 4. The doctors will be in the building at 9 a. m.

A three hour movie matinee will be staged Saturday at 2 o'clock in Our Lady's auditorium. The feature film is "The Atlantic Adventure," starring Nancy Carroll and Frances Langford. Miss Langford is a noted singer. The co-features will be three comedies. The admission price is 10 cents. This is the second Saturday afternoon performance to be shown. Last Saturday, the noted Jimmy Durante and Les Tracy co-starred in "The Carnival." "Hold That Shark," was one of the films supporting this picture. Four other comedies were also shown. Those who attended expressed excited pleasure at this unusual proceeding and voiced their eagerness to view another performance.

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

The members of the faculty and officers of the Senior Class will be at home to the Lasell Alumnae Board this afternoon at the college.

The group of girls keeping house in Blaisdell House entertained at dinner last evening President and Mrs. Guy M. Winslow and other guests.

Judge Lynch Finds
Drunken Driving

In the Newton court last Friday Judge John Lynch of Milford found William Cody of 44 Page rd., Newtonville not guilty of drunkenness and driving a car while under the influence of liquor. Cody was arrested on April 1 by Patrolman Davis and Slavin. They testified they had observed the defendant operating his car in an unsteady manner and that he was drunk. Patrolman Earle of the Boston police testified that about 15 minutes before the Newton police arrested Cody, he had questioned the defendant after Cody's car had collided in Brighton with another automobile, and that Cody was not drunk. The driver of the other car involved in the collision also testified in Cody's defense. It was contended that the reason for Cody's car traveling zigzag was because it had been damaged in the collision.

At the same session of the court Judge Lynch found Clark Hodder of Framingham not guilty of driving a car while under the influence of liquor. Hodder was arrested at 1:20 a. m. on April 14 at Lower Falls by Patrolman Riley. Riley's testimony was substantiated by Serg. Bannon and Patrolman Geggan. Hodder testified that he had officiated that night as a toastmaster at a banquet in the Hotel Manger, Boston, had introduced about 25 speakers, had become very fatigued, and was dozing at the wheel.

LILLIAN M. PATCH

Mrs. Lillian M. Patch, of 42 Nathan rd., Newton Centre, died on April 24. She was born in Boston 73 years ago and had resided in Newton Centre for 10 years. She was a member of the First Church of Newton Centre and of the Newton Centre Women's Club. Her funeral service was held on Monday afternoon at her late home, Rev. Boynton Merrill of the Second Church, West Newton, officiated. Burial was in Mount Hope Cemetery. Mrs. Patch is survived by her husband, Dr. William T. Patch; a daughter, Mrs. Herbert P. Knowles of Worcester; and a son, Henry T. Patch of Newton Centre.

ANN K. GRANT

Funeral services for Ann Kathleen (Parker) Grant, who died last Friday at her home in Wellesley Hills, were held at the family residence Sunday afternoon. Rev. C. M. Gates, pastor of the Congregational Church, officiated. Interment was at Cape Vincent, New York.

Daughter of William A. and Kate Parker, Mrs. Grant was a native of Three Mile Bay, New York. In 1912 she was married at Albany, New York, to George R. Grant. Five years later the family came to Massachusetts, where Mr. Grant entered the legal department of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, soon becoming its general attorney. Before its removal to Wellesley three years ago the Grant home was in the Newtons.

Mrs. Grant is survived by her husband, her mother, and two sons—George Richard Grant, Jr., and Francis Howard Grant.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

By JACK MORRIS

CAMBRIDGE LATIN MARS
NEWTON RECORD 13-7

That well-worn pattern for winning baseball, timely hitting combined with errors by the opposition, gave Cambridge Latin a 13-7 victory over Newton at Dickinson Field, Newtonville, Wednesday. Three Newton pitchers were unable to mystify the Cambridge batters, and Newton infield proved porous with shortstop Bert Marrazzo on the sidelines with a cracked jaw. Newton pitchers were generous to the extent of 15 hits, and the Newton batting order retaliated with 12, including three home runs, one of which was nullified when the runner eschewed second base.

Cambridge Latin made two runs in the third inning and four in the fourth at the expense of Phil Greene, then jumped on Jack Herrick for five in the fifth, and added two more on Tornabene's pitching in the eighth. Guido Castoldi was Newton's fourth pitcher, and gave no runs in the last inning. Tornabene had some success with his curve-ball art during his three innings on the mound, but the speed-bat pitchers were pounded unmercifully. In the worst, or fifth inning, Herrick struck out three men, but mixed in one base on balls, three singles, a triple and a bean ball to allow the total of five runs.

Newton's runs came one in the fifth, three in the seventh and three in the ninth. In the seventh, with the score 11-1, Newton rallied momentarily. John Martin, who looked great as a sophomore catcher, reached first on an error, advanced on Jim Tornabene's two-bagger, and led home the parade as Ernie Savignano blasted a home run. Tornabene came up leaping and Savignano walked. Greene was safe on a field's choice, and Guido Castoldi singled to bring in two more runs. Savignano made three errors at shortstop, but hit three times, once for a home run. Clarence Cormier broke the ice for Newton with a home run smash in the fifth, and Graber and Tornabene also were belting the ball.

The defeat was the first in six games for Jeff Jones' team. Last Friday they walked North Quincy High, 19-6, scoring ten runs in a single free-flying inning. Last Saturday they came from behind after trailing, 5-0, for five innings to tie the game at 5-5. Independents, 10-6, Newton plays Rindas today at Cambridge, another league game.

TENNIS TEAM STRONG IN FIRST VICTORIES

Walter M. Taylor, coach of tennis at Newton High, had the pleasure of seeing his charges defeat Milton Academy, 9-0, last Saturday at Milton. It was the first time since 1928 that a Newton team has won on the academy's courts. On Tuesday Newton defeated Huntington School at Newtonville, 8-1.

From last year's strong team, Coach Taylor has Captain Brewster Williams, Paul Rich, Tom Slattery and Layton Mosher. Promoted from last year's second team are Bill Squier, Art Pearson and Curtis MacDowell. Jack Barry, John MacBeath, Don Manchester and Tom Dutton are others on the varsity squad. Malcolm T. Hill of Waban, once captain of tennis at Newton High and for six years co-holder of the state doubles championship, is helping on the coaching end with an occasional visit.

The last time that Newton defeated Milton Academy in tennis was in the opening match of the 1928 season, and the score was 5-1. That team was coached by Wendell F. Smith, and David Scott, later a Brown luminary, was captain. Arthur Noble, twice Canadian national junior champion, played No. 1, and was runner-up to Frank Shields in the intercollegiate final the next year at Harvard. Others on the same team were Gordon Naylor, Norman Harris, Norman Payne and Charlie Glueck.

JOE NOLAN'S KO WINS
NEW ENGLAND CROWN

Joe Nolan of Gardner st., Newton, was acclaimed the new New England amateur boxing champion in the 126 lb. class Monday night at the Boston Arena. In a special championship tournament arranged in conjunction with the inter-city bouts, Nolan knocked out John Clancy of Manchester, N. H. in the second round of their scheduled three-round final bout. Clancy had previously defeated John Patsky, Massachusetts State champion, while Nolan outpointed Mike Micalazzi of Malden in three rounds.

Joe Nolan is nineteen years old, a graduate of Newton High School in 1935, and a freshman at the University of New Hampshire. His championship victory is well-earned, since he spends his free time at Durham working in a restaurant. The special tournament was arranged when it was found that the featherweight champion was a professional, and Nolan, who had been chosen to represent Boston in the inter-city tournament the same evening, was quick to resign his place on the team and take his chances in the championship series.

ATHLETIC PAGEANT

Saturday evening, May 2, at 7:45 p. m., Troop Five of Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, will give an athletic pageant in the Newton Y. M. C. A. gymnasium.

Included in the schedule of events will be gymnastic drills, boxing bouts, wrestling matches, scouts' stunts, fencing bouts, pyramids, archery exhibit and scout drills.

The troop will be ably assisted by the Weeks Junior High School Band which in itself assures a pleasant evening for all.

NEWTON UNPREPARED
FOR WORCESTER GAMES

Newton High will send a track team to Worcester tomorrow morning for the Worcester Polytechnic Institute interscholastics, but the champions of the indoor circuit are a poor choice to win the meet. Theoretically, Newton has a stronger aggregation this spring than any of the good Newton teams which won at Worcester in 1929, 1931 and 1933, but an unprecedented stretch of rainy days has made normal practice impossible, excepting for the last few days.

"We're just not in shape," says Don Enoch, head coach of the team which swept aside all opposition last winter. "The weather has kept us from doing anything but jogging; I hadn't had a match on a boy before Monday, still, if any of the other teams have been working hard lately, they're crazy." So losing the Worcester meet will not bother Enoch much. He will go after as many points as he can figure without overworking any of his boys, and look ahead two and three weeks to the Harvard Interscholastics and the State Meet.

Wittens Off Form

Warren Wittens, low hurdles and broad jump ace who was the hero of many record-breaking victories during the indoor season, will run only the low hurdles at Worcester, handicapped by an ailing leg muscle. He is entered in the broad jump, but absolutely will not compete, says Coach Enoch. Ray Huling, who had improved last winter to the point of running even with Wittens over the low hurdles, will compete in the high hurdles and the broad jump, and should score points in both events.

Paul Forte will make his outdoor debut in the 100-yard dash in the P. I. meet, and he is expected to start in where he left off in February, when he won the State Meet sprint. Frank "Bud" Hines, sophomore hope who placed third in that same race, is coming along well, and may surprise his teammates in his first century. Jerry Allen and Bob Mather are running the 220, and Mark Cortell and Elmer Ross the 880-yard run. Paul Dussossoit is entered in both the high and low hurdles.

Newton will have no prominent quarter-milers, what with Cortell and Ross running half and mile, and Jerry Allen in the 800. There may be a chance of James "Mike" Regan's scoring in the mile. Nate Heard is ready to carry on with the shotput, although he may have to compete against Brighton's doughty Bill Gilligan, who has about two feet to spare over Newton's Class A indoor champion in that event. Heard has produced a mark of 125 ft. in the discus this spring, and anything approaching that mark will win tomorrow, which makes him a key man in Newton's bid for the title. Mark Messier, high jumper, and Bob Steinsieck, shotputter, are other scoring possibilities.

Senior Prom Tonight

To complete the list of obstacles between the track team and victory tomorrow comes the gala social event of the year at Newton High, the Senior Prom, which will be in full blast till a late hour tonight. Many of the athletes will be in the thick of it. This would call for an ultimatum from some coaches, but not Don Enoch. He has personally sanctioned the affair for the track team.

The State Relay meet, washed out at Fitchburg by the flood, will probably have to be held at Brookline High School field rather than at Dickinson Stadium as was originally planned. The date, June 6, is already reserved for graduation exercises at the stadium, and it would be impossible to hold both events on the same day. Newton High officials were eager to schedule the meet for any other open date, but the Fitchburg officials were unwilling to change the date.

Newton's track schedule follows: Sat., May 2, W. P. I. Interscholastics; Fri., May 8, Brookline at Newton; Sat., May 16, Harvard Interscholastic at Cambridge; Sat., May 16, State Meet at Newton; Sat., May 30, Amherst Interscholastic; Sat., June 6, Relay Carnival at Brookline (tentative).

TWO CHAMPS OPEN SEASON WITH WIN

The Newton A. C. champions of the Newton Twilight League a year ago, made an auspicious debut in the Suburban Twilight League on Sunday afternoon losing to the Smart Oil Company nine at Bicycle Park, Waltham, 16-15. The game was a free-hitting affair with the Newton team polling out 17 hits to 10 for the losers. "Red" Joyce and McAdams, Newton twirlers passed thirteen with Dennis of the Waltham outfit issuing eleven walks. Indelicato, Newton shortstop, hit a triple and two singles to lead the local nine at bat. Corners of Smart Oil hit a home run and two singles. McAdams also got a circuit drive. Bill Hunnefeld, former big league infielder, played a good game at second base for the Newton A. C.

CRESCENT FIVE
WINS IN TOURNEY

The Newton Crescents won the final game in the junior division of the annual basketball tournament sponsored by the Boys' Club of Boston last Saturday night defeating the Weymouth Whirlwinds by a score of 40-27. The local five is comprised of boys of the Our Lady's High School and won four preliminary round games before meeting the Weymouth quintet. In the final game Mario Marlow was high scorer with 15 points with William "Knobby" Doherty following with 11 points. George Delaney and James Doherty tallied the remaining fourteen points. Members of the team received gold basketballs and memberships in token of their championship.

Recent Weddings

HARRIS—HARTLEY

Miss Phyllis L. Hartley, daughter of Mrs. Harvey S. Hartley of Harrisville, R. I., was married to Norman E. Harris of Richmond, Va., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin E. Harris of Newton Centre, at the Calvary Episcopal Church, Pascoag, R. I., on Saturday evening, April 25. Rev. Herbert E. Dowling performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Sargent Heath of Worcester was the matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Stephen Hartley, of Greenville, R. I.; Mrs. George Harrieville, of Newton; Mrs. George Malven and Miss Dorothy Hartley, of Providence, R. I.

Frank Koerner of New York was the best man and the ushers were Alfred Page, Jr., of Richmond, Va.; Raymond Forte, Jr., of West Newton; Granville Hawes of Newton Centre and Sargent Heath of Worcester.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris will make their home in Richmond, Va.

DONNELLY—EWING

Miss Winifred Ewing of 467 Columbia rd., Dorchester, was married to F. Desmond Donnelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Donnelly of 12 Ricker ter., Newton, on Saturday, April 18, at St. Peter's Church, Dorchester.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, wore a gown of ivory satin with a train. Her veil was appliqued with orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Miss Dorothy Ewing, sister of the bride, who was her only attendant, wore a gown of dusty pink lace and carried tulle roses and delphinium. Henry Donnelly, brother of the groom, was the best man and the ushers were John Sullivan of New York, head usher; Owen Barter of Holliston, Joshua Barter of Newton and Joseph McCarthy of Somerville.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Donnelly left on a wedding trip to Washington.

Mr. Donnelly is a graduate of the Newton High School and Wentworth Institute. He is also well known as a golfer.

ALEXANDER—HARRINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. William Osgood Harrington of 53 Court st., Newtonville, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Phyllis Elora Harrington, to Dr. Leo Alexander, on April 22.

Mrs. Alexander is a graduate of Simmons College, 1930, and has been engaged in social work. Dr. Alexander is a graduate of the University of Vienna. He taught at Peking Union Medical College at Peking, China, and is now teaching at the Harvard Medical School. He is a member of the visiting staff of the City Hospital and Boston State Hospital.

Dr. and Mrs. Alexander will reside at 206 The Riverway, Boston.

MISSION HIGH EDGES
OUR LADY IN TENTH

After playing fine ball for nine innings, Our Lady's High finally bowed to Mission High of Roxbury in the 10th inning overtime by the score of 2 to 1. With the score deadlocked at one to one, Francis "Chicken" Morris, centerfielder for Our Lady's, hindered by the sun, dropped an outfield fly allowing the winning run to score in the 10th. "Chicken" made up for his error by getting two of the four Our Lady's hits off Mission's star right-hander, Tom Earley. Earley pitched good four-hit ball and with the exception of the ninth inning kept himself out of trouble.

In the ninth with two out "Chicken" Morris walloped a nice two-bagger off Earley. Choquette, playing left-field, was next up and he singled sharply to right field to score Morris and tie the score. Mission having tallied one in the fourth. The next batter up struck out thus ending the Newton rally.

Recent Engagements

Newton is still echoing with favorable comments on the Membership luncheon of the Hebrew Home for Aged which was held at the Mishkan Teffla Temple, Wednesday. By far it was the most exciting and the largest gathering this month. Mrs. M. Shapiro, toastmistress, presided at the head table and introduced the distinguished speakers, Rabbi Shubow, Mr. Jacob Rabinovitz, Mrs. S. M. Greenstein and Mr. Morris Citrin, who stirred up mental pictures of the living conditions of the old folks in the home, held the large group of listeners in rapt interest.

An additional feature was the dramatic interpretations given by Lillian Silverstine Ostrows and a group of Yiddish folk songs by Ida Werby-Neitlich accompanied by Alice Pearlman. Many faithful workers of former campaigns were present to help this luncheon come off right. Among them were Mrs. Samuel M. Davis, Mrs. J. M. Epstein, Mrs. I. Levine, Mrs. Samuel D. Saxe, Mrs. John Sessler, Mrs. L. Colmos, Mrs. C. Ford, Mrs. B. Gabelnick, Mrs. I. Goldberg, Mrs. M. Miller, Mrs. Morris Lift, Mrs. E. Wolper. Heading the affair was Mrs. M. Shapiro. In the large audience were such prominent as Mrs. A. Hurston, Mrs. S. L. Karnow, Mrs. C. Coleman, Mrs. M. Rosenfeld, Mrs. F. R. Tilebaum, Mrs. I. Barkan, Mrs. F. Levin and Mrs. S. Mishel.

Young Set Visit Capital

Cherry blossoms of the capital held a lure for over fifty of the young set of Newton and Brookline who trekked to Washington for a glimpse of the tidal basin in its spring attire and a pilgrimage to spots of civic and historical interest. Mrs. Maurice Sapers planned the tour and the group embarked last Saturday. In Washington, the itinerary included a visit to the White House, Washington Monument and the Capitol where they were greeted by congressmen. Before returning home, the group spent part of the week in New York in a round of shopping and theater going. Among those making the tour were Ruth Simmons, Bernice Mann, Edrice Freilich, Sylvia Mann, Elyse Sapers, Natalie Morse, Paula Hurvitz.

Calendar Reads

These are busy days for Mrs. Larz Anderson and her committee—for Thursday evening, May seventh a premiere of more than usual interest to socialites will be given at the Repertory Theater. It is the musical comedy "Tahiti Ho!" written by Mrs. Anderson with music composition by Pierre De Reedeet and dance arrangements by Adolph Robicheau. It unquestionably will be the most thrilling and unique comedy seen in the Hub for many years. Mrs. Anderson, who is a well known society woman, world traveler and authoress, visited the French Society Islands, where she was able to get her inspiration.

An interesting dance recital of the very near future will be that of Edouard Du Buron who will present his annual dance recital May 6th at the Repertory Theatre. Since he is a well known Boston dancer, a cordial reception awaits him at 8:30 Wednesday evening. Those planning to attend include Mrs. L. Fine, Mrs. P. Davis, Mrs. G. Wyner, Mrs. K. Cohen and Mrs. L. Weinrebe.

W. C. T. U.

The annual meeting of the Newton Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held Thursday, May 7th, at the home of Mrs. Walter Stevens, 1190 Boylston st., Newton Upper Falls. Luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock. Hostesses assisting Mrs. Stevens are Mrs. Gill, Mrs. Gould and Mrs. Nutter.

The Needham bus connecting at Newton Highlands with the bus from Lake St. passes near the house.

Lodges

Sumner P. Rebekah Lodge celebrated their 26th anniversary on last Monday evening in Odd Fellows' Hall, West Newton. Following an early meeting, a home-cooked supper was served under the chairmanship of Mrs. Tillie Harley. A number of Nobles and Vice-Grandmasters from other Rebekah Lodges were special guests. An entertainment was given by a group of young people called "The Live Wire," who presented a three-act play "In the Good Old Summer Time." Noble Grand Mrs. Margaret Keys was in charge of the entertainment.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Officers Elected, Year's Work Summarized

The Annual Meeting and Luncheon on Tuesday, April 21st, brought to a close the season's activities for the fifty-second year of the Newtonville Woman's Club. The luncheon, under the direction of Mrs. James D. Elliott, chairman of the Social committee, was well attended, and was served in the Social Hall, where the decorations were forsythia and spring flowers. The Club was honored by the presence at the head table of Mrs. Robert C. Brigham and Mrs. Joseph H. Willey, Charter members, as well as several past presidents, one of whom, Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, asked the Blessing.

There having been opportunity for voting both before and after the luncheon, the meeting convened at 2:30 o'clock, when the regular business of the day was transacted. The annual reports of the officers, except of the president and treasurer, and those of the chairmen of committees had been combined into one comprehensive report by Mrs. Wallace H. Jose, recording secretary, which she read. The separate committees, each of which has been busy with its particular affairs, have dovetailed into complete organization which has accomplished a full season's work.

Announcement was made that the Scholarship had been awarded to Miss Clara Newton Schwab, who will attend Boston University.

The treasurer's report for the year just ended showed a healthy condition of the Club's finances. Due to the wisdom and careful handling of the funds by the treasurer, Mrs. Clifford B. Whitney, and by the Finance officers, the legacy of investments left to the Club by Miss Susy A. Dickinson several years ago has been converted profitably into available funds so that the mortgage note on the Club House property has been paid. A suitable observance of this payment is being planned, and will take place in May.

Mrs. George L. Davis, who was in charge of the voting, reported the unanimous acceptance of the following ballot: President, Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson; vice-presidents, Mrs. Howard C. Thomas, Mrs. Charles J. Trowbridge, and Mrs. R. Charles Wheeler; recording secretary, Mrs. Wallace H. Jose; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ralph W. Conant; assistant corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ernest S. Tappan; treasurer, Mrs. Clifford B. Whitney; assistant treasurer, Mrs. F. Clifton Bassett; secretary of Finance, Mrs. Chester S. Merrill; and directors, Mrs. George W. Hinman, American Home committee; Mrs. Edwin P. McGill, Drama committee; Mrs. William R. Mattson, Education committee; Mrs. Raymond Tucker, Hospital committee; Mrs. Paul E. Ellicker, Program committee; and Mrs. Walter S. Brown, Social committee. The new Nominating committee is Mrs. Robert S. Bowen, Mrs. Edwin P. Crawe, Mrs. George W. Taylor, Mrs. George L. Whitehead and Mrs. Roger Wheeler. The last report was that of the president, Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson, who expressed appreciation of the co-operation of the Club members, and who included in her remarks references to the Charter members who could not attend the meeting but who sent their greetings.

Announcement was made of a Flower Show to be held on September 16th by the Newtonville Garden Club, and in which the Woman's Club will participate.

The program of entertainment was opened by the Glee Club, of which Mrs. Ernest L. Nichols is chairman. This chorus of fifteen fine voices sang a group of spring songs, under the direction of, and accompanied by, Mr. William Ellis Weston. Their selections were: "Morning," by Ole Speaks; "The Butterfly," by Cyril Jenkins; and "Take Joy Home," by Carolyn Wells Bassett.

Mrs. Edwin P. McGill, chairman of the Drama committee, directed the one-act comedy, "Elizabeth's Young Man," which was the other feature of the entertainment. The part of Miss Abigail Orr, a sedate and proper spinster, was taken by Mrs. McGill; Mrs. Paul E. Ellicker played the role of Mrs. Lucretia Lanning, her cousin; Elizabeth, her niece, was enacted by Mrs. Harold S. Rice, and Mrs. Ernest W. Kuebler was "the young man in the case." The scene was laid in the sitting-room of Miss Orr's New England home, and the situation caused by misunderstandings, and the bright lines of the script, gave the audience a jolly ending to a pleasurable day and to a pleasant and successful year of Club associations.

Newton Community Club

The Newton Community Club held their Annual Meeting and Luncheon at Channing Church on April, Thursday, 23rd.

The business meeting was called to order at 11 a. m., by the president, Mrs. Alfred Handley. Annual reports read by officers and chairmen showed a noteworthy amount of work done for philanthropy, over $700.00 having been so expended.

The Christmas Seal committee exceeded the quota set for collections. Members of the Community Service committee will have knitted, when all work is finished, seventy-nine articles for Veterans, eleven of which are afghans. Three dozen garments have been made for Welfare distribution. On recommendation of the Education committee, the Club Scholarship was awarded to Miss Harriet Church of 4 Durant street, Newton. The Inter-Racial Unity committee has helped by procuring glasses for a woman who has had defective vision since childhood, thereby changing her outlook on life, psychologically as well as actually. The Public Health committee has donated $10.00 for

Annual Meeting Combines With Luncheon, Play

The Annual Meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs will be held at the Brae Burn Country Club, Monday, May 4th. At 12 o'clock there will be a short business meeting of the Executive Board. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock, followed by reports and election of officers at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Fred G. Sandford, chairman of the Program committee, has arranged for the Auburndale Woman's Club to repeat the one-act play, "A Woman's Privilege," which they presented at their Club's Annual Meeting on April 14th. This play is a clever portrayal of a busy clubwoman, who thought for a few fleeting moments that she should give up her numerous activities and have time to "invite her soul."

All clubwomen of Newton are invited to attend the afternoon meeting, even if they cannot go to the luncheon. Penny collections to buy milk for undernourished children have amounted to over $70.00. The Art committee has held interesting exhibits in one corner of the meeting hall. These have been of value socially, as well as educationally, as they have been a friendly meeting place for groups of members. The Conservation committee gave two attractive Flower Shows; one at a mid-winter meeting, and the other this spring. The International Relations committee sponsored a Study Group which met once a month to study world affairs. The Music and Program committees have co-operated to bring to the Club outstanding programs. Eleven other committees, officers, and several past-presidents have also done their share to make the past year a most successful one.

The following officers were elected or re-elected for the year 1936-1937: President, Mrs. Alfred H. Handley; first vice-president, Mrs. Marvin B. Perry; second vice-president, Mrs. Frank H. Briggs; third vice-president, Mrs. George Lincoln Parker; recording secretary, Mrs. Raymond B. Ladoo; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ralph M. Patterson; treasurer, Mrs. Lawrence Garvin; auditor, Miss Margaret H. Aubin; and directors, terms expiring 1938, Mrs. A. Thomas Sundberg, and Mrs. Harold P. Fuller; and a director, to complete the unexpired term of Mrs. Loren D. Towle, Mrs. Alvah C. Cummings; and Nominating committee, Mrs. Kendal A. Woodrough, chairman; Mrs. Kenneth B. Backman, Miss Rose Coyle, Mrs. LeRoy Partridge Guion, and Mrs. Clarence K. Reiman.

A delicious luncheon was served at 12:30 o'clock by Seller, assisted by the Social committee, Mrs. Frank G. Dennison, chairman.

Following the luncheon, Marion Lyndon, Stylist for the R. H. Stearns Company, gave an entertaining talk on "Clothes." The first showing by her assistant, Miss Lander of West Newton, was a washable frock of green. Mrs. Lyndon announced that a dress of this color should be in evidence (Continued on Page 8)

Notable Speakers And Events For State Meeting

While the Annual Meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation does not convene until May 19th, continuing until noon of May 21st, clubwomen all over the State are making arrangements to attend these sessions which will be held as for several years, in the New Ocean House, Swampscott.

This year the Junior Membership will hold a pre-convention meeting on the evening of May 18th, at 8 o'clock, when the guest speaker will be Grace Morrison Poole. The club which won the prize offered by the division of Literature, through its department of Drama, will present the play at this time.

Mrs. Poole will also be the speaker at the opening of the first morning session of the regular meeting, taking for her subject, "Why I am Proud to be an American." In the afternoon, Kenneth Meyers, World-traveler, will address the assembly on "The European Bargain Table," and in the evening, Thomas Craven, Critic and Author, will take for his subject "Cubes and Cones."

During the Wednesday morning session, Emil Schoener will speak on "Training the Adult Blind," and will have with him his trained dog which is his "seeing eye." The department Round Tables will be in session from 11:30 to 12:30 o'clock. Dr. Joseph M. Gray, Chancellor of American University, Washington, D. C., will speak on "New Horizons in Education" at the afternoon session. Also there will be the presentation of awards by the department chairmen of Art, Conservation, Literature, Mothercraft, Motion Picture, and Press and Publicity. That evening Angela Morgan, Poet, will give a lecture-recital. The spectacular feature of the evening will be the always colorful "Processional" of chairmen, directors, and club presidents.

The meeting will come to a close on Thursday with the presentation of new officers and chairmen, and with other features that every year make the closing hours of the session interesting. George Danglefield, Editor and Critic, will give the closing address, "Opportunity Knocks for the Woman Writer."

Music arranged by the chairman, Mrs. Moses H. Gulesian, will have an important place on each day's program, and there will be many other features to be announced.

Array of Stars To Give Entertainment

A "Star Feature Radio Night," with entertainment ranging from comedy to opera, will be presented by the West Newton Community Service Club for their "Annual Glee Club Night." Those who go to this unusually attractive entertainment with eight stellar "radio programs," will not only give pleasure to themselves, but will give aid to many through the West Newton Community Service Club Chest Fund and the Burroughs Newsboy Foundation, as donations from the proceeds will be made to these worthy causes.

The artists include such famous folk as Joan Ruth, young operatic Soprano; the Irene Forte Instrumental Ensemble; "Dorothy Muriel," prominent Radio Entertainer; the imitatable Edward E. Whiting in a special feature; the talented Pianist, Mary P. Tower; the West Newton Community Service Glee Club; those taking part in the thrilling Western melodrama of "The Gay Nineties"; and the Harmonica Band from the Burroughs Newsboy Foundation; forty-five entertainers in all.

This delightful program will be given in the auditorium of the Levi F. Warren Junior High School, Washington street, West Newton, on Monday evening, May 4th, at 8:15 o'clock. The School is easily accessible, as transfers may be made to buses running along Washington street, which stop in front of the school.

Tickets may be obtained at the local Dorothy Muriel Food Shops, or from Mrs. Thomas Cooper, 22 Winthrop street, West Newton; or by telephoning her at W. N. 1688.

This "Star Feature Radio Night" should not be missed.

Juniors To Give Dance

A delightful social event planned by the Newton Highlands Junior Club is a Dance, to be given on Saturday evening, May 9th, from 8:30 to 12 o'clock, at the Parker House, Boston. Invitations have been extended to other Junior Clubs, and tickets may be purchased from any of the committee members in charge.

Miss Harriet Gray and Miss Catherine Thompson head this committee, assisted by Miss Marion Stratton, Eleanor Colony, Elizabeth Norton, Elizabeth Gallagher, Ellen Jane Cooley, Barbara Flecknor, Marjorie Bunker, Alice Thompson, and Janet Hill.

Garden Club To Have Extra Meeting

Mrs. J. Clarke, Jr., of Worcester, will address the Newton Centre Garden Club at an extra meeting in the Newton Centre Library, at 10:30 a. m., on Monday, May 4th. Her subject will be "Flowers for Fall Gardens."

FUNCTIONAL CLOTHES

You know how some dresses you see hanging on racks in stores look well enough, but you can't imagine any definite occasion when you'd wear them? We don't mean that kind. By functional clothes we mean clothes to do things in, not just to cover you—shirtmaker dresses that belong with a golf stick, tailored silks that call for a typewriter, gay prints that look exactly right on a country club porch, evening gowns that you know at a glance will hold up the stag line. That's the only kind of clothes you'll find in our shop—and they're not expensive. Come in and try us!

A Tribute To Dr. Curtis

DR. FRANCIS GEO. CURTIS

Newton mourns the loss of Dr. Francis Geo. Curtis whose devoted service of nearly half a century to the protection and conservation of the health of Newton people recently ended.

Coming to this City in February 1887, his standing as a physician was soon recognized by his appointment to the Medical Service Staff of Newton Hospital, becoming its Superintendent in 1893. In that year he was elected Chairman of the newly organized Board of Health which had been a Committee of the Aldermen and Council as far back as 1877. Soon after assuming the duties of the latter office, he commenced a vigorous campaign against offensive stables, and other nuisances which existed in some residential districts even as in primitive times, and also enforced orders to property owners to connect buildings with the newly installed sewer system. He was forceful, aggressive and uncompromising for the best interests of the City, yet practical and with that sometimes uncommon faculty of common sense personified the ideal health officer; the order and the execution were almost simultaneous, and in the few cases where resort was made to legal action, the Board of Health was unanimously sustained by the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth.

That was a period which witnessed many important Municipal improvements: the construction of Commonwealth Avenue in 1895, the widening of Washington Street and the depression of the railroad tracks in 1896-1897, the extension of the trolley system from Boston to Newton Corner in 1898, and the development of new residential districts like Waban, attracted hither many new residents, and they found the City ready and in order; Dr. Curtis had been a step ahead, and that policy characterized and distinguished his entire career on the Board of Health.

But the Doctor was something more than a health officer; he was not satisfied with the mere perfunctory exercise of the police power which is vested in a Board of Health to a greater degree than in any other department of government, he believed that the duties of that Board were also educational and advisory. He gave a practical demonstration of this by his work on contagious diseases, especially in the contagious ward of the Hospital of which he took individual charge during his service of ten years as Superintendent. His intensive study of the then dreaded disease of diphtheria, most cases of which had been fatal, resulted in the establishment in 1905 of Newton's first Laboratory for the diagnosis of diphtheria and in that year he also commenced the inspection of school children. His experiments in the cases of contagious diseases in the homes threw the first doubt upon the value of terminal room disinfection, and Newton was the first City after Providence, to abandon terminal disinfection, and to disregard desquamation as a cause of scarlet fever. Further experiments by him exploded the idea that dwelling houses transmitted the diseases of occupants, and in 1902 Dr. Curtis directed the physicians in Newton to report all cases of tuberculosis, one year before the State declared it to be a disease dangerous to public health.

While Newton has always been rated as a healthy City and its knowledge and practice of the principles of sanitation and hygiene has always been a negative virtue here, Dr. Curtis was the first to point out the danger to children in contacting contagious diseases in the schools and in 1908 he appointed the first school nurse. In a short period there was a full staff of nurses for all the schools. In 1919 he introduced the first dental clinic, then other clinics and tests, and while some criticism was heard on the ground that such activities by the City had a paternalistic tendency, a survey of the cities in the Eastern States showing Newton to be first in the preservation of child life, definitely established the success and benefit of this work.

But the Doctor climaxed this record of progressive and constructive work by the introduction or offering of free immunization against diphtheria for school children in 1928; a comparison of the records of subsequent years shows that there were ten deaths from diphtheria in 1929 and a progressive decline in the number of deaths from that disease until 1935, the last year of the Doctor's service on the Board, when there was only one death from the same number of cases, in other words fewer deaths from the same or greater number of cases.

A life work which accomplishes the saving of human life and incidentally reduces the economic cost of disease with its attendant impairment of efficiency and mental anguish, speaks to the full comprehension of every thinking citizen as something more than the functioning of a public servant—it marks the latter a benefactor of his fellowman.

While Dr. Curtis continued his service on the surgical staff of the Newton Hospital from 1903 until 1916, as consulting surgeon until 1932 and thereafter on the Staff Emeritus, he devoted most of his time to the duties of the Board of Health. Like many another City official who has given liberally of his time and talent to this City, without any thought of compensation, so with Dr. Curtis; his services for the first thirteen years were gratuitous; and in later years he accepted only a small salary to reimburse him for his expenses; it was commonly admitted that he gave a present of two thousand dollars in services each year to the people of Newton. And he managed the finances of the health department with such good judgment and economy that his budget was the ideal of the finance committees.

But it was the Doctor's standing as Charter Fellow of the American Public Health Association and as President of the Massachusetts Association of Boards of Health and its Treasurer for many years which reflected great credit upon the City; he was frequently called upon to read papers in the different medical conventions and his association with the eminent medical men and master minds in health work throughout the country was a valuable asset to Newton and gave it a prestige far beyond Newton's borders.

Newton's reputation for schools, streets and other municipal activities has been long and well established, but it remained for its Health Department through Dr. Curtis to give the City a national importance; for he left it one of the healthiest cities in the country; according to the last national census and rating prior to 1935, the cities of Bellevue, California and Newton, Massachusetts, were the two healthiest cities of that size in the United States; a fitting monument to the Doctor's noble life work, a work which gave an added lustre to the City's fine civic name as well as to the profession which he honored, and will forever associate the name of Dr. Francis Geo. Curtis with the finest traditions of Newton.

Stubborn Autoist Is Fined $30

Melvin Joyce, Main st., Winthrop, was fined $25 in the Newton court yesterday by Judge Weston for refusing to show his license to Patrolman Bibbo when asked to do so. Joyce was also fined $5 for parking within 20 feet of a street corner. On the night of April 21st Joyce had his car parked at the dangerous corner of Centre st. and Centre ave. He got thick when ordered by Bibbo to move the car and would not show his license.

Students Of High School Provide Program At Meeting Of Newton Rotary Club

Marvin Perry Reads Essay on "Youth Faces the Future"—Essay One of Prize Winners by H. S. Seniors

Members of the Senior Class at the Newton High School furnished the program for the Rotary Club last Monday at Brae Burn. Mr. Ellicker presented four students who typified various extra-curricular activities which are carried on in addition to a full and successful program of academic studies. Robert Nolan, a winner in the recent prize-speaking contest at the high school presented "Some Thoughts on Fuel" which aroused a great deal of laughter and was very well rendered.

An entirely different phase was offered by Miss Gerrie Wisback, in a very successful tap-dance specialty. She was followed by her accompanist, Miss Joan Parks, who gave a piano solo.

The final number was the delivery by Marvin Perry of his Senior Class essay, which was adjudged one of the ten best. Mr. Ellicker explained that each member of the Senior Class is required to write such an essay before graduation and that the production must be strictly the result of his own thinking and his own experience; that is, it must be entirely original. The courage and optimism and vision reflected in this essay make it of extreme interest to any adult in these somewhat perplexing times.

YOUTH FACES THE FUTURE

"So nigh is grandeur to our dust,
So near is God to man,
When Duty whispers low, THOU MUST,
The Youth replies, I CAN."
—Emerson.

History offers no period richer in opportunity or more torn with passion than that to which modern youth falls heir today. These two factors, opportunity and passions, are in order our mightiest ally and our most potent foe. They are the forces which will ultimately determine the destiny of future history.

There are those of the older generation who pity modern youth,—pity them because of the turbulent world they must face, and for the seemingly overwhelming odds they must overcome to right it. There are others of the same generation, and let us hope they are in the majority, who encourage and envy modern youth,—envy them because they, themselves, did not enter a world so rich in opportunity and so desperately in need of honest, courageous men and women to improve and govern it.

Such are the two attitudes held concerning modern youth. Let us dismiss the former at once and advance to the defence and furtherance of the latter.

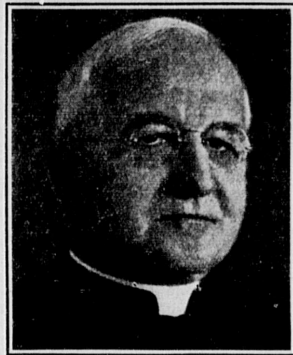

Youth has ever been noted for glorious conquest and achievement. History is full of the accomplishments of young men and women. At twenty-nine Michelangelo had completed his magnificent statue of David, and at thirty-three he began his now immortal ceiling of the Sistine Chapel. The divine Raphael, in the thirty-seven years of his life created such masterpieces that today he is regarded with Michelangelo, as the greatest painter of the Renaissance.

In his thirty-three tumultuous years Alexander marched out of obscure Macedonia and conquered the known world. At seventeen, Joan of Arc led her countrymen to victory at Orleans, and thus established her undying supremacy in the hearts of all true (Continued on Page 5)

Anniversary of Nonantum Parish

The Parish of St. John the Evangelist in Newton will celebrate its 25th anniversary next Saturday and Sunday, May 9 and 10.

Instituted in 1911 by His Eminence, Cardinal O'Connell, Archbishop of Boston, as a parish for the French-speaking residents of Newton, with Rev. Joseph E. Robichaud, present pastor, as its first parish priest, it has grown in twenty-five years to be a well-appointed unit of the Archdiocese.

cess, boasting of a creditable church and rectory, a model eighth-grade school accommodating 400 children, and an attractive Sisters' convent.

The festivities will begin Saturday morning, May 9, with Mass and Holy Communion for the children of the parish, followed in the course of the day by a program of entertainment, games, refreshments, etc., for them.

Sunday morning, May 10, a solemn high mass will be sung by the pastor, Rev. Joseph E. Robichaud, with an Occasional sermon preached by Rev. J. Eugene Frechette of St. Mary's, Marlboro, a former boy in the parish.

The festival will close that evening with the Silver Jubilee Banquet in St. John's School Auditorium, which will serve as a reunion of past and present parishioners, as well as of friends of the parish.

Among the distinguished guests who are expected to attend are Rev. John B. Labossiere, Dean of the French-speaking clergy of the Archdiocese of Boston; Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Judge Raul H. Beaudreau of the Superior Court of the Commonwealth; Rev. John J. Sheridan, pastor of Our Lady, Help of Christians Par-

Newton Horse Show Saturday, May 16

At the home of Mrs. Arthur C. Walworth last evening the final plans for The Newton Horse Show, which is to take place on Saturday, May 16th, at the Newton Centre Playgrounds, were made. This is to be the Fourth Annual Show for the benefit of the Newton Mayor's Relief Fund and the Young Women's Christian Association.

Twenty-nine events are on the program, which will run from early morning until late afternoon. A novice saddle class, pair jumpers, and a musical chair class have been added to the printed list that was circulated last week. Lunch will be served on the grounds at noon.

The Playground Department of the city is co-operating in preparing the grounds for the occasion. Bleacher seats will be provided in addition to about one hundred boxes. The general admission charge will be 50c.

Among those who already have taken boxes for this year's show are: Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz Muther; Mr. and Mrs. G. Horace Williams; Mr. and Mrs. George Willard Smith; Mr. and Mrs. Morton C. Tuttle; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Nawn; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Churchill; Mr. Fred L. Morgan; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Madden; Mr. Eben H. Ellison; Mr. Frank McElwain; Mr. S. M. Paterson; Mr. E. Ray Spear; Dr. and Mrs. John Correa; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Pratt; Mr. and Mrs. John Tomb; Dr. and Mrs. LeRoy Miner; Mrs. H. J. Farrington; Mr. Donald Holbrook; Mr. and Mrs. Gardner C. Walworth; Mrs. David K. Horton; Miss M. Louise Walworth; Mr. and Mrs. B. Alden Thresher; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pich; Mr. and Mrs. Albert P. Everts; Mrs. Morris La Croix; Dr. and Mrs. Bancroft Beatty; Dr. and Mrs. Karl T. Compton; Mr. and Mrs. Lucius E. Thayer; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Goddard.

ish of Newton; Hon. Adolphe Robert of Manchester, N. H.; Very Rev. L. G. Bachand, O. M. I., Provincial of the Oblate Fathers of Mary Immaculate.

Arrangements for the anniversary observance are being made by the members of the Parish Conference of St. Vincent de Paul, which includes the two altar boys who served Fr. Robichaud's first parish mass twenty-five years ago. The members of the committee are Conrad Larose, Francis Kennedy, William Marchand, Thomas Frazer, William Cormier, J. Edward Theriault, Henry Martin, Joseph Frechette, Charles Blouin, and Wilfrid Samson.

Propose $1 Fee For Store Awnings

At the meeting of the Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night Alderman Hill of the Licenses Committee presented a recommendation that the ordinance relating to awnings and marquees over sidewalks in this city be changed. At present the ordinance reads that no awning shall be less than 9 feet above a sidewalk. This ordinance has not been enforced and numerous complaints have been received from persons whose heads or hats have come in contact with awnings not over 6 feet, and sometimes less, above sidewalks. According to the proposed change awnings would have to be at least 7½ ft. above sidewalks. Hill commented that such a height will be practical for both storekeepers and pedestrians. It is also proposed to charge a fee of $1 for each awning permit granted. This is to pay for a metal tag which will be placed on the awning by a city employee to show that a legal permit has been issued for the awning.

Alderman Akins asked if any other place in the world charges a fee for an awning. He said such a fee is not fair and he raised a charter objection against it. President Floyd said the objection did not hold. Akins then moved that the order be laid on the table and his motion was carried.

Waban Youth Badly Injured in Crash

Fred L. Lamb, 19, of 46 Pine rd., Waban, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lamb, was critically injured Tuesday night when the motorcycle he was riding collided with an automobile at Vassar st., Cambridge. Lamb, a student at Mass. Institute of Technology, had borrowed the motorcycle from a classmate. He was following a truck which suddenly stopped. The motorcycle swerved out and collided head-on with a car driven by Felice Pollicoro of Medford. Lamb received severe wounds on his head, arms and legs. He was taken to the Cambridge Hospital where it was necessary to take 60 stitches to close the wounds.

Charged With Drunken Driving

Michael Nuno, 22, of Carlisle rd., Newton Centre, was arrested Saturday afternoon by Patrolmen Green and MacMahon charged with driving a car while under the influence of liquor.

Finance Committee of Newton Aldermen Presents Critique On City Departments

Unusual Procedure At Meeting of Board Monday Night—Several Members Assert Politics Behind Report

For the first time in memory the Finance Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen at the meeting on Monday night submitted to the full Board a lengthy report based on observations of the committee on the efficiency or lack of efficiency of various city departments. The report contained a number of recommendations, it was read by Alderman Bowen, chairman of the Finance Committee, after the regular business of the meeting had been concluded.

Following the reading of the critique by Alderman Bowen, a motion was made by Alderman Colby that the report be accepted. Alderman Rawson seconded the motion and commented that the report—"Is a marvelous job." Alderman Akins objected to that part of the critique referring to the police department. He said that Newton has as good a police department as any city in the State, that the Chief and Captain are functioning well, and that corrections have been made in the conduct of the department since the beginning of this year. Alderman Brocklesby agreed with Akins.

Alderman Cronin said that it was the first time in the history of the city that such a report had been made and he asked the reason for it. He said there must be some reason unknown to some of us, and it is the first knowledge he had of it. Cronin asserted the report should be laid on the table until the Aldermen had some opportunity to study it—to punch holes in it where such action is warranted, or to praise it. He suggested that heads of departments should sit in at meetings of the Aldermen as they did in former years. He commended City Solicitor Bartlett for doing this. He commented that he never saw Supt. of Playgrounds Hermann at the Board meetings. He moved that the report be laid on the table. Alderman Temperley said he thought the report was excellent, but he said the paragraph which stated that for 2 years no water had been purchased from the Metropolitan District system is not correct.

Alderman Guzzi took exception to the praise given in the report to the Public Works Department. He said this department did not show efficiency in the construction of the sewer at Charlemont, much of which became defective and had to be replaced at a cost of $33,000 to the city. Guzzi said the report should be gone over item by item. Alderman Cronin said the slam in the report against the WPA was directed against excellent Federal servants who have brought sunshine into lives of people in distress. Cronin asked the Finance Committee of the Newton Aldermen what alternatives they have to offer in place of the WPA? He said—"What is the real purpose of this document; what is to be gained by it?"

Alderman Rawson commented—"This Board is getting more and more like the United States Senate." Rawson asked that the question be voted on. The Aldermen voting to accept the report were—Barwise, Bowen, Colby, Floyd, Goddard, Hill, Hutchinson, Inches, Jamieson, Lyon, McCabe, McKay, Melcher, Rawson, Schipper, Temperley, Walker. The Aldermen voting against the report were—Akins, Brocklesby, Cronin, Guzzi.

The report follows:
To the Board of Aldermen:
The Finance Committee in its consideration of the budget went over all departmental matters in great detail with the heads of the departments and as a result, there are certain comments which the committee would like to make to the full board.

We believe that, as a whole, the taxpayers of the city can congratulate themselves on the type of men who are at the head of our city departments and are responsible for the operation of the city's business, but over a period of time, as in any business, certain conditions arise that need adjustment and are often more easily (Continued on page 5)

THE FINANCE COMMITTEE REPORT

The action of the finance committee in presenting a report of the condition of various departments of the city has provoked considerable interest. There are two angles from which the citizens of Newton might review this report. Subconsciously and perhaps unthinkingly, many persons will assume that the report is a political move aimed at the embarrassment of Mayor Childs. There is naturally the argument that no such report was made during previous administrations and there is the argument that opposition to the report was most vigorously expressed by members of the Board of Aldermen who were most active in support of Mayor Childs last fall. Both of these arguments become fallacious when the matter is viewed in the proper light.

Commendatory of numerous departments the report also criticizes with more or less severity various phases of public services. The WPA and the police department come in for the greater share of this criticism. It should first be understood that if such criticism is justified it is because of conditions which existed months ago and not from conditions which have arisen since Mayor Childs took office. Mayor Childs' inaugural address expressed the desire for a speedy increase in the efficiency of the police department. During the first four months of this year criminal arrests have greatly exceeded the total criminal arrests of the entire year of 1935. This fact indicates steps are being taken toward such improvement. As for the WPA, there will ever be the difference of opinion as to whether the burden of welfare should be a local proposition or a national question. It is further apparent that there can be no progress without change and if such changes are to be for the best interests of the city conditions must be continually or periodically studied.

With this in mind it is comparatively easy to divorce the political aspect from the sound reasoning which we believe prompted the presentation of the report. The proper way to view the problems to which such a report directs attention is not in the spirit of finding fault, but in the spirit of finding better ways in which to accomplish the purposes of the departments in question. The finance committee in consideration of the detailed expenditures of all city departments has a more intimate knowledge of the workings of each department than has any other committee of the Board of Aldermen. With the co-operation of the Mayor of the City, no matter who he may be, a similar report each year can be developed into an instrument of infinite value in promoting the best interests of the city.

YOUTH AND THE FUTURE

There are those who pessimistically proclaim at the dark future that the youth of today will face tomorrow. We decry the huge burden of taxation which apparently will rest upon their shoulders. We fear for the future peace of the world. We strive diligently to build character and to improve the moral calibre of today's children that they may be capable of meeting the problems that we have failed to solve and that we will pass on to them. Recently the question of youth and the future was the subject of a prize winning essay of a Newton High School student, Marvin Perry. This essay gives renewed hope that all our efforts will not be in vain. It is worth the time of everyone to read this essay, printed in another column. Coming from the pen of a high school senior is the feeling of confidence, of vision, an eagerness to get into the fray and to carry the banner of youth on to victory. Let the pessimists complain, let the doubters doubt. Youth stands ready and unafraid to take up the burdens laid down by those who go before.

MOTHER'S DAY

"All that I am or hope to be I owe to my Mother." Such is the thought and inspiration that exemplifies this coming Sunday, May 10th—Mother's Day. Only a moment's reflection is necessary to become aware of the tremendous influence exerted by the mothers of those who have played a most prominent part in the progress of civilization and the development of the arts and sciences which characterize our present day life. How much encouragement, training and endeavor was exerted by the mothers of such famous musicians, scientists and statesmen, whom we honor and revere, we have no means of knowing. We know, however, that Mother deserves every bit of honor and reverence that can be accorded her. Don't forget Mother on Sunday.

Following nearly eighteen years of loyal service as pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church of Newton Rev. and Mrs. Newton A. Merritt were tendered a farewell reception in the church parlors last Thursday evening April thirtieth. Rev. and Mrs. Merritt were assisted in the receiving line by Mrs. George M. Willmarth, president of the Woman's Association and Mr. Frank W. Chase, the senior deacon. During the evening Mr. J. William Blaisdell in behalf of the members of the church and congregation presented a purse of money. Other gifts were a travel diary and a book containing signatures of the parishioners and guests. Music was furnished by Mr. and Miss Seifolt of Allston and palms, potted tulips and spring flowers decorated the rooms. Mrs. P. Edward Eden was chairman of arrangements, assisted by Mrs. George M. Willmarth, and Mrs. Harold T. Robinson in charge of ushering and Mrs. George E. Rawson in charge of serving. The pourers were Mrs. Earle C. Hochwald, wife of the acting minister and Mrs. J. William Blaisdell, Mrs. C. V. Moore and Mrs. Chester W. McCaul. With the best wishes of their many friends both in the church and in the community, Rev. and Mrs. Merritt left Saturday for two weeks in Ohio, to be followed by a summer spent in Europe.

Greater Boston audiences will have an opportunity to hear the famous labor leader and member of the English Parliament, the Right Honorable George Lansbury at a two-day Peace Conference to be held in Boston, May 18 and 19. Among the residents of Newton working for the success of the Conference are James H. Lewis, Mrs. John A. Groves, Frederick L. Anderson, Richard B. Carter, Mrs. Paul H. Drake, F. J. Fessenden, Rev. Randolph S. Merrill and Rev. George L. Davis.

The regular annual meeting of the Mass. Commandery of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States was held at the State Armory on Washington street on Wednesday evening. Captain Frank L. Nagle of Kirkstall rd., Newtonville, was elected junior vice-commander. Others elected included Major General Malvern Hill Barnum as Commander and Prof. Albert Bushnell Hart of Harvard as senior vice-commander.

An exhibition of the Art Department of the Newton Public Schools will be held at the Newton Centre Women's Club on May 12, 13, 14—afternoons from 2:00-5:00 o'clock—evenings 7:00-9:00.

The drawings, paintings, and activity work will show the scope of the art course from the first grade through senior high school and will illustrate the close correlation with the units of work in the elementary schools.

The exhibition, consisting of every-day class room work has been executed by the pupils and shows their conception of the place of art in school life. Demonstrations of activity work and drawing and painting by pupils will take place at each visiting session. Incidental music will be furnished by talented pupils from the high school and junior high schools.

Creative work with children is limited by their experiences and while sometimes crude from the adult standpoint, it illustrates fundamental conceptions which may develop into real art.

Modern education encourages expression rather than repression and no subject is this more evident than in the field of art. Considerable integrated work, a stimulus for social studies will be displayed.

Parents and all others interested in education are cordially invited. They will find much to surprise them as well as to enjoy in this exhibit of pupils' work. Teachers of art, who will act as hostesses, will be pleased to discuss with visitors the aims and the development of the work. Miss Emma P. Lennan, junior high school art supervisor, is chairman of the exhibition.

Last Friday at the Superior Court in Cambridge a hearing was held before Judge Hanly on the petition of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Quinn of Kensington st., West Newton for a permanent restraining order against Percy Woodward, owner of the Albemarle Golf course to have the second green on the course abolished. The Quinns have been bothered by golf balls hitting their home. The judge suggested that the owner of the golf course change the location of the second green and this was agreed to.

Former Mayor Sinclair Weeks will be the principal speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Republican Club of Boston on Tuesday evening, May 12th. The meeting will be held at the Hotel Fritz Carlton at 1138 Boylston st., Boston, at eight o'clock with President Roger Lutz of Newton Centre, presiding.

Masher Assaults Newton Woman

Mary Richards, 26, employed as a domestic at 83 Church st., Newton, was brutally assaulted about 1:30 Sunday morning by an apology for a man who had followed her after she had alighted from a bus. After attempting to kiss the girl, her assailant hit her a terrific blow on the face, stunning her. She described him to the police as between 20 and 25 years old and about 5 feet, 6 inches tall. He wore a brown suit and hat.

Annual School Music Festival

The annual music festival of all the bands, drum and bugle corps of the Newton public schools will be held at Clafin Field, Newtonville on Tuesday, May 12th at 3:30 p. m. At 2:45 the various units will leave the high school for a short parade. The route will be over Elm rd., Lowell and Highland aves., Walnut st., Washington Park, Park pl. and Cabot st. back to Clafin Field. Following a short rest period, the program will commence. In case of rain the festival will be held on Thursday afternoon, May 14. No admission is charged, there will be no reserved seats, and everyone is welcome to attend.

The feature number of the program will be the selection "Where is My Love" from "Rose of the Rancho" which will be played on 100 trumpets and cornets, with accompaniment by the High School Band. There will also be a demonstration of baton twirling and marching by a selected group from the drum-major classes.

"HURRY! HURRY! TH' BEEG SHOW IS STARTING—G—G—G—G!"

Road To Adventure—Bruce

Experiences of a boy who joined the circus in Australia.

Big Tent—Canfield.

How Ab and Andy, two little orphan girls who are lost, see a circus inside and out.

Fortune's Caravan—Jean-Paval.

The gay pictures and spontaneous little story show a way of giving the reader the feeling that he is present as an observer at all the important events and that he is well acquainted with the inn, the caravan and the circus tent.

Scotch Circus—Powers.

The story of Nairn's Wonders, a traveling Scotch circus, and of Tammas, the youngest member of the family who succeeded in getting his father's consent to leave the show and go to school. The author is said to have spent a summer in Scotland with just such a show as Nairn's Wonders.

Powder—Averill.

The story of a frisky white pony who lived in France, and how he ran away and joined a circus.

Spunky—Hader.

Wait for William—Flack.

Very appealing text and pictures will introduce a small boy and relate his thrilling experiences when he rode on the elephant's back in the circus parade.

Circus Boy—Bunn.

Little Tim, born to circus life and the love of animals, rescues a wild bear cub while visiting at his grandfather's farm in Minnesota, and trains him to perform tricks. Tim later becomes a real trainer and a trooper.

Toby Tyler—Otis.

Toby, a small red-haired boy, runs away to the circus because he thinks he has to work too hard for Uncle Dan. But he finds out that the circus is not all fun, and is glad after ten weeks to get back home.

Wonderful Locomotive—Meigs.

Tells how "44" brought in the circus train.

Circus Fun—Smart, Weimer & Hawthorn.

Dapples of the Circus—Hawkes.

Fairy Circus—Lathrop.

An exquisite picture book with its droll faeries, astonishing field mice, belligerent squirrels, and obliging fireflies. A gay panorama of the circus appears on every page.

Doctor Dolittle's Circus—Lofting.

When Dr. Dolittle returned from Africa with the Pushme-Pullyu and decided to exhibit it with a circus, the excitement began.

Jungle Joe, Pride of the Circus—Hawks.

From Newton Republican, May 12, 1877

Newton Centre had a genuine sensation last week in the robbery at the house of Harrison Prescott where $20,000 in money and bonds was stolen. It appears the thief coolly made an examination of the property, and all that was worthless he threw away before leaving the grounds, including a small safe which he had pried open to find it contained only valueless insurance papers. The coupon bonds were all that he retained. The bonds were purchased from the First National Bank of Cambridge, and Mr. Prescott believes that with the assistance of the officers of the bank he will be able to checkmate the thief. He has offered a reward of 40c on the dollar for the recovery of the property. For sometime Mr. Prescott has kept in his safe, which stood in the front entry under the stairs, a large amount of valuables. Of this, the thieves were evidently well acquainted and they used their knowledge to great advantage. One of them went to the chamber of the master of the house while the family was asleep, and abstracted the key to the safe from the pocket of his pantaloons. The safe was opened and almost $20,000 in government bonds, greenbacks and the like confiscated.

On Sunday afternoon a dog belonging to Mrs. William Faulkner of Newton Lower Falls showed unmistakable signs of madness and was shot dead by H. B. Scudder. He had bitten Miss J. Sullivan, a boarder in the house, and several dogs which are now running at large and should be shot.

The water in the river at Lower Falls is quite high for the season giving the mills and shops a splendid chance to run. Business is pretty good at this place and is improving.

At the meeting of the Common Council on Friday the committee on Fire Department reported in favor of the petition of Joseph N. Bacon and others for the watering of the streets in Wards 1 and 7 by the Fire Department for a distance not to exceed half a mile from the fire station, provided the petitioners furnish the water cart and water. Councilman Kimball opposed the order because it would be dangerous to property to have the firemen and horses so far away from the station in case of fire, and that the other wards will want the same privilege. Councilman Henry moved an amendment that the word "water" be stricken from the motion. The amendment was lost and the original motion carried.

Newton Graphic, May 8, 1886

The Foresters are to have a grand union picnic at Lake Walden on July 20. The courts to participate are St. Bernard's, West Newton; Charles River, Watertown; Prospect, Waltham; and Middlesex of Newton.

Some of the slates and one of the fine stained glass windows at Chauncy Church have been broken lately, evidently by boys throwing stones at the church. The expense of repairs has been so great that the society has offered a reward of $25 for the conviction of the offenders.

Some new and handsome turnouts have been added to the Nonantum Stables for use during the coming season. Mr. Daniels will furnish anything in the line of a team, from a horse that can be driven by any lady, to a fast roadster. Also hacks and landaus with careful, experienced drivers.

George H. Blackwell returned this week from Marysville, California where he had been for a year and a half. He has suffered from malaria and has come home to get rid of it. Mr. Blackwell was warmly welcomed by the bicyclists as he was a charter member of the Nonantum Bicycle Club and the first rider to use a Star bicycle in Newton.

A new team is being tried out on Steamer 1. They are dark bays, weigh 2700 pounds and were selected in Boston by a committee consisting of Councilman Atherton and Edmonds and Dr. Bunker. They have given good satisfaction so far. The old team was sold for $400. Members of the hose company think it about time that the veteran hose carriage horse be retired, especially as money has been appropriated several times to buy a new horse.

Newton Graphic, May 5, 1911

The first public meeting of the newly organized Newton Improvement Association was held on Wednesday night at the Hunnewell Club House. In answer to questions about street watering, Commissioner Ross said the Street Department has 72 horses, and they have all been busy the past two weeks either watering or oiling streets. He said that on windy days the dust will blow 15 minutes after a street has been watered. It is the policy of the city to put on oil as fast as possible, and he has 5 cars of oil ready to use as soon as the weather becomes warm enough.

Powers' Paragraphs

There is a small, scraggly tree on the north slope of the Boston & Albany railroad right of way just west of the Centre ave. bridge at Newton.

For many years this little tree has thrived under adverse conditions. During most of each year it attracts little attention. But, around the first of each May it blossoms out gloriously with an abundance of beautiful, rose colored flowers and gives enjoyment to hundreds of persons who pass by it daily, either in trains or afoot. And so, this uncared-for, diminutive tree, has gained more popularity and notice than have ornate, cultivated trees on stately lawns.

Last Monday night at the meeting of the Newton Board of Aldermen something unique occurred. A report, previously read by Alderman Bowen as chairman of the Finance Committee. This report was signed by all seven members of the committee. The last paragraph of the epistle read—"This is the first time a report of this nature has been rendered to the full Board by the Finance Committee. It is offered with the hope that the Board will act favorably on the report."

The following introductory paragraph of the document, the first part of the report refers to the seriousness of welfare problems and condemns the WPA as tending to lower the morale of the people and causing many to have no desire to be gainfully employed. We doubt very much if other cities and towns will pay much attention to the advice of the Newton aldermen to cease scrambling to get their full share of WPA funds. During the past few years Newton took all it could get.

The report was lauded highly by some of the members of the Board and accepted by a big majority of the Aldermen. Seventeen members voted in favor of accepting it. Four members voted against it and asserted that politics motivated the document. Alderman Cronin asked—"What is the reason for this report?" Mayor Childs is quoted as having said to a newspaper reporter after reading the report—"Why didn't they have said enough to make the same report a year ago?"

Inasmuch as the authors of the report, the members of the Finance Committee, mention the fact that it is the first time a report of this nature has been made, it is natural for anyone to ask—"What is the reason for this report?" In view of the fact that most of the members of the Aldermen are men of sincerity and veracity, and they have recently avowed that it is their desire to co-operate in a friendly manner with Mayor Childs, it should be assumed that the report is an evidence of members of the Finance Committee to assist the Mayor in bringing about more efficient management of city affairs. The departments which were criticised in the report had the alleged faults referred to during the Weeks' administration. The conditions which the report specifies should be corrected, did not suddenly appear since Childs again took office this year.

The first city department referred to—the Accounting Department, is tersely commended as being well administered. The changes recommended for the Treasury Department are no reflection on the industry and ability of the City Treasurer, his deputy and their assistants. Most persons would long ago have assumed more supervision and done less detail work than have Mr. Newhall and Miss Ellice. They have been too conscientious and have worked their heads off. There are no harder working employees of the city than these two officials and their assistants. The Assessing Department should feel elated after the high compliment paid it by the committee's report.

The suggestion that the City Clerk should have a man in his office to be trained as Assistant City Clerk and be able to take over the work of the City Clerk should a vacancy occur, in this office, undoubtedly results from observation that no one has been vested with such authority. The suggestion will not meet with unqualified approval of some who contend that there is almost no job a woman can not fill as well as a man.

The short paragraph which stated that the committee feels that the Law, Engineering and Public Works Departments of the city have been very efficient, did not meet with the unanimous approval of the Board. Neither will it meet with the unanimous approval of Newton citizens. Most believe that Newton has grown to the size where a representative of the Law Department should be at City Hall daily, with regular office hours. The divergence of opinions as to the need of a Public Works Department has received much publicity recently.

The reference to the Police Department's inefficiency is amusing when one recalls that during the Mayor's campaign last fall, at least one member of the Finance Committee in speeches made in General Needham's behalf, at rallies, told of the sorry condition the police department was in when Mayor Weeks took office, and how the department was made more efficient during the Weeks' regime.

Mayor Childs, in his campaign speech, asserted that the reverse was true, and in his inaugural address told of his intention to improve the morale of the police department. The fact of the matter is—that during the first four months of 1935 the Newton police department obtained 476 criminal complaints through the Newton district court. For the same period this year 797 complaints have been obtained; an increase of over 50%. This is positive proof that the police department is functioning much more efficiently than it was a year ago. In fact, it is our belief, that Chief Hughes and Captain Veduccio, in their efforts to pep-up the department, have recently been too zealous in disciplining their subordinates.

Putting Your Foot Down

It may be that the admonition, "Watch Your Step," has made a deep and everlasting impression. Or is it true that the mental attitude towards pitfalls has remained unchanged throughout the centuries? At any rate, wherever I happen to wander in our city I find repairs to piazza floors, to front and back steps, etc. in progress. This, I am told, is unusual, and such undertakings are almost invariably the first job of Spring mending on everybody's cards.

Broken or loose planks, which all winter have threatened the necks, not to mention the ankles of so many people, receive attention of carpenters as soon as the weather, the owner's bank account and other conditions permit. I started to make a count of places where this sort of work is being done but found it too much like the youngsters' game of going about, asking, "Please give me a bow." My tour convinced me that Newton people are sensible, that they want to be sure of their footing and eager to have things right from the ground up.

Articles They Forget

If a card-holder of the Newton Free Library finds it a place of discovery, as I endeavored to point out last week, how about those employed at the main building and its branches? Not often, but now and then, I myself have found a book to contain a postal card, letter, slip of paper with notes scribbled thereon or shopping memorandum. Never have I gathered anything of material value, however.

Librarians tell me I have encountered only the most commonplace of mislaid articles. Their broader experience has revealed nail files in large numbers, which I suppose make good place-marks if you buy them in larger quantities. Occasionally, my informant states, a comb turns up, with now and then a key. My investigation has not covered the entire city but as far as it extended no case had been noted of money, paper or coin, having been left between the covers of a returned book. Surely it would take a masterpiece of fiction to draw cash from a reader's pocket.

"Back in My Day"

If opportunity should offer or even if it should give only a come-on in my direction this summer, I am going into some rural community and see if I can find a man or boy whittling with a jack-knife. It used to be a sport, right here in Newton when I was going to school. We're a big city now and I don't suppose we ever think of such things. Boys used to turn out some clever pieces of work from a chunk of wood. A knife with several blades was a splendid tool.

Chief among my recollections are boats—toys, of course. Some were just roughly whittled tubs while others were examples of skilled workmanship. What I would like to find out for my own satisfaction is whether the art has been forgotten or actually lost. The country fellows will know and maybe I'll learn that I just have missed something.

Somehow, when you meet a stranger in the old days and he was busy on a job of whittling you felt you'd like to know him. He was usually an expert and could make things and carve letters and designs, including the favorite hearts and Cupid's darts. Well, this isn't much more than reminiscence, so to keep up to date I'm going to hunt up some whittlers. Whatever I learn isn't going to mean much to me one way or the other but I know it will do me a lot of good just to get a few whiffs of nice clean shavings.

Merrily Roll Along

Roller-skating, above all other sidewalk pastimes, has given me more cause to be envious of our boys and girls than anything. Every time these youngsters glide gracefully past me their gleeful shouts and the whir of the rollers blend in one of Spring's sweetest harmonies. I wish then I were a roller skater, racing among pedestrians who flee to save themselves, taking corners on one foot and covering hundreds of yards of concrete in record time. Often I am tempted to buy a pair of skates and join the parade. I would, too, if I could be assured that the police would afford me the same protection and freedom from interference that they grant those who ride bicycles on the sidewalk.

Slaves of Custom

I don't know who invented them, Or when, or how or where; No word against them shall I say, Indeed, I wouldn't dare. Though some prefer to stay at home With family or friends, too, If I could be assured that the police would afford me the same protection and freedom from interference that they grant those who ride bicycles on the sidewalk.

Drawn For Jury Duty

At the meeting of the Newton Aldermen on Monday night the following were drawn to serve on juries at sessions of the Superior Court in Cambridge this month and next—civil business: Lindley Bond, 21 Mossfield rd.; Ernest Gould, 25 Devonshire rd.; Horace Otis, 90 Neshobe rd.; Michael J. Burns, 16 Rowena rd.; John B. Perkins, 15 Davis st.; Ernest Brigham, 38 Ballard st. Criminal business—Herbert Drury, 334 Franklin st.; George Marshall, 65 Kensington st.; Clarence Muse, 36 Green st.

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

On Tuesday morning Mr. Laurence Fletcher, secretary of the Federation of Bird Clubs in New England, gave an illustrated lecture on birds. The Lasell Glee Club annual concert on Wednesday evening consisted of music and dancing on "Shipboard." There were violin solos by Miss Anna Eichhorn of the faculty, and vocal solos by Carolyn Young of Auburn-dale; Dorothy Morgan, Malden; Janet Hayes, Norwood; Barbara Hersey, Hingham; and Margaret Christie, Shrewsbury. Hildegard Baxter of Cambridge was the leader and Miss Mary Williams of the faculty, the leader of the Glee Club.

Mrs. Francis E. Clark will be the Vesper speaker on Sunday evening.

NEWTON CENTRE NEIGHBORHOOD CLUB

The Newton Centre Neighborhood Club will hold its annual meeting on Monday evening, May 11, 1936 at one of the Wellesley College Sorority

Houses, at which Mrs. Harold R. Keller will act as hostess. Mrs. Arnold C. Barker is chairman of the supper committee, and will be assisted by Mrs. Hans K. Fischer, Miss Alice Fellows, Miss Martha Wight, Mrs. William G. Preston, Mrs. David W. Tibbott and Miss Eleanor C. Phillips.

RED CROSS

The Newton Chapter of American Red Cross is sending, as their custom, two Junior Red Cross delegates and a chaperon to the Annual Convention May 11-14. This year, for the first time, the convention is held at Chicago instead of in Washington. Paul Harriman and John Saunier of the 7th grade of the Frank A. Day Jr. High School are the lucky boys to be selected as excellent Jr. Red Cross representatives. Mr. Burkhard, principal of the Day Jr. High School, will be in charge.

SECOND ANNUAL POP CONCERT

The social hall of Central Congregational Church, Walnut st., Newtonville, colorfully decorated, will be the scene of the second annual Pop Concert, "Carnival Time," which will be presented by Central Circle on the evening of Friday, May 8. The program will be varied and will include musical selections, dramatic readings, and singing. General Chairman of the affair is Mrs. G. S. Bird; the program is being arranged by Mrs. Ernest Kuebler and Mrs. Abbie Thornton; gay and festive decorations are being planned by Miss Helen Cady, Mrs. Chas. H. Abrams, Jr., and Mrs. Karl Brock. Ushers will be under the supervision of Mrs. Chas. W. Peterson; Refreshments, Mrs. Robert Munroe (President), and Miss Theresa Cram; Miss Marjorie P. Perkins and Mrs. Randolph S. Merrill have charge of publicity, and Mrs. Herbert F. Rich, the tickets.

REAL ESTATE

Doris Carley's office reports the following families have secured the homes they hoped for at a price within their budgets: Property located at 24 Taft ave., West Newton, rented for Street & Co. to Harry C. Stedt; property located at 4 Ware rd., Auburndale, leased for Helen Beamish to John M. Barron; property located at 456 Lowell ave., Newtonville rented for I. J. Nesson to Claude Lovewell.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Officers Elected, Year's Work Summarized

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

The Annual Meeting and Luncheon of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club was held on Tuesday, April 28th, in the Parish House of the Congregational Church. Luncheon was served at 12:30 o'clock, under the direction of the Hospitality committee, Mrs. Robert S. Ingram, chairman.

Voting for officers for the coming year came at 2 o'clock, and while the votes were being counted the yearly reports of the officers were read and accepted; also the condensed reports of the committee chairmen which were arranged and read as one report by the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Lawson W. Oakes, with her usual keen sense of humor and dramatic ability.

Mrs. Franklin W. Scott, chairman of the Education and Literature committee, announced the awarding of the annual Club Scholarship to Miss Catherine Stone, and read a letter from Miss Stone thanking the Club for the opportunity to continue her education.

The Club voted to continue for another year canceling the initiation fee, also to continue opening the Club meetings at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Edward S. Colton, Jr., gave a brief résumé of the distinguished academic record of Miss Hilda Marzetti Allen, who is graduating from Pembroke College this spring and who was awarded the annual Club Scholarship four years ago. Miss Allen won her Phi Beta Kappa in her Junior year; was the first Pembroke scholar ever to receive the Kendall K. Smith Scholarship in the Classics; and now has received the Arnold Archaeological Fellowship for further study in the classics, which she will continue at Radcliffe College. The Club is very happy to have been able to assist in the higher education of this brilliant young lady.

The popular outgoing president, Mrs. Chester W. Tudbury, invited the incoming president, Mrs. H. Herbert Hale, and the incoming officers, to the platform. Mrs. Hale asked the members of the Club to note the three purposes of its existence, educational, humanitarian, and social, and to increase the activities on these three points.

The officers elected to serve the Newton Highlands Woman's Club for the coming year were: President, Mrs. H. Herbert Hale; first vice-president, Mrs. Preble W. Blake; second vice-president, Mrs. George W. Barker; recording secretary, Mrs. Howell S. Gilbert; corresponding secretary, Mrs. William A. Camp; treasurer, Miss Florence W. Marble; auditor, Mrs. J. Irving Wright; director, Mrs. Harriet M. Marcy; Mrs. Frederick T. McGill, Mrs. Robert S. Allingham, and Mrs. Robert E. Briggs; directors of the Workshop: Mrs. John H. McCready, Mrs. Alexander Hicks, Mrs. M. Paul Hessler, Mrs. Jesse E. McCourt; and Nominating committee, 1936-1937: Mrs. Hiram A. Miller, Mrs. Ernest R. Adams, Mrs. Harris P. Gray, Mrs. F. Lyman Wells, Mrs. Harry P. Forte, Mrs. M. Marsden Griswold, and Mrs. Luther W. Piper.

The program of the afternoon was given by Madam Sophie Toumanoff, of the old Russian nobility, who held her audience spellbound for an hour, telling her experiences during the World War and the years immediately following. Madam Toumanoff mentioned with alarm and warning the schools of communism which are being held in Moscow and attended by groups of young colored people from this country. She compared the provisional Government and Revolution of 1917, after the abdication of the Czar, to our brain trust "theory"; and then showed how the structure of the government, army, and of society gradually collapsed and degraded into vagrancy, with Sovietism as the result.

Newton Federation

The Annual Meeting and Luncheon of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs was held on Monday, May 4th, at the Brae Burn Country Club. Mrs. J. Earle Parker, president, having arrived home only three hours before from the General Federation Convention in Miami, called a special meeting of the Executive Board at 12:15 o'clock to consider and to vote on proposed amendments to Articles V and VII of the By-Laws. Luncheon was served at 12:30. The luncheon speaker, Mrs. Bertrand E. Taylor, presented to the Federation a collection of Health Seals dating from 1908 to the present year, and stated that in view of the very fine work done by the Newton Federation every year in distributing the Christmas Health Seals, the Tuberculosis Association of Massachusetts has suggested that this collection, which has been framed, be given to the Newton Federation. As the Federation has no Club House, this collection will be hung in the Welfare Bureau, where the money is actually handled as a separate fund.

Mrs. John F. Capron extended greetings as the retiring Twelfth District director, and stated that the Twelfth District Clubs were 100 per cent members of the General Federation, also that there were eight very active Junior Clubs.

The yearly reports of the secretaries, the corresponding secretary having hers in rhyme, also of the treasurer, were read and accepted. Mrs. A. W. Lane, chairman of the Nominating committee, reported nomination of the following officers for 1936-1937. These officers were unanimously elected:

President, Mrs. J. Earle Parker; vice-presidents, first, Mrs. Edgar P. Hay; second, Mrs. Theron P. Walker;

Delightful Play Celebrates Club's Fifty Years

The Annual Meeting of the Social Science Club was held in the Parlor of Channing Church on Wednesday, April 29th, with the president, Mrs. William G. Lennox, in the chair.

All former members of the Club had been invited to enjoy the celebration of the founding of the Club on this, the fiftieth anniversary.

At the close of the business meeting, a delicious luncheon was served under the direction of Miss Eugenie F. Bradshaw, chairman of the Social committee.

An original play was then presented which gave keen delight to the audience of old and new members. The play, "Letitia's Triumph," or "The Dawn of a New Day," had been written by Mrs. Lenice Ingram Bacon. (Mrs. F. Sayford.) The three acts were delightfully presented under the direction of Miss Bessie M. Stratton.

The stage setting, with its old furniture, oil lamps, and "tides," was true to the period, and the lovely old costumes were a pleasure to see, one having been worn by one of the founders of the Club.

The ushers in their charming old gowns, bonnets, and parasols, added to the picturesqueness of the setting.

The cast included: Nora, a maid, Dorothy S. Pierce; Letitia Travers, a delicate lady of the eighties, Lenice Ingram Bacon; Mrs. Dawson, a fine woman, Mabel Porter Pitts; Miss Henderson, a decided spinster, Rosalind D. Lewis; Mrs. Wiggleworth, a very grand dame, Ethel Gilman Brannan; Mrs. Armstrong, a frivolous and airy creature, Florence A. Mansfield; Gerald Travers, husband of Letitia, Fanny Lupton Smith; Katie, a nursemaid, Caroline B. Hollings; Mrs. Hale, a former clubwoman, Patty P. Calkins; Mrs. Lyson, a timid wife, Mary Wilford Kent; and the children, Gwendolyn Travers, Ronald Travers, Nancy Britts and Billy Bacon.

The play was repeated in the evening for the benefit of the families and friends of the members.

third, Mrs. Gorham W. Harris; recording secretary, Mrs. Thomas L. Aiken; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ernest F. Drew; treasurer, Miss Elizabeth P. Bartlett; auditor, Miss Florence A. Mansfield; Directors for 1936-1937: Mrs. Herbert P. Blair and Leroy P. Gulon; and Nominating committee for 1936-1937, Mrs. Harold C. Daniels, chairman; Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, Mrs. John T. Alden, Mrs. Edward D. Leonard, Mrs. Noel D. Munroe, Miss Mary L. Rolfe, Mrs. Walter R. Evans, Mrs. Rawson R. Cowen, and Mrs. George H. Jackson.

Mrs. Ernest F. Drew presented the following proposed amendments to the Constitution:

Article IV, Section 2. In the third sentence, strike out the words "except the Treasurer".

Article V, Section 1. In the second sentence strike out the word "fifty" and insert therein "one hundred," so that it shall read: "Each club shall have one additional delegate for every additional one hundred members or fraction thereof."

The Federation voted in favor of these amendments.

Miss Elizabeth P. Bartlett, retiring chairman of the Christmas Health Seals, reported that to date $5,489.00 has been received from the sale of these seals in Newton.

Miss Harriet L. Parsons, of the Newton Welfare Bureau, thanked the Federation for their confidence in the Welfare Bureau in allowing them to handle the money from the sale of the seals, and stated that at the present time the Federation is in position to do more constructive work than any of the social agencies in Newton.

Mrs. Theron P. Walker gave a very interesting and concise report of the work done by the Associate Organizations of the Federation this past year.

Mrs. Herbert F. Blair consolidated the various reports of the committee chairmen, covering briefly the attempt of the Conservation committee to assist in control of the rag weed, gypsy moth, and mosquito pests in Newton; the splendid work of the new Art committee in collaboration with the Art Museum; the local community assistance given by the Civics committee in the various villages; the high spot of the International Relations committee in conducting the Newton Conference of World Affairs in co-operation with the Newton League of Women Voters; the delicious and attractive luncheons and teas in charge of the Social committee; the very successful Round Table conducted by the Motion Picture committee, and their continual pressure for the passage of the Pettingill Bill; the co-operation of the Education committee in furnishing one hundred and twenty hostesses at the High School "Open Night" last November; the endeavor of the Legislative committee to present to each club in the Federation the bills sponsored by the State Federation, and the activity in connection with the non-partisan Rally December 4th, 1935; the successful handling of the budget by the Finance committee; the untiring work of the Program committee in planning the programs for the three large meetings of the year; lectures for mothers sponsored by the Public Health committee; also the very helpful Round Table conducted by that

State Meeting At Swampscott

Clubwomen are to be given opportunity for meeting other than in the Convention Hall gatherings this year for social intercourse and for exchange of ideas, due to the foresight of the State Federation president, Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, and the Council, during the three days of the Annual Meeting at Swampscott, May 19th, 20th, and 21st.

Another innovation will be the Junior Meeting and Banquet which will be held a day before the formal opening of the Senior Convention. They will have their Banquet on the evening of May 18th, at 6:30 p. m., to be followed by a Parade at 7:45, in their colorful gowns, to Convention Hall, where the meeting will open at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Poole will be their speaker, and they will enjoy the Play which won the prize through the contest sponsored by the State division of Literature and Drama. Any Senior Club members who would like to attend are cordially invited.

Of interest to the Juniors is the announcement of Mrs. Schuyler W. Van Ness, chairman of the State department of American Home, that this department is having the privilege of offering the Danforth-Dunbar Scholarship for 1936-1937 to a Club Daughter or to a member of a Junior Club. Anyone interested and eligible should write to the School, at 2 Harvard street, Worcester, and they will send explanation of requirements and a catalogue which will give an idea of the unusual opportunities offered. The young woman who received last year's award Mrs. Schuyler states "has been a credit to herself and to the Federation." Newton Juniors would do well to look into this offering.

Two enjoyable social events of the session will be the Drive along the North Shore on Wednesday, May 20th, from 4:45 to 5:45, arranged by the Ninth District clubwomen, through their director, Mrs. George T. Hart, Jr., for the pleasure of visiting club women; and a "Garden Walk," on the following morning, May 21st, from 8:30 to 9:30 o'clock, when some of the most beautiful and artistic gardens of this attractive North Shore will be visited.

For the information of clubwomen, rooms may be secured at the New Ocean House, delightful headquarters of the Convention, for from $6.00 to $10.00 per day. The State Meetings committee, Mrs. Charles R. Story, chairman, 248 West Elm street, Brockton, also has a splendid list of rooms in private homes in Swampscott, at moderate prices, ranging from one dollar per person, per night, and in some places breakfast will be served for a small charge. Lunches and dinners, at special prices, may be obtained in the Tea Room at the Hotel.

Clubwomen should not forget to take their Club Membership tickets for admission to the sessions. The registration charge is, as usual, 50 cents for one day, and $1.00 for the entire three days, and this three-day ticket is transferable, among clubwomen who may want to go to one session only.

Committee last November; and the excellent notices and writings by the Publicity committee.

Mrs. Edgar P. Hay gave a résumé of philanthropies by the Women's Clubs of Newton this past year; among them the Social Science Club, with one hundred members and $4.00 dues, gave $800.00 to philanthropies. The total amount given by the Clubs, $5,217.73, was divided as follows: Community Chest, $1,856.00; Scholarships, $1,875.00; to local organizations, $982.81; and to outside organizations, $502.92.

Mrs. Parker spoke briefly of the Convention at Miami, saying she was particularly impressed with the activity of the Juniors, and with the breeziness of the Westerners.

She closed the business meeting, announcing a meeting of the Executive Board on Monday, May 11th, at 10 o'clock in the morning, at the Newton Library.

The Auburndale Woman's Club entertained with the one-act play: "A Woman's Privilege," the story of an over-worked clubwoman who decides to "invite her soul." The cast was: Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. John F. Wheelock; her daughter, Mrs. George N. Siegars, Mrs. Lawton, Mrs. Joseph A. Otis; Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Strabo V. Claggett; Kate Hannish, Mrs. James J. Peckish; Cousin Mary, Mrs. Edmund I. Wilson; and Josephine, Mrs. John H. Harding.

This satirical play with its genial humor gave a very happy ending to an Annual Meeting.

Various Events

On Monday, May 11th, the Annual Meeting and Luncheon of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will be held one o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Allen Hubbard, 51 Montvale road, Newton Centre.

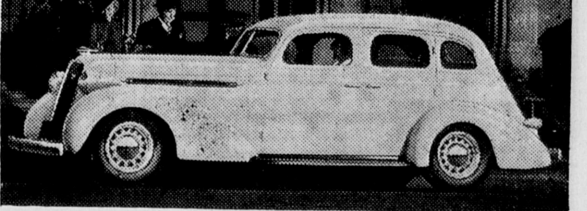

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Education committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club brought its activities to a close for the current Club Year on Monday, April 27th, when Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden, of 84 Oakwood road, was hostess to the group which has been attending the series of Literature Afternoons. Mrs. Gordon W. Harris gave an informal talk on "Desert Lore," describing some of the beauties and fascinations of the great deserts as well as relating some of the more serious and unhappy traditions and folk-lore associated with them. THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

By JACK MORRIS

NEWTON TRACK TEAMS RUN AWAY WITH MEET

Newton High's track team scored 39 points for a one-sided victory in the 14th annual running of the Worcester Polytechnic Institute's school track meet last Saturday at Worcester. Everett High, second place winner, trailed Newton by 25 points, with a total of fourteen.

Don Enoch's team piled up 25 points in the sprints and hurdles events. Paul Forte won the 100-yard dash from Rombo of Everett in 10 3/5. With Frank Hines in fourth place. In the 220, Jack Allen broke the tape in 24 1/5, ahead of Springer of Everett, Bud Mather of Newton and Stan Livingstone of Brookline.

Warren Wittens came through with an easy victory in the low hurdles, winning from Poock of Worcester South in 26 4/5, while Paul Dussossoit took third to give Newton seven points in the event. Ray Huling and Dussossoit ran second and third in the high hurdles final, led by the brilliant Hartman of Brookline, who set a new record of 15 3/5 in his trial heat.

Heard Beats Discus Record

Newton had its own record-breaker Saturday in Nate Heard, but unfortunately he gets no credit for a new mark. The record for the discus throw at Worcester was 116 ft. 3 in., and Heard sealed the platter 119 ft. 7 in. in his best throw. But Bill Gilligan of Brighton, Heard's nemesis in the indoor season, won the event and the new record at 128 ft. 10 in. Gilligan also set a new record in the shot at 50 ft. 3 1/4 in., and Heard took third at 45 ft. 6 1/2 in.

Points were pretty well distributed in the longer runs, and Newton got less than its share. In the 880-yard run, running in a fast field, Elmer Ross ran fourth behind Hegarty of Somerville, Piscione of Everett and Levine of Lowell, the winner's time, 2m 4 1/2, indicating a very good race. J. "Mike" Regan was Newton's man in the mile, and was runner up to Haley of Worcester South in the good time of 4m 47 2/5.

In the pole vault, high jump and quarter mile, Newton had no scores. In the broad jump, Ray Huling landed in second place with a leap of 19 ft. 9 1/2 in., while Ace Wittens, reported to be handicapped by a bad leg, reached 19 ft. 6 1/4 for third place points. Hunter of Worcester North won the event at 20 ft. 4 in.

Newton's topside victory was due chiefly to unexpected power in the short events. Thirteen places were won by ten of Enoch's boys, three firsts, four seconds, five thirds and two fourths. Newton's score nearly tripled that of Everett, the runner-up, and actually exceeded the aggregate of the next three.

Newton Highlights

Bob Hunter, Harvard golf captain, won and lost last Saturday as Harvard defeated Brown 5-4 in the morning and Holy Cross 7-2 in the afternoon. He beat Dear of Brown 4 and 3, and paired with Brown to defeat Dear and Simpson 5 and 4 in the four-somes. In the Holy Cross match, Willie Turnesa defeated Hunter 6 and 5 in singles, and paired with Anderson to down Hunter and Brown 5 and 4. Incidentally, Hunter is a mainstay of Brae Burn Country Clubs very strong four-ball team, along with the Heath brothers of West Newton, Harvard golfers of several years ago.

OUR LADY HIGH DEFEATS LYNN NINE

After a weird game that was featured by many errors by both sides, Our Lady's defeated St. Mary's of Lynn, 14-8, on Tuesday. The most surprising thing of the game was the sudden weakness of Joe O'Grady, the shortstop, to handle his chores. He redeemed himself, however, with three hits. Others to meet the ball on even terms were Paul O'Brien, Cliff Choquette and Francis Morris. John "Speed" Fitzgerald started for the Garden City nine but was finally taken out in favor of Cliff Choquette. Russ Harney, the veteran catcher, played a very good game though suffering from a sore arm. This victory put Our Lady's in a supporting position in the league standing, as both Malden Catholic and Mission lost last Friday.

Newton Highlights

Jeff Jones, high school baseball coach, was highly pleased when Guido Castoldi pitched Newton to a 6-4 victory over Arlington Tuesday, the first suburban league decision. Although he had been virtually relegated to the outfield a week or so back, due to some shakiness in earlier games, Guido struck out fourteen batters. Last Friday Newton took a 12-5 setback from Rindge Tech at Russell Field in Cambridge. John Maloney held Newton to six hits and struck out fourteen, while Tornabene and Herrick yielded seven hits and fanned three. Baniewicz of Cambridge and Savignano and Gruber of Newton hit home runs.

Captain Milton Green of the Harvard track team is entered in the broad jump and both hurdle races in the annual heptagonal track and field games tomorrow at the Harvard Stadium, and his showing will just about determine the Crimson's chances of repeating its victory of last year. Coach Jaako Mikkola has predicted that the Newton athlete would break Ned Gourdin's jump record of fifteen years' standing before the season is over.

M. I. T. athletes from Newton scored heavily in Tech's dual meet with University of Maine Saturday at Cambridge, which was won by Maine, Stan Johnson, Tech captain and former Newton High captain, won three events, the high hurdles in 16 1/5, the low hurdles in 25s, and the broad jump at 23 ft. 5 in. Dave McLellan won the quarter-mile in fast time, 50 1/5, and was second in a brisk 320. Tom Kinnaird was second in the hammer throw to Frame of Maine, who set a new field record of 166 ft. 1 1/2 in., and was also third in the shot. Assisting in the 93-42 track victory of Northeastern over Colby last week was Jim Colligan, another Newton alumnus, who won the shotput with a heave of a little better than 42 ft.

Newton's strong tennis team continues its winning ways, defeating Melrose 8-0. Last Saturday Coach Walter Taylor took the first and second teams to Exeter Academy, where they were beaten 11-1, by way of curbing any tendency they may have developed toward overconfidence. Newton's only point came in the eighth and final singles match, in which McDonald of Newton beat Joslin of Exeter 8-6, 6-2. Paul Rich and Tom Slattery, Newton's top doubles team, lost a good match to Burt and Houk of Exeter by 6-4, 3-6, 8-6.

Kiwanis Club

About 150 Kiwanians and friends met at Charles River Country Club Tuesday evening, May 5, 1936, to celebrate the Tenth Anniversary of the Newton Kiwanis Club.

President Ernest Gibson addressed the group, dwelling upon the accomplishments of the Kiwanis Club during its ten years in existence, and its hopes for the future.

Lt. Governor George A. Morin of the Fifth Division, who was present with Mrs. Morin, took all too little time in discussing the meaning of true Kiwanis friendship.

Immediate Past Governor of the New England District, James P. Gallagher, a member of the Newton Club, delighted those in attendance by his resume of the club's past activities. The meeting was then turned over to Ray Green, Chairman of Entertainment, who introduced Fitzgerald and Quinn, musical team, composed of Benedict Fitzgerald and Thomas Quinn, Supervisor and Assistant Supervisor of instrumental music in the Cambridge Schools, and there ensued a series of pleasant vocal and piano selections. Mr. Fitzgerald and his Oxfordian air well-nigh convinced his listeners that most all music, particularly that of merit, originated at some time or other in Ireland.

Thomas F. Wall, a member of the Newton Club, rendered two vocal selections.

The Bob Mills Agency, under the leadership of genial Bob himself, presented several fascinating dancing acts during which little Bobby Clark, a four-year musical marvel, enthralled all with his dancing and singing.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE

Individually among the most popular stars of the film work; collectively the greatest star triumvirate of them all, Clark Gable, Jean Harlow and Myrna Loy will be seen together for the first time in the new giant production, "Wife Versus Secretary," which comes to the Paramount Theatre starting Sunday for four days.

Supporting the remarkable trio of stars is a prominent cast including such screen headliners as May Robson, George Barbier, James Stewart, Hobart Cavanaugh and Gilbert Emery.

The story presents a modern version of the "eternal triangle" as applied to business men whose wives distrust the secretaries who occupy so large a time of their husbands' business hours. Clark Gable plays the business executive, Miss Harlow is cast as the alluring secretary; and Miss Loy as the wife. The respective roles give each of these outstanding stars brilliant acting opportunities. On the same program is Richard Arlen and Beryl Mercer in "Three Live Ghosts."

The story of "The Prisoner of Shark Island" with Warner Baxter and Gloria Stuart starts Thursday, May 14th, for three days.

With Warner Baxter starred in the leading role, the picture tells the story of this gentle Maryland physician who was trapped with Lincoln's murderers, and who spent years in a living hell for a crime he had never committed.

Also Laurel and Hardy in "The Bohemian Girl."

SPORT NOTES

Bob Ashley of Waban, captain of Bowdoin's tennis team, led his team to an 8-1 victory over Tufts last Saturday. Jack Skillings of Newton Center, Brown University leader, played number four against Wesleyan, winning his match from Clark of Wesleyan by 4-6, 6-0, 6-0. Brown won the team match 6-3.

Fin Com Report To Aldermen

discovered by those outside than those who are actually operating the department.

We believe our biggest problem, as is the case in other towns and cities throughout the Commonwealth, is the question of relief in the Welfare and Soldier's Relief Departments, and through the continuation of WPA Projects. Each of these had more people dependent upon it March last than at this time a year ago and unquestionably the year's expense will be as high, and perhaps higher, than in previous years. It is reasonable to believe that there will be no cessation of the burden to the taxpayer until employment can be found for those who are employable, but after a period of time many of the recipients of public relief become unemployable. We earnestly hope that some way can be discovered to create opportunities for work occur to force those to accept work who are now contented with their situation in life and that a stricter line can be drawn which will mark those who should be receiving aid from private charities from others who are now getting some form of help through city funds. We feel that both our welfare departments are ably and efficiently operated.

The continuation of WPA or other similar institution will tend to create, in our opinion, a perpetual and increasing burden on Federal, State and Municipal governments. This will evidence itself not only directly but through the regular welfare disbursements due to the continuing lowering of the morale of the people and their more ready acceptance of a permanent dependency. To destroy this form of relief abruptly would be a calamity but we believe that in the near future, each city and town should consider the gradual withdrawing from participation as opposed to the present scramble by each municipality to get its full share.

The Accounting Department is well administered under our Comptroller. We recommend changes in the Treasury Department which will modernize the system now in use and permit the treasurer and collector to give more of his time to the proper supervision of the department and less to routine work. A new system for the distribution of the payroll should be worked out, more payments made by check and less by cash, and employees numbered so that a more accurate check of those on the payrolls can be had than is now possible. The city pay clerk should not travel about the city with a police escort and depend upon personal recognition of employees when distributing the weekly payroll.

The Assessing Department is on a very high plane. We are glad to commend our Board of Assessors. In the City Clerk's Department, we find what we believe to be a situation that should be remedied; at the present time there is nobody in the department who, if there were a permanent or temporary vacancy in the office of City Clerk could immediately fill it and carry on the work, and we believe that a man should be added to the department, given the title of Assistant City Clerk and so trained that he could step in and fill the position on short notice.

We feel that the Law, the Engineering and the Public Works Departments have been very efficient, particularly the latter with its increased work because of PWA and WPA building.

The Police Department gives us considerable concern. We believe that closer supervision should be given to the department by both the Chief and the Captain, and greater discipline insisted upon which will result in increased efficiency. We find that the police cars have not been satisfactorily cared for and washed and if the sergeant-mechanic and his assistant are not able to do this work under the present setup, then the office should be abolished and the work given out on private contract.

The Fire Department, we believe, is one of the model departments of the City.

The Department of Sealer of Weights and Measures continues with its usual efficiency. The reorganization of the Health Department has been very beneficial to the City. Dr. Choche, the director, and Dr. Cummings, the city physician, are to be commended. We suggest, however, that close watch be kept on activities that are proposed for consideration by the Health Department in order that too much paternalism may not creep in and the City pay for services that should rightfully be paid for by the recipients.

The committee wishes to record with pleasure the continual co-operation of the School Committee. The Library Department operates efficiently and gives splendid service. It is suggested that the Trustees grade the positions and the salaries in the department on the basis of step increases, to be used as a guide in future budgets.

With reference to the Playground Department we believe that eventually the time will come when the office of Superintendent, which continues to be ably managed, should be a full-time job rather than part-time as at present. It is our opinion that the Playground Committee should have in training a man who will supervise the activities of the department in the absence of the superintendent, with the title of Assistant Superintendent, and this is particularly necessary now because of the extra work done in this department by WPA labor. The playground supervisors should be selected from Newton residents if those trained in this work can be found in the city.

In the Street Department we recognize that there are many problems. The question of snow removal for both streets and sidewalks is very acute. It is our opinion that the time has come when in winters such as we have had this year and last, more dependence will have to be placed on Frenchmen. Both Beethoven and Mozart composed many of their most beautiful works before reaching the age of thirty. Before he was forty, the immortal Shakespeare wrote Julius Caesar, A Midsummer Night's Dream, Hamlet, and Macbeth. Only recently have Charles A. Lindbergh and Richard Evelyn Byrd added brilliant chapters to the significant annals of youth's achievement.

These are but a few; we are able to recall many others: Wagner, Byron, Keats, Shelley, Browning, Poe, Napoleon, Lafayette. There is one who stands apart from all the rest; Him we must not forget. He, who long ago spread His healing and His doctrine of brotherly love throughout the world in the course of thirty-three prophetic years, is ever with us today, the eternal symbol of triumphant youth.

Our position in the world of today is far from pitiable; on the contrary, it is altogether an enviable one. Our greatest advantage is in being alive at such a time. The opportunities for educational advancement in all fields have never been more widespread. Youth enjoys greater privilege and freedom than ever before. And most of all, in addition to opportunity and freedom, we have before us a period more challenging than any in the history of the world. Only competition has grown stiffer, but the greater odds, the more satisfying is victory.

Never has the field of endeavor been more varied, and never have our needs been more urgent. Through proper education, we must build up an intelligent, well informed civic body with a just appreciation of America's splendid past and a heartfelt responsibility for her present and future. Such a citizenry would speedily crush all corrupt, unprincipled legislators, and government would once more assume its rightful position as a career of dignity and honor. Clean politics is not impossible. Its establishment requires men—men to vote wisely, and men to govern uprightly, men who are honest, far-sighted, unafraid. From our generation these men must come. We are the voters and administrators of tomorrow. Let us be men of vision, loyal to our ideals and steadfast in purpose, but ever mindful of the earth beneath our feet.

Aside from the exigency for clean government, there is probably no need more urgent than that of the church. Its strength and influence must be preserved. Again, as in the case of good government, their interest and their service the future of the church depends. Religion must be kept a living force throughout the world. When it ceases to influence our lives, our boast of democracy, freedom, and brotherly love will be but a hollow mockery.

In other fields opportunities open and problems await. Law and medicine offer great attractions for ambitious, hard-working young men and women. Although we hear it said frequently that these two professions are overcrowded, let us remember that the number of really good lawyers and doctors is comparatively small.

The realm of scientific investigation and discovery has a future of unrivaled breadth and importance. Unthinking pessimists of every age have said mournfully that there was nothing left to discover, nothing to invent. History has proved the shallowness and falseness of this lament. Today we are living in an age of science. There are still countless new worlds to conquer; they are but waiting for some young discoverer.

In business there is an increasing demand for trained experts in every line, and honesty is still at a premium. Aside from the many local problems that confront us today, there are those of international scope. Among these, the most momentous is the question of world peace. This is an international problem and it must be solved by international arbitration. In this solution, it is fitting that the United States, as a major world power, play a prominent part. We must cooperate with other nations and accept our full share of world responsibility in order to realize our dream of ultimate world peace.

For some of us educational training is just a beginning; for others it is nearly completed. On this training our future success depends. Excellence in any field is always preceded by faithful study and adequate preparation. It is too late to think of this when the crisis arises and we are unable to meet it. Training and development of fundamental skill should lie behind us when we begin our life work. However, the search for knowledge should not end with high school graduation, college commencement or graduate school degree.

Progress has always been the result of serious study and exhaustive research. As long as we have a desire to learn new things and to explore unknown realms we shall be truly happy. Leisure never brings contentment; only activity affords complete satisfaction.

Favorable opportunity wills that the destiny of the world is soon to become our obligation and our sacred duty. A glorious future awaits; let us meet it with courage and optimism!

Young Filchers Get Probation

Alfred Ernst, 20, of Paul st., Newton Centre, was arraigned in the Newton court on Monday charged with siphoning gasoline from the tank of a car parked on Cloverdale rd., Newton Highlands. Patrolman Turner, who lives nearby, caught the youth. Judge Allen placed Ernst on probation for 6 months. In court the same day Frank Lombardo, 17, of Pine st., West Newton, was given a suspended prison sentence of 30 days. He was caught by Maurice Kaitz taking a new plank from a house on Lodge rd. which Kaitz is building. Kaitz told the police that time and cement had recently been taken from the house.

The Dress Assembly for Senior Girls' Graduation took place in the Newton High School Auditorium on Wednesday morning, May 6. The purpose of this assembly was to cooperate with the senior girls and their mothers and to consider with them simple and ideal dresses for the graduation exercises. Many mothers and friends of the school attended this fashion show, which is an annual event of the spring. It is sponsored by the Home Economics Department under the direction of Miss Jeanne B. Kendrick, department head.

Norma Skelton spoke words of greeting, and Virginia Allen, Agnes M. Pells, and Harriet Barnes spoke on fabrics. Music was furnished by the girl members of the high school orchestra.

Miss Cora E. Riley, Guidance Supervisor in Newton High School, spoke on Wednesday, May 6, before the third annual Institute of Newton Nurses Alumnae Association, at the Newton Hospital. Her subject was "Planning the High School Course for Nursing Applicants."

More than 150 couples attended the Senior Prom in the High School Gymnasium on Friday evening, May 1. Music was furnished by the Frank McGinley orchestra, and George Kenigott and Harriet Conel were acclaimed King and Queen of the dance.

Weeks Jr. High

On Thursday, April 30, the Weeks School presented the last of its broadcasts in the "Newton School Days" series over Station WBZ. A skit, written by Mr. Arthur W. Howard of the English department and Paul Miller, a ninth grade pupil, emphasized the importance of recognizing one's own ability in the face of difficulties and depicted four episodes from the life of Thomas Alva Edison. Paul Miller acted as student announcer, while the following took part in the skit: Robert Kitchin, Alfred Low, Walter Maruso, David Theodorowicz, William Baxter, Betty Harris, Priscilla Parker, and Mary Kern.

At the May 1st assembly, Herbert Bernard introduced Dr. Chope, director of the Newton Board of Health, who spoke on the health program being promoted in the Newton schools. Following Dr. Chope's talk, a sound film, entitled "Saving Seconds," was presented through the courtesy of the Aetna Insurance Company. The film is being shown in connection with safety campaigns on the highways.

The annual band concert and pageant, given by the pupils of the Weeks School, will be held in the auditorium on Friday evening, May 15, at eight o'clock.

Tersino D'Eugenio has been elected captain of the Weeks Varsity baseball team. D'Eugenio has been honored with the captaincy of three sports this year: soccer, basketball, and baseball.

Bigelow Junior H. S.

The Newton PWA orchestra under the direction of Mr. Sulzen gave another of its interesting and instructing programs at the assembly on April 29.

Motion pictures of the 1932 Olympics were shown during the last club period to the Sports, Travel, and Camera Clubs.

June 5th has been set as the date for the next evening's entertainment to which pupils, parents and friends of the school are urged to come. Details of the program will be announced later. The proceeds from these entertainments are used for school activities.

There are ladder tennis tournaments in progress for boys and girls of all grades. Ruth Meredith is the manager of the girls' tournament.

The first inter-school tennis match with the Day Jr. High School resulted in a tie 2-2. The boys' tennis team for each match will be selected from the top members of the ladder tournament.

Varsity and junior baseball squads are as follows: Jr. Varsity—Avantaggio, Bryant, Bender, P. Butts, French, MacLean, P. Holmes, R. Whelan, Olds, A. Tucker, Rowley, A. Trumble, Waller, R. Flagg, and Bellotti. Varsity—Callahan, Monahan, Gleason, Murphy, Callanan, Dexter, Olivigni, Bernstein, Goodale, Morrissey, Tashjian, Jensen, Dow, Mascot—Bat Boy, Fred Hall.

Our Lady H. S.

Throughout the diocesan Parochial schools, on Friday, May 1, Child Health Day was observed at the request of Father Quinlan, Diocesan Supervisor of Schools.

The primary, grammar and high school classes of Our Lady's held physical culture exercises on the campus. A little Mother Goose Health Play was presented by the first and second grades out of doors. The upper classes by means of poster drawings, dramatizations, and singing contributed their part to the program.

At 2:30 the High School students held a roller skating meet in the gymnasium, bringing the observance of Health Day to an enjoyable ending.

Guests at Regis

The senior girls of Our Lady's attended the May Day celebration as guests of the Regis College students on Thursday afternoon, May 7. Bus accommodations were arranged for our girls and those of Sacred Heart High, Newton, who accompanied them to Weston.

Debate

The Lawrence W. Slattery Debating Society of Our Lady's ended its official 1936 season a week ago. However, the affirmative team has accepted the challenge of the Presentation Club of Brighton for a free-lance debate on the same question as the League Debates, viz:

Resolved: That the several states should enact legislation providing for a complete system of medical care available to all citizens at public expense.

On Wednesday evening, at 8 o'clock in the Presentation Hall, Brighton, John Kenna '38, Gordon O'Brien '38, Edward Callahan '37 and Joseph O'Grady '36 will uphold the affirmative side of the question. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Mary's Day

On Saturday, May 9, the eve of Mother's Day, the pupils of Our Lady's will celebrate publicly Mary's Day. This is a voluntary tribute inaugurated to increase devotion to the Blessed Mother and to make a filial offering of Love and Service to Mary Immaculate in recognition of her preeminence as the Mother of God, and in loyal devotion to her as its Patroness, and as the Mother of Man. All the students of the school will join in the observance of Mary's Day by receiving Holy Communion at the eight o'clock mass, by wearing visibly throughout the day, her Miraculous Medal and by giving some small offering, known as Mary's Mite, as an act of self-denial. The latter will be used for the poor.

Mother's Day

In accordance with the custom started last year, the people of the parish will observe Mother's Day by receiving Holy Communion in family groups. In order to make this more convenient the parents may attend the Children's Mass or may bring their children with them to any other mass which they desire to attend.

Pre-school Tests

On Wednesday, May 13, a pre-school examination and enrolment of those children who will be of the required age to enter our first grade in September, is scheduled to take place in the Grammar School building at two o'clock. The doctors of the parish will conduct the examinations.

Confirmation

On Saturday, May 9, at 10 a. m., the Sacrament of Confirmation will be administered to a class of approximately 500 boys and girls of our parish, who are of the required age and have been sufficiently instructed. Most Rev. Francis Spellman will officiate, assisted by the priests of the parish.

Commencement Preparations

On Monday of this week, the honors for graduation were read to the senior class. Margaret McDade, who ranks first in studies, has been selected to deliver the valedictory and Leo Riley is to be the salutatorian. The Class Day literature has been assigned to the following students: Class History, Margaret Geegan; Class Prophecy, Irma Stubbert; Class Will, John Fitzgerald; Joseph O'Grady will act as toastmaster.

Speeders Fined In Newton Court

Newton police have had many autoists in the Newton court the past week for speeding, driving through red light and other infractions of automobile laws. Traffic Officer Dowling and Patrolman John Green were complainants in many of the cases. On April 30, Olive Savage, 34 Leslie rd., Waban, and Adelaide Newinger, Quindic rd., Waban, each was fined $5 for speeding. Thomas Hamilton, 18, of 13 Wamecet rd., Waban, was fined $25 for speeding. He appealed.

Over thirty autoists were arraigned in the Newton court last Friday, most of them charged with speeding. George Gerson of Framingham, a repeater in this offence, was fined $25. Among those fined $5 were: Ida Sherman, Springfield; Muriel Haywood, Worcester; James McLeod, Dunedin place, Wellesley; Jane Lee, Lowell; Charles Dunker, Brookline; Elizabeth Cadbury, Cambridge. For driving past traffic signals with lights showing red: Philip Massad, Worcester; Louis Palder, Dorchester; Robert Cushing, Wollaston, each was fined $5. Cushing was also fined $25 for not stopping when signalled to do so by a policeman. Robert Chamberlain of Needham was fined $5 for speeding and $5 for disregarding a traffic sign. John Hager of Littleton was fined $5 for not stopping before entering a through way.

Janet Remick of Exeter st., West Newton, was in the Newton court last Saturday charged with speeding. The case was supposed to have been tried on Wednesday of this week, and through error Patrolmen Dungan and McDonough, the complaining officers, were not notified to be in court. Judge Allen placed the case on file.

Annual Meeting Of Oak Hill Imp. Asso.

The annual meeting of the Oak Hill Improvement Association was held on Monday, April 27 at the Chas. River Country Club. A large gathering of Oak Hill residents were present and the meeting was addressed by Mayor Childs, Aldermen Tompeler, McKay, Walker and Colby and a representative of the architects of the new Oak Hill school. Officers elected for the ensuing year included Wendell R. K. Mick, president; Charles R. Davis and Mrs. Horatio Rogers, vice presidents; Benjamin T. Fawcett, 138 Danehill rd., secretary-treasurer; Russell V. Burkhard, Henry S. C. Cummings and Philip Drinker, directors for 3 years.

The association unanimously passed several motions relating to the enforcement of zoning ordinances. The association urges that a permit be required for the removal of sand, gravel, sub-soil or loam whether, or not a sale is involved. The present ordinance permits the giving away of any of these and presents a positive loophole in the enforcement of the ordinance. A stricter enforcement of the regulations which forbid heavy trucking on certain streets was urged. Many complaints have been received of regular abuse of such regulations. The meeting also voted to have steps taken to stop regular outdoor storing of trucks on property strictly residential in character. It was voted that the association make it one of its chief objectives this year to urge the immediate construction of a road connecting Meadowbrook rd. with Parker st., thus making the approach to the new school and proposed village center more accessible.

A paper was read by Henry S. C. Cummings which gave a resume of the improvements which have been obtained for Oak Hill since the association was formed, or which will be accomplished in the near future. A new school, to cost about $200,000 will be ready for occupancy early next year, and Meadowbrook rd. has been extended nearly 1000 feet to give access to this school. A main line sewer is being extended from Charlemont to Oak Hill as a PWA project. This improvement will cost about $375,000. A room for a branch of the Newton Public Library has been included in the plans for the new school building. The Oak Hill community has arranged for bus service which will give connections with Newton Centre, Waban and Cleveland Circle, Brookline. The Oak Hill terminus will be at Brookline and Dedham sts. Better postal service has been procured for the Countryside section. The drainage of low lands and the new sewer should help in the control of the mosquito nuisance. A traffic control and automatic flashing signals have been installed by the State at Woodcliff rd. and "Stop" signs erected by the city at dangerous corners along the turnpike.

Day Jr. High School

The girls' gym meet on Thursday opened with the entry of the color guard, Barbara Doten, Jane St. George, and Thada Thornton. All three classes were very even, the score being tied until the last event, the Cadet Tap Dance, which was won by the ninth grade. The military marching of the ninths, commanded by Nadylis Dalton, was very well done. A unique feature of the meet was a Polka dance, arranged by June Nesbitt. The captains for the games were Erminia Mancini, Nina Coletti, and Nancy McGill.

The F. A. Day was host on Wednesday to the teachers of Newton at a Reading Conference. Mr. Warren was chairman of the afternoon's activities. Questions raised by teachers of foreign languages, practical arts, social studies, and English were answered in the panel. Miss Dorrity spoke of the work in reading being done in the sixth grade, and Miss Walsh spoke on what preparations, habits, and abilities seventh grade English teachers expect from their pupils at the beginning of the year.

Captain William Wincapaw, affectionately known as "Capt. Bill," one of the oldest flying pilots in the United States, spoke to the members of the ninth grade Wednesday morning. Captain Wincapaw, who has been flying more than 25 years, is recalled frequently as one of the rescuers of the boys on the ice floe, last winter, as well as a Santa Claus to Marine lighthouse keepers to whom he drops Christmas packages. He also helped out in the flood relief, recently, and may be seen now flying the LaTouraine cabin passenger plane from Boston Airport. To demonstrate the science of flying, Capt. Wincapaw brought several modern airplanes. Capt. Bill highly praised the aviation marker built by F. A. Day boys and displayed on the school roof. George Mason, Vice-President of New England District of National Aeronautical Society, accompanied the captain.

The boys' tennis team played Bigelow last week and tied them. Next week they will play the Weeks team. The members of the team are: Albert Everts, Ernest Johnson, Edward Saunier, Ernest Mannino, John Harber, Philip Scanlon, and James Gallagher.

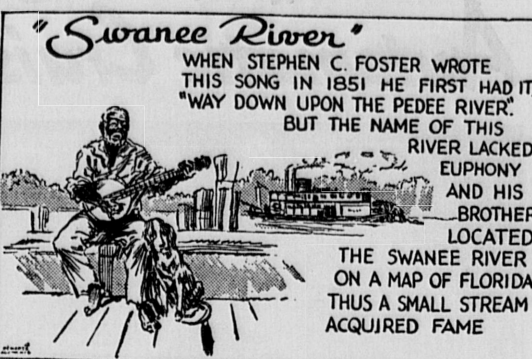

Friday, the League of Junior High School Publications will meet at the Weeks Junior High. The following will represent the Day: Curtis Drury, Barbara Swain, Joe Hughes, Albert Everts, and Donata Cellucci.

Woman's Association N'ville M. E. Church

—Mrs. Grace Pierce Maynard spoke on "Romance of Famous Painters" at the afternoon session of the monthly meeting of the Woman's Association of the Newtonville Methodist Church. With the use of slides, Mrs. Maynard showed a large selection of pictures, some so old that their principal value lies in a means of expression. In the collection were many man-donnas which are found in the art of every country. Raphael's "Sistine Madonna", which hangs in the Royal Art Gallery in Dresden, and "The Madonna of the Chair" are among the well known. Guido Reni's "Aurora", which was painted on the ceiling in the Rospigliosi Palace in Rome about 360 years ago; "Mona Lisa", a few years older, and the most valuable picture in existence; Fra Angelico's "The Annunciation" and Murillo's "The Immaculate Conception" which was bought by the French in 1852 for $25,000, were shown by Mrs. Maynard.

Other pictures of great value are Rosa Bonheur's "Horse Fair" for which the owner, Cornelius Vanderbilt, paid $55,000, and Millet's "The Angelus", which was purchased for $150,000. Among American artists of note are Homer, a native of Boston, who did a number of sea pictures; Whistler, whose "The Artist's Mother" is famous; George Inness, one of the best landscape artists, and his son, George Inness, Jr., and George Butler, Saint Augustus Gaudens, who came to this country in infancy, is known for his "Appeal to the Great Spirit," which was first done as a picture.

The women met in the morning to sew for the PWA for which they have made 150 garments. Luncheon was served by Group Six, Mrs. F. E. Drew and Mrs. Grant Van Gundy, chairmen. The annual Mother and Daughter dinner this evening, the Woman's Bible Class dinner, May 15, and the annual meeting with luncheon, June 3, are on the association's calendar for the rest of the season.

Gets 30 Days for Drunken Driving

Monday morning at 3 o'clock firemen at Engine 1 house, Newton, and residents in the Warren Apartments at Channing and Washington sts. were awakened by a terrific crash. The iron electric light pole near the fire engine house had been broken off by an automobile which was wedged up against the pole. George Lewis, who gave his address as Kew Gardens, Long Island, New York, the driver of the car, was arrested by Patrolmen Walker and Maguire on charges of drunkenness and driving a car while under the influence of liquor. His wife, Jane Lewis, had to be ex-tricated from the wreckage. She was taken to the Newton Hospital to be treated for injuries. In the Newton court on Wednesday Lewis was sentenced by Judge Weston to 30 days in jail for drunken driving. He had been convicted of a similar offence at Quincy in 1932. He was also fined $10 for drunkenness. He appealed. Two physicians from the Newton Hospital, where Lewis was taken to have a slight injury treated an hour after the crash, testified he was not drunk. The arresting officers and Lieut. Mahoney testified he was drunk. A partly empty quart whiskey bottle, which was found in the car, was submitted as evidence.

Charge Student Drunken Driver

Henry C. Weidner, Jr., 22, of New Brighton, Pa., a Harvard student, was charged in the Newton court on Wednesday with drunkenness and driving a car while under the influence of liquor. Patrolmen Barry and Davis told Judge Allen that the car driven by Weidner passed a police car they were riding in last week and one of the two occupants yelled to the police to "get to hell out of the way." Weidner testified that his companion, Allen Gooloe, 25, another Harvard student, who was arrested for drunkenness, had only called the police "flat-foots." The judge continued the case to May 13 to allow the defendants to bring two Wellesley students who had been with them on the night of the arrest, in as witnesses. The defendants said their fair companions would testify also that the Harvard young gentlemen only had drank a small quantity of beer that night.

59th Annual Meeting and Banquet

Dr. Rex Stowers Clements was the principal speaker at the 59th Annual Meeting and Banquet of the Newton Young Men's Christian Association held in the Association Building on Monday, May 4th. In a most interesting address, illustrated with many good stories, he challenged those present to be more earnest in their endeavor as they sought to provide opportunities for the development of Christian character in the youth of this and the coming generation.

Mr. Frank A. Day Jr., was again chosen president and Mr. Frederic B. Eastman, vice-president of the association. Mr. E. Graham Bates, reporting for the Nominating Committee, placed in nomination the following:—Directors to serve for three years: Frank A. Day, Jr., S. T. Emery, Charles Wood Bond, F. Sayford Bacon, James B. Melcher, Arnold C. Barker, Paul E. Ellicker, and Richard H. Lee; Trustees to serve for four years: Charles E. Riley and Henry B. Day; treasurer to serve for one year: Walter C. Wrye; and clerk to serve one year: L. Chase Kepner. All were duly declared elected.

Reports were given by Messrs. Clyde G. Hess, Richard B. Simmons, and H. W. Bascom. Mention was made of the large enrollment at Camp Frank A. Day last year, the great interest in educational trips for boys, the program carried out by the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi Clubs of Newton and Watertown, the splendid work of the Woman's Auxiliary, the comprehensive program conducted by the Physical Directors and a large corps of volunteer leaders, the World Service Work of the Y. M. C. A., the Young Men's Activities, including the Discussion Groups, Clubs, Public Speaking Classes, and the promotion of the first Annual Club Night. An interesting essay was read by Marvin B. Perry, Jr.

A cup was presented by Mr. Simmons to Charles L. Goodrich, the winner in the recent Handicap Squash Racquets Tournament. The second prize went to Roland S. Coombs, runner up in the Tournament. Dr. Fred E. Simm received a shield to indicate that again the Wrestling Team, coached by him, was the winner of the W-State Wrestling Meet. The beautiful cup offered by the Massachusetts Squash Racquets Association for competition in the Class D Tournament was on display. A leg on this cup was won this year by the Newton Y. M. C. A. "D" Team.

Pleasant features of the program were the singing of the selections by the Y. M. C. A. Quartette, incidental music by Trio from the WPA orchestra, and Community Singing led by Mr. W. S. Bruton with George King at the piano.

During the closing moments of the Annual Meeting an incident occurred which was quite unusual as it happened for the first time in the history of the Newton Y. M. C. A. Our General Secretary, Mr. H. W. Bascom, has reached the age of retirement as well as completing thirty years of continuous service. The Board of Directors unanimously requested him to continue his services as General Secretary and also granted him a three months' leave of absence. His many friends thought it was the appropriate time to do something to show their love and appreciation for his kindly and efficient service. A testimonial in which one hundred of his friends have taken part, was presented to him and to Mrs. Bascom, with many expressions of gratitude for the very helpful, kindly, and efficient way in which the work has been carried on during all these years, not only in the "Y", but throughout the city.

Refreshments were served and Mr. F. Sayford Bacon were the committee in charge of arrangements for this dinner.

Annual Free Swimming Campaign

Two hundred and fifty-eight boys from the schools of Newton and Watertown registered Saturday morning in the Annual Community Free Swimming Campaign being held this week at the Newton Y. M. C. A. The boys were given a medical examination by either Dr. Theodore D. Clark, Dr. Raymond E. Johnson, or Dr. Theodore E. Brown, and were then assigned to a period for free swimming lessons for each day of this week. The instructor in charge of the teaching is Jack Manning of the Massachusetts Humane Society who has been doing this work for the last sixteen years. On Saturday morning the boys will give a swimming test, and those who show the most progress will be awarded a Humane Society medal.

Baseball

John E. Barwise, who has managed the Newton Y. M. C. A. baseball team playing in the Newton Twilight League during the last two years, will again manage the team this summer. Practice is being held Wednesday evenings and Saturday afternoons at the "Y" field.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE NEWTONVILLE IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting of the Newtonville Improvement Association will be held at 8 p. m. Tuesday, May 12th, at the rooms of the Central Congregational Church, Walnut st., Newtonville.

Reports of the officers for the past year will be read and officers and executive committee for the year 1936-37 will be elected.

The speaker of the evening is Mr. Frederick N. Blodgett, a well known local sportsman, who will give a talk "An Airplane Trip to Alaska," illustrated by moving pictures.

Refreshments will be served after the meeting. The committee in charge consists of Carl P. Schipper Jr., chairman, Donald M. Hill, and Eugene Howell.

This meeting is open to all residents of Newtonville and their friends whether or not members of the association.

BUCKNAM—HATCH

Miss Margaret Thayer Hatch, daughter of Mrs. Herbert Fay Hatch of Auburndale, was married to Charles Clark Bucknam, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Calvin Bucknam of 38 Cliff rd., Wellesley Hills, on Saturday evening, May second, at the First Church in Chestnut Hill. Rev. Dan Fenn performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Malcolm Wing Hatch, wore a gown of ivory satin with a long train. Her tulle veil fell from a cap of old family point de Venise lace. She carried a shower bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley. Miss Harriet Crump Jones of Ardmore, Penna., who was the maid of honor, wore violet chiffon velvet with hat to match and carried spring flowers.

The groom was attended by his father as best man and the ushers were Gordon Bucknam, brother of the groom; Herbert Fay Hatch, Jr., brother of the bride; Allston; Rufus Horton Jones, Jr., of New York, and Robert Simmott of Dorchester.

The decorations at the altar and chancel of the church and at the home of the bride, 39 Grove st., where the reception was held, were baskets of Spring flowers and ferns.

Mr. Bucknam and his bride left for a motor trip to Williamsburg, Va., and the Shenandoah Valley. On their return they will live in New Haven, Conn. They will be at home after September 1st.

The bride is a graduate of the Garland School. The groom prepared at Phillips Andover Academy and attended Leland Stanford and Harvard Universities, graduating from the latter in 1928 and from the Harvard Business School in 1931. He is a member of Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity and an ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve Aviation Corps.

BANISTER—SUMNER

Miss Ruth Sumner, daughter of Mr. Herbert R. Sumner of 5 Bonwood st., Newtonville, was married to Glen Bryant Banister of Springfield, Vt., on Saturday evening, May 2nd, at eight o'clock in the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church. Rev. Lawrence W. Emig performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of egg-shell duchess satin in princess style with a train. The maid of honor, Miss Doris Elizabeth Perry of Brookline, wore orchid chiffon and the flower girl, Miss Elizabeth Newcomb, wore figured white organdie and a coronet of sweetheart roses.

The best man was Hazen Banister

Graham and the ushers were John Ross Newcomb, Granville Hamilton Leatherwood, Sumner Osborne Varney and Everett Williams.

A reception was held at the home of the bride from 8:30 to 11. The couple were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Guy E. Banister and Mr. Herbert Ross Sumner.

On their return from a wedding trip to Charlestown, S. C., Mr. and Mrs. Banister will reside at 5 Bonwood st., Newtonville, where they will be at home after June 1st.

JOHNSON—WALTER

Miss Blanche H. Walter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Walter of 10 Fern st., Auburndale, was married to Carol Johnson of London, England, on Friday, May 1st. The marriage took place in London where Mr. and Mrs. Walter have been spending the winter. The bride is a graduate of Cornell. The groom is a solicitor and a member of the firm of Reed, Reeves and Johnson.

Recent Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Metcalf Winthrop Melcher of 147 Lake ave., Newton Centre, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Melcher, to Warren Taft Bryant, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stebbins Bryant, of Boston and Milton. Miss Melcher attended the Brimmer School and the Bennett School, Millbrook, N. Y. Mr. Bryant is a graduate of Milton Academy and Harvard University, class of 1922.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Parrock of San Francisco, Calif., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Mrs. Louise P. Bennett of Brookline, to James M. Benson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Benson of Somerset rd., West Newton. Mrs. Bennett is a graduate of the Choate School and also attended the Museum of Fine Arts School. Mr. Benson is a graduate of Dartmouth, 1934, and is a member of Chi Phi fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. M. Dickenson of Arnold rd., Newton Centre, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Clayton P. Dickenson, to Frederick C. Koch, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Koch of Garden City, L. I., New York. Miss Dickenson is a graduate of the Katharine Gibbs School in New York. Mr. Koch is a graduate of Syracuse University and the New York Law School. He is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity. The wedding is to take place on Friday evening, June 12.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

read poems and excerpts from the collections of well-known and authoritative writers.

At the close of the talk, tea was served by members of the Education committee, Mrs. J. Mace Address pouring.

This series of six classes has had an attendance of from twenty-five to forty, and has been most satisfying to the group interested. It is the oldest of the Club's supplemented activities, and has been under the leadership of Mrs. Boyden and Mrs. Andrews. One of its unusual features this season has been that several of the past presidents of the Club have taken the responsibility for programs.

The Education committee, of which Mrs. Paul E. Ellicker has been chairman, has been quite outstanding in its service to the Club and to the community. Besides providing for the Annual Scholarship of $200.00 which it realized at the spring Bridge Party, the committee has conducted four conferences to which all interested were invited, and which had the purpose of discussing and explaining the many ways in which the public and the school libraries have operated to the great advantage of school pupils. The year's work of the committee has attracted the attention of other clubs, of which Mrs. Ellicker has visited, outlining the course pursued in the Newtonville Club.

Girl Scouts

Newton Centre Court of Awards. The Girl Scouts of Newton Centre held their annual Court of Awards on Friday, May 1, in the Weeks Junior High School. After the opening exercises by the senior troop, Mrs. Kenneth P. Crafts, Village Chairman, welcomed the large audience.

Troop 30: The following girls received Child Nurse, Home Nurse, and First Aid: Lucille Burke, Grace Coffey, Natalie Crowley, Eleanor Leahy, Antoinette Lucier, Alice O'Donnell, Lavina Sheehan and Virginia Vachon. Mary Sheehan received the Bugler and Grace Coffey and Natalie Crowley received Cook.

Miss Eloise A. Barber, Newton Field Captain, gave out Second Class badges to the following girls: Troop 3, Charlotte Root; Troop 27, Phyllis Green, Irene Batten, Betty Dempsey, Lora Standish, Patricia Leydon, Nancy Sharp, Jean MacKinnon, Ethel Schall, Marilyn Friedman, Mary Healey, Hortensia Robinson, Barbara Marriott, Eleanor Demirian; Troop 30, Lucille Burke; Troop 40, Barbara Chisholm, Patricia McNary, Agnes Mueller, Mildred O'Donnell, and Katharine Roberts.

Miss Margaret E. Adams, Local Director, presented First Class Badges to Marabelle Stebbins, Charlotte Walker, and Betty Gale.

Troops 30 and 40 played some Scout games. Troop 3 did a folk dance, Troop 27 gave a tie exhibit, and Troop 13 did a may pole dance.

Miss Frances Lee of the Lee School, Boston, spoke on "What Is Behind the Merit Badge?" and stressed the significance of the badge work and the need of understanding and co-operation from the parents.

MINUTE MEN CHAPTER D. A. R.

Mrs. Herbert E. Child, ex-regent of Minute Men Chapter, D. A. R. of Boston, entertained at the last meeting. Members were present from Boston, Norfolk, Malden, Medford, Roslindale, Braintree, Cambridge, Needham and Newton. Reports of the Continental Congress held in Washington last month, were read by Mrs. A. E. Barber, Mrs. Charles Davis, Miss Lilian B. Mathewson, and Mrs. Alice Crossman, the regent. Mayor Edwin O. Childs was the speaker of the afternoon.

Mrs. Child served refreshments during the social hour. Mrs. Eleanor Brown Pike of Roslindale poured, assisted by Mrs. Winthrop T. Case of Braintree, Mrs. Arthur W. Gonnors of Needham, and Mrs. Grace M. Connors of Upper Falls.

PARISH PLAYERS

The Parish Players of Newton Highlands are rehearsing a three act mystery play, "The Bat," to be given some time this month.

Mr. Douglas Sloan is coaching the play and early reports promise a high standard production.

The cast includes Bessie Skelton, Polly Leonard, Laura Hathaway, John Allen, Chris. Roberts, Wm. Newby, Richard Harrison, Kemp Lambert, Graydon Smith and the Rev. Chas. O. Farrar.

This play will be the last production of the current season for Parish Players.

TEST

against the best any other low priced car can do!"

Drive as many of the other low priced cars as you care to... particularly the other three leading "makes." Then take a "Discovery Drive" in a Terraplane.

You will find very little difference in price for the model you want... but a big difference in what you get for what you pay.

JUDGE STYLE—Terraplane against the other three, with the only 1936 design that is entirely new.

CHECK SIZE AND ROOM—Full 115-inch wheelbase in Terraplane... up to 3 inches more than the others. And 145 cubic feet of inside space... more head room, leg room, seating room.

TEST EASE OF HANDLING—Something brand new here... Tru-Line Steering and Radial Safety Control, patent applied for. Exclusive in Terraplane.

TRY RIDING COMFORT—Terraplane's Rhythmic Ride, against the ride you get in any other low priced car.

CHECK PERFORMANCE—88 or 100 horsepower in a Terraplane... 3 to 9 more than any of the other three leaders. More power per ton, and smoothness no other low priced car approaches.

TEST BRAKES—Terraplane is the only low priced car with latest, finest hydraulics, and a separate safety braking system operating from the same brake pedal if ever needed. Plus a third braking system from the easy handling parking brake.

MEASURE SAFETY—Only Terraplane, of the leading four, has a body all of steel with solid, seamless steel roof.

COMPARE ECONOMY—Terraplane averaged 23.95 miles per gallon in the Los Angeles-Yosemite Economy Run, with 3 passengers and baggage—with no coasting.

CONSIDER RUGGEDNESS—We'll show you owner records of 125,000, 150,000 miles and up. Ask any other low priced car to match them.

117TH ANNIVERSARY OF ODD FELLOWSHIP

Newton Lodge No. 92, Tennyson Rebekah Lodge, No. 177, and Garden City Encampment No. 62, will hold a joint celebration of the 117th anniversary of the order on Friday, May 15.

The program will open with a turkey supper at 6:30 p. m. at I. O. O. F. Hall, 15 Southgate park, West Newton. At 8 o'clock the PWA orchestra conducted by Prof. Herman Sulzen will give a concert, followed by a jolly vaudeville program. No charge will be made for Odd Fellows, Rebekahs and their friends except for the supper. Reservations must be made for this with the committee by May 12th.

Waban Lodge No. 156, having celebrated this anniversary together with their own 65th anniversary, will not participate in this event.

MIDDLESEX COURT BEANO PARTY

Middlesex Court No. 60, M. C. O. F., of Newton, will conduct a Beano Party at Elk's Hall, Newton, on Tuesday evening, May 12, in aid of the Welfare Fund of the Court.

Treasurer Thomas E. Fitzgerald is chairman of the committee-in-charge assisted by Chief Ranger, Miss Marion Goode, Joseph M. Farragher, Miss Mary D. McDonald, Thomas F. Bryson, James T. Flynn, Timothy Gannon, Mrs. Ellen Cassidy, Mrs. Winifred Herlihy, J. A. McDonald, Mary T. Shea, Mary M. Mulligan, Elizabeth Shea, Catherine Conroy, Mabel Bryson and Charles Fagan.

ALICIA KELLEHER'S DANCE REVUE IN WATERTOWN

The eighth annual dance revue by the pupils of Alicia Kelleher from Newton, Watertown, Belmont and Waverley will be held on Friday evening, May 15, at 8 o'clock in the Senior High School Hall, Common st., Watertown.

Eccentric, ballet, tap and interpretive dances will be executed by her pupils. By special request Miss Kelleher will tap dance the overture from "Poet and Peasant."

All costumes designed by Miss Kelleher and stage and lighting effects will be under her person direction.

ALL SOULS LEND-A-HAND CLUB

Mrs. E. Melville Hill opened her home at 15 Ashton ave., Newton Centre, on Monday, May 4, for the annual meeting and luncheon of the All Souls Lend-A-Hand Club. Officers were chosen for the new year. Mrs. Hill resigned her office of secretary after fifteen years of service; the club presented her with a loving gift of four silver candle holders. The club will hold its next meeting October 5 with luncheon at Brandon Hall, Brookline.

Social Minutes

The uncertain sun stayed out from behind gloomy clouds long enough Wednesday noon to flood the pale blue and silver dining room of the Brunswick Casino with glowing light. A profusion of flowers decorated the lounge and a throng of smartly gowned women lent charm and distinction to the delightful luncheon of the Hebrew University Scholarship Association. Mrs. A. E. Wagman is president of this worthy charity group, and was on hand with the chairman of the afternoon to greet the guests. Mr. Samuel H. Finkel who is well known to Bostonians for his excellent work as American director of the Hebrew University was the guest speaker. The other feature in the program was a few musical selections by Nicholas Kassman, first violinist of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, and Miss Rosa Frutman, pianist. To Mrs. Max Simberg and her committee goes the credit for this interesting and successful affair. Mrs. Nathan Brezner was there with Mrs. E. P. Lewitts. Among the other guests here and there were Mrs. J. A. Dubins, Mrs. J. Keazar and Mrs. I. Stein.

Mrs. W. Sachs' Home Background for Musicals

The long, rosy-hue drawing room of Mrs. William Sachs' spacious home in Brookline was the scene Sunday afternoon of a charming musicale. Young music lovers and members interested in the Bikur Cholim Junior division were present. The audience warmly applauded the afternoon's artists. Miss Alice Pearlman pianist, Mrs. I. Nettlich, sang two delightful groups of songs, and Miss Beatrice Shleman, reciter. After the concert everyone adjourned to the dining room where Mrs. Sachs graciously served tea. Mrs. S. Zimmerman, who acted as assistant hostess to Mrs. Sachs also poured. Watching the performance was Miss Sara Libber, Mrs. I. Harris, Miss Helen Belson, Miss Isabel Ehrlich, Miss Minna Einstein, Miss Ida Feldman, Miss Hannah Garr and Miss Rita Feldman.

Calendar Reads

Green, purple and gold—colors of the Mardi Gras down in Louisiana will be lavishly used in the decorating of the Symphony Hall for the New Orleans Pops Concert on Monday, May 11th. Other fascinating touches of local color at this concert of old French and Spanish music will be the domino masks of the flower sellers. Mrs. Knowles Gray is the ticket chairman and she has been receiving a flood of table reservations for this festive occasion. All this is benefiting the Boston Dispensary and Boston Floating Hospital.

Saturday's mail brought cards for the book festival of the New England Women's Association of Hebrew Teachers' College to be held at the college on Crawford street in Roxbury. A pageant by Mrs. Louis Hurwich will precede the delicious luncheon. Mrs. Max Leavitt is chairman of reservations and Mrs. Louis Hurwich is chairman of hostesses.

Oppose Auto Yard Near Famous House

A petition of C. S. Collins, Inc. for a permit to conduct an outdoor sales place for used automobiles at the corner of Centre and Pleasant sts., Newton Centre will be given a public hearing before the Licenses Committee of Newton Aldermen on May 13. The locus adorns the former home of Rev. S. F. Smith, author of "America," the patriotic hymn. The Newton Centre Improvement Association has entered a protest against the permit being granted. It is contended such a use of the property would be disrespectful to Newton's patriotic shrine.

Burglary at Chas. River Club

The Charles River Country Club at Oak Hill was entered last Friday by a burglar and $30 in cash stolen. On the same day someone broke two windows at the home of Dr. C. L. Parsons, 573 Hammond st., Chestnut Hill, apparently in an attempt to enter the house.

ARCTIC CIRCLE

The Arctic Circle will hold their annual get-together on Monday evening, May 11, at 7:45 in the Presentation Club House at Oak sq., Brighton.

The object of the circle is to aid the missions in Alaska and of particular interest to Newton people is the mission at Akulurak where Mother Mary of the Blessed Sacrament, O. S. U., a former resident of West Newton, has been stationed. At present Mother Mary is temporarily stationed at the Ursuline Convent at Springfield, Illinois but hopes to return soon to Alaska.

The entertainment will consist of a concert program, tableaux, distribution of prizes from Alaska and talks by Rev. Richard J. Cushing, Diocesan Director of the Propagation of the Faith and Rev. Gerald C. Fitzgerald, C.S.C.

A number of Newton men and women are on the committees in charge of the affair.

Young People's Fellowship At Grace Church

Two hundred and fifty young people from all over New England are expected to gather in Grace Church, Newton, for the Twelfth Annual Conference of the Young People's Fellowship in the Episcopal Province of New England, on Saturday and Sunday, May 9 and 10.

JANET D. TUTILL
President Young People's Fellowship at Grace Church, Newton

The aim of the Young People's Fellowship is "Through Fellowship with Jesus Christ in Worship, Study, Service, and Fellowship, to prepare ourselves for the Adventure of Christian Living, and to try to interest other young people in that Adventure." This is done through weekly meetings in over 300 churches in New England.

The speakers who will address the conference on "Discipleship" are: Rev. Norman B. Nash, S. T. D., of the Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge; Rev. Nathaniel Noble, of the Lenox (Mass.) School for Boys; and Rev. Charles B. Scovill, of Yantic, Conn. Rev. John Kuhns, of Providence, R. I., will conduct a Service of Preparation for the Holy Communion, and officers of the Fellowship will lead discussion groups on the implication of "Discipleship" in personal Christian living.

The Fellowship of Grace Church, under the leadership of Janet Tutill, of Wesley St., will entertain the Conference. Robert Prowten, of Nonantum place, and Virginia Partridge, of Oakleigh Rd., are in charge of Guides; Alyce Kee, of Arlington st., and Eugene Prowten, of Nonantum place, are arranging for hospitality; Frederick Brooks, of Newton, and Miriam Rix, of Watertown, are providing for the meals.

Pauline L. Lyon, of Mattapan, is the Representative of this Province on the National Commission, and John L. Allen, of Newton Highlands, is Provincial Vice President of Worship. Election of officers, representing the seven dioceses of New England, will take place at this meeting.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

The Fortieth Anniversary Dinner of the Norumbega District Council of Religious Education, held last Tuesday evening at the Newton Highlands Congregational Church, was a notable event, with twenty churches represented.

The service of this organization for the training of workers in the Sunday Schools has been significant and far-reaching. During the forty years of service, many outstanding citizens of Newton, Watertown, Belmont and Waltham have served as officers, including Rev. F. N. Peloubet (the first president in 1896), Daniel P. Jewett, James B. Taylor, Rev. Geo. W. Butters, Charles A. Haskell, W. J. Cozens, Charles D. Kepner, Everett A. Green, Richard O. Walter, Frank W. Chase, J. W. Blaisdell, William E. Lowry, Fred L. Smith, Wm. H. Timbrie, Richard O. Walter and many others. Letters from some of these were read, and greetings were sent to others who were unable to attend.

Dr. Herbert W. Gates, as the chief speaker of the evening, stressed the significant trends in curriculum and leadership training that have taken place during the past forty years. Dr. L. W. C. Emig of Newtonville said that his church was happy to have been the center of the District training school work for many years and he hoped they might continue to be for the next forty years. Miss Bessie Stratton, Mayor Edwin O. Childs and others spoke on the values and possibilities for the future of the youth of Newton through the upbuilding of the churches and the training of intelligent Christian church members.

Rev. Frank and Mrs. Jennings of Newton Centre, Rev. and Mrs. Ben Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Mayer, constituted the reception line before the supper, the special purpose being that church school workers might meet Mr. Jennings, the new general secretary of the Massachusetts Council of Churches. Later in the evening, Mr. Jennings spoke as a state official on the topic, "The Future As I See It."

Dr. Ralph H. Rogers of Auburndale presented the following officers to be elected: President, Herbert C. Mayer, Vice-President, Richard H. Lee; Secretary, Miss Grace A. Briggs; Treasurer, Dr. Mark H. Ward.

CHARMING OLD COLONIAL SOLD IN WELLESLEY

Alford Bros.' office is reporting that there is great interest in the purchase of homes in the many attractive portions of the town of Wellesley, near Wellesley College and Dana Hall, at No. 25 Cottage st., there is a handsome type of old Colonial cottage, with seven rooms and bath, together with a three-car garage, located on a lot of land containing approximately 12,200 square feet. This property has been transferred to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon C. Gentner of Newton, for Helen I. Colburn of Wellesley. The real estate conveyed is valued at $6,500, and the buyers will occupy as their home.

Aldermen Meet

The regular meeting of the Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night started at 8:10 and finished at 12:15 A.M. Tuesday. Two hours and ten minutes of the intervening time were occupied by a recess during which some of the committees discussed some matters at length—and then some. The meeting, in contrast to most of those this year, was a reversion to the long recess which characterized meetings of the preceding few years. The meeting was featured by neighborhood differences regarding the construction of sanitary sewers, and the reading of a lengthy report by Alderman Bowen; said report being a sort of manifesto which was signed by all seven members of the Finance Committee. It commented on the activities and problems of the various city departments and contained suggestions and criticisms. Details of the hearings on petitions for sewers and the report of the Finance Committee are printed elsewhere in this issue.

Alderman Rawson, reporting for the Claims and Rules Committee, recommended leave to withdraw on the claim of Tatiana Speaks for damage to the house at 221 Valentine street, West Newton, allegedly caused by blizzard. He said the city is not liable because of blizzard being a force of nature. He also reported that street at the time the damage is alleged to have occurred. Leave to withdraw was also given to the claim of John F. McCarron for damage to his fence at 19 Pearl street, Newton, caused last winter when one of the new sidewalk plows was removing snow. Rawson said the claim was for $10 and that the fence was repaired by city employees at a cost of $475. He commented that this was the only claim presented to the city for any damage done by one of these sidewalk plows despite the statement made by an alderman at a preceding meeting that these plows had caused damage amounting to thousands of dollars. Alderman Guzzi, who made this statement, said he knew of other cases, but he had told the people whose property had been damaged that there was much red tape involved, and the committee's attitude would be adverse, that the people refrained from making claims.

The Board voted to change land on Clark street from private to single residence zone at the request of residents there. It also voted to change the method of appointing members of the Planning Board. Heretofore members have been elected for varying terms. In the future all members will be appointed for 3-year terms.

The Board voted to suspend the rules so that the revised traffic ordinances could be passed. Alderman Goddard said there were no radical changes and the purpose of the revision is to put the ordinances in proper order so they will be approved by the State Department of Public Works. Parking on Woodward street will be restricted to one hour between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. for 200 feet from the Waban depot. Alderman Guzzi suggested that pamphlets be printed containing the revised traffic ordinances for distribution to those who may desire them.

The Aldermen appropriated $8000 to install modern fire alarm systems in Newton public schools. Alderman Colby gave a lengthy explanation of the advantages of the system to be installed over the antiquated system now in use in the schools. He said the change is approved by the Mayor and heads of departments. It will cost $16,000 to install the system in twelve of the older schools which now have the old-fashioned system. In these schools are 3700 pupils and it is important to their safety that the modern dependable system be installed without undue delay. The $8000 will permit half of the work to be done this year.

Alderman Temperley said there have been no fires in Newton schools for 50 years past while schools were in session. There was one fire at the old Adams School. He said that in those days schools were constructed of wood, while for many years they have been supposedly of fireproof construction. He said there was no action taken by the Aldermen during 6 years of the preceding administration to spend $16,000 to safeguard the school children against the alleged hazard now claimed to exist. He argued that the Finance Committee this year lopped $13,000 off the amount asked by the Building Commissioner for school building maintenance, that the committee also refused to appropriate money to provide additional protection for the children against street traffic where greater hazard exists, that each school has a fire alarm box in it, and the present alarm systems in schools are tested daily by the electrician employed by the School Department. Temperley called attention to the considerable amount expended by the city a couple of years ago for armored cars, firearms and Sam Browne belts when the hysteria about bank bandits was rampant. He moved that the amount be reduced from $8000 to $4000 for the current year, and he called attention to the fact that it proposed to replace 3 of the 12 school buildings now slated to be equipped with the new alarm systems. These are the Franklin, Lincoln and Eliot schools. Alderman Rawson and McKay agreed with Alderman Colby that the $8000 should be appropriated. On a voice vote Temperley was the only member to vote in the negative.

Alderman Akins called attention to the non-appointment of the special committee to take action on the Mayor's inaugural recommendation for two platoons in the Newton Fire Department. President Floyd announced that the committee has been selected. It includes Aldermen Walker, Akins and Melcher.

Other appropriations made by the Board included: $200 to pay the Boston & Albany railroad for land taken at Waban to widen Beacon street; $6965 to lay water mains in various streets. It was also voted to pay medical bills of Edward Leahy, a former employee of the Street Department, injured while on duty.

Two Fires At Newton Highlands

Sunday morning at 12:56 fire was discovered in the vacant house at 111 Lincoln st., Newton Highlands. Box 643 was pulled and before the fire was extinguished two hours later, damage amounting to several thousand dollars had resulted. It is supposed the fire started from spontaneous combustion in oily rags used by painters. The building is owned by W. A. Jones of Somerset st., Boston.

Another vacant house at Newton Highlands was considerably damaged Saturday afternoon by a fire which was discovered at 5:56. The house at 28 Hyde st. is owned by Francis Halstead of Cambridge. Some children were observed trespassing in it shortly before the fire was discovered. The blaze started on a rear piazza and worked through a rear wall and up to the second floor.

Catch Burglar At West Newton

Leo McMahon, 36, of 15 Greylock rd., Allston, was captured at West Newton on last Friday night by Patrolmen Barr and Davis and Serg. Sullivan after he had entered the home of John Marquard, 11 Elliot ave., and stolen a number of pieces of jewelry. Police headquarters received a phone call from a Randlett Park resident that some man was prowling around his home. A police car was rushed to the neighborhood and the patrolmen found McMahon. While he was being questioned at police headquarters a phone call was received that his house had been burglarized. McMahon admitted the theft and guided the police to where he had hidden the loot. He was arraigned in Newton court last Friday and his case continued until May 8. He had served several years in Rhode Island state prison.

CENTRAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION

Beginning at noon, Wednesday, May 6, with a well attended business session, the Woman's Association of Central Congregational Church held its annual meeting. The day was filled with tributes, oral and floral, to the retiring president, Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, who presided.

The past year, outlined by Mrs. Palmer and Mrs. Edward K. Titus, rec. sec., showed a gain of 34 members. $2 for not stopping before entering a through way. Others fined $5 for speeding included Jane Marquard, Tower ct., Wellesley and Margaret Ridker of Worcester. Herbert Kivlan of 5th ave., Watertown was fined $3 for speeding; Nicolò Libernini, 117 Hawthorn st., Newton paid $3 for not stopping before entering a through way.

De Luxe Six 4-Door Sedan—$770*

It's hard to persuade Pontiac owners that any car could be more economical

ALMOST all motorists who buy Pontiacs notice a sharp drop in driving costs. So it didn't surprise owners when Pontiac defeated all entrants in its class in the Yosemite Valley Economy Run—averaging 23.9 miles per gallon (no oil added), under American Automobile Association supervision. It simply made official what they knew before—you can't do better for all-around economy.

Remember that when you buy a car. Over and above its smart distinction . . . its wealth of modern features . . . and its smooth, lively performance, Pontiac offers savings that are nothing less than phenomenal! It asks no odds of any car—not even for economy!

*List prices at Pontiac, Mich., begin at $615 for the "6" and $730 for the "8" (subject to change without notice). Safety plate glass standard on De Luxe "6" and "8". Standard group of accessories extra. Offered on G.M.A.C. new 6% Time Payment Plan.

Some Want Sewers—Others Do Not

To have or not to have sewers in several Newton streets provided three separate hearings before the Board of Aldermen on Monday night. The first hearing was on the petition of Dominic Lanno for a sewer in Broadway ter., Newtonville, from Broadway to the end of the terrace. Mr. Lanno had petitioned for this improvement last year and the Aldermen at that time refused his petition. He told the Board on Monday night that sanitary conditions at his home are very bad because of the lack of a sewer and the backing up of sewage, there has been illness in his family as a result, and he will lose the tenant in his house if a sewer is not constructed.

A written protest against the improvement was received from William J. Doherty of 15 Broadway, who also protested last year when Lanno petitioned for the sewer. Alderman Cronin spoke in behalf of Doherty. Cronin said he had received a message from Dr. Michael Chirg who said that Lanno's petition should be granted as a benefit to humanity. He had also received a protest from Doherty who said he would be assessed $225 if the sewer were built. Alderman Guzzi said he had been talking with Inspector House of the Newton Health Department about this matter and House had said that it is imperative that a sewer be built to relieve conditions at Lanno's home. Alderman Cronin asked Lanno if he will be willing to pay the whole cost of the sewer. Lanno replied that he is willing to pay his share. He said Doherty had purchased another lot adjoining Broadway ter. and would eventually benefit by the construction of the sewer.

The second hearing on a sewer was on the petition of John Bianchi of 56 Warren st., Newton Centre, for a sewer extension of 170 feet in Elgin st. He said it will abate a nuisance caused by an overflowing cesspool in an adjoining property. Townsend Cushman of 145 Elgin st. said the nuisance referred to has been abated by the construction of a new cesspool, and that the expense of a sewer would be prohibitive to him. Frank C. Peabody of 145 Elgin st. objected for the same reason. Mrs. Edwin Sayer also objected. She said her husband will be 87 his next birthday, is recovering from an illness, and the noise of the constructing of a sewer would be detrimental to his health.

The third argument over a sewer was on the petition of Mrs. Katherine

Mr. Hutchinson Heads Community Chest Campaign

Despite his definite and emphatic request that he should not be considered as the Campaign Director for 1936, the Board of Directors of the Newton Community Chest, Inc., in view of his constructive services to the Chest and of his leadership of the successful 1935 Campaign, unanimously elected Mr. Maynard Hutchinson as the 1936 Campaign Director. Final reports of last clean-up show that all but about $1,000 of the total goal in 1935 was raised. Fullest credit is due the entire campaign personnel of 1,800 people, men and women of Newton, and of the 10,600 subscribers for this fine record.

Mayor Edwin O. Childs, in his usual public-spirited manner, has accepted the appointment as Chairman of the Municipal Division which had such a remarkable record last year and plans to better that record in 1936. In 1935 the city employees pledged an average of $8.58, for the year, leading New England, with Lynn, Massachusetts, coming second with an average of $7.33.

Mayor Childs has appointed Mr. Harry Hageman as Vice-Chairman of his Division, in charge of the General Group and Mr. Julius E. Warren, Supt. of Schools, as Vice-Chairman in charge of the School Group. These two gentlemen blazed a fine trail last year, which was the first year of the Municipal Division and, with Mayor Childs' cooperation, plan to trim last year's fine record.

Other Divisions Planned

At present there are two new Divisions being planned: the Women's Division, of which Mrs. John F. Capron is the Chairman and the Industrial Division, the Chairman of which has not yet been appointed. Mr. John M. Brierer, of Waban, Factory Manager of the Boston Woven Hose and Rubber Company, has been named by Director Hutchinson as Chairman of the Residential Division.

Mr. James B. Melcher, Treasurer of the Newton National Bank and President of the Rotary Club of Newton, has been appointed as Chairman of the Clubs, Organizations and Private Schools Division. Mr. Charles C. Dasey, of the Cunard-White Star Line, has been named as Campaign Vice-Director and Chairman of the Advisory Division, which he so ably handled last year.

Mr. Roland Gammons, President of the West Newton Savings Bank, has been named as Campaign Auditor.

V.F.W. Poppy Drive May 22nd and 23rd

The Sergeant Eugene Joseph Daley Jr., Post No. 2344, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will conduct its annual "Buddy Poppy Drive" on Friday and Saturday, May 22nd and 23rd. On these two days members of the Post and Auxiliary will be stationed in the business districts of the city, bus terminals, railroad stations and various other sections soliciting the sale of the "Flower of Flanders Field"—the Poppy.

This year marks the fifteenth annual Buddy Poppy Drive to be conducted by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, at the time of its inauguration scarcely one thousand (1,000) Posts existed, while today about thirty-five hundred (3,500) gold chevron units have received their charters, practically all of which participate in this great and worthy drive. All the proceeds of this annual Buddy Poppy Drive are devoted to Veteran Welfare purposes, the care of disabled veterans, dependent wives and children and to provide for our departed comrades widows and orphans. Every Poppy sold by the Veterans of Foreign Wars is hand made by disabled and needy comrades in the various government hospitals and soldiers homes in the United States, each bearing a copyright label.

A large group of workers are expected to serve during the days of the drive under the leadership of Senior Vice Commander, Raymond W. Taft, as chairman of the committee. Wear a Buddy Poppy on Memorial Day—Honor the Dead by helping the Living.

Health Report For April

The report of the Newton Health Department for April shows that 46 deaths occurred in the city during the month—22 males and 24 females. The death rate for the month was 7.88. The causes of deaths included: pulmonary tuberculosis, 1; cancer, 4; diabetes, 1; cerebral hemorrhage, 3; heart diseases, 11; arteriosclerosis, 4; pneumonia, 10; appendicitis, 1. Communicable diseases reported during the month included: scarlet fever, 14 cases; measles, 771; German measles, 12; chickenpox, 7; lobar pneumonia, 12.

Other personnel and divisions will be announced as selected and decided upon.

Lightning Causes $30,000 Fire at Newton Centre

A bolt of lightning which hit a large barn on the farm of Hurley Brothers near the Worcester turnpike at Newton Centre about 6:15 Tuesday night, completely destroyed the barn, partially destroyed another large barn, killed a horse, and caused the burning of a number of pigs. Sheds, farm wagons and dairy equipment were burned or destroyed in the flames, and many tons of hay consumed. Through heroic efforts on the part of Frank Hurley, 76, his brother, Daniel, 72, and several employees and neighbors, 39 cows, which were in one of the two barns, were rescued and considerable dairy equipment saved.

The bolt hit the loft of the barn and as it coursed through the building killed a horse. Hay in the barn caught fire and in a minute the structure was ablaze. A phone call was made to fire alarm headquarters and at 6:20 a box alarm was sent in, followed at 6:33 by a second alarm which brought most of the apparatus in the city. The flames spread to a larger barn where the cows had been housed, but the firemen by determined efforts managed to save this building after it had been partially destroyed. It contained 40 or more tons of hay. Because of the distance of the buildings from Boylston st., thousands of feet of hose had to be laid. Traffic was blocked on the turnpike for a few hours and a large number of Newton police had to be assigned to detour it. The loss, estimated at between $20,000 and $30,000 is partly covered by insurance.

The Hurleys had just finished milking, and the raw milk was saved before the flames or smoke affected it. Agents of the Newton Health Department were at the scene Tuesday night and co-operated with the firemen in enabling them to carry on regular deliveries of milk on Wednesday despite the devastating fire. The family has conducted a dairy farm at the place for over two generations and won a high reputation. Nineteen years ago the dairy barn there was destroyed by fire and many cows burned.

Newton Taxpayers' Asso. Is Formed; Makes Formal Application For Charter

Many Prominent Citizens Included In List of Officers and Directors of New Organization

Application for a charter for the Newton Tax Payers' Association, Inc., has been made by a group of Newton citizens acting on behalf of a much larger group representing all parts of the city. The purpose for which the corporation is formed is:

"To foster, encourage and promote a non-partisan interest in, and study of, the business and fiscal activities of Federal, State, and Municipal and County governmental agencies as such activities may affect the tax payers of Newton, and, by co-operation with such agencies, strive to assist in effecting economy and efficiency in such activities."

The petitioners are: Walter R. Amesbury, Lincoln Alvord, Harry D. Cabot, Elliott B. Church, Maurice W. Dennison, Roland F. Gammons, J. Earle Parker, Leon B. Rogers and Henry Whitmore.

In order to obtain a charter, it was necessary that the organization of the Association be completed and the following officers and directors have been selected: President, Leon B. Rogers; Vice Presidents, Marshall B. Dalton and Frank A. Day; Treasurer, Roland F. Gammons; Clerk, Harry B. Cabot; Directors—Ralph F. Barber, Frederick A. Hawkins, Arthur J. Mansfield, F. Clifton Bassett, George L. Curtis, Marshall B. Dalton, Fred W. Woodcock, Maxwell P. Gaddis, Walter Helm, Leon B. Rogers, Henry G. Shepard, Walter R. Amesbury, George A. Bacon, Clinton W. Elwell, Wilfrid J. Spaulding, Charles A. Chadwick, Wendell R. K. Mick, Frank L. Richardson, Edward H. Woods, Sumner H. Babcock, William H. Rice, Aklay S. Richards, Frank A. Day, Maurice W. Dennison, Warner Eustis, Frank Joy. The Newton Tax Payers' Association, Inc., it is expected, will have membership in the Massachusetts Federation of Tax Payers' Associations, of which Mr. Norman MacDonald, a Newton resident, is Executive Secretary.

Mrs. Wellman Will Retire June 1st

Mrs. Celia Wellman, for the past 20 years assistant probation officer of the Newton district court, and in charge of probation work for women and minors, has tendered her resignation to Judge William F. Bacon. It will take effect on June 1. Following the completion of her duties at the Newton court Mrs. Wellman will go to California to visit her son, William Wellman, who has won fame as a director of moving pictures at Hollywood.

M & B Employees Want Higher Wages

At a meeting of the executive board of the Carmen's Union of employees of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Company held last week it was voted to ask for higher wages to go into effect on July 1, when the present contract between the company and its employees expires. It is proposed that the wages of uniformed employees be increased from 55c to 85c per hour and the wages of other workers be increased 33 1/3%. The employees will also ask that the annual vacation period be increased from one week to two weeks and that the company provide uniforms.

OPEN FOR INSPECTION IN THE CLIFF ESTATES 76 MONADNOCK ROAD - WELLESLEY HILLS

WOMAN PLANNED—WOMAN SUPERVISED—BRODRICK BUILT ON AN ACRE-SIZE LOT

Where Peirce Road bends to meet Monadnock Road, you'll find this stately new brick-and-wood Colonial with its multi-paned windows accented by blinds of Della Robbia blue.

Set far in from the street and shaded by fine old trees, it harks back to an era when gracious living and unbounded hospitality were the rule.

Developed in the best New England tradition; planned and supervised by a woman and Brodrick-built, it suggests in all its fine appointments, the perfect background for some priceless collection of Colonial antiques, either inherited or acquired.

The interior finish of soft ivory is complemented by papers that duplicate the sheen and beauty of rare old damask, or portray as they do in the dining room, a scenic mural which might have graced the home of some Pilgrim of the past.

Knotty pine panels the library and also the Colonial Tavern in the basement, while on the 3rd floor is Grandmother's Garret, very much glorified by modern planning and with built-in bunks which increase the facilities for overnight or week-end hospitality.

The details are typically "Brodrick"—spacious modern kitchen, fully equipped; 3 tiled baths; 2 lavatories; General Electric Oil Furnace, rock wool insulation, 2-car garage.

It's open house today and daily thereafter. Do come!

ANOTHER ISSUE

In the fall of 1934 the voters of the state elected James M. Curley as Governor of Massachusetts. Shortly after assuming office the Chief Executive obtained control of the Governor's Council, the Boston Finance Commission and most of the State departments through methods and tactics the like of which had never before been displayed upon Beacon Hill. Now comes the proposal to subject some thirty-six judges of the various courts in the Commonwealth to a mental and physical inquisition which shocks the sensibilities of all right-thinking citizens. Men who have given long and honorable service to the Commonwealth are to be called to defend themselves against charges of "mental or physical disability." For decades upon decades custom has decreed that judges who uphold the honor of our courts shall not retire until called to the Great Beyond. Although, in some instances unable to fulfill their duties their associates willingly carry on for them unless there is pressing need for replacement. The discarding of such a long-established custom would be proposed only by a dictator of the most ruthless sort. In this proposal, like in many others, the Governor has provided another issue to be used against him in any future campaign he may make for political office. The limit has been reached and the voters will indicate their disapproval next Fall. Meanwhile, we trust some means may be found and public sentiment be so aroused to the end that the proposed program for retirement of judges may be delayed until justice prevails.

NEWTON TAXPAYERS ORGANIZE

The formation of the Newton Taxpayers' Association should prove of widespread interest to the citizens of Newton. The ever-increasing burden of real estate taxation has got to stop before it becomes a veritable "old man of the sea" and destroys the taxpayer. The problem is far from a simple one and the spread of taxpayers' associations all over the state is an indication of the feeling of Massachusetts citizens. With increased welfare and public payrolls, with governmental activity extending into fields never before dreamt of it is quite possible that the taxpayers as a group will find themselves in a minority if they are not already so. The desired end can only be reached through organization and common endeavor. A note of warning should be sounded, however, as we think over past experiences of such organizations. We trust that the members of the Newton Taxpayers' Association will make haste slowly and will fully deliberate the questions before them. Both sides of the issues to be faced should have equal consideration before a stand is taken on any matter regardless of prior action of any other similar association in any part of the state. On this basis alone the Newton organization can become an aid of good government and not simply a blind follower of the views of others.

BIRD DAY

Tomorrow will be observed as Bird Day by the Massachusetts Audubon Society, the organization for the protection of wild birds and mammals. A special opportunity for bird lovers to get acquainted with the birds is offered at the Moose Hill Bird Sanctuary in Sharon. Throughout the past winter many Newton residents have fed the birds and have found them most interesting and amusing. During the warmer months bird baths and bird-houses are common sights in the gardens of Newton. Be a friend to the birds!

Reunion of Our Lady's Parish Friday Evening, May 22

On Friday evening, May 22nd, the First Parish Reunion of the members of the Church of Our Lady Help of Christians will be conducted. This event will be the occasion for a pleasant and memorial "get together" for old and new members of the parish and their clergy. Under the supervision of the rector, Rev. John H. Sheridan, and his assistants, Revs. Russell T. Haley, James E. Fahey, Daniel P. Riordan and Thos. F. Fallon, a large and enthusiastic committee is working hard to make this initial venture a successful one.

The reunion program calls for a concert featuring a well known radio orchestra. There will be general dancing from nine o'clock until one; music will feature both modern and old-fashioned dances and melodies. A great number of valuable prizes have been donated for the large Card Party that will be held in conjunction with the dance.

The committee in charge of the Card Party follows: General Chairman, William Garrity; Prizes, Miss Mary Stokes, Chairman, assisted by Mrs. William Murphy, Miss Eleanor Murphy, Jas. Flynn, Miss Lillian Shea, Wilbur Dillon, John McCarthy, John Joyce, Ed. Gallagher, Bridge, Joe Callahan; Whist, Chas. Murphy; Forty-Five, Thos. O'Brien, these latter being assisted by Miss Mary Mulligan, Miss Lillian Cronin, Miss Agnes Mac-Donald, Miss Florence Garrity, Miss Margaret York, Mrs. Martha Carley, Miss Bertha Miskella, Mrs. Anna Conchannon; Checker, Thos. Waters, Chas. P. York, Thos. Fitzgerald, John D'Arcy; Publicity, Edwin C. Heislen.

Customers Will Assist in Management of Boston Store

Another interesting novelty has been launched by the Chauncey Williams store, 280 Boylston street, F. W. Knauth, vice president, has announced the organization of an Advisory Committee of ladies who will consult with the management on all questions of customer relationship. A very conscientious effort is being made to develop this store, which is carrying on many of the fine traditions of the old Manhattan, to which it is successor, into a popular shopping center. It is being made from the customer's point of view, into the kind of a store the customers want.

Mr. Williams, long a resident of Newton, is well known in retail circles here, and is continuing the high standards of business of the old store at substantially lower price levels. Shopping in this convenient store is unusually pleasant as there are ample dressing rooms, plenty of space and easily accessible stock-cabinets. The store has long been known as a leader in matron's styles. It is now rapidly establishing itself as equally well known in misses and smaller sizes.

Commonwealth will become a veritable flower garden if a proposed plan to transform the grass reservation dividing the two roadways is carried out. Directors of the Chamber of Commerce have instructed Secretary Rupert C. Thompson to write to garden clubs and improvement societies requesting their cooperation. These and similar village organizations will be asked to carry on the work in sections of the reservation in their districts. These will include Chestnut Hill, Newton Centre, Newtonville, West Newton and Auburndale. The forestry department will also be asked to aid in making the reservation, formerly used by the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway's trolley tracks. The reservation was grassed over when the tracks were removed and the trolley cars replaced by busses a few years ago.

The development of flower gardens along the avenue will acquaint travelers more fully with the thought that Newton is the "Garden City." While there are many beautiful gardens on private estates, many of them are off the beaten path and the Avenue gardens may well prove to be of considerable advertising value to the city.

No citizen of Newton needs to be told that the playgrounds rank among the finest in the country but many may not know that the children of Newton have a reputation for making excellent handicraft from discarded materials. Every year an appeal is made asking Newton people to save odds and ends gathered during the year, such as empty spools, stockings, ribbons, tape, pieces of old cloth, paper dolls, envelope linings, embroidery materials, wool or articles suitable for prizes. A generous response is always made to this appeal and the materials thus donated aid in keeping five hundred young children busy and happy during the summer season. If you have anything to donate, the playground truck will call at your house whenever convenient if you will but call the playground office at city hall, Centre Newton 4709.

At the spring water color exhibition of the Federal Art Project now being held at 50 Beacon St., Boston, are over one hundred paintings and prints. The exhibition will continue through May 18th and is the second in a series to be arranged each month. Among the works on display are a print entitled "Camden Harbor" by Paul Lameyer of 300 Highland St., West Newton, and a water color "Boat on Rocks" by Allen Pope, Jr., of 504 Ward St., Newton Centre.

There is also an exhibition of much local interest in the Art Room of the main Newton Free Library consisting of six wood engravings, the work of the late William B. Closson, a contemporary of Timothy Cole. The engravings are a recent gift to the art department from Mrs. Closson. In 1865, at the age of 17, Mr. Closson went to Boston from his home in Vermont to take up the study of engraving on wood as an apprentice. He also took evening art courses at the Lowell Institute, where he obtained a thorough training in the fundamentals of artistic technique. He became one of the foremost of the American school of wood-engravers before the development of photo-engraving which practically destroyed the wood-engraver's art. In 1895, Mr. Closson turned his attention to painting and rapidly gained recognition and a high standing. He was always known as a Boston artist although he came to Newton in 1913 and lived here during the last thirteen years of his life with a summer studio at Macollis. One of the most beautiful of his paintings, "The Angel," hangs in the Methodist Church.

Saturday, May 23, marks the twentieth annual dramatic pilgrimage to Newton of children from the North Bennet Street Industrial School of Boston. They will join with women from the Newtons and Brookline in giving a performance at the Newton Centre Women's Club Hall entitled "The Stars," a play for children with music and dancing. Ranging in age from 8 to 16, 25 North End girls will enact the tale based on old Russian folk lore. The performance will be given at 10:45 a. m., for the benefit of the summer work of the school. The plot of "The Stars" is one of special appeal to children, being based on children's tales that were told for generations in the days of the Czars. Sprightly gypsy dances mingle with the pantomimes and charming folk songs fill the play. All the money received is used to send mothers and babies from the North End to the school's summer camp at Buxford. This vacation is looked forward to throughout the year by mothers whose large families give them little chance of outings of any kind. A number of Newton women are among those sponsoring the performance including the Mesdames John T. Alden, Albert D. Auryansen, William L. Bates, John F. Capron, E. O. Childs, Edwin P. Crawe, Edwin S. Drowne, George Garrity, Arthur B. Hitchcock, Joseph H. Lyman, Jr.; Philip Nichols, W. D. Norris, Henry G. Pearson, T. A. Plimpton, Charles E. Riley, Frank P. Schofield, Elliot B. Shepard, George W. Smith, R. K. Thorogood, Warren Prescott, Sinclair Weeks, Francis H. Williams, and Howard O. Winslow and the Misses Gertrude Bigelow and Mabel Riley.

Miss Janet I. Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund I. Brown of Dickerman rd., Newton Highlands, was delegate from this state to the Oberlin College Republican Mock Convention last Friday and Saturday. Miss Brown is a sophomore at Oberlin, is secretary and treasurer of the L. L. S. women's literary society, and vice-president of the Women's League.

At Tufts College, Leroy J. Benoit, son of Alexander Benoit of Adams street, Newton, has been awarded a travelling fellowship for a year's study in France by the Institute of International Education. Benoit is a senior at Tufts Liberal Arts School and has majored in Romance languages. He will sail for France in September and receive a post at a French university where he will teach English. He was also awarded a certificate in recognition of his services as a member of the Tuftonian Staff, as a member of the magazine. He is also editor of the annual yearbook, The Jumbo Book, and a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. Leighton G. Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gorham Harris of Highland ave., Newtonville, a Tufts junior, has been selected as editor-in-chief of The Jumbo Book for next year. He has been a member of the varsity basketball team for three years and is also a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

There was a tea on Tuesday afternoon, May 12, given at Blaisdell House by the students who have had the home-keeping course. Dorothy Forbes, '36, of Manchester, N. H., was general chairman. The Annual Dramatic Workshop Play was presented at the Wednesday morning assembly. "The King's Niece," an historical play, was written and directed by Elaine Frank, '36 of Providence, R. I.

"Lasell Night at the Pops" will be this evening when the Orphean Club of 150 voices, under the direction of George Sawyer Dunham, will sing two pieces with the orchestra as well as school songs during the intermission. Many tables have been taken by Lasell Alumnae and friends of the college.

Doris Jones, postgraduate in music, and Jeanne Keck, '36, of Chicago, Ill., will give an organ and piano recital on Sunday evening, May 17.

COUNTRY DAY SCHOOL

Among those receiving honors and honorable mention at the end of the fifth half-term, as announced by Dr. L. Linwood Chase, headmaster of the Country Day School for Boys, were Donald P. Davis and Frederick W. Rugg, 2nd, of Newtonville, Francis W. Scofield and Ronald N. Jones of Newton and Robert D. Buck of Waban.

60 YEARS AGO

Newton Republican, May 19, 1877

The weather approaches when the necktie is loosed, the paper collar bursts its bonds and the linen duster becomes a burden.

The usual signs of approaching summer are perceptible; awnings, soda fountains, hand-organs with monkeys and an increase in orders for Paxton's ice cream.

The lawn in front of the Free Library is looking beautiful, thanks to Mr. Tower and his lawn mower.

A change in the arrangements for music at the First Church, Newton Centre is contemplated. A chorus choir will probably take the place of the quartette which has so acceptably aided in service of song. The parish being in debt, this method of reducing expense is resorted to, but with misgivings on the part of many in the congregation who believe that a reasonable expenditure for good music is a help rather than an obstacle in the payment of the debt.

Public interest in the silver mine at Oak Hill is quiet just now, but the Brookline line are in progress and excellent specimens have been discovered. The workmen have been pledged to secrecy but the parties responsible for the enterprise are known to have expressed themselves satisfied with present indications.

The regular meeting of the Newton Common Council was held on Monday evening and was very brief. Councilman Pope offered an order which was passed, authorizing the Chief Engineer to use the hydrants of the city for watering the streets during the dusty season in Wards 1 and 7. An order was passed authorizing the expenditure of $100 for carriages on Memorial Day.

Newton Graphic, May 15, 1886

The Newton Bicycle Club intended to have several moonlight rides this week but the moon failed to shine.

The new horses of Steamer 1 have already become so well trained that they answer the signal promptly and the engine house is a favorite resort for visitors about the time that the quarter to 12 signal is given.

Some of the masters and many of the teachers in the city are in favor of having the graduating exercises of the grammar schools held at City Hall and considerable importance given to the day by the presence of the School Board, Mayor and other officials. This would be a decided improvement upon the present system.

At the State House on Wednesday morning the rules were suspended to admit the petition of the Newton & Watertown Gas Light Company for an amendment to its charter to permit it to produce and supply the public with electric light. There seems to be prospects of having electric lights in Newton.

The Circuit railroad is finished at last. The last rail was spiked down on Tuesday. It will be ready for running of trains next Sunday. The work has been done in the most substantial manner. The rails weigh 72 pounds per yard; all the bridges are iron, there are no grade crossings. The land damage was only about $20,000 as most of the land was given. Several claims for land damages remain unsettled; the largest being that of Joseph N. Bacon, which will be settled by arbitration. The opening of this railroad marks an important event in the history of Newton and is expected to have great influence on the future history of the city. Some citizens predict it will cause the population to be doubled within a few years. There is no doubt it will largely increase the population as it makes available a large tract of land in parts of the city that are well situated for residences.

Edward Sherman of Newton Centre was fined $10 in the Newton court the past week for boxing the ears of a boy named James Reagan who worked for him and who had been saucy.

Newton Graphic, May 12, 1911

Editor Newton Graphic: "It may be of interest to your readers to learn that the Newton Improvement Association, through the kind cooperation of the Newton Y. M. C. A. have secured the services of William A. MacPherson, physical director of the Y. M. C. A. who will give his afternoons during the summer months to the supervision of Cabot Park. Mr. MacPherson, besides his experience with the boys in the Y. M. C. A. was supervisor of one of the playgrounds in Springfield before coming to Newton.

"The parents of our boys, may therefore, feel gratified to have the cooperation of Mr. MacPherson and Mr. Bucknam, our Forest Commissioner, in having our Cabot Park Playground under such able supervision the coming season. The Newton Improvement Association desires to express its appreciation of the co-operation of the Newton Y. M. C. A. in bringing this about."

Powers' Paragraphs

The report made by the Finance Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen on May 4th regarding the various city departments complimented the Fire Department as being "one of the model departments" of the city. Naturally, the firemen have been quite pleased over such praise. Some of them believe it should assist their cause in obtaining a two-platoon system. Pessimists, however, wonder that if the fire department is now considered as being highly efficient, if a change will be made.

The report stated that the reorganization of the Health Department has been very beneficial to the city. The comment is made—"We suggest, however, a close watch be kept on activities that are proposed for consideration by the Health Department in order that too much paternalism may not creep in and the city pay for services that should rightfully be paid for by recipients." Such paternalism on the part of the Health Department recently caused protests by a group of Newton physicians. While any humane person will agree that poor persons should be provided with proper medical care, most citizens will concur with the objections of physicians that the city should not intrude into activities that would handicap the livelihoods of members of a profession who make greater sacrifices than do most people.

The recommendations of the Finance Committee regarding the Playground Department should be made with the approval of Newton residents. There should be an assistant superintendent of playgrounds because of the fact that the Superintendent is only a part time official, and playground supervisors should be selected from Newton residents. The contention of the Finance Committee relative to the superiority of tractors over horses for sidewalk plows is not concurred with by a large percentage of older Newton residents who remember how well sidewalks in this city were plowed years ago when the street department owned a sufficiency of powerful horses. Tractor propelled plows are O. K. on wide sidewalks, but they cannot be operated on the many narrow sidewalks in this city. The suggestion by the committee that garbage and refuse trucks be provided with canvas covers and that these covers be kept over the trucks while in transit through city streets, will also meet with the approval of citizens. When horse drawn wagons were used to collect garbage, such vehicles were covered for the most part. It is not a pleasant sight, especially for persons with weak stomachs, to see a large truck filled with garbage moving, or standing on a street, with the "huge salad" exposed. In connection with the collection of garbage, the committee might well have suggested that the contractor be compelled to live up to the agreement not to collect garbage before 7 a. m. Residents of Newton should be awakened before 7 a. m. by the very audible noise of garbage collectors opening underground garbage containers and emptying the pails.

Last Friday President Floyd of the Board of Aldermen and Benjamin Bowen, chairman of the Finance Committee of the Board, held a friendly conference with Mayor Childs relative to the recommendations contained in the report. The Mayor agreed with the committee's suggestion regarding a new system for paying salaries and wages to City employees. It is planned to have the City Treasurer and City Comptroller evolve a plan which will relieve Miss Ellice, Assistant City Treasurer of the weekly task of traveling about the city with police escort, and paying city employees by personal recognition. The Mayor also agreed that an Assistant City Clerk should be appointed and will probably take favorable action on this matter prior to making up next year's budget. The Mayor concurred with the Finance Committee relative to the recommendation that President Floyd appoint a committee of Aldermen to study the classification of city employees not now classified.

It is inevitable that a Police Department in almost any city will receive more criticism than any other department. Because it is the function of policemen to enforce law and order, they are subject to more temptations and more bribing than other public employees. If they do their duty they make enemies and they are castigated. If they don't do their duty they are condemned. They incur the ill-will of persons whom they arrest, and of relatives and friends of such persons. If they are lax in performing their duties, they are accused of being lazy or corrupt. Since automobiles became so common policemen are caajoled and bribed more than ever before. Respectable citizens who prate about their loyalty to the cause of "law and order," don't hesitate to use their influence to "fix" cases and thus prevent drunken and reckless drivers and other offenders against automobile laws from receiving proper punishment. If the members of the Newton Board of Aldermen, including the 17 who voted in favor of the report which state that—"the police department gives us considerable concern" will all cease to from now on using their influence to "fix" cases, they will be co-operating in a practical way to make the Newton Police Department more efficient.

One Way To Remember

The man who says concluding a preliminary business talk, "Let me give you one of my cards," overestimates, I'm afraid, my ability to preserve such things. Although he pays me a tribute, which I appreciate, he cannot be familiar with my habit of forgetfulness. If there is anything I lose more quickly than anything else, and of course, unintentionally, it is a card or postal or notice which I expect to refer to later.

These reminders are given us in the hope that we will keep the donor in mind and some time in the future, if still interested, get in touch with him regarding the commercial enterprise he represents.

It may be that my regular habit of reading newspapers has become so fixed that I am not a fair specimen of "prosperity," as I believe we of the purchasing public are often called. The "ad" writer is far more likely to arouse me than the man with the card. When I read a newspaper advertisement it is before me, plainly and completely. Possibly the explanation is that the type is more conspicuous in display and consequently more impressive. I never decline business cards but I take pains to say, "I won't promise not to lose this, so if you leave it you do so at your own risk." Thus I keep up my end of the exchange of courtesies. Could anything be fairer?

They're Both Interesting

With the Finance Committee of the Board of Aldermen reporting only once a year on the condition of city departments, Newton cannot expect anything like the publicity Boston gets from its "Fin Com." And let us be grateful, too, that there isn't any such quantity of material here.

Good Work for Vacation

If there is a time when talent actually receives recognition in terms of bread and butter, and the best home-made products of oven and dairy, it is when amateur or semi-professional actors go into the country for a six or ten weeks' season at a Summer playhouse. In one of his books, George Jean Nathan calls these little theatre groups in the mountains and seashore "the hot dog stands of the drama." Never mind the question of histrionic value, the boys and girls will tell what a good time they have. It is a Summer vacation with plenty of work, except every hour of labor is a load of fun.

You may encounter one or more of these troupes whose performances will win your applause. As you go away from the barn, loft, boathouse or tent where the show has been staged just remember these players are happy, that they're getting the benefit of the great outdoors, enjoying marvelous country cooking, pursuing the calling closest to their hearts and improving their minds and, we hope, their financial resources.

Words and More Words

One who speaks with directness is apt to receive the attention of a greater number of listeners. There are topics which appear to warrant extended remarks but the fact remains that some people are out-and-out "sabby" and others are too brief and almost taciturn.

The art of expressing one's thoughts fully and without circumlocution is a gift. Not all possess it. Public addresses do not always reach the target at which they are aimed. "A good talker" should be eloquent but not verbose, employing enough words to get his thoughts across. You and I know when we are interested but might find it difficult to explain what a speaker lacked who failed to arouse our enthusiasm.

Unfortunately there are a number of windy orators to be large. A journalistic friend of mine put it rather neatly. He had been assigned to cover the somewhat extended observations of a bombastic individual. Questioning my friend, I asked, "You are sure he talked for over an hour? What was on his mind?"

"He didn't say" was the laconic reply.

Appetite for Excitement

Of course Washington, D. C. is the greatest hot airport in the country, but beyond that it is, to me at least, a city of surprises. One prominent Government official with whom I had the pleasure of lunching the other day, was describing the work of G-men. It was all more or less familiar to me but I did sit up and rub my eyes when he said that there was a museum in the Department of Justice Building, containing an exhibition of revolvers, masks, black-jacks and countless implements taken from criminals. This weird assortment of tools of kidnappers, hold-up men and other spectacular law-breakers has a great attraction to children, especially among the tourists, my friend said. It is as largely patronized as any free show the Government puts on, he declared. I stared at him because it really was a revelation. And, just as I was about to say, "What queer taste our boys and girls have," I thought of my own predilection for first class detective stories.

STEEL MAKERS say—"Ford buys the best steel." Other suppliers of materials and parts will tell you—"Nobody checks up as closely on quality and price as Ford."

This means a great deal to you as a motorist. It is our way of safeguarding the interests of every purchaser and it leads to this—"The mechanical depreciation on a Ford is less than most cars, especially after the first year."

This is one sign of the extra value in the Ford V-8. Accuracy in manufacturing is another. (The Ford is made to unusually close precision limits.) And there is a long list of fine-car features that are exclusive with Ford in the popular field.

Have you a V-8 engine in your car? You pay $1645 for it in any other car but Ford.

Garden Hints

By Norman Howden

Now is the time to clean up your yard and your garden and prepare for Spring planting. Also to fertilize and reseed your lawn. Your lawn mower may need oiling or adjusting, or possibly a pawl or bushing may need to be replaced. If so, take it to a reliable firm in your neighborhood who carries parts in stock for either hand or power mower, and who will adjust, sharpen or repair your mower for a reasonable charge.

Do not buy grass seed which contains inert matter such as chaff, sticks, weeds and other foreign substances. Look at the analysis on the seed mixture you buy or better still consult your seed house, and they will be glad to prescribe a mixture best suited to the soil and climatic condition of your particular need.

There are many good fertilizers on the market, some especially adapted for lawns, some for vegetable and flower gardens and others for trees and shrubs, but before buying, it is advisable to have your soil carefully analyzed, which your dealer will be glad to do for you, and will also give you advice as to how to achieve success.

It is time now to start spraying your Roses, Delphiniums, Hollyhocks and Phlox. Also to plant your Sweet Peas, Pansies, Asters and bulbs for Early Gladioli. Don't forget to order some new Rose bushes. Get good strong bushy plants and remember that they will need plenty of space in which to grow. Have you ever tried actuated sludge for Climbing Roses? If not, try it this Spring. To protect your gardens you may need some new fencing. Your dealer will be glad to show you anything from wire to rustic fences to protect your small flower beds or to enclose your garden.

The average home gardener is today primarily interested in obtaining a reasonable return for the money invested in his home grounds, his Vegetable Garden, his Flower and shrubbery garden and especially in his lawn. Your seedsman will be pleased to inspect and recommend procedure which in his opinion will be most suitable for your particular problems.

NEWTONVILLE TOWNSEND CLUB

The regular meeting of the Newtonville Townsend Club will be held at 283 Walnut st., Newtonville, Friday evening May 15th at 8 p. m.

This meeting will be devoted to a program of entertainment consisting of vocal and instrumental numbers, a Penny Sale, and refreshments will be served. All members and their friends are cordially invited to attend.

Give Annual Outdoor Music Festival

The first event witnessed from the Dickinson Stadium this spring was the annual music Outdoor Festival held on May 12, 1936, at 3:30 p. m. Those participating were the members of the bands, and bugle and drum corps from each of the Newton Public Schools. Preceding the musical program a parade took place. The route of this event, which commenced at 2:45 p. m., was out Elm rd. to Walnut st., to Washington park, to Park pl., to Cabot st., then out Walnut st. and back to the high school.

The program opened with a march, "Our Band" by Spaulding, played by the grade school band, under the direction of Mr. Charles R. Spaulding. A selection from the "Children's March" by Goldman, played by the Frank A. Day Junior High School Band followed. Mr. Charles F. Tower is the director of the Levi S. Warren Junior High School Band which played "Mello Moon" by Chenette. The contribution by the John W. Weeks Junior High School Band, which is under the direction of Mr. A. D. Parker was an overture, "Pantomime" by Holmes. "Cherrytime" by Spaulding played by the Newton High School Band, was followed by two marches of the combined bands, "Teamwork", by Ribble, and "Band Boys", by Chenette. The main feature of the program was "Where is My Love" (from Rose of the Rancho), arranged by special permission of the copyright owners, and played by a group of 100 combined trumpets and cornets from each of the bands.

The program came to a close after the combined bands played "Field Day," a march by Wendland, and "Step Lively," also by Wendland, during which number there was a demonstration of drum major twirling.

Rotary Club

At the weekly meeting of the Newton Rotary Club at the Brae Burn Club House some of the new phases of education were demonstrated by Miss Charlotte M. Simon, teacher of Hygiene and School Nurse at the Newton High School. The program was in charge of Mr. Paul E. Ellicker, Principal.

Miss Simon took all the members of the club back to their former school days and had them participate in the hearing tests as given with the new audiometer. This is a scientific method of testing the hearing of each ear. A brief survey was given of the very extensive health service that is given in the Newton schools and through the Department of Health.

YOU can't keep good news from spreading—so the word is out that the handsome Series 40 Buick Special is not only big, and beautiful, and nimble, and smooth—but amazingly thrifty to boot!

One fellow, for instance, writes that he is getting three more miles per gallon than the salesman promised—why, asks he, don't we print such important news?

The fact is, we don't advertise specific miles-per-gallon figures because you simply can't safely set a figure that could be right for all drivers under all conditions.

So, instead of following the popular custom of claiming the world, on such matters we prefer to play safe and "talk small"—leaving Buick's really surprising frugality to be one of those nice things you discover after you've driven one awhile!

It works out fine, too! Owners are constantly coming in to brag about high mileage averages, low costs on oil, long trips without a penny for service or attention. Call it our ace in the hole, if you like. With all of its style, and comfort, and stand-out performance—at prices beginning at $765* list—Buick's a winner and its thrift is all plus. Come ride in one and see if that's not the everlasting truth!

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Garden Club

Most decidedly it is borne in upon one that now are the days of gardens and flowers, of balmy weather, sunny skies, new green lawns, virgin green leaves, and a riot of lovely colors in suddenly-arriving blooms. Among the Women's Clubs and the Garden Groups this week there is a sudden blossoming of Flower Events, as varied and spontaneous as the very flowers that are appearing.

And not only are these groups making fascinating announcements that your Editor is heralding herewith, but even a more prosaic organization is offering an idea along Garden culture, as if inoculated by the Garden Clubs with this altogether lovely "Spring Fever."

The Garden Project presented below is called to the attention of all Garden Clubs and of Community Service or Civics committees in the Women's Clubs.

Garden Project Of Interest To Clubs

A Garden Project, sponsored by the Newton Chamber of Commerce, may appeal to the Garden Clubs of Newton, and also to the Community Service and Civics committees of the Women's Clubs.

In an effort for improvement and beautification, and true to the motto of "Newton, The Garden City," for carrying out this Plan, announced by Mr. Rupert C. Thompson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, the co-operation of all interested in such city improvement is desired. It should be an opportunity for these groups who would like to use their talent and enjoyment in flowers and shrubs to make an additional stretch of beauty for the city.

The Plan is to create a garden plot of the central grass space formerly occupied by car tracks along Commonwealth ave. from Lake st. to the Weston line. The greater part of the area would be planted with flowering shrubs and perennials, with certain space that could be planted with annuals.

To accomplish this over a period of the next few years, the Chamber of Commerce would welcome the assistance and co-operation of the Garden Clubs, of the Community Service and Civics committees of the Women's Clubs, and of the Improvement Societies.

Any Clubs who would like to assist in this Project, and who would like to know more about it, should get in touch with Mr. Thompson, telephone N. N. 4077, who will be glad to learn of their interest, and to explain the plans.

Flower Show at Newton Centre Club House

The Spring Flower Show of the Newton Centre Garden Club will be held at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House on Tuesday, May 19th, from 2 to 9 p. m.; and on Wednesday, May 20th, from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m.

There will be 14 classes exhibited, including Living-room Arrangements, Window and Shadow Boxes, several classes of Spring Flowers, and Sunday Night Buffet Tables.

There is no admission charge. A display of this type will be well worth a visit to see, with the spring flowers at the height of their beauty.

The members of the Flower Show committee include Mrs. Austin C. Benton, chairman; Mrs. Edward A. Andrews, Mrs. John W. Cooke, and Mrs. Louis E. Phaneuf.

The officers of the Club are: President, Mrs. George Hannauer; vice-president, Mrs. John W. Cooke; recording secretary, Mrs. George I. Engle; corresponding secretary, Miss Edith Read; treasurer, Mrs. Henry J. Ide; and members of the Executive Board, Mrs. Holcomb J. Brown, Mrs. Donald J. Macpherson, Mrs. Frederick C. Rising, Mrs. Austin C. Benton, Mrs. Hartley Rowe, Mrs. Frederick D. Knight, Mrs. William J. Lothrop, Mrs. Louis E. Phaneuf, and Mrs. Walter H. Dietz.

Flower Show at The Workshop

The Newton Highlands Garden Club will hold its eighth Annual Spring Flower Show in The Workshop, on Columbus st., on Wednesday, May 20th, from 11:30 a. m. to 9 p. m. Besides the regular horticultural classes of Tulips, of other Bulbous Flowers, and of Flowering Shrubs, there will be Arrangement Classes of Perennials, Pansies, Wild Flowers, Luncheon Table, set for two, and an Arrangement for a Window Shelf, in colored glass. The Children's Class is open to children from 11 to 16 years of age who live in the community. Annual and perennial plants will be on sale there.

The Show is under the direction of Mrs. Harris P. Gray, representing the Garden Club, and of Mrs. Perry Wood, representing the Woman's Club.

Garden Visits And Tea

The Newton Centre Woman's Club, Garden and Conservation committee will hold its Annual Garden Visiting Day on Friday, May 22nd (or the next day if the 22nd is stormy), from 2 to 5:30 p. m.

Tea will be served at Mrs. George H. Crosbie's, overlooking Crystal Lake. Tickets for this attractive event, including the visits to gardens and the Tea, are 50 cents, and may be obtained at Hahn's Drug Store.

A list of the gardens to be visited may be obtained at the Club House only on May 22nd.

The following Club members will pour: Mrs. Arthur B. Hitchcock, Mrs. George Willard Smith, Mrs. Howard O. Winslow, Mrs. Kirtley F. Mather, Mrs. George H. Crosbie, and Mrs. Harry E. Moore.

Hobby Of Garden Lighting

The Garden Club of the West Newton Women's Educational Club is planning to have a May Breakfast on Monday morning, May 18th, at 11:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Roy A. Stinson, 28 Davis ave., West Newton.

For the program of the afternoon, at 2 o'clock, Mrs. Alfred E. Thayer, leader of the Garden Club, has secured a lighting specialist, Blanche B. Card, from the Boston Edison Company, who will speak on the very interesting subject "The New Hobby of Garden Lighting."

The lecture, which will be illustrated with stereopticon slides, holds promise of unusual interest. A fallacious idea that illuminated gardens are a luxury has disappeared rapidly in the past two years, and today hundreds are combining ingenuity with a love for beauty by applying the magic of light to home-garden settings. The simple fundamentals of garden lighting, and practical adaptations for every home will be explained in detail by the lecturer. It has been said that New England's high standard of home garden effort particularly lends itself to the supplementary beauty of lighting, because of the comparative short season, and attractive natural garden effects are made enjoyable longer by this "after-dark" illumination.

Mrs. Card is a recognized specialist in this new home art. Prior to her association with the Edison Company, she devoted extended study to the subject in Wisconsin, and at the General Electric Laboratories at Nela Park, Cleveland. She has not only done considerable pioneering in this hobby, but she has developed an intensely interesting lighted garden exhibit at her own home and she is responsible for the lighting arrangements of numerous Metropolitan Boston home gardens, so that she can speak from valuable personal experience.

Mothercraft Club Play Day At Amherst

Clubwomen who look forward annually to a delightful June day at the Dickinson-Baggs Tavern, in Amherst, especially if they motor up with a party, and spend several days in this vicinity, will be interested in the announcement that June 2nd is Play Day for the Mothercraft Club of Massachusetts, when dedication of the Mothers' Memory Garden will be the outstanding feature of the day.

This early notification is necessary as reservations for the Luncheon should be made with Mrs. Homer P. Ingell, 3 Grant rd., Swampscott, before May 26th. Members' luncheon tickets are 50 cents; guest tickets, including the Luncheon, are $1.00.

This will be a memorable day, because of this dedication of affectionate and tender memories.

Guests will be welcomed from far and near, by Mrs. May Dickinson Kimball, president of the Mothercraft Club, and chairman of the division of Mothercraft in the General Federation, and by the vice-presidents and many Amherst friends.

An informal Reception at noon, in honor of the new State Federation president and other invited guests, will be followed by Luncheon in the Little Church across the Green. Mrs. Charles L. Fuller, vice-chairman of Mothercraft for the General Federation, will present the guests of honor. Dr. Hugh P. Baker, president of Massachusetts State College, will give the key address of the Dedication, presided over by Mrs. Joseph S. Leach. There will be greetings, also, by Miss Emily Louise Plumley, chairman of the New England Conference, whose song, "The Flag," will be a featured number, and by other distinguished guests.

Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole is to be Master of Ceremonies at the planting of a tree in honor of Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson, president of the General Federation. Other features appropriate for the program will include an informal talk on "Flower Arrangement," by Miss Rachel Butterworth, and songs by Miss Helen Barlow. Demonstration of the highly-interesting art of Glass-Blowing, and a Scotch Auction, in the rear of the grounds, promise decidedly unique entertainment.

The history of the formation of this Mothercraft Club of Massachusetts is as clubwomen know who have followed events in the Club World for several years, most unusual. It was the outgrowth of the Mothercraft department in the State Federation and in the General Federation, and its members number prominent clubwomen of the State and even nationwide, whose interest in this activity was awakened, and who continue to assist the founder of Mothercraft, Mrs. Kimball, who is, naturally, the first president of the Mothercraft Club.

Next Week at Swampscott

Monday, May 18th, will see automobiles and taxis, baggage, and happy confusion at the New Ocean House, Swampscott. All roads in Massachusetts, and even from other States, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, and, of course, from the District of Columbia, where General Federation Headquarters are, will lead to this delightful North Shore resort. National officers, women from many States who represent prominent organizations; and, Mrs. Poole, from Rye, N. H., where she is dean in Stoneleigh College, will gather to hear what Massachusetts has done in many activities, educational, philanthropic, social, artistic, during the past Club Year. Only one who has been present to view this arrival of women of mental and feminine power, can appreciate the thrill of this arrival; the swelling of the heart before their enthusiasm, their energy, their wisdom; the filling of the eyes before their greetings when true friends meet; the arousing of loyal, loving, yes, even piteous, emotions in this gathering of individuals; and of representatives of an organization that spells strength and work for progress on the part of the women of Massachusetts!

No more lovely spot could be found for a Convention than on this ocean stretch, with nearby gardens in bloom, and with this luxurious hotel offering every facility.

Clubwomen will gather on Monday, to make ready for the opening of the session on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. In order for the delegates to be in their places, with credentials signed, at this morning hour, many clubwomen prefer to arrive at the New Ocean House on the previous day. It is early for women to arrive from far away, due to train and trolley facilities. Then, too, this pre-convention day gives them opportunity for greeting friends they have not seen for a long time; to make new acquaintances, and to get ready for exhibits, work, and reports, that many have to present.

This year, besides, there is the added interest in the Juniors' Meeting, which is for Monday evening, and to which the Senior Club members are invited most cordially, if they care to attend. Of course the Juniors' Banquet is for their group, but the colorful Parade at 7:45 o'clock to Congress Hall, the Junior presidents, club members, and District directors, will be well worth viewing, and the program following at 8 o'clock, should be interesting, according to new announcements that have come through.

Miss Ruth M. Lothrop, State chairman of Junior Membership, will preside. There will be "Greetings" from Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, president of the State Federation, and from Mrs. John H. Kimball, the first vice-president. A report of the year's accomplishments will be given by Miss Lothrop. There will be music by a group of Juniors, with Miss Martha P. Wright, of Newton Centre, the soloist. Miss Ruth Virginia Griffin, the 1935 Junior delegate to the General Federation Council Meeting, will give "Junior Highlights of Miami," the meeting that was held from April 27th through May first.

An altogether delightful feature of the meeting will be the presentation of the Poetry and Drama prizes. These will be made by Miss Frances Letson, of Dorchester. The most eventful of these awards will be that of the Drama prize, with which this year goes the coveted silver cup, which is awarded only when one Club wins the prize for the third time. Miss Sylvia E. Kooser, of Wollaston, a prominent Junior, and known as one of the winners of the delegate's Traveling Scholarship to a General Federation Convention, will have the pleasure of presenting this cup to her own district club, The Quincy Junior Club, which for three years now has won the Drama prize, first in 1931, then in 1935, and now in 1936.

The play, "White Iris," by Roberta Shannon, the prize play, will be presented by the Quincy Juniors, as part of the program, and it should be most entertaining, with the following cast: Robina D. F. Airth, Dorothy Badot, Edith Booth, and Catherine Long. Stanley H. Jenkins is the coach.

As has been announced previously Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole will give the address of the evening. It now is made known that her subject will be "The Far Horizon." It was upon this topic that she spoke at Miami for the General Federation.

To return to the events of the Senior Convention, morning sessions on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, May 19th, 20th, and 21st, will open in Convention Hall at 10 o'clock. The Wednesday morning session will adjourn at 11:30 o'clock (on other days at 12:30), in order to allow time for Conferences and Round Tables. The afternoon sessions will open at 2 o'clock and adjourn at 4:30. The evening sessions will open at 8 p. m. A word as to the various speakers who will address the sessions may not be amiss, especially for the information of clubwomen who may not be able to attend all sessions, but who would like to choose one that has appeal individually. Thomas Craven, Art critic, author of "Modern Art" and "Men of Art," will be the speaker Tuesday evening, the 19th, at 8 o'clock, on the topic "Cubes and Cones." When his book "Men of Art" was published by Simon and Schuster in 1931, it was one of the highspots of his success as a critic and historian of art. He has contributed many articles on art subjects to periodicals. One of these, "Have Painters Minds?" stirred up more controversy than any other article on art ever published in this (Continued on page 9)

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON FAVORITE IN HARVARD TRACK GAMES

In spite of the fact that Ray Huling, top-notch hurdler and jumper of the Newton High track team, has been declared ineligible on the eve of the Harvard University interscholastics, Newton is still the favored team. Training intensively for this first major meet of the outdoor season, Don Enoch's boys are in far better shape for the stadium games tomorrow than they were two weeks ago when they won the Worcester Interscholastics by a margin of twenty-five points. Whether or not the loss of Ray Huling will throw them badly off stride is problematical, but the chances are that Newton will still have a commanding lead over Everett, Brookline, and the others.

Brookline, with Robin Hartman a certain scorer in the hurdles and the high jump, is a possible threat, but Monty Wells has very little to show beside this ace. Newton's best bets are Warren Wittens in the low hurdles and broad jump, in both of which he is the defending champion. Paul Forte and Frank Hines in the 100-yard dash, Jerry Allen and Bud Muther in the 220, Nathaniel Heard in the shotput and discus, Elmer Ross in the 880, Mike Regan in the 880 and Paul Dussossoit in the hurdles.

Green Leads Harvard To Win

Milton Green, former Newton High track captain, led his Harvard track team to a brilliant victory in the second annual heptagonal track and field meet last Saturday at the Harvard Stadium. Green won the low hurdles with a new record of 23.5 seconds, equalled the record of 15 seconds in the high hurdles, and set new record of 24 ft. 3.4 in. in the broad jump. Actually, Milton ran the final in the high hurdles in 14.68, but a good following wind nullified that fast time, and prevented him from setting a third record. Harvard won the meet with 64 1-5 points, while Cornell was second with 45 1-5, and Dartmouth, Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania and Columbia trailed in that order. Had Milton Green continued at Cornell, where he spent his freshman year, the score of the meet might well have been Cornell 60 1-5, Harvard 49 1-5 and so on. Milton Green ought to make the Olympic track team in one of his three events.

OUR LADY HIGH BEATS ST. MARY'S, CATHEDRAL

Showing they had what it takes, Our Lady's High School of Newton came from behind to nip the league leaders 4-3. Captain Clifford Choquette twirled for the Newtons and performed a splendid job of setting the Wealthy Towns back for the second time this year. With the score 3-1 against them in the ninth inning, Joe O'Grady hit a long triple and was followed by a tremendous homer by Russ Harney, that evened the score. After that there was no stopping the locals. Bernard Mullin hit a perfect single and Paul O'Brien pushed him to second with an infield hit. Jim Tobin, a pinch hitter, also bunted and was safe, then while Nobby Doherty was swimming, Mr. Mullin stole home with the winning run. In due respect to both teams, it is our duty to say it was one of the best ball games played in these parts for quite a while.

John "Himself" Fitzgerald pitched the first shut-out of the Catholic League this year while his team hit the Boston pitchers for plenty of base knocks and earned runs. Our Lady's got off on the right foot with an early lead of two runs in the first. From then on they scored at will. Cath'dral was a bit bumpy and let "Nobby" Doherty single for a four master. This win puts Our Lady's in a favorable position for the league bunt-ing.

NEWTON TOP CHOICE IN STATE NET PLAY

The annual state interscholastic tennis tournament, sponsored jointly by Newton High School and the Longwood Cricket Club opens tomorrow with Newton, Haverhill, Winchester and Worcester North the favored teams. The opening round will be played at Longwood in the morning, and play will continue through the afternoon at the Newton High courts. The finalists will meet to determine the individual championship sometime next week, but the team championship will probably be settled by mid-afternoon tomorrow.

Newton's entries, in order, are Paul Rich, Tom Slattery, Don Manchester, Clayton Mosher, Captain Brewster Williams and Bill Squier. These six boys have come through their season thus far virtually undefeated to a man and virtually means omitting the 11-1 defeat by Exeter Academy. Aside from the trip to Exeter, the only setback was Paul Rich's defeat at the hands of the Tufts College champion, in the match Newton won by 7-2 from the Tufts Junior Varsity.

The interscholastic tourney this year has fifteen schools entering a total of about sixty players. This is considerably fewer than usual, but Coach Walter M. Taylor attributes the falling off to the fact that a few schools have had very good records and the rest have been mediocre this season. The Newton coach considers his team the best he has worked with in years and thinks they will be hard to beat for the team championship tomorrow. The Newton record is as follows: Newton 9, Milton 0; Newton 8, Huntington School 1; Newton 1 Exeter 11; Newton 3, Malden 3; Newton 8, Melrose 0; Newton 5, Quincy 0; Newton 7, Tufts Freshmen 2. The second team, on which all newcomers are given their opportunity, has also had a good record, beating Milton Academy seconds 5-3, Watertown 5-4 and losing 2-6 to Exeter Academy and 1-4 to Needham High.

GUIDO, GRUBER AND GREEN BEAT BROOKLINE

Newton High took a new lease of life in the suburban league baseball race Wednesday, defeating Brookline High 14-3 at Brookline. Coach Jeff Jones had altered the Newton lineup, moving the versatile Ernie Savignano from shortstop to catch for Phil Green, while sophomore Lennie LeSourd was used at short. Savignano made eight putouts behind the bat, and LeSourd handled seven chances without an error, so Jones' problems are apparently solved.

Guido Castoldi and Phil Green, sophomore pitchers, led the barrage of 18 Newton hits, getting four each, while first baseman Stan Gruber hit a double and a home run, and Jim Tornabene got three hits, one a triple. Gruber's home run, a looping drive over the fence in right field, scored two ahead of him, accounting for three of Newton's six runs in the big sixth inning. Guido Castoldi, playing in left field, cut off a Brookline rally in the ninth with a spectacular running catch out near the foul line, a ball that would have meant two or three runs for Brookline.

NEW BASEBALL LEAGUE OPENS HERE THURSDAY

Lucius P. "Jeff" Jones, Newton High baseball coach, has been elected vice-president and treasurer of the newly organized "Twin-Country League," a six team circuit in which his own team, the Newton Independents, will be the sole Newton representatives. The other teams are the Natick Cubs, Natick All-Stars, Wellesley Town Team, Needham A. A. and the Bemis Cardinals. The Independents will play a home game at Claffin Field, Newtonville, every Thursday evening, admission free.

On Sunday the Independents will open their league schedule against the Needham A. A. Needham, but will not play at home until Thursday, when the Wellesley team comes to Newtonville. Not content with the role of a league official, Jeff Jones will be player-manager of the Independents. He will play third base, flanked by the towering Penny DeMille at short, Howard Ferguson at second and Herb Berry at first base. Berry and Ferguson, a pair of school teachers like Jones, formerly played at Bates and Colby, respectively. DeMille, whose unusual height often comes in handy in the infield, will play shortstop until the high school season closes, and then Bert Marrazzo will step in.

Philip Andres and Philip "Pete" Morrison, probably the two smartest, most colorful players on Jones' Newton High team for many years, are his choice as catchers for the Independents. His pitchers will be Beverly Wilson of the high school faculty, Joe Greene, Tucker Rhodes, Walter Cook, Brad Dyer and Bill MacAdams of former Newton High teams, and Phil Greene and Guido Castoldi, who will join the Independents when the school season is over. The latter two, a pair of hitting pitchers, will probably spend considerable time in the outfield when not pitching. Bill Mullin will be the only regular outfielder to start the season, and the pitching staff will supply the others. The league schedule for the first half of the season will be released next week.

Swimming Campaign

Two hundred and sixty-seven boys from the schools of Newton and Watertown were enrolled in the Annual Swimming Campaign held last week at the Newton Y. M. C. A. pool. Thirty classes of boys or more were given instruction by Mr. Jack Manning of the Massachusetts Humane Society. The attendance each day was: Monday, 264; Tuesday, 248; Wednesday, 243; Thursday, 225; and Friday, 207. At the conclusion of the campaign the boys were put through a swimming examination and one hundred and nineteen boys passed this test. These boys were awarded medals by the Massachusetts Humane Society for showing the most progress accomplished during the week: Newton, James Riddle, Underwood School; Douglas Furber, Pierce School; Secundine Civetti, Carr School; Robert Young, Warren Junior High School; and Francis Latino, Stearns School. Watertown, William Martinez, Parker School; William Ferguson and Glenwood MacDonald, Lowell School; Fred Olannessin, Hoston School; and Raymond Fletcher, West Junior High School.

"ONE OF AMERICA'S MOST DISTINGUISHED MOTOR CARS"

When you buy a car in this price class you have every right to expect a really big, a really luxurious car—with genuine, fine-car engineering throughout.

The Nash Ambassador has a 125-inch wheelbase. Compare it in this important respect with its nearest competitors!

The Ambassador is not a "scaled-down" model in any sense. There has been no "skimping" in upholstery or in fittings. And it brings you engineering advantages usually reserved by other manufacturers for cars priced much higher than the Ambassador. You get the famous Nash Twin-Ignition engine, for example. You get big, super-hydraulic brakes, a rugged all-steel body with steel top, and many other expensive-car features.

Yet the prices of these luxurious, big Ambassador sedans, including built-in trunks, range from only $835 to $995*. See the Ambassador! The Nash Motors Company, Kenosha, Wisconsin.

Judge Allen Rules Drunk's Statements Not Good Evidence

H. Chester Webster of 366 Winter st., Weston was found not guilty of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor by Judge Allen in the Newton court last Friday. Patrolmen Green and Kerrivan testified that at 3 a. m. on April 25 they observed an automobile parked on the Sudbury aqueduct reservation near Harrison st., Newton Highlands. The motor of the car was not running. About 50 yards away they found Webster standing in a very drunken condition. The police testified that to their questions Webster mumbled incoherent answers. Patrolman Scott who was on the patrol wagon which took Webster to police headquarters testified that Webster told him he drove the car onto the aqueduct to take a short cut.

Webster's lawyer argued that because of his client's drunken condition at the time of his arrest, any answers he gave could not be used as reasonable evidence against him. Judge Allen concurred in this contention. He fined Webster $5 for drunkenness.

NEWTON UPPER FALLS IMPROVEMENT SOCIETY HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

The members of the Upper Falls Improvement Society held their annual meeting and election of officers in the Emerson School auditorium on Thursday, May 7, at 7:30 p. m.

Annual reports were given and the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, John J. Kerrivan; vice president, Fred A. Farrington; secretary and treasurer, Robert B. McLaughlin; auditor, Lewis P. Everett. Finance committee, chairman, William Warren; Wm. H. Kerrivan, Arthur Walker, Gertrude Osborne, Charles Marden, Public Works, chairman, Samuel S. Oldfield, Frank R. Generazio, Dr. Walter Billings, John Temperley. Social committee, chairman, Mrs. Robert McLaughlin, Mrs. May Wiczorek, Mrs. Thos. E. Lees, Mrs. Donald Finchbaugh, Mrs. J. H. Hemphill.

Educational committee, chairman, Mrs. Thomas L. Aiken; Mr. Wm. Keller, Mr. C. E. Church, Miss Grace Hunt, Mr. Ernest Cobb.

Following the election of officers problems of community interest were discussed.

The Mordella Trio entertained with vocal and instrumental music and readings.

SPORT NOTES

Recent athletic awards at Huntington School include the presentation of a varsity basketball letter to Donald B. Fyfe of White Oak rd., Waban, manager; a varsity track letter to Manager Alan P. Carlson; and a varsity swimming letter to Manager Walter A. Johnson of Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre.

On May 6, at the Maugus Club, Wellesley Hills, the Norumbega Council held its annual meeting and election of officers for the coming year. The following men were elected: President, William V. M. Fawcett; first vice-president, Benjamin V. Guernsey; vice-president, Albert C. Blunt, Jr.; Scout Commissioner, Samuel P. Allison; treasurer, Frank A. Day. Members of the executive board for a two-year term, John M. Bierer, A. Leslie Harwood, Jr., Joseph C. Fuller and Grosvenor D. Marey; members of the executive board for a one-year term, Father John A. Sheridan and Douglass B. Francis, representative of the Newton Rotary Club.

Mr. Harwood, the retiring president, thanked the board and council for their very fine work and co-operation during his two-year term as president.

He was presented with a leather-bound book containing high lights of events in the council during his presidency.

The new scout executive, Mr. Leigh M. Nisbet, was presented to the council. Mr. Nisbet comes to Newton from the Boston Council, where he has been a field executive for the past four years. His service as a professional, or career, Scout leader began in February, 1925, a total of twelve years. For two years he served as a field executive in the Toledo Council. Then, for three years he was executive of a council centering around Zanesville, Ohio. In 1930, desiring to become connected with a large city council and to specialize, he came to the Boston Council as a field executive and director of training. He is a graduate of Denison University, Granville, Ohio, with a Ph.D. degree, in the class of 1920. In June this year he will receive his degree as Master of Education from Boston University.

During the World War he served as second lieutenant of infantry. Now he is a captain in the Cavalry Reserve on the staff of Col. Norman Case, later Governor of Rhode Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Nisbet reside at 41 Sawyer rd., in Wellesley Hills. They have a daughter, Nancy. They are members of the First Baptist Church in Newton Centre, in which community they lived before building in Wellesley Hills. In Wellesley Hills Mr. Nisbet is a member of the Wellesley Country Club and the Maugus Club.

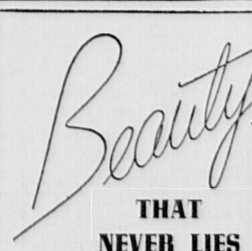

Mr. J. S. Wilson, the personal representative of Lord Baden Powell, the Chief Scout of the World, spoke to the group.

Five Scoutmasters were presented with the Scoutmasters' Keys: John M. Bierer, Richard B. Pelce, Chester N. Reed, Ralph B. Emery and Ernest C. Hilliard. Certificates were awarded that were run this past winter.

W. C. T. U.

The West Newton W. C. T. U. will hold a Mothers' Meeting in the parlors of the Anbunrd Congregational Church on next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Lucy Lincoln, State Director of Child Welfare, will be the guest speaker. Mothers with their young children are invited to attend.

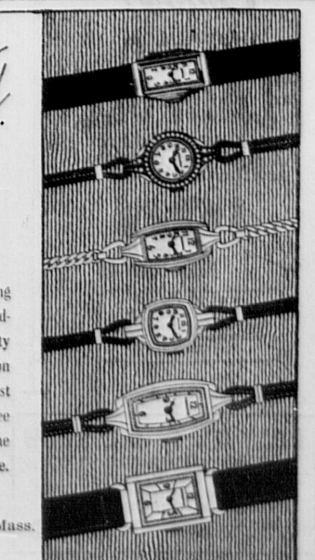

The West Newton W. C. T. U. will hold a food sale at 289 Moody st., Waltham, on Saturday afternoon, May 16, for the benefit of the young people's camps in Sharon and Canton, Dr. N. Louise Rand is in charge of the food sale.

Brides and graduates are choosing Hamiltons. They know they'll be admired for Hamilton's delicate beauty . . . envied for that famous Hamilton accuracy. Let us show you the newest Hamilton models today. You'll agree Hamilton is a watch worthy of the wrist of the loveliest bride or graduate.

High School Publications

Richard Lovell and Hugh Tomb, '37, were chosen editor-in-chief and business manager, respectively, of The Newtonite for the coming year at the spring meeting of the Board of Publications. The board at the same meeting, postponed from just before until directly after vacation, selected Jack Perkins and Jack Perry to serve as editor and business manager of the Orange Book.

Nominations for The Newtonite positions were presented by Lester E. Williams and Carl P. Birmingham, the faculty advisers, and met with unanimous approval. Lovell and Tomb have both served on the business staff in their sophomore and junior years. This past year Lovell has been business manager of The Newtonite.

In accordance with custom a list of nearly 20 boys, considered worthy candidates for the Orange Book positions by their English teachers, was discussed at length. The number was finally cut to six; then separate ballots were taken to produce the final decision.

A list of girls who might work on the Orange Book was gone over, and several names were singled out for consideration by Caroline M. Doonan, the faculty adviser.

The department editors of the Orange Book will be selected, as usual, by the new editor-in-chief and Miss Doonan from the lists of pupils which the Board considered. The Newtonite staff for next year has not been completely and definitely chosen. The juniors, however, have taken over the publications of the paper.

Neophytes Present Play

"Are Men Superior?" a short comedy by Harriet Ford was presented before an all-sophomore class assembly on Wednesday, May 13, by the Neophytes, the sophomore drama class. The cast included Grace Ver Planck, Jerry Harvey, Ann Reynolds, Nancy Howatt, Doris Merandahl, Barbara Davis, Sue Cook, and Barbara Levine. Properties and make-up were taken care of by Priscilla Chapple, Gertrude Dolber, and Virginia Brown. Miss Jessie A. Southard, club adviser, coached the play. The prompting was done by Sanchia Thayer.

Radio Club Broadcasts on WBZ

The Radio Club gave its third broadcast of the season over WBZ at 3:15 on Thursday, May 14. The main topic of the program was the selection of proper vocations. There were two divisions under this principal subject which show both the serious and humorous sides of the issue. In charge of the first of these was Janet Matson, and working with her were Julia Hamilton, Martha Stephenson and Patricia Taylor. The humorous half of the program was under the leadership of Nancy Flagg, who was a satiric skit in which she was assisted by Norman Ross, Frank Scheel and Joan Cox.

At the Radio Club's monthly meeting on May 7, Miss Lee, in the absence of the intended speaker, talked of the requirements made by the National Broadcasting Company of its announcers. She also spoke briefly of her recent trip to Radio City.

Miss Cecile de Banke, Professor in the Department of Speech at Wellesley College, spoke on Wednesday, May 13, at Newton High School on the subject of choral reading. Miss de Banke spoke before the English faculty of the high school, and their guests, and the English teachers from the four junior high schools in Newton. A reception and afternoon coffee preceded the address.

Weeks Jr. High

The first varsity baseball game of the season was played on Tuesday, May 5, when the alumni walked away with a 14 to 1 victory. A large number of the alumni turned out for the game, both as players and as spectators.

The second game was about equally disastrous to the Weeks varsity, when F. A. Day went home with a one-sided score of 17 to 4 in their favor. The Junior Varsity likewise trailed F. A. Day J. V.'s to the tune of 10 to 7.

On Friday, May 8, the Eastern Massachusetts League of Junior High School Publications held its annual meeting at the Weeks School. Delegates numbering nearly 300 pupils from seventeen Greater Boston Junior high schools attended the conference. Greetings were extended to the league by Principal Raymond W. Blaisdell and Supt. Julius E. Warren. The features of the afternoon session included the election of officers for the ensuing year, delegates' reports of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Meeting held in March, and the distribution and critical analysis of "League Echoes," an eight-page magazine, written, edited, and managed by members of the League without any faculty supervision whatsoever. Miss Mary Gurney of the Southern Junior High School in Somerville was elected president, William Staples and Edward Doyle of the Eastern Junior High School, Lynn, were elected first and second vice-presidents, respectively; Miss Marion Wagner of South Junior High School in Waltham, recording secretary, and Malcolm Gavin, Junior High West of Arlington, treasurer. Following the business meeting supper was served in the cafeteria. The delegates again assembled in the auditorium to hear Mr. Edward E. Whiting, formerly of The Boston Herald, who spoke about newspaper work. The evening program consisted of an Amateur Hour, numbers for which were contributed by member schools of the League. A "Hill-Billy Duo" presented by boys from the Northeast Junior High School, Somerville, was awarded first place; a "Xylophone Tap" by a girl from the Roosevelt School, Melrose, second place; and honorable mention was awarded to a girl from the Lincoln Junior High School, Malden, for her "Scarf Dance."

Warren Jr. High

The Girls' Annual Gym Meet was held on May 11 under the direction of Miss McLean. Members of the Yellow Color Group won the meet. The principal performers were the color leaders: Green, Ruth Lucas; Red, Anne Cady; Yellow, Jean Hamant, and Blue, Thelma Blackey. The pianists were Helen Otowchits and Ralph Burns.

The carnival spirit prevails in the school as art classes are at work on decorations for Pops, May 21 and 22, and a host of students are preparing their shows.

On May 1 members of Junior III observed "Accident and Health Week" by a program devoted to accident and fire prevention. The first part of the program consisted of a debate on the subject, "Resolved, that uniform control of traffic regulations, obtaining of licenses and signals would be the best way of reducing traffic accidents."

The affirmative was defended by John Clapp and Frank Dowsett of IIIA, and the negative was upheld by Jean Hamant and Eleanor Jeffers of IIIA. Mr. Penny, Mr. Tower and Miss Lewis, acting as judges, gave the decision to the negative. The second part of the program consisted of stereopticon slides made and explained by members of IIIA, C and E. These were on the subject of accidents and fire prevention. This program was an outcome of work in civics classes.

Preparations for Commencement

Special rehearsals are being held for basses and tenors out of regular choral practice periods for Graduation Exercises.

The students of the senior class had their pictures taken last Thursday at Vantine's studio in Boston. The proofs will be ready and brought to the High School this week.

Honored

Louise McCarthy of the Class of '36 has been selected Queen of May and will crown Our Blessed Mother in the May procession that is scheduled to take place Sunday, May 31. This honor is one greatly looked forward to each year by the girls of the senior class.

Preschool Examination

A preschool examination and registration of those children who are to enter the first grade of Our Lady's in September were held in the High School auditorium, Wednesday afternoon. Miss Mary Welch, the school nurse, was present and the examination was conducted by the following doctors of the parish: Dr. Francis J. Mulligan, Dr. Richard N. Shields, Dr. Frederick Parker and Dr. F. M. O'Donnell.

Day Jr. High School

Mr. Burkhard has been attending a conference of the American Red Cross in Chicago. With him went two members of the seventh grade, Paul Harriman and John Sauter.

On Tuesday the Day Band and Drum and Bugle Corps, under the supervision of Mr. F. Turner, took part in the Annual music festival at Dickinson Stadium. The Drum and Bugle Corps was under the supervision of our two drum majors, Mary Murphy and Barbara Walker. Members of the advanced twirling exhibition from the Day were Carolyn Spence, Elizabeth Barrow, Natalie Burke, Marjorie Siff and Claire Silva. The band included "Children's March" and "Don't Give Up the Ship" among its numbers.

At club assembly today performances were contributed by the following clubs: The Fingerprint Club, under Mr. Thornton's guidance; the Library Club, under Miss Gibson's guidance; and the Glee Club, under Miss Richards, also the French Club, Miss Grenier supervising.

Mr. F. Tanner led the band in several selections, while the school twirlers performed on the stage.

Bigelow Junior H. S.

The Seventh Grade Dramatic Club entertained the school at the assembly May 14. Leon Schrag was chairman. There was a series of three monologues given by Marjorie McNeil, Rebecca Connolly, and Marjorie Glassman. The main feature of the program was a play, "General Manger," which amusingly displayed the treats and tribulation of running a carnival. Samuel Cutler started out as the carnival nuisance, but, through his clever detective work and ideas, he was promoted to the office of manager. Other pupils taking part were Richard Bolin, Patricia Turchon, Eleanor Tash-jain, Norman Donnelly, Marjorie MacNeil, Gordon Kee, David Waller, August Aventura, Sally West and Victoria Thomas.

Bigelow had a very successful week in sports. The varsity basketball team won from Warren 12-2, and the junior varsity also won from Warren, 16-12. Bigelow tennis players—H. Lord, J. Rich, B. Harrington, W. Baker, L. Kurger and W. Byrne—defeated Weeks' sextet 4-0. These Bigelow players were the ranking players of the week in the school ladder tournament.

Beginners as well as advanced players are having opportunity to play tennis. The girls are allowed to use the courts Monday and Friday afternoons, and the boys Wednesday and Thursday afternoons.

Students at the Bigelow Junior High School will give a radio broadcast over Station WBZ on Thursday, May 28, at 3:15 p. m. The subject of the broadcast will be "Hobbies," and the scene of the meeting of a group of boys and girls to form a hobby club. Herbert Smith will be the announcer and those who will participate are: Sally West, Patricia Turchon, Marjorie McNeil, Rebecca Connolly, Frederick Hall, Richard Davenport, Robert Hansen, Jean Stevenson, Helen Powers.

Warren Jr. High

The Girls' Annual Gym Meet was held on May 11 under the direction of Miss McLean. Members of the Yellow Color Group won the meet. The principal performers were the color leaders: Green, Ruth Lucas; Red, Anne Cady; Yellow, Jean Hamant, and Blue, Thelma Blackey. The pianists were Helen Otowchits and Ralph Burns.

The carnival spirit prevails in the school as art classes are at work on decorations for Pops, May 21 and 22, and a host of students are preparing their shows.

On May 1 members of Junior III observed "Accident and Health Week" by a program devoted to accident and fire prevention. The first part of the program consisted of a debate on the subject, "Resolved, that uniform control of traffic regulations, obtaining of licenses and signals would be the best way of reducing traffic accidents."

The affirmative was defended by John Clapp and Frank Dowsett of IIIA, and the negative was upheld by Jean Hamant and Eleanor Jeffers of IIIA. Mr. Penny, Mr. Tower and Miss Lewis, acting as judges, gave the decision to the negative. The second part of the program consisted of stereopticon slides made and explained by members of IIIA, C and E. These were on the subject of accidents and fire prevention. This program was an outcome of work in civics classes.

Oak Hill Fire Causes Car Crash

For several hours Tuesday night while the Newton Fire Department was fighting the blaze in the big barns on the Hurley farm at Newton Centre, traffic had to be detoured off the Worcester turnpike. Shortly after 9 o'clock a truck driven by Charles Barbour of Needham was halted near Woodcliff rd., by Patrolman Green. Following the truck was a car driven by Mrs. Elma Benson, 77 Hartford st., Newton Highlands. The car crashed into the rear of the truck. Mrs. Alice Robertson of Spokane, Washington, a passenger in the car, received a fracture of the right wrist and fractured ribs. She was taken to the Newton Hospital. Mrs. Benson, Mrs. Julia Wilson of 77 Hartford st., and Mrs. Margaret Arkley of Halifax, who were also riding in the car, received slight injuries.

A Junior II social was held on May 1 under the direction of Mrs. Mooney, the grade adviser. "The Pampered Darling," coached by Mr. Regan, was the principal entertainment. Members of the Dramatic Club who took part were Mary Ann Sullivan, Joan Concannon, Kitt Fisher, Lillian Rallsback, Paul Crocker, Roland Pease, Betty Holbrook, Betsy Blake, Susan Emch, Ralph Burns. The chairman of the committees worked hard and so efficiently that the social was voted the best of the year. The chairmen were: Marjorie Conchman, refreshments; Bob Barron, games and dancing; Jean Goss, invitations; Joan Concannon, decorations; Robert Merrick and Jack Kellar, tickets; and Chester Blackey, reception.

The assembly on May 8 was sponsored by Mrs. Holman and Miss Turner. There were two style shows. One showed modern styles consisting of cotton dresses suitable for school and sports, made by Jr. II girls, and woolen skirts, silk dresses for daytime and evening made by Jr. III girls in the clothing classes. The other was a style show of years ago, showing dresses from the Pilgrim days up to the present time. A highlight was the modelling of an 1890 bathing suit by Beverly Moore. A modern gym class presented a tap dance. Dancers included Patsy O'Toole, Jane Ricketson, Esther Nichols, Eleanor Mayer, Martha Mason, Peggy Wilson, Connie Lowe and Barbara Williams. In contrast, a gym class of our mothers' day was presented by Lillian Rallsback, Joan Concannon, Mildred Baird, Caroline Close, Phyllis Johnson, Betsy Blake and Marjorie Strauss. Katherine Seovel gave an interesting talk on appropriate and inappropriate dress, and dressing for health, with Jr. II girls as models.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

The annual meeting of the Hunnewell Club of Newton was held on Monday evening. Following a Seiler dinner a business meeting was held at which officers were elected for the coming year and reports were read. President Elmer L. Ford, Vice-President Dr. Sterling N. Loveland, Treasurer Harry Dexter and Secretary Mason H. Stone were re-elected. New directors to serve with the above officers are Daniel White, Malcolm D. Clarke and Charles B. Diman. 2nd. Howard B. Rich was elected chairman of the membership committee. Plans are being made to increase the total membership to around 135, an increase of about 30 over the present number. President Ford was toastmaster and introduced former club presidents Freelan O. Stanley, William F. Garcelon, Charles H. Diman and Carl Peirce. Senator Arthur Hollis and former Alderman Philip H. Jamieson also spoke briefly.

IMMANUEL BAPTIST CHURCH

The Men's League of the Immanuel Baptist Church, Newton, will celebrate their Annual Ladies' Night at the church on Tuesday, May 19. At eight o'clock Dr. D. Brewer Ed- d, secretary of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, will give an illustrated lecture, entitled "Things As They Are In Russia."

The immense public interest in Russia today, in her new alliance with France against possible and expected attack by Germany and Japan, makes this theme timely and important.

Because of his recent travels, Dr. Eddy brings a vivid picture of civilization in transition as seen through the eyes of a Christian internationalist.

Preceding the lecture, which will be open to the public, there will be a dinner at 6:30 for which tickets may be secured from members of the Men's League.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 17. The Golden Text is: "What man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man which is in him? even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God" (I Corinthians 2:11).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For all things are for your sakes, that the abundant grace might through the thanksgiving of many redound to the glory of God. For which cause we faint not; but though our outward man perish, yet the inward man is renewed day by day" (II Corinthians 4:15, 16).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The conceptions of mortal, erring thought must give way to the ideal of all that is perfect and eternal. Through many generations human beliefs will be attaining diviner conceptions, and the immortal and perfect model of God's creation will finally be seen as the only true conception of being" (p. 260).

The History of Beginnings

"I'm from Missouri—show me"

A MISSOURIAN MEMBER OF THE NAVAL COMMITTEE VISITING PHILADELPHIA IN 1897 ATTENDED A BANQUET AND WAS JIBED BECAUSE HE WAS THE ONLY ONE NOT IN EVENING DRESS. A MEMBER FROM IOWA MADE A JESTING REMARK. ARISING TO HIS FEET THE MISSOURIAN SAID, "A STORY FROM IOWA DOESN'T GO WITH ME. I'M FROM MISSOURI. YOU'VE GOT TO SHOW ME"

Strawberry Festival of Temple Emanuel Sisterhood

More than 200 women attended the Strawberry Festival given by Sisterhood Temple Emanuel of Newton on Monday afternoon, May 11, at the Tennis and Squash Club in Newton Centre.

Mrs. Max M. Silverman, as soloist, and Mrs. Lorrie H. Kreitman, as accompanist, rendered a delightful musical program. Mr. Jacob Wasserman, executive chairman of the campaign now being conducted by Temple Emanuel of Newton for the establishment of a religious, educational and community centre, and commander of the Brookline Jewish Post, was the guest speaker. Mrs. Ira I. Nelson, president of the Sisterhood, delivered a stirring appeal on the needs of such a centre.

It was announced by Rabbi Leo Shubow, spiritual leader of Temple Emanuel, that the closing day of the Children's Contest, which is being conducted in connection with the campaign, will be May 30 instead of May 29.

Plans have been completed for Sisterhood Temple Emanuel Day on May 14 and 15 at the Beth Israel Hospital Thrift Shop under the chairmanship of Mrs. Maurice Klein.

Mrs. Arthur Rosenberg of Newton Centre was the reader of the invocation. The hostesses of the afternoon were the Mesdames Herbert Conellman, Joseph Oppenheim, Mark Edison and David Shertzer.

Newton Hospital Trustees Meet

1935 Was Hospital's Biggest, Busiest Year

On Tuesday, April 28th, at the quarterly meeting of the trustees, the chairman of the Executive Committee, Mr. William F. Chase, reported the appointment of Miss Marguerite Flanders as secretary and the following sub-committees:

Works—Robert A. Whidden, chairman; and Mrs. E. P. Saltonstall, F. L. Richardson and Leon B. Rogers.
Auditing—Arthur W. Rayner and William H. Hill of Wellesley.

Budget—President of the Hospital, Herbert M. Cole, and the treasurer, Wickliffe J. Spaulding and the chairman of the Executive Committee, William F. Chase.

Legislation—A. Leslie Harwood and Wickliffe J. Spaulding.
Public Relations—Herbert M. Cole. The last two committees are new. The Legislation Committee having as its chief work the following of legislative bills as presented to the General Court which concern hospitals in general and seeing that the Newton Hospital is represented at hearings on these bills when necessary. The Public Relations Committee has in charge the dissemination of publicity which will be for the furtherance of the best interests of the Newton Hospital.

As the year 1935 was the biggest, busiest and best in the history of the Newton Hospital, the first quarter of 1936 was likewise the biggest, busiest and best three months in its history. The total operating income reached nearly $80,000 against an average quarterly income last year of less than $75,000. The operating expenses reached nearly $100,000 for the quarter, against an average last year of about $82,000. The increase in both income and outgo is accounted for by the large increase in the number of patients in the hospital, the daily average being nearly 192, against 172 last year. In the last ten years—1925 to 1935—the daily average of patients has been as follows: 113, 115, 116, 124, 137, 145, 148, 152, 163, 167, which means that with respect to accommodations for patients, the Hospital before many years will be in the same condition as in 1929, previous to the opening of the new building. With these facts in mind, the Trustees were urged to give very serious thought as to what can be done to get more rooms for both patients and nurses, the problem must be faced before long.

Necessary reorganizations of departments and increases in personnel and equipment have been made. In the accounting office, where the most radical reorganization occurred, the results of the changes appear to justify the cost. In fact, it is doubtful whether, under the old system, the heavy business of the past few months could have been satisfactorily handled without adding largely to the personnel of the office.

The bus shelter on Washington st. at the end of the stairs leading to Temple Emanuel, the closing day of the Children's Contest, which is being conducted in connection with the campaign, will be May 30 instead of May 29.

Plans have been completed for Sisterhood Temple Emanuel Day on May 14 and 15 at the Beth Israel Hospital Thrift Shop under the chairmanship of Mrs. Maurice Klein.

NEWTON DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors was held at the headquarters, 297 Walnut st., at 10 o'clock, Monday morning, May 11, 1936, with Mrs. Louis W. Arnold, the president, presiding.

Miss Nelson, Executive Director, reported a very busy month for April, with 1397 visits to 537 patients and 286 babies attending the clinics at the Well Baby Stations. There were also during the month sixteen clinics held at which 209 babies and preschool children received immunization for diphtheria and 286 were vaccinated.

Mrs. Wilson reported for the Nursing Committee that under the auspices of the WPA we now have three nurses who will assist in the work of the Association for free cases.

Mrs. Arnold introduced Mr. Dacey from the Newton Community Chest Budget Committee. He spoke briefly on how the new program of the Budget Committee would lead to a broad, sympathetic understanding of the working and needs of each member organization.

Mrs. Croghan, Chairman of the Group for Study of Contagious diseases, presented Miss Palmer, Director of School Nurses in Newton, under the Department of Health, who told about the work of the Tubercular testing of children in the schools. This work is in co-operation with the Middlesex Sanatorium.

Mrs. Webster gave a resume of the theories of infection and prevention of infantile paralysis.

The education program for the morning was concluded by Mrs. Croghan who gave a most interesting and detailed account of the Middlesex Sanatorium and the marvelous work being done there for humanity.

Newtonville Improvement Asso Holds Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Newtonville Improvement Association was held on Tuesday evening, May 12th, at the rooms of the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville. A large and interested audience of members and friends was present. President George W. Taylor presided.

After the secretary's and treasurer's reports were read President Taylor reviewed the activities of the Association for the past year, and then called upon Mr. C. Raymond Cabot, one of the vice presidents of the association, who made a very clear and enthusiastic report on the proposed Newtonville Branch Library building.

The nominating committee through Mr. Marshall B. Dalton, chairman, proposed the following list of officers and executive committee for the coming year. They were unanimously elected. President, Charles P. Slocum; vice-presidents, Charles Raymond Cabot; Carl F. Schipper, Jr., Eugene Howell; secretary, Fred C. Alexander; treasurer, William E. Leonard; auditor, Joseph B. Robson.

The Executive Committee. The above officers and Charles B. Reed, Harry D. Cabot, Marshall B. Dalton, Paul E. Elicker, Adam Haugh, Donald Morton Hill, James C. Irwin, W. Clarence Lodge, Charles R. Lynde, Rev. Randolph F. Merrill, Horace W. Orr, John R. Prescott, George W. Taylor, Clifford B. Whitney, John S. Whittemore, Fred W. Woodcock.

A ladies' sextette under the direction of Mrs. Ernest L. Nichols sang several fine selections. The sextette was comprised of Leta-Will Cowell, Marion Brickett, Ann Nichols, Mary Cox, Beulah Bell, and Rebecca Reed. Helen Ross was the piano accompanist.

The speaker of the evening was Mr. Frederick N. Blodgett whose talk, illustrated by moving pictures, "An Airplane Trip to Alaska," pictured in an entertaining and thrilling manner the hazards and the pleasures of flying to Alaska in order to go bear-hunting there.

Nonantum Man In Peck of Trouble

Julius Bianchi, 28, of 20 Quirk court, yesterday on several charges. He was fined $3 for not stopping his automobile before entering a through way; $5 for driving without a license, and $5 for driving without a registration. He is also due to appear in the Newton court on next Monday to face charges of speeding and driving without a license in his possession. But, the automobile charges were slight compared with another complaint made against Bianchi. He is accused by Special Officer Charles Feeley of larceny. It is charged that Julius sold tickets at the moderate price of 35c each to city employees and others for a "Benefit Stag" which allegedly was to have been held at Columbus Hall, Nonantum, on the evening of April 30. The purpose of the benefit was supposedly to raise funds for the widow and children of Bianchi's uncle, Antonio Bianchi, a Street Department employee, who was killed at the Crafts st. yard last winter when a truck ran over him. On the night of April 30th, persons who had purchased tickets for the benefit went to Columbus Hall to find the place closed. The "stag" did not develop. Someone told Mrs. Antonio Bianchi of the "benefit" and she told the police. Julius was held in $300 bail for appearance in court today.

Refuse Permit For Big Poultry Farm

The Board of Health on Monday night refused to grant a permit for a poultry farm at 134 North st., Newtonville. G. A. Putnam of 296 Washington st., Newton, who wanted to keep 1000 hens, was the petitioner. F. B. McInnis was given a permit to keep 50 hens at 21 Parker st., Newton Centre. The application of Frederick Crawford of 221 Washington st., Newton, was denied.

The resignation of Dr. Ann Stewart as director of child hygiene was accepted. Mrs. Stewart had been serving in this capacity for a number of months and her salary had been provided under the cooperative arrangement between the Newton Health Department and the Harvard School of Public Health. When the Health Department made its budget recommendations a couple of months ago, the city was asked to assume Dr. Stewart's salary. Mayor Childs agreed, but following protests from Newton physicians the Mayor withdrew his recommendation for this salary.

Anne Antiochella, who has been a clerk in the comptroller's department at City Hall, has been transferred to the Health Department as an additional clerk. Heretofore this department has had but one clerk.

Someone told Mrs. Antonio Bianchi of the "benefit" and she told the police. Julius was held in $300 bail for appearance in court today.

Julius Bianchi, 28, of 20 Quirk court, yesterday on several charges. He was fined $3 for not stopping his automobile before entering a through way; $5 for driving without a license, and $5 for driving without a registration. He is also due to appear in the Newton court on next Monday to face charges of speeding and driving without a license in his possession. But, the automobile charges were slight compared with another complaint made against Bianchi. He is accused by Special Officer Charles Feeley of larceny. It is charged that Julius sold tickets at the moderate price of 35c each to city employees and others for a "Benefit Stag" which allegedly was to have been held at Columbus Hall, Nonantum, on the evening of April 30. The purpose of the benefit was supposedly to raise funds for the widow and children of Bianchi's uncle, Antonio Bianchi, a Street Department employee, who was killed at the Crafts st. yard last winter when a truck ran over him. On the night of April 30th, persons who had purchased tickets for the benefit went to Columbus Hall to find the place closed. The "stag" did not develop. NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed proposals for the re-binding of school books required by the School Department of the City of Newton will be received at the office of the School Committee, Technical High School, Newtonville, Massachusetts, until 2:00 P. M. on May 28, 1936.

Proposals must be plainly marked on envelope—"Proposal for the Re-binding of Books." All proposals must be accompanied by a certified check upon a national bank or trust company doing business in Massachusetts, for the sum of two hundred dollars ($200) payable to and to become the property of the City of Newton if the proposal which it accompanies is accepted and the bidder neglects or refuses to execute the contract within six days (Sundays excepted) from the date of notification of acceptance of proposal.

A surety bond for the faithful performance of the contract in a penal sum equal to approximately fifty (50%) per cent of the accepted bid will be required.

Specifications can be obtained at the office of the School Committee, Technical High School, Newtonville, Mass.

Any alteration or addition to the terms of the specifications and form of contract may be considered by the City as a cause for rejection of the bidder's proposal.

The Department reserves the right to accept or reject any and all bids or any part of any bid, and to award the contract entirely in the best interests of the City.

Acceptance of bids is subject to sufficient appropriations being made by the Board of Aldermen.

A duplicate copy of all proposals must be filed at the office of the Comptroller of Accounts, City Hall, Newton Centre, Massachusetts, at the time of filing with the School Committee.

country. Among his talks he takes up such topics as "Art and the Theatre," "Hopes and Fears for American Art," "The Curse of French Culture," and "Contemporary Sculpture." It is evident from the above that he will have much to say that is rousing, and provocative to thought and discussion.

Mr. Kenneth Meyers, world-traveler and student, will lecture on Tuesday afternoon, the 19th, at 2 o'clock. Mr. Meyers has gone into far countries, due to his study with Governments of their need for hospital service, and he has seen political developments that no one not so working could possibly learn. He has been in that portion of China that is involved in Japan's present expansion program, and he has a "close-up" view of Japan's methods as a colonizing power in Korea, and has learned from the very lips of leading Japanese their intent toward China. He spent months in Africa, studying political events; events, whose full meaning have not been revealed, he declares, and "that may involve another world catastrophe." To hear what he has to say may not only be enlightening, but "forearming." He was twice commissioned by the Emperor Haile Selassie to help in the location of hospitals and their manning with American doctors and nurses.

Dr. Joseph M. M. Gray, widely-known author and lecturer, will speak at 2 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, the 20th, his topic "New Horizon in Education." Dr. Gray's first act as Chancellor of the American University at Washington, D. C., was to confer upon the President of the United States the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws—President Roosevelt. He delivered the Memorial Day address at Gettysburg in 1912, and in 1918 was speaker at the first Memorial Services held by American troops at Winchester, England. During the World War he lectured on history and religious subjects—he is an ordained Methodist Minister—in the army camps in England and France. He encountered a thrilling experience aboard a torpedoed ship. He is studying changes in university instruction in the universities of Germany, Austria, and other foreign countries, at first hand.

George Dangerfield, known as the brilliant young author of "The Strange Death of Liberal England," will be the speaker Thursday morning, the 21st, at 10 a. m. He was born in Newbury, England, in 1906, son of a rector. He received his degree in the English Honours School of Hertford College, Oxford. He has been an editor with publishing houses; editor of "Vanity Fair," and contributor to many leading magazines. His subject "Opportunity Knocks for the Woman Writer" should be informative and stimulating.

Besides the many prominent speakers who will address the different sessions, the chairman of Music, Mrs. Moses H. Gulesian, has provided an elaborate musical program for each session. Mrs. Gulesian was recently invited to play her new composition, "Memories," at the White House, the song having been awarded first honorable mention in the song contest of the National League of American Pen Women.

For the benefit of Newton clubwomen who may be able to attend only one or a few of the sessions, the time of various reports and events of the program is given to assist them in choice, and in knowledge when some event is scheduled to come in which they are especially interested.

The program of the sessions which will be held in the Convention Hall, will be as follows:

Tuesday morning, May 19th, 10 a. m. Mrs. Thomas J. Walker and Mrs. John H. Kimball presiding. Annual reports of officers. Report of Nominating committee. Address: "Why I Am An American," Grace Morrison Poole.

Tuesday afternoon, 2 p. m. Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth, presiding. Music, Sharon Fortnightly Club Chorus, Marion Prince Hosmer, director; Ruth Cushing Jackson, accompanist; "By the Rivers of Babylon," Loeffler; Trio, cellist, Grace Dinsmore Davis; Violins, Ruth Dinsmore Hall, and Edward Matthews Higgins; Reports from Miami; Address, "The European Bargain Table," Kenneth Meyers, World-traveler; Announcement of Gift Scholarships.

Tuesday evening, 8 o'clock. The Orpheus Harp Ensemble: Miss Nellie Zimmer, Miss Gladys Crockerford, Miss Gretchen Cook, Miss Margaret Bell; Soprano solos, Olive Appleton; Soprano and Baritone, Miss Appleton, Mr. Newcombe, with Reginald Boardman, accompanist; Address: "Cubes and Cones," Thomas Craven, Critic and Author. Soprano solos, Cecil Beattie, with Grace Montgomery, accompanist.

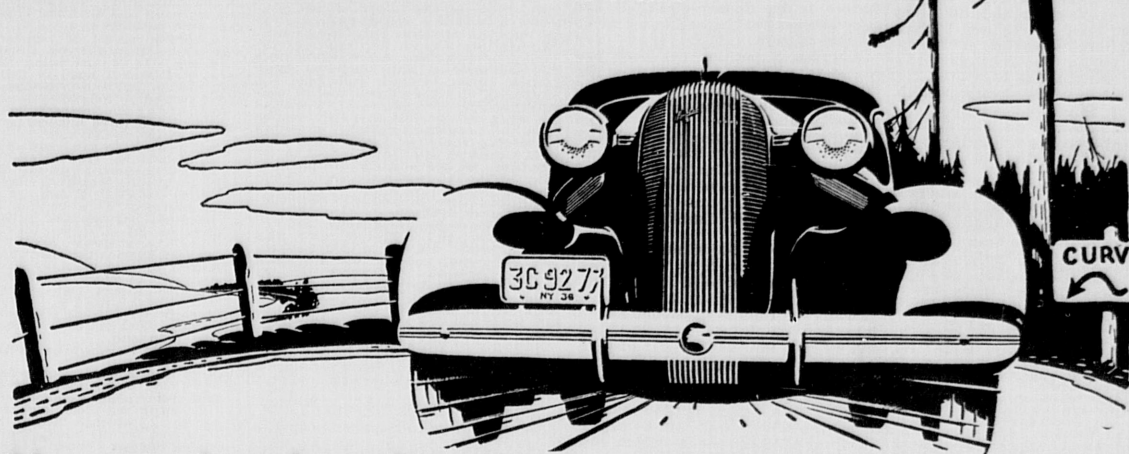

Wednesday morning, 10 o'clock. Mrs. Walker and Mrs. David A. Westcott, presiding. Songs led by Mrs. Mabel F. Barstow, and official song leader of the State Federation; minutes, business; music, Mildred Taylor Shaw, Violinist; Frances Adelman, accompanist; Address: "Training the Adult Blind," Emil Schoener, with his dog trained by the Society of the Seeing Eye; Conference hour, 11:30-12:30 o'clock; Voting, 12 noon to 5:30 p. m.

Wednesday afternoon, 2 p. m. Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Herbert F. French, presiding. Madam Marie Conde, Soprano soloist, and the Newton Centre Woman's Club Chorus, Madame Appleton Blair, Conductor; Mrs. Mary Barr Snyder, accompanist; Address: "The New Horizons in Education," Dr. Joseph M. Gray, Chancellor of American University, Washington, D. C.; Presenting of awards, departments of Art, Conservation, Literature, Mothercraft, Motion Pictures, Press and Publicity.

Wednesday evening, 8 o'clock. Boston Brass Quartet, Robert King, Ephraim; George Attridge, Trombone; Herbert Ludwig, Cornet; Paul Attridge, Cornet. Two numbers by quartet precede Processional of Chairman.

Interchurch Council at Newtonville

The Annual Business Meeting of the Young People's Inter-Church Council of the Norumbega District will be held on Saturday, May 16, at the Central Congregational Church in Newtonville. This meeting of the Council will be combined with the closing session of the Youth Institute sponsored for the past four weeks by the Council. The program has been planned by the various classes in the Institute and will include a pageant presented by the class in dramatics. There will be a recreational period, to open the session, at 5:30 p. m., and supper at 6:00 p. m. Rev. Randolph Merrill of the Central Church will be the speaker, and Mr. Lawrence Theobald of Boston District Epworth League will conduct the closing candlelight service.

City May Sell Eight Tractors

According to a statement which Mayor Childs is expected to have made on Tuesday, the city may sell eight tractors purchased late last year to be used principally for the purpose of pushing plows to remove snow from sidewalks. The tractors cost $1489.40 each, and while sturdy and powerful, allegedly were not practical for use in plowing sidewalks. In the first place they are too wide to be operated on many sidewalks in this city because of trees and poles which are on or about the sidewalks. During the winter when heavy snow fell, the tractors would have to be steered off narrow sidewalks when a tree or pole obstructed, and then they could not be driven over drifts onto the sidewalk again.

The problem of removing snow from Newton sidewalks remains to be solved. In the past when the Street Department of Newton owned scores of horses, there was a sufficiency of powerful, trained animals to pull plows over sidewalks. The Street Department now owns but 20 horses, some of them old and not strong enough to pull plows through heavy snow. There are 68 sidewalk routes to be plowed after snowfalls. Last winter the city hired 43 horses to assist in this work. Some of the steeds were not rugged enough for this work, and more balked at traveling along sidewalks between trees or poles and fences. Heavy draft horses have become increasingly harder to hire. Not many are in use because of motor trucks. The town of Brookline each winter has been hiring about a dozen sturdy horses from contractors under specified contracts. Possibly the Newton Street Department may be able next winter to obtain powerful horses from some New England owners who will not use the animals during that season. And then again—probably Newton cannot procure the animals.

The Finance Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen in its report to the full Board at the last meeting referred to the use of tractors for plowing sidewalks by saying—"The plowing of sidewalks has never been satisfactory, even at the best, by horse drawn plows, and while our tractor snowplows for sidewalks may not be 100% efficient at the present time, we believe that a step by step made in the right direction, and that horse-drawn plows should be eliminated at the earliest possible moment."

Strike Halts Work On Newton Schools

Work on the new school at Oak Hill and the addition to the Angier School at Waban was somewhat delayed the past week by the strike of members of the Hod Carriers and Building Laborers Union employed on the two buildings. Members of this union working on many projects in Greater Boston went out on strike because they claim that contractors have not lived up to an agreement which should have increased wages on April 5. A conference between the strikers and representatives of the Master Contractors' Association is scheduled for next Monday.

Annual Banquet of 301st F. A. Vets

The annual banquet and reunion of the 301st Field Artillery Veterans' Association will be held at Club Devkeder, 198 Huntington Avenue, Boston, Wednesday, May 27, at 7:30 p. m. Thomas Cummings of the Newton Police Department is a member of the committee working to make this reunion a success.

WEST NEWTON COMMUNITY CENTRE, INC.

Mr. Charles B. Floyd talked to the boys and girls of the West Newton Community Centre on "Birds and Bird Banding," at the Portable Club House, Eden Avenue Playground, West Newton, Friday, May 8, at seven o'clock.

The S.O.S. Dramatic Club, consisting of Mildred Kennedy, Constance Brostman, Mary Walsen, Helen Hart, Louise and Elizabeth Macusty, are practicing each week for their third production, a one act mystery, which will be given at the Portable on Tuesday afternoon, May 19, at four o'clock.

As well as working busily on their handwork, the girls in the Sunshine Club, of which Margaret Davock is President, are producing "The Anti-Tattle Club." The girls in the club will take part in an exhibition to be held at the Stearns School Centre, Nonantum, early in June.

The West Newton Community Centre, Inc. is a member-agency of the Newton Community Chest, Inc., and has activities for persons of all ages from three to seventy.

Enrollments are now being taken for the fall term of the Pre-School Kindergarten which meets daily at the West Newton Library. Application should be made to Miss Gertrude MacCallum, Director, at the West Newton Community Centre, Davis School, West Newton.

Odd Vogues in Tipping
Many odd vogues in tipping, or the giving of a gratuity for some personal service, have come and gone through the ages, including the one in which a condemned man gave a gift of money to his executioner as they mounted the scaffold. But the most absurd, which was fashionable in Austria as late as 1915, was the tipping of street car conductors.—Collier's Weekly.

Meeting Difficulties
Difficulties show what men are. Those who try to do things and fail are infinitely better than those who try to do nothing and succeed.

Protests Stop Motor Mart Near Home of Patriot

Once again protests against the intrusion of business too near the old homestead of Rev. S. F. Smith who wrote the patriotic hymn "America," have succeeded. Several years ago an application for a permit to conduct a gasoline station on land adjoining the old residence was made. Newton Centre residents at once started to object, and the permit was not granted. Recently C. S. Collins, who conducted an automobile business at Newton Centre applied for a permit to operate a used car sales place on the lot at the corner of Centre and Pleasant sts. Protests were received from the Newton Centre Improvement Association and the Newton Centre Women's Club. A hearing on this matter was held on Wednesday night at City Hall before the Licenses Committee of the Aldermen. About 20 persons appeared to object to the Collins petition. In deference to the protests Mr. Collins withdrew his application.

Break Auto Laws And Pay Fines

In the Newton court last Friday Carmine Justino of Dorchester was fined $25 for not stopping his car when signalled to do so by a policeman. For not stopping before entering through streets fines of $3 were imposed on Preston Barba, Willard st., Newton; Leonard Street, Hamlin rd., Newton Centre; Augusta Sigourney, Brookline; Beatrice McElwain, Needham. For driving past signals when the red light was against him Fred Zimmerman of Cambridge was fined $3. Henry McKinney of 5th ave., Watertown was fined $5 for speeding; Roy Schwenzler of Roslindale was fined $5 for driving a car with imperfect brakes and Louis Watson of Framingham was fined $5 for parking in violation of city ordinance. David Scholer of Woodcliff rd., Newton Highlands, charged with entering a through way without stopping his car, was not fined. His case was placed on file. William Grenier of 527 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre was charged with speeding and with driving the wrong direction on the north side of Commonwealth ave., which is a one-way street. His case was continued to May 15.

In court on Monday Earl Baker of Natick, charged with speeding, was fined $5. Franklin Pratt of Winslow rd., Wellesley, charged with driving past a red light on a traffic signal, had his case dismissed. This case had been continued from May 4th, and Patrolman Brayton, the complainant, happened not to be in court last Friday.

Judge Bacon At His Summer Home

Judge William F. Bacon of the Newton district court, who for the past 19 years has presided over this court with ability, dignity and fairness, upholding the finest traditions of the Massachusetts judiciary, has gone to his summer home at Gloucester. For the past several months, because of poor health, Judge Bacon has not been able to attend to his regular court duties.

Middlesex Court Whist May 19th

Middlesex Court, M. C. O. F., will hold a Bridge and Whist Party on Tuesday evening, May 19, at Elks' Hall, Centre st., Newton. A large number of prizes will be presented. The committee in charge is headed by Mrs. Mary Leahy, P.O.R., assisted by Mrs. Blake and the officers of the court.

Free Vaccination For Newton Dogs

A free clinic for dogs will be held at the drill shed behind the old Newton High School building on Walnut st., Newtonville from May 8 to May 22 inclusive between the hours of 3 and 6 p. m. Dogs will be immunized against rabies, and should be taken to the drill shed on a leash. Dogs whose owners names begin with A to D inclusive, will be vaccinated on May 18; owners with names E to I can have dogs immunized on May 19; J to O on May 20; R to T on May 21; U to Z on May 22.

ERNST FLENTJE PLANTS 5000 TULIPS AND PANSIES THIS YEAR

Growing his flowers from Swiss and German seeds as usual, Ernst Flentje, the shock absorber man, of Cambridge, will increase his garden this year to 5000 flowers, the largest plot he has ever grown. He has the finest and largest plants he has ever produced. Dahlias, cannas, petunias, and roses are also grown in rotation through the summer—a Cambridge institution attracting flower lovers from far and near. Mr. Flentje has the reputation of a master gardener as well as a skillful maker of automobile shock absorbers on which he has received safety encomiums from leading university professors. He is launching 30,000 new prospectuses about these absorbers, full of endorsements. Send for one and visit his flower show, on his premises. His advertisement appears in this newspaper.

Faith and Understanding
Faith that depends upon perfect understanding is not faith at all. Where one has positive knowledge there is no call for belief.

Temple Emanuel Workers Meet

Mayor Edwin O. Childs of Newton not only delivered a stirring address, endorsing the movement of Newton Jewry to build a Temple, Educational and Community Centre, under the auspices of Temple Emanuel of Newton, but presented his own donation to aid the cause at a "Workers' Breakfast" which was held at the Newton Centre, May 10, at 9 o'clock. He stressed the need of the moral force and character training afforded by religion alone in this chaotic world and felt that the establishment of such a community centre would not only benefit the Jewish people of Newton but the other residents as well.

Mrs. Ira I. Nelson, president of the Sisterhood, spoke on the need of such a centre and asked for donations in the name of Mother's Day for the benefit of the children who will be primarily benefited by the project.

Others who spoke were Attorney Jacob Wasserman, executive chairman of the campaign and commander of the Brookline Post, No. 72, of the Jewish War Veterans; Rabbi Leo Shubov, spiritual leader of the Temple Emanuel of Newton; Ralph Cohn, president; Iri I. Nelson, chairman of the board of trustees; George E. Gordon, vice-chairman of the campaign; Arthur Rosenberg and Arthur Swett, in charge of the solicitors, and Albert Hurwitz of the Jewish Welfare Board.

So enthusiastic was the meeting that the workers pledged over $5000 to mark the start of the campaign, which is to last until May 20. The goal set is $35,000, for it is the intention of the group to erect a modest edifice, in keeping with the many fine homes in the section, but within their means and with little or no encumbrance. The site has already been purchased and is situated at Ward and Ashford sts., Newton Centre. It is hoped that ground for the new building may be broken about the 25th of May so that the building may be completed before the high holidays next fall.

W. C. T. U.

The luncheon and annual meeting of the Newton Woman's Christian Temperance Union held recently at the home of Mrs. Walter F. Stevens was a most enjoyable occasion.

After the luncheon Mrs. Stevens named some of the many places of historical interest and great scenic beauty in Newton Upper Falls and Mrs. Hemphill as "Mrs. 1836" dressed in a lovely gown of that period read a most interesting paper concerning people and happenings in the village 100 years ago.

Mrs. Gould, a trustee of the Stone Institute, told the story of that splendid institution. At the business meeting Mrs. William E. Birdsall was unanimously re-elected president; Vice presidents, Mrs. Blanche G. Norris, Mrs. Sarah H. Herrick, Mrs. Oscar Martin, Mrs. G. Vaughn Shedd, Mrs. William F. Ferrin; Secretary, Mrs. Hattie E. Howard; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Sarah S. P. Stevens; treasurer, Mrs. Blanche S. Porter; assistant treasurer, Mrs. P. C. Briggs.

Had Faith in His Son
When the Union army was biting the mud at Vicksburg and the North was fearful that the absence of news from that battle front would be broken by "bad news," Jesse Grant, father of the famous General Grant, declared "Ulysses will work until he gets a grip, and when he gets a grip he never lets go, and he will take Vicksburg."

Old Automobile Causes Fire

An old automobile which was parked in the yard of F. A. Day, 170 Sargent st., Newton caused a fire which partially destroyed a barn on the estate last Friday afternoon, with a loss estimated at about $1000. Firemen were at the place nearly two hours. The old car short circuited and the blaze spread to the building alongside which it was parked.

LUCY JACKSON CHAPTER, D. A. R.
OF NEWTON

The Annual meeting was held May 11, with the Regent, Mrs. J. Walter Allen in the chair. Mrs. Clarence W. Williams delegate to the Continental Congress, gave a report. She expressed surprise that speakers were heard from many nations which have D. A. R. groups. "What the forefathers won we must keep. National defense should be non-partisan." The speakers at the Congress stressed the need of education, Christianity, and training in good citizenship. The D. A. R. have sponsored the planting of 22,000,000 trees.

A letter was read from the Hillsdale School acknowledging the receipt of $10.00. The hope was expressed that many of the members would attend the outing to the school June 24. The rummage sale, Mrs. J. P. Holmes, chairman, netted $81.00. The holiday paint boxes were collected. Annual reports were given and delegates were elected to the Fall State meeting at Swampscott, October first, and second. They were: Mrs. J. Walter Allen, Miss Louise Sherman, Mrs. Edward B. Parker and Mrs. G. F. Howland. Alternates: Mrs. Amos R. Wells, Mrs. J. Frank Dunleavy, Mrs. B. G. Rae, Mrs. Fred Lowe, Mrs. Fred Sherman, Mrs. Marian P. Brown, Mrs. W. S. Smythe, Mrs. Leigh M. Nisbet, Mrs. J. P. Holmes.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. J. Frank Dunleavy; assistant treasurer, Miss Florence E. Tower; librarian, Mrs. Ernest F. Dow; directors, Miss Emma F. Johnson, Miss Louise R. Sherman, Mrs. William C. Sherwood, Mrs. William L. Vosburgh, House Committee: Mrs. J. W. Byers, Mrs. H. D. Cabot, Mrs. G. F. Howland, Miss E. F. Johnson, Mrs. F. M. Lowe, Mrs. C. R. Lynde, Mrs. A. D. Sallinger, Mrs. W. S. Smythe, Mrs. D. W. Wells, Mrs. E. O. Woodward, to fill out unexpired term. Mrs. Frank S. Larkin.

Tea was served, Mrs. W. C. Sherwood, chairman of hostesses, and Mrs. G. L. Davis and Mrs. C. L. Eddy presiding at the table.

"These Three" at Paramount Theatre

"These Three" brings Miriam Hopkins, Merle Oberon and Joel McCrea to the Paramount Theatre, Newton, starting Sunday for four days. The most talked about story of the year, this Lillian Hellman screen play depicts how a whispering campaign growing out of a child's malicious lie nearly wrecked the lives of three innocent people.

The drama is laid in a small girls' school run by two young college women, Martha Dobie (Miriam Hopkins) and Karen Wright (Merle Oberon). Both fall in love with Joseph Cardin, a young local doctor (Joel McCrea), but Martha, seeing that he loves Karen, conceals her affection. Mary Telford, the school's problem child, resenting punishment for wrongdoing, runs away from school, concocting a vicious lie involving the three adults as her reason. As a result Martha, Karen and Joe become the centre of an ugly scandal. The school is lost and the romance is broken. An unexpected turn of events brings the truth to light and the story ends happily.

On the same program is Charlie Chaplin in "Modern Times." Almost two years in production, Chaplin's first picture in almost five years is also his most pretentious. Like its predecessor, "City Lights," "Modern Times" is without dialogue, but boasts some novel sound effects. The girl, a gamine of the waterfront to whom Charlie plays knight errant, is played by Chaplin's lovely new leading lady, Paulette Goddard, who has been pronounced a genuine screen find. Others in the cast are Chester Conklin, Henry Bergman and Hank Mann.

Starting Thursday will be "13 Hours by Air," with Joan Bennett, and Fred MacMurray and Ruth Chatterton in "Lady of Secrets."

A special Saturday morning show on May 23 at 10 o'clock with a preview of Shirley Temple in "Captain January," also a Popeye and Color Classic cartoon.

James Reynolds Talks About Welfare Work In Newton; There is Little "Chiseling"

Director of Public Welfare Praised For Efficient Conduct of His Department

Mr. James P. Reynolds, Director of the Department of Public Welfare of Newton, spoke on the work of his Department before a gathering of public and private agency executives who handle welfare and relief work in this city.

The meeting was called by the Newton Community Chest, which is planning to get a complete picture of the entire welfare and relief work in this city.

Represented were the Newton Welfare Bureau, Mayor's Relief Committee and the WPA, the Newton Catholic Welfare Committee, Department of Public Health, School Department, Soldiers' Relief Department, Newton Post 48, American Legion, and the Newton Community Chest, Inc.

Mr. Reynolds spoke of the work of his staff of 11 people, expressing his appreciation of their co-operation and loyal services in handling the local Department.

The Department handles temporary aid, with approximately 550 cases in this group during the present month, which includes the so-called chronic cases and supplementary aid cases which vary according to WPA payments. Mothers' Aid comes under this Department, with a refund of 1-3 of the amount expended locally being paid back to the city by the State, in Newton cases, for it is State regulated. Old Age Assistance also is cared for by Mr. Reynolds' Department. There are 230 persons receiving Old Age Assistance in Newton at present.

Mr. Reynolds stated that from his experience in dealing with the relief situation locally he could state very positively that there are comparatively few "chiselers" on the local relief rolls. He has found that people on relief definitely welcome the opportunity to get out on a job and stand on their own feet. He stated that the local Community Chest agencies and other private agencies had been and are of great help to him and to his Department because of their co-operation.

tion which makes possible a proper correlation of the local relief work. Without it, there would be a great deal of "pulling and hauling" and duplication and many other factors which result from improper agency relationships.

Mr. Reynolds has also expressed his belief in the need for the clearing house for all welfare and relief cases in the city, the plan which the Community Chest is preparing to put into operation through its Social Service Index, which practically all cities have under the Community Chest of Council of Social Agencies.

Mr. Reynolds stated that he definitely favored the new cash plan of relief which was inaugurated by Mayor Childs this year. Mr. Reynolds stated that people on relief do have definite rights and, furthermore, that it is a better health guarantee to have people eating proper food which they get when they can buy it directly. On question from the group, Mr. Reynolds stated that only one store has been disciplined for giving cash for food orders and that general co-operation is fine.

The representatives present at this initial meeting were very complimentary in their remarks about Mr. Reynolds' conduct of his Department and for his splendidly co-operative attitude. One man present stated that a distinguished observer who has studied many public welfare departments in the State rates Mr. Reynolds as one of the outstanding Public Welfare Department Directors in Massachusetts.

The next meeting of the group is called for June 12th.

Building Boom Not Much Help To Newton Workmen

According to officials of Newton labor organizations affiliated with the building trades, the building boom in Newton is of little benefit to workmen residing in this city. Angus MacLean, agent of the Carpenter's District Council states that while it is true that there is a building boom in the Newtons, under the conditions which the houses are being erected, and the low wages being paid, the boom is not encouraging so far as the welfare of this community is concerned.

He says that twelve houses are under construction in the Cotton st. section, and although he has visited these houses several times, he has not found one Newton man employed on them. At another job in Oak Hill recently he found four carpenters employed, only one of whom is a Newton resident. The other three were residents of an adjoining city, not citizens of this country, and upon investigation it was found they had not even paid poll taxes for the past two years. At a house under construction in Newtonville, for a man who is a member of the local Chamber of Commerce and engaged in the real estate business, he found men of three different building trades working. Not one of them was a Newton resident and the mechanics on this job were being paid 50 cents per hour, which is 20 cents less than the union scale for building laborers. Mr. MacLean commented—"This is one angle of the building boom in the Newtons and Wellesley which has not aided very materially in the welfare of the building mechanics of this community. These conditions are met every day, and citizens should be informed of them."

Refuse Taxi Permit At Newtonville

The petition of Walter Maxcy for a license to have a taxi location at the corner of Washington and Walnut sts., Newtonville was turned down by the Aldermen on Monday night when they refused to authorize a hearing on this petition. Alderman Colby said that on February 17th the Board had refused Maxcy a permit for a taxi stand on Bowers st., near the corner of the Ross Taxi Company. He commented that the Aldermen do not assign locations for taxi stands; this is the function of the Street Commissioner. He called attention to the rule of the Board which prohibits a petition being brought in more than once in any one year. Alderman Akins said that this rule was waived not so long ago to permit a petitioner for a gasoline station at Newton Highlands to have a second hearing and he moved that Maxcy get the same privilege. Alderman Schipper said he did not believe the situation warrants the suspension of the rules to grant a second hearing. Alderman Walker said there is already adequate taxi service at Newtonville.

Canoeists Protest Low Water in River

At a meeting of members of the New England Canoe Racing Association held at Neera Centre, Auburndale on Sunday a new organization was formed to investigate the delay for the acquiring by the Commonwealth of the water rights at the dams in Waltham. The organization will be known as the Charles River Waterway Association. In 1913 the Boston Manufacturing Company started the first large cotton manufacturing plant in this State, using water power. The big dam at Waltham was built and water rights acquired. A few years later the bleachery was started about a half mile down the river in Waltham and another dam built. The former owners of both the big cotton mill and bleachery ceased operations some years past and the properties were acquired by others, who also got the water rights. For the past few years, the gates at the dams have been left open even during low water seasons in the river and the former pleasant stretch of river between Waltham and Newton Lower Falls has been changed into miles of foul smelling mud flats. The water which is allowed to flow down the river has not been used, for the most part for power purposes, and many have believed that the river has been drained just to force the purchase of the water rights. Not only has the river become an eyesore, but the mud flats have menaced health. Last year the Legislature appropriated $25,000 to purchase the rights at the Moody st. dam, but because of legal complications the purchase has not been consummated.

Hearing on Pelham Street Widening

A hearing will be held at City Hall on Wednesday night, May 27th, before the Board of Aldermen on a petition of the Newton Centre Improvement Association for the widening of Pelham st., Newton Centre. Alderman Temperley said that reference to this matter was on the docket of the Aldermen at the meeting on April 21st, but through some oversight no action was taken on it. He said that City Solicitor Bartlett had advised that a public hearing should be held on this matter. The special meeting will be held because construction work on the new block on the locus in question is being delayed because of the uncertainty regarding the lot lines there. Temperley was speaking as temporary chairman of the Public Works Committee.

Want to Swap Land With City at Site of New Business Block In Newton Centre

Lot Lines At Centre and Pelham Streets Have Been Confused For Many Years

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night a hearing was held on the petitions of Lincoln Alvord asking for the discontinuance of a narrow strip of Centre st. between Pelham and Pleasant sts., and the relocating and widening of Centre st. at the corners of Pelham and Pleasant sts. Charles D. Nevin, President of the Newton Centre Improvement Association, was the first speaker when this hearing was announced. He stated that on April 18 the Improvement Association sent a letter to the Board of Aldermen urging that Pelham st. be widened by the city before a new business block be erected on the lot at the corner of Centre and Pelham sts. He said Pelham st. is very narrow and should be widened. He stated that if the street is not widened, and the proposed block will be built as planned, congestion worse than has been experienced on Sumner st. near the Newton Centre postoffice will result. Mr. Nevin said that Pelham st., paralleling Beacon st., is much used by automobiles which seek to avoid the traffic lights at Centre and Beacon sts. If cars are parked on both sides of Pelham st. there is room but for one car to pass. He said that with new stores along Pelham st., a very bad traffic condition will follow.

Mr. Nevin said that about 10 days after the letter had been sent by the Newton Centre Improvement Association to the Aldermen on April 18, a permit was issued by the Newton Buildings Department for the erection of a business block on the lot in question and the work of excavating and building a foundation commenced. On May 11th the Improvement Association sent another letter to the Aldermen advocating the widening of Pelham st. Mr. Nevin said that Pelham st. will eventually have to be widened and if this improvement is postponed until after the new building will have been erected, the cost of the street widening will be very expensive. He also opposed the acceptance of Mr. Alvord's proposal to have the city exchange 385 square feet of land along Centre st. for land about half that area at the corners of Pelham and Pleasant sts., and a narrow strip along Centre st. in the Newton Centre business section is quite valuable and the city should at least obtain equal value in the swap.

Phillip C. Scott, attorney for Mr. Alvord said the lines of the lot were surveyed by Mr. Smille in 1884. He said the two corners which it is proposed to give the city at Pelham and Pleasant sts., have been used by the public for about 50 years. However, taxes on the land occupied by these corners have been paid by the owners of the property involved. Mr. Scott said that the proposed building will cost about $40,000, that leases for all the stores it will contain have been made, and if the owners are forced now to alter plans because of a widening of Pelham st., they will be put to much expense and damages will be sought from the city. Alderman Temperley asked Mr. Scott if in connection with the issuance of the building permit, there was not an agreement that no work should be done at present on the foundation next to the Centre st. line? Mr. Scott replied in the affirmative and said that the foundation has not been built on that side. Temperley said that the foundation of the new building has been built further out along Pelham st. than was the building formerly on the land, and it extends partly onto the line of the old sidewalk. Temperley stated that because the two corners at Centre and Pelham and Centre and Pleasant sts. have been used by the public as sidewalks for 50 years, he questions if this land now belongs to the owners of the abutting property. In reply (Continued on Page 3)

TENNIS TEAM VICTOR IN STATE TOURNEY

Walter M. Taylor's well-balanced tennis team easily won the state interscholastic title for Newton High School last Saturday, placing five players in the quarter-final round and scoring 19 points. Other team scores were Lynn English 9, Haverhill 9, Winchester 7, Worcester North 7, Malden 4½, Worcester Classical 4½, Brookline 4, Quincy 4, Revere 4, Lexington 4, Worcester Commerce 3, and Melrose 0.

Paul Rich, Newton's No. 1 player, seeded seventh, scored an upset victory when he put out Abe Drucker of Revere, seeded fourth, by the count of 6-2, 7-5 in a quarter final match played at the Newton High courts. The morning rounds were played at the Longwood Cricket Club in Chestnut Hill. At the Brae Burn Country Club courts this afternoon, the semi-final and final matches will be played, bringing together Paul Rich of Newton and John Scully of Winchester in one semi-final, and in the other John Power, top-seeded of Worcester North sophomore and Joe Harris of Malden, unseeded survivor in the lower half.

Five Newtonians in Fourth Round

In the first round, none of the Newton entries played, and all six came through the second and third rounds with colors flying. In the second round, Bill Squier beat Brown of Lexington 5-6, 6-1, 6-4; Captain Brew Williams disposed of Lipman of Lynn English 6-1, 6-1; sophomore Don Manchester beat Myers of Worcester Classical 6-2, 6-4; Tom Slattery beat Jack Horne of Melrose 6-1, 6-3; Paul Rich beat Pizzano of Revere 6-1, 6-0; and Curt Mosher beat Phillips of Revere by 6-3, 6-2.

Bill Squier beat Price of Brookline in his third round match 6-4, 6-3; Brew Williams beat Palmer of Lexington 6-4, 6-2, but Don Manchester drew a tough opponent in Joe Harris of Malden, who outlasted him to win 6-4, 4-6, 6-5. In other third round scrapes, Tom Slattery took Rowe of Lexington 6-3, 6-3; Rich beat Rigby of Quincy 6-1, 6-1, and Mosher won twelve straight games from Kylonen of Quincy.

In the fourth round, top-seeded John Power eliminated Bill Squier 6-1, 6-0. Brew Williams beat Abramoff of Worcester Classical 4-6, 6-5, 6-5, and Slattery put out Chasse of Worcester Commerce by the same score. Rich put out Axelrod of Lynn English 6-3, 6-4, and Mosher took three sets to beat Fuente of Haverhill, 6-1, 4-6, 6-2.

In the next, the quarter-final round, Paul Rich eliminated the favored Abe Drucker of Revere 6-2, 7-5, but the other three Newtonians were put out. Brew Williams by John Power, 6-2, 6-2; Curt Mosher by John Scully of Winchester 6-4, 6-3, and Tom Slattery by Joe Harris of Malden in three sets, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4.

Newton maintained its fine record of three years undefeated in school competition by defeating the strong Winchester High team yesterday at Winchester by 6 matches to 2. Paul Rich lost a three setter to John Scully 3-6, 6-4, 6-4, a rehearsal for the state semi-final the same two will play this afternoon at Brae Burn, a neutral court for both players. Oddly enough, the only other Newton casualty was Tom Slattery, who lost 6-0, 6-4 to Dean Carleton, whom he had defeated last week in straight sets in the Winchester-Longwood team match. Next week the Newton record will be endangered by a meeting with the strong Haverhill High team at Haverhill, where the surface used is not clay, but a smooth asphalt, and the strength of the Newtonians will be an unknown quantity.

NEWTON WINS AWAY, LOSES AT HOME

L. P. "Jeff" Jones and his Newton High baseball team had an up and down week, winning from Cambridge Latin 12-6 at Russell Field last Friday, and losing to Rindge Tech on their own diamond Wednesday by 10-8. Ernie Savignano was the man of the hour in the Latin victory, knocking in five runs with a double and a triple, but had the hard luck to misjudge a fly ball that brought in the tying Rindge runs Wednesday. As Savy goes, so goes the team, almost certainly on the baseball field as last fall on the gridiron.

Guido Castoldi turned in as fine an exhibition of pitching at Cambridge as a Newton team has beheld all year. He allowed six hits, five for extra bases, but struck out no less than eighteen batters. There was only one error for Newton in that game. The Rindge game was another free-hitting, wide-open contest, with Newton building up a lead of 8-6 in seven innings. Then Castoldi walked two with two men out, Savignano bobbled a fly ball, and the score stood 8-11. Two runs in the ninth put the game away for Rindge, and practically assured them of the league championship. They have a sure pitcher in Johnny Maloney, who held Newton down after two underdog games had been knocked off the mound, and it is likely he can win their remaining three games. Cormier came through with a timely three-bagger that scored two runs, and Len LeSourd showed some great baseball at shortstop, for the best individual performances for Newton.

Newton Independents Win Two

The semi-pro baseball season has begun to click, and the Twin-County league has already eight or ten games in the records. The Newton Independents, under their player-manager, Jeff Jones, has two victories and one loss to their credit. Brad Dyer pitched them to a 4-0 win over Needham in the opener last Sunday, allowing only four hits. It was a scoreless affair until the eighth, when Jones singled, Phil Andres hit a triple, and Pete Morrison made one of his two doubles to start the runs.

The Independents then took the Natick Cubs 8-1 behind some sterling pitching by Bev Wilson, who held the Cubs to two hits. The Newtons hit hard, manager Jones collecting a single, a double and a triple, while Herb Berry was good for a triple and Howard Ferguson three bases on two hits. Last night's game, played at the Newton High field, saw Wellesley edge the Independents 3-2. Brad Dyer was hit hard, and Bev Wilson took over the pitching, holding down the visiting firemen fairly well. Phil Andres got two hits. As a result, Wellesley leads the six-team Twin-County circuit with three wins, and the Newton Independents are close behind with two wins and one loss. The Independents play at Bemis Monday, then are at home Thursday evening to the Natick Cubs.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON WINS HARVARD MEET WITH 31 POINTS

The Newton High School track team continued its high-handed monopoly of the current season by winning the Harvard University interscholastics hands down last Saturday at the stadium. Don Enoch's eight point-winners stacked up 31 points, scoring in every event except the half-mile run, and had plenty to spare over Boston English and Brookline, with 17 and 16 points respectively.

Warren Wittens, Newton's unassuming, unbeatable leader on the cinders, was the only double winner in Class A, winning the 120-yard low hurdles from his arch-rival, Hartman of Brookline, and setting a new record of 22 ft. 3½ in. on his third try at the broad jump. With Ray Huling shelved as ineligible and Paul Dussossoy fading in the trials, Wittens toed the mark with Hartman in the hurdles final a dubious choice to win his left leg hamstrung with adhesive tape to protect a strained muscle. But when he overtook Hartman near the finish and led him through the tape in record time, he left no question as to his absolute superiority. Again in the broad jump, after he had nearly hit the side of the pit on his second attempt, Wittens zoomed to a record distance, to be congratulated by Harrington Moore, who had set the old record in 1923 as a member of the Medford High team, and who was on hand to measure the new record.

Sprinters Again Score

Aside from the inspiring feats of Wittens, Newtonians had much to be pleased about in the showing of the four Newton sprinters, who combined to score twelve points. Paul Forte looked surprisingly strong in winning his 100-yard dash trial in 10.5, and Frank Hines equalled that time in his trial, outrunning Watson of Brookline. Forte prepared himself for a fast getaway with a couple of false starts, then churned up the straightaway to win the final from Watson by six feet. Hines was a stride or so back, and was edged out of third place by chunky Al Rombo of Everett.

In the 220 final, Bob Muther took third behind Kozlowski of Brockton and Melange of English, while Jerry Allen, winner of the Worcester final, faded to fourth. Nate Heard, consistently a winner in the shortput, gave Newton five more points by winning the event with a boost of 47 ft. 8¼ in. Elmer Ross had to do some heady running to place fifth in the crowded 440 field. Jacques Abels of Brookline, a dark horse winner, won that race surprisingly in 53.48, and Ross was able to pull himself into the running after covering most of the distance in sixth place. Another windfall was Mark Messier's three points for a triple tie for second place in the high jump. Mark was in good company, going over at 5 ft. 8 in. along with James Watson of Brockton and Taosis Belesis of Lowell. Incidentally, he won the medal for second place by tossing a coin with his rivals.

MERCHANT LEADS GOLF TEAM TO FOURTH WIN

Newton High's very good golf team avenged one of their two defeats last Monday at the Winchester Country Club by edging Arlington High 5-4. The match reversed the score of an earlier meeting this season at Commonwealth, and cut short Arlington's string of consecutive conquests at eight. Newton is now within reach of the league championship, although Arlington and Lexington still still have a few more points in the standing.

It was at Brae Burn's second course two weeks ago that the Newtonians earned their 9-0 shutout over Brookline, a victory sweetened by the memory of several defeats by a veteran Brookline team last year. In that match, Roy Merchant was the medalist with a sparkling 68, while Gordon Wentworth and Larry Bove had 73's. Captain Roy Merchant led the invasion at Winchester Monday with a 78, while Gordon Wentworth took an 82, Larry Bove 86 and John Cronin 82.

Coach Tom Walters rates his team in the following order: Capt. Roy Merchant, Gordon Wentworth, Larry Bove, John Cronin, Martin Melanson, Joseph Doyle and Bob Posner. Captain Merchant, a senior, distinguished himself earlier this year by bringing home the interscholastic ski championship from Melrose last winter. He expects to carry on at Dartmouth. Newton has won four matches and lost two in the Greater Boston interscholastic golf league, and has yet to play return matches with Waltham, Lexington, Brookline and Watertown, so the prospects are not at all cloudy at this point. The season's record follows: Newton 8½, Waltham ½; Newton 6, Watertown 3; Newton 4, Arlington 5; Newton 2½, Lexington 6½; Newton 9, Brookline 0; Newton 5, Arlington 4. It's a record, worthy of comparison with those set by the Gianferante brothers, Duke Nelson, Bill Donnelly, Bobby Hunter and Everett "Duke" Nelson, to mention a few noteworthy former Newton High golfers.

HIGHLIGHTS

Mrs. Brad Whittemore of Brae Burn Country Club, the former Dorothy Hunter, is Newton's candidate to win the Women's State Golf championship which opens today at the Salem Country Club. Mrs. Whittemore has been defeated only twice this year, both times by the same opponent, Priscilla Dennett of the Country Club. She has never won the state title, but her consistent rounds this spring indicate a very good season ahead. Last Tuesday she shot a 78 at Brae Burn, her best score for her own testing course. Mrs. Henri Prunaret of Charles River C. C. will be Mrs. Whittemore's first round opponent.

STATE TRACK MEET HERE TOMORROW

The State Track Meet for high schools at Newtonville's Dickinson Stadium tomorrow afternoon deserves a capacity attendance from Newton alone. The Newton High team is an overwhelming favorite to win, having swept every major track competition this year. The high school track is the fastest in New England, and the ideal setting for this climax of the school track and field season. Forty schools have entered teams. Barring heavy rainstorms, the State Meet will be the finest sports spectacle of the year.

Warren Wittens, Newton's man of the year, will attempt to set new records in his events, the low hurdles and broad jump, and may also run in the relay. Last year he set the meet record of 148 ft. for the 120-yard low hurdles, and he will have to equal that time to beat the clever Robin Hartman of Brookline. Hartman invariably sets the pace for the first hundred yards of their great duels, but is usually left behind by Wittens' terrific finish. Wittens boosted the Harvard meet record in the broad jump to 22 ft. 3½ in. last week, and it will not be a surprise if he adds another foot to the state meet mark. Other great performances are expected on their home track from Paul Forte, a junior whose first year of sprinting has been a parade of victories, Jerry Allen, winner of the furlong at Worcester, Nate Heard, shotput champion, and the Newton relay team.

NEWTON TWI LEAGUE

Interest in the Twilight League seems to be greater than ever before notwithstanding that there will be a five dollar entrance fee this year. Twelve teams have already signed their intention of joining and paying the fee and two others have applied.

The following teams were represented at the first meeting held last night at the Newton Centre Recreation Building:

West Newton Tigers — Harry Gray
Newton Cubs — Joseph MacDonald
Auburndale Cubs — Del Ryan
Y. M. C. A. — Jack Barwise
Our Lady's Alumni — James Murphy
Newton City Club — Robert Ciccone
Newton Independents — Jeff Jones
Garden City A. C. — Davis Perlmutter
Sacred Heart A. C. — Louis Foley
Newton Centre A. C. — John Janse
Cabot Associates — Harold P. Woods
Nonantum Pals — Pat. DeLuca

The Newton Ramblers sent in a letter of application which was read. This team would be composed of former Silver Lake and Aces players.

It appears now that the league will be split into two divisions—eight teams of the older players being in the first division and the six teams of younger players in the second division. There will be a play-off of the winning team of each division at the close of the season.

The next meeting will be held at the Newton Centre Building on Tuesday, May 26, at 8:00 p. m., at which the players list for the month of June will be submitted and final action will be taken on eligible rules and other matters pertaining to regular procedure. The rule regarding eligibility which reads that only Newton residents will be permitted to play in the Twilight League will be strictly enforced this year and forfeiture of the five dollars entrance fee may be the result of any infraction of this rule.

HORSESHOE PITCHERS' LEAGUE

There will be a meeting of the Horseshoe Pitchers' League, Wednesday, May 27, at the Cabot Recreation Building—7:00 p. m.

Want City To Swap Land at Centre and Pelham Streets

to questions by Alderman Cronin, Mr. Scott said that Mr. Alvord would object now to the widening of Pelham st., and there is no doubt but that Mr. Alvord owns the two corners in question. He said his client would be willing to pay for the difference in the value of the land areas involved in the proposed swap.

Dr. Edward A. Andrews urged the widening of Pelham st. He said the street is too narrow even under present conditions, and that it will be congested with traffic if not widened before the new structure is erected. In answer to a question by Alderman Temperley, Chief Randlett of the Fire Department favored the widening of Pelham st. so that fire trucks will be assured of free passage through this street.

The Board assigned a public hearing on the matter of widening Pelham st. at the next meeting of the Aldermen, to be held on May 27.

Because of some persons' errors in past the old structure at Pelham and Centre streets, which was recently razed, and the present building at the corner of Centre and Pleasant sts., both extend slightly onto city owned land. The sidewalk along Pelham st. was partly on the property land. The land which it is proposed to have the city cede along Centre st. is the narrow strip which was and is occupied by the buildings.

Aldermen Meet

The regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night was presided over by Vice President Hill. President Floyd of the Board is on a two weeks' fishing trip in Northern Quebec. The meeting was conducted under some difficulty because of the noise of drums and bugles which were played by a small squad of women practicing marching evolutions in the driveways near the aldermanic chamber.

The first business on the docket was a hearing on the petition of Christina McIntosh for a permit to increase the storage of gasoline at the filling station, 90 Winchester street, Newton Highlands, by 1000 gallons. No objection was evidenced. Charles Barba, appearing for the Gulf Oil Company, explained that a petition was originally presented last January, asking for a permit to erect a 2-car service building at the gasoline station at 911 Washington street, Newtonville, and granted. But, because the work was not completed before April 30, the law requires a renewal of the petition.

The Edison Company petitioned for a permit to construct underground conduits under Centre street, Newton Centre, between Beacon street, and Tyler terrace, a distance of 800 feet; under Lyman street and under Langley road, east of Center street for 220 feet. Alderman Colby explained that other streets in the Newton Center business section had the electric wires underground, and that this improvement is in line with a 5 year contract entered into between the city and the Edison Company in 1933, whereby the Edison Company would each year construct underground conduits to the amount of a cost of $32,500. Mr. Colby said that because all the buildings in the area specified are located to the street line, the change will not cause extra charges to property owners.

Four Newton citizens were drawn to serve as jurors at a criminal business session of the Middlesex Superior Court at Cambridge starting May 25. The four are—Albert Wendell, 84 Brookside avenue; Harold O'Grady, 186 Chapel street; Robert Schofield, 224 Newtonville avenue; John McKenna, 172 Cabot street.

Several residents of Talbot street, West Newton, urged the improving and accepting of that street under the Betterment Act. James Marsden said that after heavy rains his cellar has 2 feet of water in it, the furnace cannot be used, the water becomes stagnant and his children have been sick as a result. Mrs. Gibbs of 18 Talbot street said the road is a river after heavy storms. Alderman Guzzi had photographs of the street showing its condition after rains. A hearing was assigned for June 1st on the petition of McIsaac Brothers Garage for a permit to use the garage building at 255 Auburn street for a repair shop and storage building.

Alderman Bowen, reporting for the Finance Committee, recommended the authorization of a short-term bond issue of $100,000 to finance street construction. Alderman Cronin asked why owners of properties on streets which are improved under the Betterment Act must pay 6% interest on the assessments levied on them for such work, when the city borrows money for this street construction at one-half of 1%. Alderman McKay explained that the rate of 6% is established by the Commonwealth and the city cannot change it. He also stated that the low rate of interest obtained by the city on the bond issue is because it is a short-term loan. Alderman Temperley informed Alderman Cronin that while the cost of improving Capital st., Newton, will be $6927, the abutters will pay only $5952; the balance being borne by the city because of expense involved by Edith (left) and Patsy O'Toole, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. O'Toole, of Forest Avenue, West Newton, who will be featured on the program of the Lucille Perry Hall School of the Dance at a recital in the Repertory Theatre, Boston, on Tuesday, May 26th. The Misses O'Toole will do a toe dance and truckin' number. They are well known throughout the Newtons and have appeared in entertainments before various organizations.

Capitol st. crossing Washburn st. Alderman Bowen gave the Ward 4 Alderman the information that there is a set price of $4.50 per running foot to abutters on street construction work.

The Board appropriated $6927 to improve Capitol st.; $3140 for a sewer in Lodge rd.; $1600 for a drain in Evelyn rd.; and $2910 for a sewer in Garland rd. Alderman Bowen explained that work is needed to keep employees of the Street Department employed and the appropriations for these projects are the first of a program.

The appointment by Mayor Childs of Albert P. Carter as chairman of the Playground Commission was confirmed by the Board. The trustees of the Cousins Fund were authorized to make loans of $3500 and $5400 on real estate. The trustees were also given authority to waive for one year $50 quarterly principal payments on a certain mortgage, and the City Treasurer was instructed not to collect principal payments on another mortgage until June 26, 1937. The Board accepted the invitation of the G. A. R. to participate in the Memorial Day parade. A communication was received from the Planning Board approving a petition to have land on Clark st. changed from private to single residence zone.

The Oak Hill Improvement Association asked that the traffic ordinance restricting heavy trucks from certain streets in that district be enforced, and for amelioration of a condition caused by people interested in Oak Hill land from parking their trucks in a single residence district. A petition was received from Newton Homes, Inc., asking for sewers in College, Quincy and Mayflower roads, Chestnut Hill. A claim was received from Cassie Ernst for damage to property at 22 Paul street, allegedly caused by blasting. William Gibson petitioned that his gasoline station at 2066 Commonwealth avenue be given a permit to increase the gasoline storage by 2000 gallons. The Board adjourned at 12:03 a. m. Wednesday.

The English Club and members of Publication Staffs held their annual picnic on Thursday, May 21, at Mr. Carl Birmingham's summer home in Norfolk. A large group from the English Club, the "Newtonite," "Newtonian," and "Orange Book" staffs, and faculty representatives enjoyed an afternoon of swimming and other sports, followed by a frankfurter supper.
The annual French Club picnic was held Thursday. The group traveled to Braintree, and in a meeting which was held "au dehors," officers for 1936-37 were elected. The club members, under the leadership of their sponsor, Miss M. Roberta Miller, climbed Big Blue Hill before supper.
Miss Lucille Burnham, versatile member of the faculty of physical education in Newton High School, has just returned from the National Tournament in New York City of the United States Woman's Lacrosse Association. Miss Burnham, who has been secretary of the Association for the past three years, won a place on the All-American Team, whose members are selected from all the city teams playing in the tournament. This is her fourth year as a member of the All-American Team, and last year she was a member of the touring team to England. Miss Burnham introduced lacrosse at Newton High, now open to all girls of the school.
Several members of the Aviation Club, accompanied by their adviser, Mr. Daniel P. A. Willard, will travel to Bridgeport, Conn., on Saturday, May 23, to inspect the Sikorsky factory, where the famous "Clipper" flying ships are built. Torrey Capo, world record holder for model ships, will also be in the party.
Newton High School's First Annual Flower Show takes place in the school library on Wednesday, May 27. This exhibit, which will be open all day to the pupils, is open from two-thirty to four-thirty to the public. All sorts of flowers and friends of the school are invited. Mrs. Kate Cornell, teacher in fine arts, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Bigelow Junior H. S.

There was a decided nautical air to the assembly on May 13th. The occasion was a musical mock trial. The judge was Donald Colligan, the clerk, Kenneth Bryant, and the defendant, Corinne Boyd. Members of the nautical jury were Norman Donnelly, Nancy Loveland, Joanne McGary, Gerald Hartigan, Robert Gallant, Eunice Shamlian, Ruth Wiles, Richard Bolin, Margaret Foley, Carolyn Meredith, Ruth Blue, Leon Schwarz, Harry Lord, Everett Olds, James Mansfield, Helen Maloney, Angela Bibbo, Murly Conrad, and Jean Godale. The guards were Malcolm McGary and Allan Burges. The jury's responses to the judge's questions were given in song and included "We Saw the Sea," "Sailing," "Nancy Lee," "Shipmates Forever," "Anchors Aweigh" and a "Life on the Ocean Wave." The defendant pleaded her case with "What's the Name of That Song," Ruth Wiles, and Eunice Shamlian gave a duet—"Two Hearts in Three-Fourth Time." Jo Ann McGary tapped to the accompaniment of "Shipmates Forever." The judge, Donald Colligan, presented a solo "Stouthearted Men."

A deck tennis tournament for girls starts this week under the student management of Jane Merrill. Ladder tennis and baseball tournaments are still in progress.
Thursday, May 28, at 3:15, the Bigelow School will give the last of a series of radio programs over Station WEEZ. The subject of the program is to be "Hobbies." The Student Announcer will be Herbert Smith. Pupils who will participate are Sally West, Patricia Turchon, Margery McNeil, Audrey Fitzgerald, Helen Powers, Rebecca Connolly, Frederick Hall, Richard Davenport, Robert Hanson, and Jean Stevenson.

On May 27 there will be a junior high school play day on the Burr playground. There will be four teams, Red, Yellow, Blue, and Green, made up of pupils from each of the junior high schools. The events will be Baseball, Volley ball, Hit Pin baseball, and a relay race. There will be a tennis competition between the schools.

Our Lady H. S.

Miss Mary Lind, a member of last June's graduating class, was judged the winner in a prize speaking contest held Thursday afternoon at Regis College, Weston.
Miss Lind distinguished herself in her public speaking, debating and dramatization endeavors throughout her high school career. As president of Our Lady's Debating Society, she was presented with a gold medal and the Cardinal O'Connell trophy at the culmination of the series of Diocesan Debates held at Mount St. Joseph Academy, Brighton. Our Lady's girls had completed an undefeated season. In the Diocesan Oratorical Contest for High School girls, held at Emmanuel College, Miss Lind was again adjudged the winner. She came out the highest in the competitive examinations for scholarship awarded by the Regis College Guild.

Pupils of the grammar grades, who entered the annual Poster Contest of the Massachusetts S. P. C. A., have received notice of their awards.
The distribution of the medals will be made, and attention called to the Honorable Mentions at Commencement Exercises in June. Prizes were awarded for the humane idea as well as for the execution of the posters.
A bronze medal (blue ribbon), or first prize, was won by Marion Bryson, Grade 8; Mary Kelleher, Grade 7, and Rita Oliveri, Grade 8.
A bronze medal (red ribbon), or second prize, was won by Ruth Matthews, Grade 8, and Carmello Cardarelli, Grade 7.
Honorable Mention, and a year's subscription to "Our Dumb Animals" will be sent to Louise Keegan, Grade 8; Edna Consineau, Grade 8; Arthur Bearce, Grade 6, and Margaret Hurney, Grade 8.

A collection of geometric designs of all types, depicting the various ways in which geometry is employed, is now on display in the Mathematics class, Room 3. This collection is made up of the work of the Sophomore Geometry Class. The exhibition will terminate May 22, after which it will be judged by the professor of the Mathematics Department of Regis College, Weston, Mass.
This collection together with the accomplishments of the Art and Mechanical Drawing Classes, which include pen and ink sketching, and draughtsmanship, will be exhibited at the Commencement Exercises on June 7th.

Our Lady's Swamp Malden Catholic 8-1
Last Friday afternoon Our Lady's High defeated the League leading Malden Catholic team by the score of 8-1. A homer by Joe O'Grady and a triple by "Nobby" Doherty were the hitting sensations of the game. This is the third straight victory by the Newtons. Captain Cliff Choquette allowed but six scattered hits and steered eleven men to take the strike-out route. This victory proved that the Garden City team can take their remaining games and finish on the top. Russ Harney, Cliff Choquette and Francis Morris have begun to hit their stride and should be the call for the All-Catholic honors. Paul O'Brien is hitting at a 400 clip and is showing a little pep at the key-stone sack. Bobbie Gallagher one of the best fielders in the league is doing nicely as lead-off man.

Day Jr. High School

An interesting event is being held for the ninth graders who are invited to write a short paper on "What Capt. 'Bill' Wincapaw's Talk Has Contributed to My Science Experience This Year." Capt. "Bill" was a recent visitor to the Day. The excitement caused by this contest can be imagined because the prizes will be trips for the winners in Capt. "Bill's" La Tourette airplane at the East Boston Airport. This will take place only with the assent of the parents concerned.

The school is at present, the center of great activity, the consummation of which will come June fourth when the annual spring festival will be held. This will include a play, a radio program, specialty dancing, and a program of pieces by the band and orchestra. Those who have a part in "Madonna of the Rose," the play coached by Miss Wright are: Alice Birmingham, Paul Ellicker, John Langlois, Ofelia Cornejo, Thada Thornton, Charles Page, Donald Blackey, Hannah Sherman, Beverly Beard, John Fairfield, Virginia Kyle, Pauline Lewis, Claire Silva, Bob McGrath, Mildred McConnell. The dancing is under the direction of Miss Peoples, and the costume is under Miss Meserve. Miss Kennedy is in charge of lights and properties, and Miss Hincley and the art department are working on the scenery.
On Friday the Marionette Club will conduct an assembly with Mickey Mouse, Pinocchio, Rudy Vallee, and Walt Disney starring. The officers of the Marionette Club are: William Penosollio, president; Winifred Greenleaf, vice-president; and Jean Duff, secretary.

Through the guidance department, weekly bulletins are being issued relative to job conditions in certain trades such as printing and electrical. Here at the Day School the social studies, shop teachers, and guidance counselors are discussing this material directly with the classes. With a pronounced demand in business for skilled labor, this seems a very worthwhile attempt.

Weeks Jr. High

Seventy-four musicians and five drum majors from the Weeks School took part in the annual Newton Music Field Day at the High School field on Tuesday, May 12.
The Varsity baseball team tasted its first victory of the year on Thursday, May 14, when it defeated Bigelow, in a closely contested game 6 to 5. The Weeks Junior Varsity found the going considerably easier and won over the Bigelow J. V.'s 19 to 2.

Robert Greene, editor-in-chief of the Weeks Junior World, presided at the May 15 assembly, when he introduced Mr. Paul H. Carmack, creator of "Snubs," and an editorial cartoonist on The Christian Science Monitor. Mr. Carmack gave a most illuminating talk about his work, tracing the origin of such well-known national figures as the G. O. P. elephant, the Democratic donkey, and Uncle Sam, accompanying his discourses with drawings.
On Friday evening, May 15th, the fifth annual concert and pageant by pupils of the school was held. A part of the program consisted of musical selections by the band, orchestra, and a stringed ensemble. The pageant entitled "In Other Lands" included solos, dances, recitations, and the like portraying different countries. Herbert Rosenberg gave the prologue; Charles Bailey gave a recitation on England and Theodore Gridley rendered a solo; the harmonica club played a medley of Irish airs and Jean Jewett and Ruth Culin danced an Irish jig; William Brittain recited a prayer for Scotland and Madeleine Elder led a Highland Fling; Brown Powers gave a Spanish recitation, a guitar and mandolin ensemble played "The Spanish Cavalier," and Anita Elkins gave a Spanish dance; Leonard Panella portrayed France with a recitation followed by a violin solo by Virginia Johnson and folk songs and "The Marseillaise" by members of Div. II G; a recitation by Reidun Bockman, The Viking Song by the girl's glee club and a Danish dance by members of the Dance Club portrayed the northern European countries; Japan was represented with poems by Constance Quint, songs by Barbara Kehn, Lorraine Antonucci, and Hope Hinman and a dance; recitations, a dance, and songs of Russia by Julia Balli, the dance club and seventh grade boys; Eliot Mover gave a recitation, Joseph Alpert rendered selections on the accordion, and Karl Kern gave a dance representing Italy; the final numbers of the pageant represented America with a recitation by Alfred McCoy, a tableau, the orchestra ensemble, The Epilogue was given by Herbert Rosenberg. During each part of the pageant the national flag of the country being portrayed was displayed and the whole was effectively costumed.

The cabinet displays for the week are exhibits of work done by members of the Art Needle Club and the Handicrafters Club.
—Miss Louise C. Brackett of Baldwin st. left this week for Bustin's Island, Maine.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Soul and Body" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 24.
The Golden Text is: "Dearly beloved, I beseech you as strangers and pilgrims, abstain from fleshly lusts, which war against the soul" (1 Peter 2:11).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "This I say then, Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh. For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary the one to the other: so that ye cannot do the things that ye would. But if ye be led of the Spirit, ye are not under the law" (Galatians 5:16-18).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "We must destroy the false belief that life and intelligence are in matter, and plant ourselves upon what is pure and perfect. Paul said, 'Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh.' Sooner or later we shall learn that the fetters of man's finite capacity are forged by the illusion that he lives in body instead of in Soul, in matter instead of in Spirit" (p. 222).

Women "Rule the Roost"

South Africa is the only place in the world where women "absolutely rule the roost" and father has no voice at all in domestic affairs, says the Johannesburg (South Africa) Sunday Express. Among the Bamba tribe of northeast Rhodesia, mother-in-law problems of civilized lands pale into insignificance. The Bamba tribal law lays down that a man, when he marries, must live with his wife's parents and work for his father-in-law. In this tribe it is the wife and her mother who direct everything, and no notice is taken of the husband.

The History of Beginnings

Cop -

IT HAS BEEN COMMONLY AND ERRONEOUSLY SUPPOSED THAT "COP" AND "COPPER" CAME FROM THE BUTTONS ON A POLICEMAN'S COAT.
COP IS AN OLD ENGLISH WORD MEANING TO GET HOLD OF, TO NAB, TO ARREST

In olden days, people often saved money in the cookie jar or a similar place. Today they put it in this strong, reliable bank and secure compound interest.

"Putting All YOUR Eggs in One Basket—"

IN a song like Irving Berlin's big hit, putting all your eggs in one basket is all right. Especially when you've "got a great big amount saved up" in the bank as well as in song!

But when it comes to investing your savings two baskets are better than one! Always keep some in the Bank where every dividend paid increases your balance.

in a certain mortgage deed given by Sarah Kaufman to Liberty Mortgage Corporation, dated December 11, 1935, recorded with Middlesex South District
Deeds, Book 5991, Page 274, for breach of condition of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises on Monday, June 15, 1936, at 2:30 p. m. all and singular the premises described in said mortgage, viz-
"A certain parcel of land with all the buildings thereon, including all furnaces, heaters, ranges, mantels, gas and electric fixtures, and all other fixtures of whatever kind and nature contained in said buildings, situated in that part of Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, called Newton Centre, being shown as Lot 14, Lettina Road, on a plan of land entitled 'Subdivision in Newton, Mass., a Subdivision in Newton Centre on the Worcester Turnpike' Rowland H. Barnes and Henry F. Beal, C.E., plan revised on January, 1935 from September, 1927, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, and bounded and described as follows:

EASTERLY by Lettina Road, as shown on said plan, fifty-five and sixteen (55.16) feet;
NORTHERLY by Lot 13 and Lot 15,
as shown on said plan, one hundred thirty-three and 67/100 (133.67) feet;
WESTERLY by part of Lot 22, as shown on said plan, fifty-seven and ten (57.10) feet;
SOUTHERLY by Lot 23 and Lot 24,
as shown on said plan, one hundred
thirty-three and 67/100 (133.67) feet.
Containing 7350 square feet of land
according to said plan.

Subject to restrictions of record now in force and applicable to and current taxes and municipal liens, and assessments.

Being the same premises conveyed to me by deed of Frances Bankoff, of even date, and to be hereinafter recorded.
Said premises will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes, tax titles, municipal liens, and assessments, if any, $500 (cash or certified check) to be paid at the time and place of sale. Balance within ten days.

WHO Advertises in The GRAPHIC?

Look through the columns of this or any issue. You will see among the advertisers the names of substantial local merchants and institutions, who have something to sell or services to offer. You will find the advertisements of firms from out-of-town, whose names are familiar to you because of their record of reliability and their reputation. Here also are National advertisers whom you recognize as leaders in their fields, whose advertising departments or agencies analyze conditions carefully in order that they may select the media from which they will receive the greatest return for the advertising dollar.

You will see much legal advertising sent to the GRAPHIC by the courts, banks, insurance companies and lawyers. On the classified page you will find advertisements from persons who crave immediate action—and get it—because the pulling power of the GRAPHIC's classified section is second to no other weekly newspaper.

WHY Do They Use The GRAPHIC?

Because they want results. Because they know, from investigation, the exact circulation of the GRAPHIC and the quality of its circulation. They know the GRAPHIC subscription figures are accessible to any advertiser for verification and that its newsstand sales can be definitely verified.

They know, too, that the GRAPHIC is an invited guest in the home into which it enters, it has been purchased on the newsstand or subscribed to and delivered through the mails. Only by these two methods does the GRAPHIC enter a home. Hence it commands reader attention, it has been paid for—to be read!

WHO Reads The GRAPHIC?

The residents of Newton, who take a keen interest in local affairs, and who derive a deep satisfaction in being residents of Newton. They are alert to conditions as they exist in their home city. Their business world is perhaps elsewhere, but Newton is their home. As a rule GRAPHIC subscribers own their homes, they pay income taxes, property and personal taxes and contribute to the welfare of their community. The GRAPHIC is indispensable to them as is their daily metropolitan paper. In short they are the Babbits, the substantial citizens. They are the consumers of advertised goods, the users of advertised services. They have what every advertiser seeks, PURCHASING POWER. They are the regular readers of the GRAPHIC.

Perform Autopsy On Waban Man

Alexander Murray, 54, who resided at 126 Beethoven ave., Waban for the past two years, died at the Newton Hospital on Sunday. Medical Examiner Gallagher reported that his death was caused by cerebral hemorrhage and cirrhosis of the liver. His funeral service was held on Tuesday at Waterman's Chapel, Brookline. It was planned to have the remains cremated, but orders from District Attorney Bishop caused Newton police to take charge of the body following the service, and it was taken to the Newton Hospital morgue where an autopsy was performed by Medical Examiner Gallagher. He substantiated his first finding that death was from natural causes. The District Attorney's order was prompted by relatives of Murray. His wife, from whom he had separated, lives in New York. He also is survived by three brothers and a sister. He was formerly in the advertising business and lived in Somerville. Residing with him at Waban had been Mrs. Gertrude Michaels and her three daughters.

THE LIFE BLOOD OF MORGAN MEMORIAL

A well-known Bostonian, who is a director of the Morgan Memorial, made the statement that the Goodwill bag—into which 200,000 Greater Boston housewives place their cut-off household goods and wearing apparel—was the "Life Blood of Morgan Memorial." This is practically true. If it were not for the 9600 friendly homes in Newton together with these other "good neighbors," Morgan Memorial would have to close its doors tomorrow, and this would throw hundreds of underprivileged workers out of jobs. The constant flow of filled Goodwill bags gives work to these worthy people who depend upon Morgan Memorial for self-respecting assistance. Thus an individual bag can be likened to a tiny fragment in the steady flow of life and hope to distraught people who have loved ones to protect, and who through no fault of their own have been thrown out of employment. It is to be hoped that now with spring-cleaning time here, housewives in going through their closets, attics and cupboards will place in their Goodwill bags those articles that they can no longer use. When they notify Morgan Memorial that their goodwill bag is ready, then a truck will be sent, and soon these articles will be furnishing work and the means of livelihood to many different people. In 1935 Morgan Memorial paid out $305,144.84 in wages to a weekly average of more than 400 people. Thus one can see that Goodwill bags are most certainly the "Life Blood of Morgan Memorial."

Wisconsin Was Thirtieth

State Admitted to Union
Wisconsin was the thirtieth state to be admitted to the Union, and the last to be formed from the "old northwest." It was early explored by Nicolet, LaSalle and French traders who made the first settlement at Green Bay in 1639. Nicolet's reports of the Mississippi river led the Jesuits to believe it a passage to India. In 1763 the treaty of Paris gave the territory to the English, under whose jurisdiction it remained until 1796, when it was ceded to the United States. In 1836 it was formed into a separate territory, and included, besides its present area, the present states of Iowa and Minnesota and parts of the Dakotas. On May 29, 1848, the state was admitted into the Union.

The present Constitution dates back from 1848. The population of Wisconsin in 1840 was 30,945. The state motto is "Civilitas succedit barbarum" ("the civilized man succeeds the barbarous").—Indianapolis News.

Temperatures Aid Industry

Industry uses not only high temperatures and pressures but also extremely low ones. This is especially true of the petroleum industry, where the dewaxing process for refining oil takes place at temperatures of 75 degrees below zero.

"Accent on Youth" By Dramatic Club

"Accent on Youth" will be presented by the Newton Dramatic Club on Tuesday, May 26th, in the Newton Centre Woman's Club House at 8 p. m. This is the spring production of the club which for six years has been giving the excellent plays which have built for it an enviable reputation. Linda Brown admires—but does she love? the clever middle-aged play-wright, Steven Gaye. She loves—but does she admire—the impetuous young lover, Dickie Reynolds. Her decision places the accent on youth—but—after the but comes the delightful climax and laughs which make for an enjoyable evening. Linda Brown will be acted by Lillian Kunath, Steven Gaye by Henry Irving Dale, Dickie Reynolds by Tileston Perry. The others in the cast are Barbara Crossley, E. Earle Saunier, Ernest Braithwaite, Millicent Stanger, Newton Douglas.

The play is coached and produced by Mrs. Everett W. Varney, Barbara Lippincott is stage manager. Mrs. George Richardson is property chairman. President of the Club is S. Hardy Mitchell; Vice President, Rupert Thompson, Jr.; Secretary, Miriam Clark; Treasurer, A. T. Carpenter; Business Manager, Charles M. Clark; Chairman of Membership, Mrs. Earle Tilton; Directors, H. B. Wilder, Gardner Walworth.

Arrested For Drunken Driving

Louis Thomas, 21, of Quincy, was arrested at 3 a. m. Sunday by Patrolmen Barr and Cunningham after the car he was driving had hit a hydrant on Chestnut st., West Newton. He was charged with drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor. John Kellier and John Glynn of Adams st., Dorchester, were riding with Thomas and the police permitted them to continue on their journey afoot. Three hours later the pair were arrested by Serg. Sheridan and Patrolmen Murphy and Brosnan at the Boston line after they had allegedly hurtled a stone through the window of the liquor store of Fred Cahill on Commonwealth ave. and stolen two bottles of liquor. They were all arraigned in the Newton Court on Monday and their cases continued.

Pitcairn Island

Pitcairn island is a solitary island in the Pacific ocean, between Australia and South America. In 25 degrees 3 minutes south latitude and 130 degrees 8 minutes west longitude. It is about 2 miles long and 1 mile broad. It was discovered by Carteret in 1767. In 1790 it was taken possession of by nine of the mutineers of H. M. S. Bounty with six Tahitian men and a dozen women, the ring leader being called Christian. Of nine British sailors, only one, Adams, was left in 1800. The island was annexed to Britain in 1839. Nearly 200 of the islanders were transferred to Norfolk Island in 1856, but a number of them afterward returned.

Judge Allen Fines Many Speeders

About a score of autoists were fined $5 each in the Newton court last Thursday by Judge Allen for speeding. Motorcycle Officer Dowling was the complainant in most of the cases. Among those fined were—Edward G. Smith, 230 Woodland rd., Auburndale; John Samuda, 3 Beacon pl., Newton Centre; Phoebe Giles, 243 Waltham st., West Newton; Gordon Blank, Needham; John Aucoin, Taylor st., Waltham; Thomas Rose, Edmands rd., Wellesley.

NEWTON CHAPTER, ORDER OF DeMOLAY

Newton Chapter is preparing to close its season for the summer months and only two more meetings remain. The last meeting of the month will be held on Saturday evening, May 23rd, at which time the DeMolay Degree will be exemplified to a large number of candidates.

The Patrol is practicing for the DeMolay Field Day, which is to be held in June. During the past five years, the Newton Chapter Patrol has won the state championship four times and this year they expect to again emerge victorious.

The Installation of Officers will be held on Saturday evening, May 30, at the Masonic Temple in Newtonville, at 8 p. m. At this time Frederick E. Drew, Jr., of West Newton, will be installed as Master Counselor by a suite composed of the following: Russell R. Taylor, Allen L. Wilson, Stewart N. Douglas, John D. LaRhetie, Robert W. Brown, Charles A. Stevenson and George H. Manson.

"Charitable" Man Sent To Prison

Julius Bianchi, 28, of 20 Quirk ct., Nonantum, was sentenced by Judge Allen in the Newton court last Friday to serve 6 months in Middlesex County Prison. Bianchi was found guilty of larceny. He had sold tickets for a "benefit stag" allegedly to aid the widow and children of his uncle, a street department employee who was killed when a truck ran over him last winter. The "benefit stag" did not materialize. Special Officer Feeley, who arrested Bianchi, suggested that the defendant be placed on probation provided he made restitution to the amount of $50 to his uncle's widow. Inspector King told the judge that Bianchi has been under surveillance by the police before and he suggested that Julius be sent to jail. Accordingly, Bianchi was sentenced to serve 6 months in Middlesex County Prison. He wanted to appeal after the court session had ended, but was not permitted to do so. Bianchi was also fined $25 for driving a car without having a license in his possession, and $5 for speeding.

Girl Learning To Drive, Hits Child

A car driven by Alice Damiano, 19, of 53 Hawthorn street, Nonantum, who was learning to drive, and operating under the license of Samuel Commarato of Framingham, who was riding with her, hit Anna Racine, 6, of 83 Hawthorn street last Friday. The child received a cut in her left thigh. She was attended by Dr. Amendola.

Aldermen Refuse Petition for Sewer

The petition of Domenic Lanno of 20 Broadway terrace, Newtonville, asking that a sewer be constructed in that street was refused by the Board of Aldermen on Monday night. A similar petition by Lanno was refused last year by the Aldermen. In addition to Lanno, the petition was signed by Howard O'Grady, owner of land abutting Broadway terrace. William J. Doherty of 15 Broadway, who objected to the petition last year, also objected this year. When the Public Works Committee reported against the petition on Monday night Alderman Guzzi asked why they took such action. Alderman Temperley answered that Lanno's residence can be served by having another cesspool constructed in the yard there. He said that Lanno would have to pay only $70 toward the cost of the sewer, and the other two abutters, Doherty and O'Grady, would have to pay about $250.

Alderman Guzzi replied by saying that last Monday night he had talked with Dr. Choje, head of the Newton Health Department, and the latter had stated that a sanitary sewer is needed on Broadway terrace to serve Lanno's home. Guzzi argued that the committee had reported against the sewer because of pressure brought to bear by Doherty. He said that Doherty receives $350 yearly from Newton taxpayers for very little work as a Registrar of Voters, and he can well afford to pay his cost for the construction of the sewer, when this cost would be stretched out into 10 yearly installments. Alderman Rawson said the cesspool at Lanno's property had not been cleaned out for many years and a new cesspool will relieve the unhealthy condition there.

Alderman Atkins said the matter had resolved itself into a Republican and Democratic fight. He said Lanno had been petitioning for years to have the sewer constructed and the objection has been using his political pull to prevent the sewer being laid. Atkins said that Doherty owns two lots of land abutting Broadway terrace and will eventually benefit if the sewer is constructed. Guzzi asked if the members of the Public Works Committee had inspected the land at Lanno's property to prove that it is well adapted for a cesspool. Alderman Temperley answered that the committee members had not visited the property. Alderman Lyon said he hated to see the political question raised. He said the City Engineer had stated that the Lanno land is adapted to a cesspool. Alderman Cronin defended the action of the committee in turning down the Lanno petition and quoted Alderman Hutchinson as an authority on this matter. Alderman Guzzi said that Dr. Choje is supposed to be a high authority on health matters and despite the fact that he has twice recommended a sewer to serve Lanno's home, the Aldermen reject his advice.

Newton Hospital Benefit Shop

One of Newton's philanthropic activities that more residents of Newton should be acquainted with is the Newton Hospital Aid Benefit Shop at 795 Washington st., Newtonville. This shop has been conducted for the past 10 years by the Newton Hospital Aid Association. This association was organized 50 years ago when the Newton Cottage Hospital was started and is composed of women residing in the Newtons and Wellesley. The Benefit Shop has over 100 volunteer workers, most of whom have been associated with it since it was started. The general chairman of the Benefit Shop organization are Mrs. D. Brewer Eddy and Mrs. Ralph Conant of Newtonville; Secretary, Mrs. Charles Bartlett, Newton Centre; Treasurer, Mrs. D. Morley Lodge, Chestnut Hill; Manager, Mrs. Francis Williams, Newton Centre. Each of the villages of Newton and Wellesley is represented by a committee which has its own chairman. These chairmen with the officers compose the directors of the shop.

The Benefit Shop is open on Mondays from 2 to 4:30 p. m. and on Wednesdays and Fridays from 10 a. m. to 12 noon. It has for sale a large stock of useful articles including clothing for men, women and children, household furnishings and pieces of furniture, jewelry, bric-a-brac, books and a miscellaneous collection. The supply of the shop is provided by members of the association and excellent values are obtainable. Much of the clothing is of high quality and practically new. Books, dishes and other objects can be purchased at very low prices. The shop constantly needs men's, boys' and girls' clothing, bicycles and bedding for which there is a steady demand. During the depression years the Benefit Shop has been able to assist hundreds of self-respecting persons who were not seeking charity, but who purchased much needed articles at low prices. Persons who wish to donate articles to the shop should telephone West Newton 1774-J.

Since its founding a half century ago the Newton Hospital Aid Association has contributed to the hospital among other things a free bed, endowment fund, furnishings for wards, chairs, bedding, x-ray equipment and other apparatus. Between 1925 and 1930 the association donated $10,706.92 to the hospital and from 1930 to the present time more than $10,000 has been given to the hospital by the association. It also gave $25,000 for the new hospital. The Benefit Shop has been an important factor in obtaining money for much of these donations and it is worthy of the support of Newton people.

WEST NEWTON COMMUNITY CENTRE

"What do you do at the West Newton Community Centre?" is frequently asked by those who have seen the name listed as one of the member agencies of the Newton Community Chest, Inc., but who have not had an opportunity to visit the activities.

During the past winter forty-one different activities have been conducted at the Centre with an attendance of 13,829. These activities are varied, according to the interests of the people attending, and range from a Pre-School Kindergarten for children just under school age, through sewing, cooking, woodworking, game groups, dancing classes, dramatic clubs and social clubs for afternoon groups to the activities for older boys and girls and women, including basketball, social clubs, handicraft classes, boxing and caddy clubs.

So that many people in Newton may have an opportunity of seeing a bit of the work which has been done in and through the handwork groups exhibitions will be set up in the various sections of Newton through the next few weeks.

Instructors in handwork during the past season include Miss Gladys Forbush, Miss Frances Warren, Mr. John H. Newton, Mr. Nicholas Tedesco and Miss Gertrude MacCallum, who is the Executive Director of the Community Centre.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS SALE

Alvord Bros. report that they have sold an attractive Cape Cod Colonial home, located at 59 Alexander rd., in Newton Highlands. Mr. Willis B. Fellows, of Newton, who has attained success in the construction of homes of this type, was the builder. The house is of frame construction with a slate roof and contains three chambers and bath on the second floor and three rooms on the first floor. An unusual feature is a library, with a fireplace, paneled in knotty pine, off of the dining room. A recreation room, also having a fireplace, is located in the basement, and there is a garage. The lot contains 7383 square feet of land. The real estate is valued at $9500. Mr. and Mrs. Leon N. Dunning, formerly of Cleveland, Ohio, were the purchasers and are now occupying their new residence.

Newton Youth Wins Art Prize In Rome

Matthew William Boyhan of 45 Pine Crest rd., Newton Centre, 20, and a student at the Museum School of Fine Arts in Boston, was awarded on Monday the Prix de Rome award in painting given annually by the American Academy in Rome. He is the youngest winner of the prize since it was first awarded in 1907. The award entitles young Boyhan to two years of study in Europe.

NORUMBEGA PARK

Norumbega Park, New England's oldest amusement park, which opens Saturday, May 23rd, is celebrating its fortieth anniversary this year.

The outstanding feature this year is Miss "Billie" Woods' Famous Circus, an entirely new circus that will be presented twice daily (afternoon and evening). This charming young lady is the only one in the world who actually trains these performing animals. With all that goes to make a complete circus day, flapping canvas, tents blowing, brass band, funny clowns, gaily painted wagons, pink lemonade, peanuts, balloons, sawdust and shavings, and last but not least, the shouts and laughter of the children.

Over fifty trained animals including forty of the world's greatest educated monkeys, baboons, apes and chimpanzees, will take part in this program presented by Miss "Billie" Woods, also ponies, those fascinating leaping greyhounds and dogs that ride bareback and romp on the speedily revolving table that has yet been unable to go fast enough to spill Hickory, the clown dog, who likes to tackle the revolving table backwards to the roars of laughter of the children.

The rides and amusements, all resplendent in their new coats of paint, the free movies in the evening, and the many other attractions are all in readiness for the celebration of Norumbega's fortieth anniversary.

Waban Man Loses Speeding Appeal

Thomas A. Hamilton, of Wamesit rd., Waban, was found guilty by a jury in the Middlesex Superior Court at Cambridge on Monday of speeding and fined $25 by Judge Dowd. Hamilton was stopped on the Worcester turnpike near Circuit avenue on April 18 by Traffic Officer Dowling. He was arraigned in the Newton court on May 7 and fined $25 by Judge Allen as it was his second conviction for speeding within a year. He appealed. Officer Dowling testified that Hamilton was going 50 miles an hour and that the place where he was stopped is a dangerous spot, a number of serious accidents having occurred near there. Hamilton testified he was travelling only 35 miles per hour. Inspector Good prosecuted the case.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

What They Did And Said At Miami

Clubwomen know that the keynote of activities and aims is always struck by the executive office in a business and concern. From them spreads out, as a ripple in the vast river of plans, the report, and organization for the development of this report, to each successive minor group of officers and workers, from president to superintendent, to manager, to employee. So in the gigantic work of the Women's Clubs, the first steps for activity and aim are considered by the General Federation. Delegates gathering from all the States for one of their Council Meetings hear this keynote, and being the outstanding and representative women of the clubs of the country, they carry home news of this composition to the State Federations, and they to the individual clubs, and there it is set actively to work to compose the harmony, through club presidents, chairmen, and club members, which will see these keynotes transcribed into active attempt and achievement. For this reason it is wise, even necessary, for clubwomen to be informed upon the events of such a Council Meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. They can neither work effectively, nor even know to what ends they are working, unless they are informed upon the aims and achievements of the largest organization of women in the world, so that the groups affiliated therewith can take up their business. For this reason your Editor endeavors twice or more times each Club Year to keep the clubwomen of Newton—nearly three thousand strong, and one of the largest groups in the State of Massachusetts, and one to which the State Federation looks for support because of its thinking members—informed upon the meetings of the General Federation.

The highlights of what was said and done at Miami, Florida, during the days April 27th through May first, are given, therefore, in brief.

On Saturday, April 25th, delegates—many of them club presidents—were pouring into Miami, about 700 strong, to this Council Meeting of—as has been said—the largest organization of women in the world, having more than 15,000 clubs affiliated, with a membership of over two million. The Miami Biltmore Hotel was official headquarters at the Casa Loma Hotel. All sessions of the Convention were held in the spacious Ballroom of the Miami Biltmore Country Club. The Juniors held their sessions in the Country Club Grill.

Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson, of Tulsa, Okla., president of the General Federation, presided, assisted at times by the vice-presidents, Mrs. T. V. Moore, of Miami, a State director, and also chairman of Juniors, had the colossal task of Convention chairman, with all it entailed of arrangements for the comfort and efficiency of the gathering. The Dade County Federation of Women's Clubs was the official hostess for the Council Meeting, the 17th such meeting of the Federation.

On Sunday, April 26th, the delegates attended services at 11 a. m., in the Coral Gables Congregational Church and in the Bryan Memorial Church. Sunday evening, at 8 o'clock, Rev. Leslie J. Barnett, Pastor of the Congregational Church, conducted special services for the clubwomen.

Mrs. Lawson held a pre-convention meeting to smooth the way for the week's work of the Executive committee at 9 a. m. Sunday.

At 4 in the afternoon, the first of the many social events planned for the delegates, was a Tea at the home of Mrs. Robert Pentland, with Mrs. Moore as co-hostess, honoring Mrs. Lawson and other club officers. On Monday, at noon, the Miami Woman's Club tendered a Luncheon to all the clubwomen, with Mrs. Lawson honored guest. This was held in the Auditorium of their Club House, which was taxed to capacity, about 250 clubwomen attending. Mrs. Jerome T. Feaster, president, presented Mrs. Lawson with a bouquet of gardenias.

This was termed a "Tropical Luncheon," since it had the very cleverly carried-out motif of serving tropical fruits and vegetables, that the delegates might become acquainted with them. In similar vein, Mrs. Myrtle Taylor Bradford read excerpts from her book, "U-Le-Lah," dealing with Florida history; and George E. Merrick told them, most entertainingly, "Things You Should Know About Us." And, of course, there was music.

The table was centered with a miniature imitation of Biscayne Bay, outlined in sea shells, and simulating the sea with sand and ocean flora, and tropical flowers and shrubs were combined in colorful decorations throughout the clubrooms. Place cards were tiny sail-boats made of sea shells.

Adolph Seerth sang "When the Moon Shines Over Coral Gables" and "Swanee River," with piano accompaniment by Eddie Squires. Vocal numbers also were given by the Cushman School chorus, under the direction of Miss Catherine Christie.

Mr. Merrick, from his vantage-point of being a pioneer Miamian, told of early settlements, of south Florida becoming a millionaire's playground, and of the further conviction that its call is to the "little man" as well as "the big," and perhaps even more so, as history of the city is being recorded.

Vision of that early settler, Henry Perrine, that some day this would be a land blossoming with "apples of the Hesperides," and rich with tropic fruits, were shown as a farsighted estimate of the country's upbuilding.

Sale for the Blind Sponsored By Clubs and Churches

The Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, in cooperation with the Churches of Newton, is sponsoring a Sale to help the blind to help themselves. This sale will be conducted Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, June 2nd, 3rd, and 4th, from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., at 456 Newtonville avenue, Newtonville, and every cent made will go to the blind workers of the State.

Miss Rose Trainer, of the State Division of the Blind, Department of Education, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, is the representative of the blind workers.

Mrs. Anton A. Wild, of Newtonville, will be the hostess on Tuesday, June 2nd, and she will be assisted by the Auburndale Women's Clubs, the Newtonville Woman's Club, and the Newton Women's Clubs, also by the women of each of the Churches in these villages.

Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, of West Newton, will be the hostess on Wednesday, June 3rd, assisted by the Women's Clubs of West Newton, Newton Centre, and Chestnut Hill, and by ten women from each of the Churches of these sections.

Mrs. J. Earle Parker, of Waban, will be the hostess on Thursday, June 4th, assisted by the Women's Clubs of Newton Upper Falls, Newton Lower Falls, Waban, and Newton Highlands, and by ten women from each of the Churches.

The committee in charge is holding a meeting at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House today, Friday, May 22nd, at 10 a. m.

Attractive and useful articles will be for sale these three days, including towels, aprons, general household supplies, knitted and crocheted goods, rugs, hearth brushes, dolls, basketry, pewter, and copper ware. All are urged to patronize this sale, not only for their own needs but to assist the blind.

Plant Sale

On Saturday, May 23rd, all day the Garden and Conservation Committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club will sell annuals, perennials and window box material on the lawn outside the Club House.—Adv't. M222

Coming of the railroad and steamship were noted as beginnings of south Florida's place as a center of nationally-famous activities.

The formal opening of the Council Meeting came Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock with a dinner and entertainment in the dining-room and terraces of the Miami Biltmore Hotel. The Governor of Florida, Hon. Dave Sholtz, welcomed the delegates. Other prominent county and city officials gave them greetings.

The entertainment, besides an orchestra, a quartet, and tap-dancing, was decidedly beautiful and unusual in feature scenes from the Pan-American Pageant.

On Tuesday morning Mrs. Lawson gave her President's Address.

"With the turmoil of conflicting minds and boundary desires among the European nations, we Americans are more obligated than ever to realize the necessity for a tolerant understanding and a clear thinking," she declared.

"We must realize that we cannot mold all the nations of the world into one civilization or one trend of thought any more than we can produce a great chorus with a single voice, or a symphonic program with one instrument, no matter how fine the director. We need the blending of the whole civilization in a voice of sympathetic understanding, and we know full well that this can only be brought about by the one possibility of 'unity in diversity'—carrying the spiritual, the Golden Rule, into everyday living."

Mrs. Lawson began her address by giving an account of the activities carried on in the office of the president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs at Headquarters in Washington. "Last month we received and answered 2,000 letters in the president's office alone, which is but a reflection of the actual work that goes on in the president's office which is a consulting office for all the chairmen; and intermediary between our government, outside organizations of importance and our own Federation; a planning center for our annual meetings, and a general supervisory for the entire headquarters."

Discussing citizenship matters, Mrs. Lawson said, "While the General Federation does not in any way presume to dictate the party vote, yet we do urge the registered expression of every woman voter. Let us give special attention to the young woman voting for the first time, that she may be informed of the full significance of citizenship responsibilities. The measure of your strength will absolutely be weighed this fall."

Mrs. Lawson said that the Board of Directors reaffirms its stand on the principle of protecting the civil service rights of women, and plans immediate aggression in applying this principle in seeking the repeal of Section 213 of the Economy Act of 1932.

Newtonville Club To Celebrate Home-Owning

A post-season meeting to celebrate the cancellation of the mortgage note on the Newtonville Woman's Club House property has been arranged for Thursday, May 28th, at 2:30 p. m., by a Special committee, consisting of the president, Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson; Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, president from 1912 to 1915, and Mrs. Albert D. Auryansen, president from 1929 to 1931.

Representatives of the State and Newton Federations, of the Twelfth District, and of neighboring clubs have been invited to be present, and it is hoped that at least three of the charter members (1884) will attend, as well as several past presidents of the Club.

The program as arranged includes two-minute talks by past presidents, and a brief paper on "Club Memories," compiled by Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden and Mrs. John W. Byers.

The canceled mortgage will be burned, and there will be music and refreshments. The liquidation of the indebtedness is made possible through the generosity of the late Miss Susy A. Dickinson, a loyal and enthusiastic Club member from 1884 to 1930, who was the daughter of Mrs. John W. Dickinson, the founder of the Club.

Miss Dickinson willed to the organization a substantial amount in invested securities from which was established The Susy A. Dickinson Fund, and which it was deemed prudent to save toward the purchase of a Club House. At the time, however, when the members of the Club voted to purchase the present property, there was a marked depreciation in the value of the Club's inheritance, so that the Finance officers refrained from drawing upon the Dickinson Fund, but budgeted each year the expenses and philanthropies which had to be earned.

Careful administration, particularly on the parts of the treasurer, the Finance committee, and Ways and Means committees, have made it possible to keep intact the Dickinson Fund until this spring when the conditions were propitious for converting the securities to cancel the mortgage and so strengthen the Club to pursue its activities even more vigorously than heretofore.

The last Executive Board Meeting of the Club Year of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs was held Monday, May 11th, at 10 a. m., in the Newton Library. Tentative dates and locations were planned for the three yearly meetings and for the monthly Executive Board meetings for next season. It was decided to have a Non-Partisan Rally in October, and a study group and conferences on Taxation during the winter.

The president, Mrs. J. Earle Parker, introduced Miss Rose Trainer, a representative of the Division of the Blind, Department of Education, Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Miss Trainer spoke of the work at the Blind Handicraft Shop, 73 Newbury street, Boston; of the sale sponsored there in March by the National Civic Federation; and asked the Newton Federation to sponsor a three-day sale for the Blind early in June; this sale to be conducted in co-operation with the Churches of Newton at a central location. The Federation voted to sponsor the sale as outlined, and named Mrs. J. Earle Parker, Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, and Mrs. Anton A. Wild hostesses.

Plans Formulated By Newton Fed.

"We all know that Section 213 of the Economy Act provides that in any reduction of personnel in government service, married persons having a spouse also employed shall be the first dismissed, and that preference shall be given to other than such persons in subsequent appointments."

"The Government Workers' Council sent out 1900 questionnaires; nearly 700 replies came in from persons who had lost their positions, and these were analyzed by the Women's Bureau of the Department of Labor. A large proportion were between the ages of 30 and 45. When the survey was taken, 80 per cent had found no other work and had joined the ranks of the unemployed. Sixteen couples separated in order to keep their jobs."

Mrs. Lawson pointed out that those thrown out of work had to let go their maids, laundresses, and houseworkers, thereby adding to unemployment. Many of the young couples were paying for homes and had to lose them. It was found that four-fifths of the positions vacated had to be filled again and inexperienced workers were called in.

"Congressman Celler, of New York, has introduced a bill to repeal Section 213. The bill also provides that no future appointments shall be made to members of families already represented in government service where the combined salaries of the members would equal or exceed $4000. This would still mean that wives could not be appointed if husbands were making as much as $4000, but it would apply to other members of a family also and would not be a discrimination against one group of citizens. Married women are first of all women, and discrimination against them is discrimination against women as a whole. We should guard jealously and sacredly our place in the world today. Surely all women are entitled to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness in the way they may best find it."

Mrs. Lawson's address was the establishment of a National Academy of Public Affairs, for which the Federation has been working since 1929. Representative Wesley E. Disney, from Oklahoma, has introduced into Congress a bill providing for such an institution, to train men and women for administrative service in national and international affairs.

"Nothing would more effectively assist in wiping out the teaching of false doctrines than a thorough education in our own government formation," she said.

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. LaFell Dickinson, showed that the total net worth of the General Federation of Women's Clubs is $504,432.

While the report on Membership did not come until Wednesday morning, the 29th, its facts rightfully belong here, while on the subject of the organization:

Membership increase for the year ending March 1, 1936, was 26,672, the report of Mrs. William Waller Slayden, Los Angeles, chairman of Federation Extension committee, showed. Nine States show more than 1000 net gain, with Ohio leading and winning the $10 prize. The other prize goes to District of Columbia.

While most of the State Federations have been "on the air" for several years this year is the first the General Federation, through the courtesy of National Broadcasting Company, has inaugurated a weekly broadcast over a nation-wide hook-up, at 2:45 p. m., E. S. T. Fridays, Mrs. Edgar B. Meritt, Washington, D. C., Radio chairman, reported on Wednesday. She also said that in a recent survey, it was found that the women's choice of adult programs showed a marked predominant preference for commendable drama, symphony orchestras, national news broadcast and programs especially for women.

It is worthy of note that even as Mrs. Meritt was stressing the great value to clubwomen in information given over the radio for the clubs there was a national coast-to-coast hook-up for an hour on Wednesday morning in which thousands of clubwomen, unable to attend the Convention, listened.

The department of Press and Publicity took over the latter part of the Tuesday morning session. Mrs. J. Henry Highsmith, of Raleigh, N. C., chairman, said, "The work of the publicity writer who analyzes and translates club news in terms of public interest is basic to the club's usefulness. To have 10,000 or more writers of club publicity in the United States taking training in the technique of writing for newspapers and in the art of interpreting club activities in the interest of the reading public is the goal of our department during this three-year administration. This program was set up in response to the cry that more and better trained writers of club news was the need in all states."

Miss Vella Winner, of the Headquarters News Service, and "Clubwoman," in her report said, "Someone has said that the press is mistress of intelligence, and intelligence is mistress of the world. The Federation being essentially an educational organization, is a staunch believer in this axiom. And so we feel that the Federation is rendering no greater public service than in moulding an enlightened public opinion, and that the greatest single force in educating public opinion is publicity. Not only is it indispensable in bringing before the public the merits and advantages of the projects to which our great organization is committed but it is a public benefaction in uncovering the weaknesses and disadvantages of the things we oppose. No other organization in the world is treated more generously to the hand of the press than the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

An innovation of these days of the Convention, and one that assisted greatly in giving information and knowledge to the delegates, which could not have the time in the reports from the platform, was the Conference idea, carried out at the Breakfasts and Luncheons. For example, on Tuesday, the Juniors while at breakfast, learned much about Club Institutes, from Mrs. Hampton Fleming who conducted the Conference. Tuesday Luncheon Conference was on Education. On Wednesday the Breakfast Conference presented Public Welfare, Legislation, and Community Service. The Luncheon Conference was on International Relations and Press and Publicity. Thursday's Breakfast Conference presented Conservation, other phases of Public Welfare, and Corrections; and the Luncheon Conference presented Fine Arts and the "Juniors."

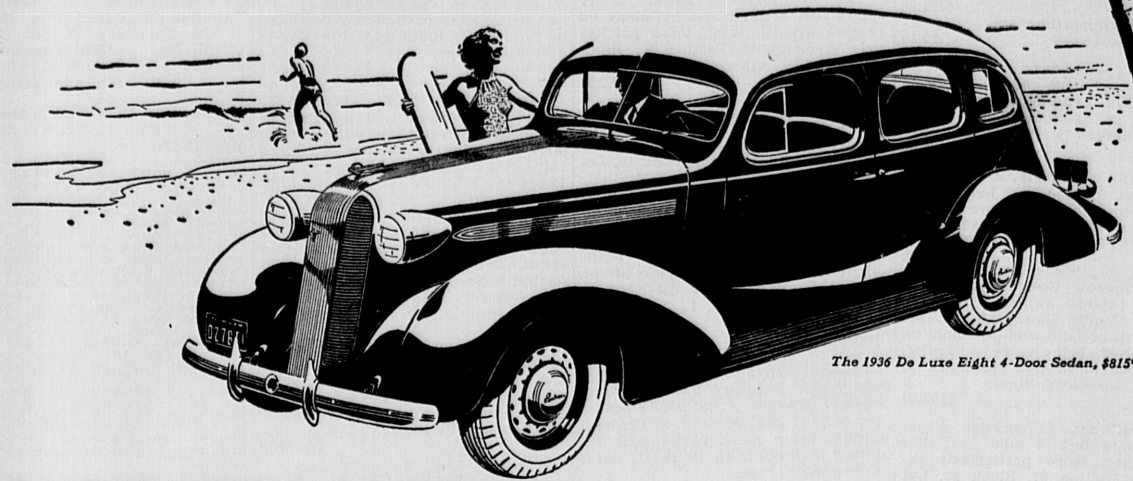

It is decidedly worthy of note, in these days when Religion and Patriotism seem in such disfavor, that there still exist in the minds and hearts of the women of the General Federation respect and loyalty to their birth. The Convention opened on Tuesday with an invocation by the Rev. Leslie J. Barnette, Pastor of the Coral Gables Congregational Church. And the Salute and Pledge to the Flag was led by Roberta Van Brunt, Girl Scout.

(Account of the Convention will be continued next week.)

In Court For Too Much Fishing

Adam Budryk, 48, of Gore st., Cambridge likes to fish. And he isn't fussy about what kind of fish he catches. Adam was in the Newton court last Saturday charged with catching more than the legal number of hornpout. The State laws permit one to catch as many as 30 hornpout on one day. But, on May 9 Game Warden Parmelee caught Budryk at Hammond Pond, Chestnut Hill with 37 hornpout he had hooked. Judge Lynch of Milford placed the case on file.

The 1936 De Luxe Eight 4-Door Sedan, $815*

For thrills, thrift and smartness—

no EIGHT on earth like the new Pontiac

EXPERTS call Pontiac the smoothest eight in the world. And here's why: Pontiac's extra-heavy, short-stroke crankshaft is buttressed by overlapping bearings. The harmonic balancer, introduced by Pontiac, works miracles. And all moving parts are balanced with incredible precision. The result is something new in eight-cylinder history—an engine with no vibration point at any speed!

That's genuine fine-car engineering and it's matched by everything else in the car. You can't get better brakes than Pontiac's big hydraulics. The solid steel "Turret-Top" Bodies are the safest money can buy. And this big eight has delivered, under official supervision, 22 miles per gallon. Look around before you buy your eight. Get all the facts. You'll come back to Pontiac convinced that it's the best buy of them all!

*List prices at Pontiac, Mich., begin at $615 for the Six and $730 for the Eight (subject to change without notice). Safety plate glass standard on De Luxe Six and Eight. Standard group of accessories extra. Monthly payments to suit your purse on General Motors Installment Plan. A General Motors Value.

Kiwanis Club

The weekly meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club, held Tuesday noon, May 19, 1936, was in charge of Past President James P. Gallagher. A prominent speaker who had been procured for the occasion was unavoidably detained, but the presiding officer, who has never been found wanting in such a situation, carried on to the delight and enlightenment of those in attendance.

Without prior warning the various committee chairmen were called upon to give an account of themselves, and, like the toastmaster, they were found equal to the occasion. The symposium proved an interesting one, from which much was learned of the many activities of the club, particularly those with respect to aid rendered underprivileged children.

It was announced the International Convention to be held in Washington, D. C., June 21 to 25, will be attended by President J. Ernest Gibson and Past President Charles A. Mahoney representing the Newton Club.

In the event one or both cannot be present, Past Presidents George L. White and James Forbes will be on hand to serve as alternates.

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

Sir Herbert Ames lectured at the Tuesday assembly. His subject was "What Is Really at Stake Today at Geneva."

Lassell's annual Field Day was held on Tuesday, May 19. The White team was victorious, having scored 290 points against 286 by the Blues. Edyth Cummings of Newton Centre was high individual scorer for the day with eleven points. Jane Eldridge of Westfield, N. Y., won the 50-yd. dash and Edyth Cummings was second. In the 60-yd. hurdles Irene Dreissigacker of Mamaroneck, N. Y., placed first, and Marian Mapes of Cleveland, second. Rae Salisbury of Waban was first in the Basketball throw, and Ruth Upham of Norwood, second. Phyllis Gunn of Turners Falls placed first in the javelin throw, and Eleanor Patterson of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Edyth Cummings tied for first place in the broad jump.

BROOKLINE'S NEWEST SODA FOUNTAIN ATTRACTING CROWDS

Opened a short time ago, The Spa, at 1354 Beacon street near Coolidge Corner, is catering to a daily increasing number of Brookline, Newton and suburban residents at its delightful soda fountain. Ample parking space along the Beacon Street reservation, together with the quality and deliciousness of its fountain products and the convenient tables at which they may be enjoyed in cool comfort, are factors which are contributing to the fast growing popularity not only of the fountain but also the restaurant. The Spa is managed by Charles F. Eaton, a son of the founder and for many years associated with the internationally known Thompson's Spa.

$2000 Fire In Newton Ctr. Block

The cellar of a one-story business block on Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre was seriously flooded by water during the flood season in March. Early Saturday morning it was the scene of a fire which caused damage of about $2000. The blaze started in rubbish at the cellar of the Mode Beauty Shop, 550 Commonwealth ave., and spread into the cellars of Brower Bros. Market and the Newton Market. The fire was discovered at 1:17 a. m. by Arthur Lipkin of Newton Centre as he was passing the building. Two alarms were pulled from Box 714. Gas escaping from a burned meter connection impeded the firemen and necessitated a shut off at the further end of the building being closed.

Health Dept. Gets Complaints Against Milk Company

The Newton Health Department through City Solicitor Bartlett obtained complaints last Monday at the Newton District court against the United Farmers Co-op Creamery Association. The complaints allege that during the flood period in March this milk company supplied to units of a chain store company in Newton adulterated milk. The date set for the case is June 8. Inspectors of the local health department obtained samples of the milk during the period when it was sold in March and had analyses made. Prosecution has been deferred until this time at the request of State officials.

End of Low Water In Charles River

At a meeting held on Wednesday night at the Neera clubhouse in Auburndale, Mayor McDonald of Waltham assured the gathering that the last apparent obstacle to the State acquiring the water rights at the dams in Waltham has been removed and it only remains now for the Metropolitan District Commission to ratify the agreement with the Waltham Factories, Inc., and the Waltham Bleachery. The following resolution was passed by members of the newly formed Charles River Waterway Assn., under whose auspices the meeting was held:

"We, in session at the Mass Meeting of the Charles River Waterway Association, Inc., being the duly authorized representatives of our districts, organizations etc., do desire to be recorded in favor of the resolution to-day adopted by the Charles River Waterway Association, Inc., viz:

"On motion made by Mr. Louis Zaboy and seconded by Mr. Carl Wood, President John F. Veader of the Charles River Waterway Association, Inc., be instructed to communicate in writing to the Metropolitan District Commission the unanimous vote of this Association that the Metropolitan District Commission be instructed to reach an immediate settlement with the holders of the water rights at the Moody Street Dam in Waltham and make payment as authorized by an act of the Legislature, Chapter 448 Acts of 1935."

Four New Teachers For Newton Schools

Four new teachers were appointed at the meeting of the School Committee on Monday night to serve in the Newton public schools. Three of them are residents of this city. Mrs. Florence (Eldridge) Gunnerson of 73 Chestnut st., West Newton, was assigned to the Cabot School, Newtonville. She is a widow and before her marriage taught for several years in Newton schools. Mrs. Gunnerson is 29 years of age and a graduate of Fitchburg Normal School. Edith Horton of 59 Otis st., Newtonville, a graduate of the Perry Kindergarten School, was appointed building assistant at the Carr School, Newtonville and Emerson School, Upper Falls. She is 22 years old and has served as a substitute in Newton schools the past two years. Mary Sharpe, 23, of Dedham st., Newton Centre, was appointed building assistant at the Hyde School, Newton Highlands. She graduates this year from Framingham Teachers' College. Doris E. Grade, 21, of Watertown was appointed a teacher in the Williams School, Auburndale. She is a graduate of Bridgewater Normal School and has taught in Watertown.

Hugh Robertson, 39, of Stearns rd., Watertown, a graduate of Brown University, was appointed a teacher of business mathematics at Newton High School for a half-year as substitute for Frederick Hussey, who is on a year's leave of absence. Robertson will also serve as assistant coach of the hockey team. He has taught at Hingham and Wellesley and now is teaching at Milton Academy. An additional teacher will be appointed later for the Angier School at Waban. Resignations of three teachers were accepted—Ruth A. Leighton of the Underwood School, who will be married next month; Mrs. Maud Cushman of the Williams School, and Mrs. Dorothy Hunt, acting kindergarten at the Oak Hill School.

Newton Business Associates Meet

The annual meeting of the Newton Business Associates was held on Wednesday evening in the Newton Trust Company building at Newton. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Roy Edwards; 1st Vice President, James Sunderland; 2nd Vice President, Rupert G. Thompson; Secretary, Francis J. Barry; Treasurer, John J. Cahill; Directors, Percy Frost, Michael Keating, Martin Kelly, George King, E. P. Leonard, Jr., M. J. Martin, Walter McCammon, Edward Powers, Morton Smith, Percy Trundle, John Zahos, Walter Johnson, James Akins.

President Edwards urged the associates to seek immediate action in acquiring long needed additional parking facilities and bus terminal at Newton Corner. Rupert Thompson advocated the sale of unused land owned by the city which is suitable for building purposes. Morton Smith of the R. C. Taylor Trust told of the need of a comfort station at Newton Corner.

Annual Outdoor Music Concert Next Friday

The annual Outdoor Concert held on the grounds of the Newton High School by all the musical organizations of the school will be given at 8:30 on Friday evening, June 5. The concert this year will include the rendition of some selections on the new electric Hammond Organ by pupils who have studied the organ during the year at the school. A choral group of several hundred voices will participate, and the band and orchestra will offer an unusually excellent program. This concert has become a tradition in the school and has been attended by as many as a thousand people. The program for the evening is as follows:

West Newton Girl Killed By Auto

Elinor Gaw, 12, of 16 Upham st., West Newton, was fatally injured about 6 o'clock Friday evening as she was riding her bicycle on Cherry st., West Newton. She was hit by a car driven by Fritz Levy of 27 Low st., Quincy, an insurance agent who regularly collected payments at the girl's home. The girl was rushed to the Newton Hospital by Richard White of 67 Cherry st. He was accompanied by Levy. She died in about 40 minutes of internal injuries. She was also injured about the head. The dead girl was one of four children of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gaw. She was a pupil at St. Bernard's parochial school.

Levy was arrested by Serg. Bannon and Patrolman Hanlon on charges of manslaughter and driving so as to endanger the safety of the public. Through his attorney, Thomas Donnelly, he asked for a hearing on the issuance of complaints on these charges. The hearing was held before Judge Weston on Saturday. Levy stated that the girl suddenly swerved her bicycle in front of his car. Serg. Bannon testified that marks on the street showed that the bicycle was within 2 feet of the right side of the roadway when hit, that the bicycle was dragged 16 feet as shown by marks on the street, and the child's body 44 feet. The rear of the car stopped 57 feet from the point of impact. Levy stated that the car was going about 25 miles when the accident occurred. Judge Weston ruled that the evidence warranted issuance of the complaints. The date of the hearing was set for June 4, but because of the public interest in the case, the hearing will be on his vacation at that time, the date was set forward to June 24.

The victim's funeral service was held on Monday morning at St. Bernard's Church. Delegations of her classmates and members of the school troop of Girl Scouts served as escorts. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

Would Teach High School Pupils How To Drive Autos

A new activity for Newton public schools was proposed at the meeting of the School Committee on Monday night—the teaching of pupils in the High School and Trade School to operate automobiles. This matter was brought before the committee by Supt. of Schools Warren. He stated that for the past two years students at Newton High School have been instructed in the theory of the proper operation of automobiles as part of the course in civics. The proposed plan would give a practical course in driving. The suggestion for the course in driving came from F. Marsena Butts, member of the committee from Ward 7, and followed a reading by Mr. Butts of an article in this month's "Reader's Digest" which tells of the success resulting from such a course at Penn State College.

Supt. of Schools Warren explained that the proposed course would be an extra-curricular activity and only students who now cannot drive automobiles would be taken as pupils. Each would have to obtain a "consent" card signed by parents and also a "release" card eliminating the city or instructors from liability. It was suggested that the instructors would be students at the Newton Trade School, and that a station wagon be procured for the training course. Classes would be limited to 15 pupils, with one instruction period each week for 19 weeks. All pupils would have to be over 16 years old. The purposes of the course are to encourage safe driving on highways and greater courtesy to other motorists. Mr. Warren thought the course would aid in character building. He said that the present course in the theory of proper driving which is given at Newton High School has the endorsement of the Mass. Safety Council. He commented that the new proposal would have to be given careful consideration before being authorized as it is possible it may be beyond the scope of the school's activities.

At 2:15 in the afternoon the Memorial Day parade will start at Washington and Channing sts., Newton, and proceed over Washington and Walnut st., Washington park, Park place, Cabot and Walnut streets to Newton Cemetery where the customary exercises will be held. The column will then reform and march to City Hall where the marchers will be reviewed by Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Chief Marshal of the parade.

Newton Residents Employed on PWA Projects

Harry Hageman, Commissioner of Buildings in Newton states that out of 30 men employed on the new Crafts st. garage at Newtonville 21 are residents of Newton. The others are men working in specialized trades in which Newton residents are not available. Work on the addition of the Angier School and the new Oak Hill school has been held up because of labor trouble. Only a comparatively small number of men have been working on these two jobs. Of 13 men working at the Oak Hill project, 6 are Newton residents. At the Angier School 2 out of 9 men are Newton residents. Mr. Hageman says that when work gets well underway at these two jobs, 50 percent of those employed will be from Newton.

Principal Elicker Given Year Leave Of Absence

At the meeting of the School Committee on Monday night it was voted to grant a leave of absence to Paul E. Elicker, principal of the Newton High School for the next school year. Supt. of Schools Warren explained that Mr. Elicker has been asked to make a survey of secondary schools in the States along the Atlantic seaboard for the American Council of Education. He commented that it is a signal honor for Newton to have Mr. Elicker selected for this work. The American Council of Education has its headquarters at Washington and is financed by the Rockefeller Foundation.

The purpose of the survey is to set up standards in secondary schools for the entire country, and to determine what constitutes a good secondary school. Forty schools will be surveyed by Mr. Elicker who will be assisted by a principal of a high school in Trenton, New Jersey. Similar surveys will be made in other sections of the United States. Raymond Green will serve as principal of Newton High School. Francis Foster, teacher of social studies will serve as assistant principal.

Memorial Day Exercises

Tomorrow morning members of veteran organizations in Newton will decorate graves at the various cemeteries in Newton. Delegations from Thomas Burnett Camp, Spanish War Veterans; Newton Post, American Legion; Eugene Daley Post, V. F. W., and Chaplain Farrell Chapter, Disabled Veterans will assist. The veterans will then proceed to Newton Lower Falls where flowers will be cast onto the water of the Charles River. A delegation will also go to Calvary Cemetery in Waltham to decorate many graves there.

At 2:15 in the afternoon the Memorial Day parade will start at Washington and Channing sts., Newton, and proceed over Washington and Walnut st., Washington park, Park place, Cabot and Walnut streets to Newton Cemetery where the customary exercises will be held. The column will then reform and march to City Hall where the marchers will be reviewed by Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Chief Marshal of the parade.

Many Oppose Widening of Pelham Street

Opponents of widening Pelham st., Newton Centre, from 32 feet to 40 feet outnumbered proponents of this plan at a hearing held before the Board of Aldermen on Wednesday night at City Hall. Mrs. Arthur Hitchcock, president of the Newton Centre Women's Club read a statement which authorized her to place that organization in favor of the widening. Norman Hall, secretary of the Newton Centre Improvement Association, read a letter which stated that the Association had unanimously voted at its annual meeting on May 25th, to approve the widening of Pelham st. The Association went on record as saying that it would be most unfortunate not to widen the street at this time.

Phillip C. Scott, appearing as attorney for Lincoln Alford, owner of a new building to be erected at Centre and Pelham sts. protested against the petition to have the street widened. He said that Mr. Alford started preparations to raze the old building at the site several months ago. In February Mr. Alford went to City Hall and conferred with Mayor Childs relative to any intention on the part of the city to widen Pelham st., should a new building be planned at the site in question.

The Mayor assured Mr. Alford that no such plan was in prospect. Alford then went ahead with plans for the building, engaged a contractor and leased two stores in the proposed new building. He also arranged with the Newton Trust Company for a mortgage. On April 1st the plans were submitted to the Newton Building Department and later that month a permit was issued with the proviso that no excavating be done within 12 feet of Centre st. because of apparent uncertainty over the building line. Since then investigation by Mr. Scott and City Engineer Harvey has shown that land which the city was supposed to own, really has been owned by the holders of the property since 1875. This caused Mr. Scott to withdraw two petitions asking for an exchange of land between the city and Mr. Alford and to straighten lot lines.

Mr. Scott said the first knowledge Mr. Alford had of any intention on the city's part to widen Pelham st. was on May 14th, when Alderman Hutchinson of the Public Works committee phoned Mr. Alford. After Mr. Hutchinson conferred with Mr. Alford, Chief Marshal of the parade.

NEXT MONTH'S POLITICS

The state and national political conventions of both the Republican and Democratic parties are scheduled for next month. Beginning next week-end these affairs will doubtless occupy considerable head-line space in the press. It will soon be definitely known whether or not Governor Curley is to run for the United States Senate or whether he will change his avowed intention and become a candidate for reelection. The degree to which the Governor controls the convention and its endorsement of other candidates for office will be learned. The following week the Republican national convention will be held and the status of Governor Landon as a presidential candidate will be revealed. Although conceded to be far out in front in the race, there are persons who still believe that the Kansan will be side-tracked at the convention. The following week should be of most particular interest in Newton with the state Republican convention in Springfield having before it for endorsement the names of at least three residents here. Speaker Leverett Saltonstall's supporters are predicting his endorsement as candidate for Governor on the first ballot. Former District Attorney Robert T. Bushnell is still apparently in the field as a compromise choice. Former Mayor Weeks and Rep. Henry Cabot Lodge, 2nd, are claiming the support of a majority of the delegates in their contest to oppose Governor Curley for a seat in the United States Senate. It is self-evident that the zero hour of the political campaign which will not end for another five months is in the offing. It is also self-evident that politics in Massachusetts is exciting more interest on the part of the voters than ever before. Political history is in the making.

MEMORIAL DAY

Memorial Day is here again. Each year the surviving veterans of the Civil War become fewer and fewer. We pause to honor the valiant heroes who went forth to preserve the unity of the nation. In more recent years we have also remembered those who were ready to sacrifice their very all for the cause of liberty. Although the events of that former struggle are now but little more than history there are many who recall clearly the tragedy of the World War. There is no disagreement that war is a tragedy. There can be no mistaking that love of country and the willingness to preserve it at any cost is fundamental in the hearts of true Americans. Our fallen heroes are worthy of our respect and admiration. Tomorrow as we revere and honor them let us be aware that their efforts were not in vain and that liberty, freedom and the pursuit of happiness are still paramount in this land.

Newton Osteopathic Auxiliary Hold Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Newton Osteopathic Auxiliary of the Women's Association of the Massachusetts Osteopathic Hospital was held on Monday evening, May 25, 1936, at the Abner Wheeler House in Framingham.

At the dinner, preceding the meeting, the President, Mrs. Everett L. Pierce was presented with a bouquet of spring flowers by Mrs. Keene, in behalf of the members of the auxiliary, in appreciation of her work for the organization for the past two years.

Miss Elsie W. Bird of Brookline, President of the Women's Association was the guest of honor. She spoke to the members of the tentative plans for next year, of incorporating the aid of all the auxiliaries in a two year drive for membership and of the plans already started for the celebration of the tenth anniversary of the hospital in 1938.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. Ernst A. Marcoux, 337 Washington St., Newton; Vice-President, Mrs. Clifford Mooney, 69 Highland Ave., Newtonville; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Harry E. Cash, 170 Warren St., Newton Centre; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Herbert Goode, Cabot St., Newtonville; and Treasurer, Mrs. Wye Shaw, 21 Newtonville Ave., Newton.

SCOUT AUXILIARY BRIDGE

The annual bridge party given by the Mother's Auxiliary of the 6th Norumbega Council of Scouts and Cubs was held Wednesday afternoon, May 27th at the new scout headquarters on Court st., Newtonville.

The new building which is to be dedicated formally on June 11th has recently been completed by the scouts and their fathers.

Mrs. Daniel Needham was chairman of the committee which so successfully conducted the annual event. She was assisted by Mrs. Byron Jackson, Mrs. Edgar Burkhardt, Mrs. Llewellyn Huston, Mrs. Howard Thomas, Mrs. Edward Swenson and Mrs. Charles Ross.

The party consisting of thirty tables of bridge was a delightful social affair. Tea was served during the afternoon by Mrs. Fred Eastman, Mrs. Leonard Clinton, Mrs. Steven A. Coombs, Mrs. Geo. E. Ollesen, Mrs. Geo. E. Bell and Mrs. William Russell.

ANNUAL SPRING PARTY

On Friday evening, May 22nd, the pupils of Miss Ellis's School, 139 Summer st., Newton Centre, gave their annual spring party which was enthusiastically attended by parents and friends.

Major Goes and his amateurs presented a most interesting program cleverly exhibiting some of the work covered by the third, fourth and fifth grades since Christmas.

The lower grades offered humorous facts about health in their "Turnabout" play while the kindergarten exhibited reading and memory requirements gained through the premer work during the winter.

French, a new department this year, was given in the form of a play which surprised and pleased every one.

Singing and dancing by the different grades made up the rest of the entertainment with the school band as the grand finale.

NEWELL CLUB

At the annual meeting of the Newell Club which was held at the home of Mrs. Ellison G. Day, 90 Hull st., Newtonville, the members elected for office for the ensuing year were: president, Mrs. T. U. Cleveland; vice-president, Mrs. Richard Brown; secretary, Mrs. Charles J. Lawson; treasurer, Mrs. Leonard H. Abbott; chairman of program, Mrs. Donald Gibbs; chairman of ways and means, Mrs. G. R. Lehrer.

Mother's Rest Association

The officers and board of the Mothers Rest Asso. will be at home at the Rest, Oak Hill Village, on Tuesday, June 2nd, from 3:00 to 6:00. There will be music from 4:00 to 4:30. The past Presidents and the present President will pour. Members and all friends interested in the association are invited.

The simultaneous unveiling in the Hall of Fame, on May 28th, of the busts of Simon Newcomb and William Penn is indirectly connected with the Newtons.

Mrs. John F. Capron, a past president of the Newton Centre Women's Club, and Mrs. Claire H. Fisk, widow of the late Major Asa F. Fisk, U. S. A., of Montana and California, are nieces, now residing in Newton Centre, of Simon Newcomb. Another niece is Miss A. May Hassler of West Newton and New York City. Miss Hassler and Mrs. Fisk were introduced to Society by the late Mrs. Simon Newcomb, in Washington, the site of the Newcomb home.

Simon Newcomb, the greatest astronomer of the past century, is said to have had conferred upon him, by crowned heads, more European honors than any other American.

At the meeting held Tuesday afternoon, May 26th, at the Beacon School in Wellesley Hills to admit to the Beacon Circle of Honor the men and women announced earlier in the season, Irving O. Palmer of Newton was presented with the gold emblem of the Circle, and the following citation was read:

Irving O. Palmer—You who were so greatly admired and respected in your long public school career have been for a short post-graduate course associated with what you term an "Independent School." In the years in which you served, first as Teacher, then as Organizer and Principal of the Newton Technical High School, and later as Principal of the Newton High School, your achievements and the love which you evoked in your students were equalled only by your modesty. Here we have learned to hail you, as did all the others, and today, to show our affection and esteem, we wish to pin this emblem upon you, with the hope that you may wear it for years to come, so that Beacon boys may have, here in their midst, an active member of the Circle of Honor.

Other recipients of the honor were Ralph Adams Cram, Mrs. Margaret DeLand, Dr. William O. Faxon, William Gillette, Reverend Edgar J. Helms, Bliss Perry, Elihu Root, Mrs. Lucy Tappan Scott, Horace D. Taft and Richard Welling. With the consent of Mrs. Rogers, a tribute was paid to Will Rogers.

The commencement season at hand brings the graduation of Newton students from the Vesper George School of Art. Miss Julia Whitten of Owaisa, rd., Waban, received a diploma for having completed the three year course in commercial design. She also received mention for progress, and Miss Virginia Crane of Arlington st., Newton, received a diploma for having completed the three year course in costume design. Miss Pearl Merriam of Canterbury rd., Newton Highlands, was awarded a certificate for the completion of the two-year course in commercial design and Miss Elizabeth Bunker of Grove st., Auburndale, was awarded a certificate for the two year course in costume design.

Bernard Gorfinkle, well-known Newton lawyer, has been promoted from major to lieutenant-colonel in the United States army reserves. He served as judge advocate with the Yankee division in France. On the Mexican border he served as a sergeant and was promoted to second lieutenant of cavalry after the first Plattsburg camp. He participated in seven major battles and was wounded at Verdun in 1918. He has a number of decorations and citations for bravery including the Belgian Legion of Honor. After the Armistice he was assigned to the Peace Commission at Paris and acted as secretary of the Supreme Economic Council representing the United States in Allied and German conferences. He is an organizer and officer of the Newton Civic Society, Chestnut Hill Improvement Society and a member of many veteran, fraternal, legal and charitable organizations. He was appointed by Mayor Weeks as a member of the Newton License Commission from which he resigned last year.

The first postal card to go through the mails is the property of Frank H. Burt, a former Newton resident for many years who is now living with his son in Arlington. The card, lost to sight for many years, was found recently and had its first public exhibition at a meeting of the Springfield Stamp Club last week. Mr. Burt told the history of the card which was sent to his father, Henry M. Burt, on May 12, 1873. The card was printed by the Morgan Envelope Company of Springfield for the government with three million being shipped to various postoffices throughout the country. The card bears the message "This is the first postal card issued and sent through the United States mail." Mr. Henry Burt was the founder and publisher of the New England Home-stead then located in Springfield. He later became the owner of the Newton Graphic and then founded "Among the Clouds," a summer newspaper printed on Mt. Washington. Mr. Frank Burt was associated with his father in Newton and later became a court reporter. Some months ago in moving his effects from Newton to Arlington he came across the postal card among autographed letters and other papers. Although he had seen the card a few times he had not known what had become of it at the time of his father's death in 1899.

Another event of interest to Newton residents of long standing is the recent sale of the familiar old "Dudley Estate" at the corner of Parker st. and Ridge ave., Newton Centre. The large mid-Victorian residence there was erected by the grandfather of John E. Dudley, Jr., of Madison, Wisconsin. Through inheritance, title to the property has passed to two other members of the family without a conveyance during a period of nearly a century. Incidentally the sale was recorded through the office of Alvord Brothers which is one of the oldest of real estate firms in Newton.

Mayor Childs Speaks

The High School Memorial Day program, at a student assembly on May 27, was opened by the call to colors, the flag salute, and the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner." Mayor Edwin O. Childs, the speaker, began with a few informal remarks. In his talk, he told how Memorial Day was saved from becoming just another national festive holiday, and is now a National Holy Day in which heroes of all wars are honored. He pointed out that we should not only look into the past to honor the dead; we should also look forward. It is great not only to die for one's country, but also to live for it and to serve. Service to one's country is service to humanity, which, in turn, is service to God. He said further, that the country is best served by upholding its institutions, the home, the school, the government and the church; and in following the watchwords, "Fidelity" and "Service."

We today shall set as fine an example as those who have gone before. The assembly closed with a silent tribute to the soldiers during the sounding of Taps.

Flower Show

Newton High School's first annual flower show was held in the school library on Wednesday, May 27. Pupils and teachers exhibited in the various classes and prize ribbons were awarded. Many people were attracted to the show, which was held under the direction of a faculty committee: Miss Gladys Bigelow, Mrs. Kate Cornell, Miss Ethel Ham, Miss H. Anna Kennedy, and Miss Jeannie Kenrick. Judges were Mrs. Ernest J. Weaver of Newton Highlands and Mrs. Frank A. Day of Newton Corner. Winners in Class I, garden flowers arranged by pupils, were Audrey Stone before, first; Frances Creamer, second; Rhoda White, third; and Priscilla Hall, honorable mention. In Class II, wild flowers arranged by pupils, winners were Ruth Moulton, first; Rhoda White, second; and Rhoda White, third. Winners in Class III, garden flowers arranged by teachers, first prize was a draw won by Miss Irene H. North and Miss Frances Thumlin. Miss Ruth Wise was awarded second prize, and Miss Ethel Ham the third. Honorable mentions were awarded Miss Evelyn Hammond, Miss Eleanor Cox, Miss Gertrude Robinson, and Mr. Horace Kidger.

Seniors

Senior Talent night, the first event in the performance of its kind at Newton High School, brought out a large group of the teachers and most of this year's graduating class. After a diversified program of music and skits presented by the seniors, the evening's party was continued in the school gymnasium, where caterers served an elaborate buffet supper.

Newton Republican, June 2, 1877

As J. F. Woodford's family were driving along Washington st. near Ireland's greenhouse on Monday morning the horse took fright, ran against a lamp-post and threw Miss Woodford out. She was dragged some distance, bruising her head and back. It is a wonder she was not killed. Dr. Scales attended her.

A large meeting of reformed men was held on Monday evening at the Auburndale M. E. Church for the purpose of listening to testimonies of reformed men and others interested in temperance work.

Hose Company 6 of Newton Lower Falls participated in the parade on Memorial Day. The members of the company were for the first time their new and handsome uniforms recently presented to them by the mill owners and store keepers of Lower Falls.

A public meeting of the Eliot Memorial Association was held in Eliot Hall on Wednesday evening. William Carver Bates, president of the association, presided. Many members of the City Government were present. A select choir of ladies and gentlemen under direction of George S. Trowbridge sang "Mighty Jehovah." Rev. George Hosmer delivered a very able address on John Eliot. Mr. Bates introduced Levi Wade, Newton representative in the Legislature. He discussed the utilitarian spirit of the age and said that times are so practical that the sublime is almost lost sight of. He said we will be better men and women when we see the monument which surely will be erected in Nonantum Valley to the memory of John Eliot.

Newton Graphic, May 29, 1886

Horace Crocker of this city won the tricycle medal at the Corey Hill climbing contest on Thursday afternoon. His time was 4 minutes, 14 1/2 seconds.

John Cahill, a boy employed by A. L. Rhynd the shoe dealer, was run over Tuesday at the corner of Centre and Elmwood sts. by a carriage driven by two young ladies. It was raining and the boy was running. The ladies stopped and asked the boy if he was hurt. In his excitement he said he was not. He afterwards found that the horse had stepped on his knee and an arm, inflicting some painful bruises.

Last Saturday as W. L. Ripley was driving his carriage the horse suddenly started off and ran down Centre st. to Bellevue st. where it turned a sharp corner, upsetting the carriage and throwing Mrs. Ripley out. The horse freed itself from the wreck and ran down Centre st. until it was caught near the Nonantum stables. Mrs. Ripley was badly cut about the head, but she fortunately escaped dangerous injuries.

The fire in the Brighton cattle sheds last Saturday morning called out Engine 1 company of Newton and the men worked from 1 a. m. to 10 o'clock. The new horses acted splendidly and as it was their first real work, the fire committee feel they have reason to be satisfied with them.

Lawn tennis seems to be growing in popularity as two new courts have been recently laid out; the last on Webster st., West Newton, by Messrs. Clinton Eddy and Crockett.

The police court has 12 cases before it the past week; 5 for intoxication, 5 for assault and battery, in two of which state eggs figured; and two boys arrested for playing ball on Sunday.

The photograph of the High School Military Battalion taken last Tuesday is out. It is a fair picture of the High School and the street, but nothing less than a powerful magnifying glass should be used in looking at the picture of the battalion itself.

A valuable horse owned by Harris & Company express at Newton Highlands died this week from overfeed of grain. He broke loose from his stall during the night and reached the feed bin.

At the meeting of the Common Council on Monday evening there was some discussion over the petition of the barbers in regard to Sunday closing. Councilman Kennedy said it is the function of the executive officer of the city to see that the law is enforced. Mr. Kennedy said that a majority of the shops want to close, but cannot unless all the shops close. The barbers in Newton, Newtonville and West Newton want to close, but those in other parts of the city do not.

C. F. Eddy Company sent 19 teams to the work horse parade in Boston on May 29, including three double teams. The double teams all brought back blue ribbons, as did three of the singles. Three other single teams got red ribbons.

Seventy-six members of Charles Ward Post, G. A. R. attended the service at St. John's Church last Sunday. The church was artistically decorated for the occasion and Rev. Richard T. Loring made a very fine address.

Powers' Paragraphs

When the people and officials of Waltham show some common sense and abolish the stentorian fire signal used in that city, it is more than probable there will be a very appreciable decrease of the incendiary fires and false alarms which have been quite numerous there.

The proposal to add to the activities of Newton High School the instruction of pupils in the operation of automobiles will meet with varied reactions among Newton people. Some will agree that any instructions which will tend to train boys and girls to drive automobiles with regard for the safety of themselves and others is worth while. Others will contend that the public schools have progressed sufficiently far in a paternalistic trend without invading further fields heretofore considered as not being public functions. According to a report from Penn State College, a course in the operation of automobiles has been conducted at that institution with much success. If the manner in which some high school pupils in Newton operate cars is taken into consideration, the growing generation in this city could well receive proper instruction regarding safe driving and courtesy toward other motorists. The same can be said of many adult drivers in this city.

Lack of consideration for others, selfishness and plain cussedness—are probably more evidenced by persons in the way they operate automobiles than in any other of their acts. Mean dispositions persons will take liberties while driving cars that they would not dare do otherwise. If men and women of certain types intended on the rights of their fellows while afoot, as they do while driving cars, they would be apt to receive severe thrashings from some of those whose safety they jeopardize. It is not lack of skill that causes individuals to drive cars recklessly, to disregard automobile laws. It is lack of character, either inherent or acquired. And classes in correct operation of automobiles, whether conducted by public or private schools, will not cause selfish, thoughtless or inconsiderate persons to drive safely and courteously. They will help by properly teaching to drive young folks who at heart are decent, but who might get wrong conceptions of driving if taught by an instructor who himself might be of an inconsiderate type. The only way to make some motorists obey laws and have regard for highway safety is to prosecute them. Until "fixing" is stopped or largely lessened, reckless driving on highways will continue and the casualties in this country will increase.

One way in which school officials and pupils in Newton can co-operate is to stop the practice of some high school pupils of driving cars to and from school with eight or more boys and girls crowded in a small car. We have also received complaints of high school pupils driving cars at

Three young toughs who recently robbed a theatre in Boston were sentenced this week to serve from 12 to 15 years in prison. Another youth, who recently made an unsuccessful attempt to rob a theatre, using an imitation revolver, was sent to prison for 20 years. We don't believe such young criminals should be coddled. But, compare the long sentences they received with the one year terms given recently to men of mature age, whose dishonesty helped to wreck banks in this state. Thousands of persons of humble or moderate means had their savings in these banks and suffered as a result. And some officials of these banks were not even indicted. They had powerful political friends; suave statesmen who are still public idols. Possibly some day the public will get wise. But, at present the masses do not show much intelligence.

If many of the former service men and women who will receive bonus payments next month do not have the money taken away from them by one method or another, it will not be the fault of a lot of slick Alecks who already are endeavoring to induce these prospects to invest or spend the money they are to receive. Lists of those who are to receive this compensation have been prepared and are being offered for sale to anyone who will purchase them.

We wish the best of luck to "Queen Mary" of the Cunard Line, now making its maiden trip across the Atlantic. This oldest of Transatlantic steamship companies has a long and honorable record and deserves success in its newest effort to maintain its prestige.

For the past couple of summers the Charles River between Newton Lower Falls and Waltham has been in a disgraceful condition because of low water levels. What had been a beautiful stretch of water for a distance of several miles was made unsightly and unhealthy. It has been alleged that persons who some years ago acquired control of the mill properties at Waltham and their accompanying water rights, have been responsible for the despoliation of the river by deliberate ly causing water to be drawn from the basin above the Waltham dams. It has also been alleged that the reason for their action was to coerce the State into purchasing water rights. Last year the Legislature did appropriate money for such a purchase, but legal complications have delayed action. We believe that Waltham and Newton officials have been too complacent regarding the nuisance created by the low water in the river. The militant devotees of canoeing who now have started a campaign to correct the condition deserve co-operation from Newton and Waltham residents.

Another Noise Question

If anybody can suggest a different method of procedure I shall gladly follow it. Meanwhile it is a problem. Above the front gate of my home is a lattice arrangement for rambling roses. Poetically called a bower, I believe. The vines have many leaves and these provide shelter for a nest of robins. Surprising isn't it that the birds should select so conspicuous, though perfectly secure a spot. Well, they're there, and from the upper windows of the house one may watch the "parents" come and go in their worm-gathering flights. What disturbs the humans who know of the nest is the fear they may do something the robins won't like. Every one who passes through the gate is warned to close it softly. It would never do to wake the babies up if they happened to be taking a nap.

Good Spanking Needed

The record for impudent children in Newton is held by a 12-year-old Ward 7 girl who rides a bicycle on the sidewalk and shouts for pedestrians to clear out of the way. Last week she ran down one of the kindest and best known women of Newton. Did the saucy brat apologize? She did not.

"Don't you know you shouldn't ride on the sidewalk?" the woman asked, not too sharply. Although she had received some slight abrasions, she did not lose her dignity.

"You got in my way, it's your fault," snapped the insolent elf.

The woman did not continue the conversation. She knew it was hopeless. Furthermore, she was probably afraid that the child might have her arrested for disturbing the peace or something.

It Happened in Newton

Grief burdened her little heart as she trotted to the kindergarten at the Underwood School. It was after 8:30, not more than a few seconds or so past the hour of beginning the morning session. By the time she reached the traffic policeman on Eldredge st. there was no holding back the tears. Down they fell, hot and numerous.

"My goodness, dearie," the sympathetic cop began soothingly. "What's happened?"

"I'm late for school," came the reply, followed by another freshet of weeps."

"Never mind, now," and the blue-coat had his big hand on her shoulder. "You run right along. I think the school clock is slow this morning."

Comforted with the hope his guess would prove true the little lady brightened as she hurried on.

When Spurs Clash

Reinamtion has been displayed by some of the sporting fraternity of Massachusetts in the ennobling and egrossing sport of cock-fighting. At present, due to the vigilance of the State Police, the matches are conducted in a surreptitious manner or with as much surreption as is possible when promoters seek to attract hundreds of paid spectators and at the same time keep the show a secret. Sunday seems to be an ideal day and a remote field or woodland, accessible by good roads, a perfect location.

It is only when law enforcement officers make a spectacular raid and the details are set forth, with illustrations, in the daily newspapers that the public learns of it. The surprising thing is that in all these years no effort has been made to place these inspiring combats on a legal if not high and lofty plane. Action by the Legislature will do possibly next year we may find that the Great and General Court has been asked to give the roosters the same protection as the dogs and horses.

The Campaign Is On

Political hostilities are not as furious as they are certain to become between now and Nov. 2d. Yet there are some pretty wild goings on at present and Election Day still five months away. I have listened to some fiery speeches lately but none approached that of an orator who called a candidate for high office "a thief, blackguard and a liar."

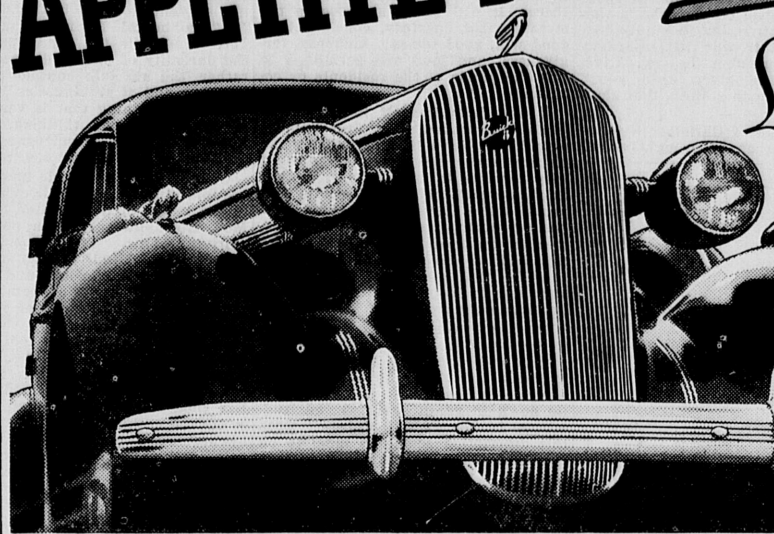

In a friendly attempt to counsel restraint and moderation, I said to the speaker after he had left the platform, "Seems to me it wasn't necessary for you to call him those names."

"Well," he replied, "I didn't intend to build him up and if I have I'm sorry."

"Watch Your Steppers"

Thugs Snatch Bags of Newton Women

As Mrs. Clifford Pratt and her daughter Virginia of 155 Waverley ave., Newton were walking along Church st. near Park st. at 10:30 Monday night, two youths approached, grabbed handbags from each of the women, and jumping into a car parked nearby, speeded down Park st. toward Newton Corner. Police headquarters was notified and a broadcast sent out over the police radio. Shortly afterward Watertown police sighted a car answering the description of that used by the brave bandits on Arsenal st. in that town. They chased the car for about a mile and a half toward Bemis, firing several shots after it, but the pursued made a get-away.

Graduation At The Misses Allen School

The Misses Allen School held its graduation this morning, Friday, May 29, with parents, alumnae, and friends of the school present. Miss Lucy Ellis Allen, the principal, gave a brief address, reviewing the work of the school and its high ideals, speaking of the high rank of the Alumnae in College, higher institutions and varied activities throughout the country and all parts of the world. The school has always been international, as was her father's school.

Rev. Nathaniel Pratt of New York and Brookline, gave the graduation address, which was received with appreciation.

The Glee Club sang delightful selections under the guidance of Mrs. Dorothy Fairbanks Baesler, who also sang solos herself. After a piano selection by Miss Elizabeth Siedoff of Boston, Miss Allen awarded the diplomas to the graduates, who expect to enter various colleges.

A reception given the seniors and their friends followed, during which Miss Allen, with an exhibition of the art work conducted by Mrs. Philip Morehouse.

A class luncheon was given on Monday and a picnic for the school on Wednesday of this week.

OUR LADY'S ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Approximately four hundred Alumni and their friends attended the first Annual Communion breakfast held Sunday, May 24th. There was interesting program of speeches and music. Due to absence of Prof. Mercier of Harvard, who was out of town, the speaker was Rev. Michael Harding, Professor of Philosophy at Boston College.

A meeting of the Francis Thompson Literary Circle will be held on Monday evening, June 1st, at the home of Edward Gough, Silver Lake ave., Newton. There will be a discussion of the life and works of the English writer, Willa Cather. A paper will be read by Miss Helen Garry.

Plans for an Alumni Baseball team are under way, and the Athletic Club hopes to publish an attractive schedule soon. John Murphy is heading this activity.

Rotary Club

The Newton Rotary Club paid its annual visit to the Newton-Andover Theological Seminary last Monday and thoroughly enjoyed the hospitality of that institution on the hill in Newton Centre. President Herrick welcomed the club as a help in reducing the isolation of any academic institution from its own community. After the luncheon President Herrick introduced a student quartet which gave three numbers to the great pleasure of the Rotarians. Then, he presented the only genuine American in the Seminary Mr. Wilkin Willis a full blooded Choctaw Indian. Mr. Willis greeted the club in sign language, which he then interpreted, sang an Indian hymn, and explained something of his own background. Clothed in full native costume from moccasins to headdress, he afforded an interesting glimpse of another type of civilization.

The speaker was Rev. Samuel L. Lindsay, of Brookline, who talked on "Imagination." Dr. Lindsay pointed out that a good imagination leads to success while an impoverished one produces an impoverished life. Imagination may be used in two ways; as a child uses it to create an unreal world or as an adult employs it to improve the real world. Some adults, however, adopt the child's technique and utilize imagination to create their own world of unreality into which they retire when they are confronted with a difficult problem. By imagination work is transformed into pleasure; without imagination it resolves itself into drudgery.

Imagination is accepted as a fundamental in the arts; but it is an essential in surgery, in engineering, in religion—in short, in every field of life. Only men of imagination can solve the problems of the world. In human relations, it is valuable through enabling one to understand his neighbors and his family by "putting himself in their places" as well as by idealizing them. It also serves to bring brightness into the lives of others and suggest ways of helping them out.

Nicola Cafferelli of 158 Adams st., Nonantum, fell down a flight of stairs at his home on Monday afternoon and received a fracture of his nose. He was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

NEWTON SMITH CLUB PICNIC

The Newton Smith College Club had a very jolly picnic Tuesday, May 26th, in the gardens at the home of Mrs. John W. Cooke in Newton Centre. At a short business meeting which followed the supper the nominating committee headed by Mrs. Clifford E. James of West Newton and including Miss Catherine Bolster of West Newton, Miss Margaret Adams of Newton Centre, Mrs. F. Leslie Ford of Auburndale, and Mrs. R. R. Cowan of Waban, presented a slate of officers all of whom were elected for the coming year. The president will be Mrs. John N. Eaton of West Newton; the vice-presidents Mrs. R. H. Lee of Newton, Mrs. Amos Wilder of Newton Centre, and Mrs. Raymond D. Hunting of Newtonville; the corresponding secretary will be Miss Margaret Adams of Newton Centre, the recording secretary Mrs. Osborne E. Brown of Waban, and the treasurer, Mrs. Elbridge A. Minard of Auburndale.

After the officers had been elected the group of ninety who had gathered for chowder and ice-cream were entertained by members of the English Folk Dance Group of Boston led by Miss Chapin. The committee in charge of the picnic was headed by Mrs. William W. Newton of Newton who was ably assisted by Mrs. Eliot Rogers of Newton Centre, Mrs. R. H. Lee of Newton, Mrs. John N. Eaton of West Newton, Miss Katherine Irwin of Newtonville, Miss Eleanor Hutchinson of Newton Highlands, Mrs. John W. Cooke of Newton Centre, and Mrs. F. Britain Kennedy of Waban.

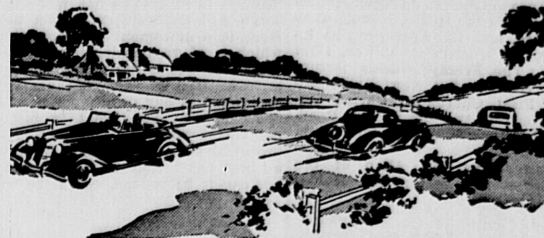

JUNIOR MOTHER'S REST CLUB

Mrs. William C. Blackett was the hostess at the summer home of her mother, Mrs. Arthur C. Badger, at Sandy Cove, Cohasset, on Wednesday, May 27th for the annual meeting of the Junior Mother's Rest Club. The luncheon was served by the activities committee, Mrs. Walter L. McGill, chairman, and her committee, Mrs. Howard H. Cooley, Mrs. David W. Tibbott, Mrs. William C. Blackett and Mrs. Gordon B. Wilkes. Mrs. Willis B. Clough, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the slate of officers to be elected, and Mrs. Carl H. Cummings as vice-president, Mrs. Charles E. Bailey as corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Tressler Callahan as treasurer will take up their duties in the fall with Mrs. Douglass B. Francis, president and Mrs. Clive W. Lacey, recording secretary. Mrs. George W. Pratt, chairman and her sewing committee, Mrs. Norman Alford, Mrs. Glen W. Lawrence, Mrs. William C. Breed, and Mrs. Irving D. Dierdorff displayed one of the twelve layettes made by the club during the winter for the Mother's Rest Association.

W. C. T. U.

The annual meeting of the West Newton W. C. T. U. will be held next Monday evening, June 1st, at the home of Mrs. Lella M. Clapp, 14 Camden rd., Auburndale. The annual reports will be read and there will be election of officers. Mrs. Edith Kimball will be the assisting hostess.

Newtonians Write Ads, May Win Car

The Nash dealers here in Newton are participating in an invitation to the public to write prize-winning advertising about Nash and LaFayette automobiles. An amazing number of these amateur write-ups have been received at the Newton Nash headquarters, and Mr. August Osterlund, Proprietor, says some are so good they certainly should result in a lot of prize money being distributed right here in the Newtons.

This getting car owners to write to car dealers about the dealer's own product is certainly the reverse of custom and surely is a novel method to help motorists to become more receptively conscious of the worth of Nash and LaFayette motor cars.

One contestant sent the following as his offering: "Rated High in Your Neighborhood." Another became poetic with his "Alas, you're not my lucky star, but you sure are a whiz of a car." A third wrote, "Drive a Nash and Be Just a Step Ahead of the Other Fellow," and this is also good, "Where Show Windows, Show Wonders."

The contest does not close until the middle of June. Prizes include a new LaFayette sedan, a thousand dollars and a variety of other money and merchandise awards. August Osterlund, Inc., at 724 Beacon st., Newton Centre, is supplying information, helpful to those trying for the prizes.

Dog In Auto Causes Crash

As Mrs. Anna M. Williams of 23 Fair Oaks ave., Newtonville was driving her car on Crafts st. near Lincolnwood ave. on Monday evening her pet dog which was in the car, jumped on her shoulder. She lost control of the auto and it hit a parked car owned by Lawrence Brown of Melville ave., Newtonville. A piece of broken glass caused a cut on Mrs. Williams' forehead.

HIGH SCHOOL WOMEN'S CLUB

Attended by nearly one hundred members the annual spring dinner and business meeting of the Newton High School Women's Club was held Tuesday, May 26, at the Charles River Country Club. The following officers were elected:

President, M. Roberta Miller, Newton High School; vice president, Cora E. Riley, Newton High School; secretary, Patricia Smith, John W. Weeks; treasurer, Azores Peoples, F. A. Day. Executive Board (the above officers and): Virginia F. Altieri, Bigelow; Helen S. Spellman, F. A. Day; Hilda A. Martinson, Levi F. Warren, Margaret K. McLaughlin, John W. Weeks; Elizabeth L. Mayo, N. H. S.; Frances Thumlin, N. H. S.; Evelyn M. Hammond, N. H. S. Member of Benefit Committee, Abbie E. Andrew, John W. Weeks.

The president, Miss M. Roberta Miller, introduced Miss Frances F. Habern, a representative of the Credit Union League of Massachusetts, who brought before us the purposes of the union. Miss Habern pointed out that its chief interest is the promotion of thrift among the people and the elimination of usury.

Reports on the activities of the state-wide committees were given by Ruth Twiss, Priscilla Aurelio, Hazel Seale, and Annis Sturges.

About 100 members were present.

The GRAPHIC?

Look through the columns of this or any issue. You will see among the advertisers the names of substantial local merchants and institutions, who have something to sell or services to offer. You will find the advertisements of firms from out-of-town, whose names are familiar to you because of their record of reliability and their reputation. Here also are National advertisers whom you recognize as leaders in their fields, whose advertising departments or agencies analyze conditions carefully in order that they may select the media from which they will receive the greatest return for the advertising dollar.

You will see much legal advertising sent to the GRAPHIC by the courts, banks, insurance companies and lawyers. On the classified page you will find advertisements from persons who crave immediate action—and get it—because the pulling power of the GRAPHIC'S classified section is second to no other weekly newspaper.

WHY Do They Use
The GRAPHIC?

Because they want results. Because they know, from investigation, the exact circulation of the GRAPHIC and the quality of its circulation. They know the GRAPHIC subscription figures are accessible to any advertiser for verification and that its newsstand sales can be definitely verified.

They know, too, that the GRAPHIC is an invited guest in the home into which it enters, it has been purchased on the newsstand or subscribed to and delivered through the mails. Only by these two methods does the GRAPHIC enter a home. Hence it commands reader attention, it has been paid for—to be read!

WHO Reads The GRAPHIC?

The residents of Newton, who take a keen interest in local affairs, and who derive a deep satisfaction in being residents of Newton. They are alert to conditions as they exist in their home city. Their business world is perhaps elsewhere, but Newton is their home. As a rule GRAPHIC subscribers own their homes, they pay income taxes, property and personal taxes and contribute to the welfare of their community. The GRAPHIC is indispensable to them as is their daily metropolitan paper. In short they are the Babbitts, the substantial citizens. They are the consumers of advertised goods, the users of advertised services. They have what every advertiser seeks, PURCHASING POWER. They are the regular readers of the GRAPHIC.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON WINNER IN GREAT STATE MEET

Led by Warren Wittens, a double winner in the hurdles and broad jump, and Paul Forte, the hero of a record-breaking dash final, the Newton High track team continued its parade of interscholastic championships by winning the state meet last Saturday at Newtonville. With 30½ points, Don Enoch's brilliant team had a six-point margin over Boston English, while Everett, last year's champion, showed with 12½ points.

Newton's cup of joy was slightly embittered when the meet referee, Prof. George Owen, refused to allow new records in the dash and the low hurdles on the ground that a favoring wind was blowing. Warren Wittens had run the hurdles in 13.7, clipping three-tenths of a second from the record he established last year, and Paul Forte had run away from the field in the century, making the amazing time of 9.9 seconds.

Newton's other firsts were collected by Nate Heard, who boosted the shot 48 ft. 9¼ in., the relay team, and Warren Wittens, who defended his title in the broad jump with a leap of 21 ft. 7 in. Elmer Ross trailed Ken Leahy of Everett in the fastest of the 440 trials, outrunning Jack Abels of Brookline, and placing second in the event. Frank Hines, a couple of strides back of the flying Forte in the dash final, was picked third, and Mark Messier added half a point with a fourth-place tie in the high jump.

The highlight of the Class A meet, outside the performances of Wittens and Forte, was a record-breaking half-mile, with Harlan Woods of Malden defeating the great Frank Mascianica of Everett in 2m. 0.5s. Newton's relay team defeated Brookline in a dual half-mile in the fastest time of the day. Paul Forte, Jerry Allen, Bud Muther and Warren Wittens brought Newton an easy victory in 1m. 33.6s., with Wittens stretching the lead at the finish to thirty yards.

The pronouncement of Prof. Owen which voided the splendid records of Forte and Wittens was as follows: "The tendency today is to favor the present-day athlete in record-breaking performances, but believe we should also protect the athlete of the past and of the future. I sincerely believed that there was a favoring wind in the dashes and the hurdles and accordingly, I refused to allow records in these events." At the time when Forte roared up the stretch yards ahead of the other sprinters, there was not enough wind to move the flag more than three feet from the field flagpole, but conditions were certainly more favorable than otherwise. The only other athlete to run better than 10 seconds even in a high school century in the state in late years was Bob Ewing, Newton High flash of 1929, who hit 9.9 in a dual meet with Milton Academy at Milton. Wittens was pushed by Robin Hartman of Brookline through the first ninety yards of the hurdles, but Hartman stumbled over the third flight from home as the Newton ace ran his fastest championship hurdle race.

MERCHANT, WENTWORTH
IN SCHOOL GOLF

The Newton High golfers defeated Lexington High, 5½-3½, Monday at Commonwealth, turning the tables on the G. B. I. S. League leaders, who had beaten them earlier in the season. Roy Merchant, Newton's captain, turned in a low card of 72, two strokes over par, and Gordon Wentworth took a 77. A sad relapse came over the team during the other two matches of the week, as Newton lost to Watertown, 7½-1½, at Oakley, then to Brookline at the Brookline municipal course by 6-3.

Although they are definitely out of the race for the Greater Boston title, Newton has a chance for individual recognition in the state interscholastic tourney which opens today at Blue Hill. Roy Merchant and Gordon Wentworth are the Newton entries. Merchant toured the Blue Hill layout, a par 71, in 77 strokes Wednesday.

Mrs. Whittemore State Finalist

Mrs. Brad Whittemore, the former Dorothy Hunter, reached the final round of the W. G. A. State championship at Salem Country Club yesterday by defeating Mrs. Ian Drysdale of Salem, 6 and 4. The former Newton High girl will meet Priscilla Dennett of the Country Club in the final match today. Miss Dennett has given Mrs. Whittemore her only defeats this season, a nineteen-hole match at Brae Burn and a 3 and 1 at the Country Club.

In yesterday's play, Mrs. Whittemore was out in 39, Miss Dennett in 43. Each won her match at the fourteenth hole. Mrs. Whittemore defeated Miss Dennett the last time they met in championship play, in a semi-final of the state junior girls' championship in 1929. Even now they are a decidedly youthful pair to meet in the finals, Miss Dennett at 21 and Mrs. Whittemore only a year older.

Must Pay For Lost
Library Books

Robert Gutzler, 23, of 190 Lowell ave., Newtonville, was arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday charged with larceny of some books he had borrowed from the Newton Free Library and did not return. Upon his agreement to make restitution to the library to the amount of $11.18, Judge Weston placed the case on file. The library has been losing many books because of persons who took them out not bringing them back. Special Officer Charles Feeley of the Newton police has been co-operating with library officials on this matter and other prosecutions may follow.

WALTHAM BEATS
NEWTON NINE 9 TO 2

After the rain clouds had lifted to allow Newton and Waltham to play ball Wednesday at Newtonville, the invaders proceeded to hammer out a 9-2 victory. Eddie Castoldi and Jim Tornabene did the pitching for Newton, and a left-handed dealer named Stevens, who had been knocked off the mound in an earlier game with Newton this season, was the Watchmakers pitcher. Castoldi was relieved by Tornabene in the second inning, after he had nursed two Waltham runs across the plate with an assortment of six walks and two hits.

Tornabene was found for three runs in the third inning on timely walks and hits. Lennie LeSourd singled, scoring two runs for Newton in the fifth, and for two innings the Jones team was in the ball game. John Krol, who had six putouts in the field, also had three hits, two of them three-baggers in the eighth and ninth, accounting for four runs more. Stevens struck out eight and gave six hits and one base on balls. Newton pitchers fanned seven, walked ten and gave ten hits.

Independents Win Two

The Newton Independents, doing double duty in the Newton-Twi-League and the Twin-County League, are on top in the latter circuit, having beaten the Bemis Cardinals 4-2 Monday and the Natick Cubs 5-4 last night. Joe Green pitched the Bemis game, and a scratch hit by Pete Morrison in the eighth brought home the winning runs. Herb Berry's home run and Penny DeMille's pay triple in the sixth tied the score, and Morrison's drive to shortstop with the bases loaded scored the third and fourth runs.

Newton trailed the Natick Cubs 4-2 until the sixth. Jeff Jones doubled to score Berry, who had walked. Phil Andres and Pete Morrison also doubled to give Newton a 5-4 margin. Darkness forced a halt after the sixth. The Independents' first runs came when Berry singled with the bases filled. Bev Wilson pitched his second victory over the Cubs, and Ferguson, Andres and Jones each got two hits. Next Tuesday the Independents play the Wellesley Town Team at Wellesley Hills field. Wednesday they have a Twi-League engagement with the Y. M. C. A. then meet the Needham club Thursday at Newtonville in a Twin-County game.

NEWTON TWI LEAGUE

At a meeting of the Newton Twi-League held in the Newton Centre Recreation Building Tuesday night, May 26, the eligibility rules were adopted and players' lists for the majority of teams were accepted.

This year with the exception of the Y. M. C. A., which is confined to its membership of June 1st, and the West Newton Giants who are allowed to use two outside players—Taylor and Walker, the teams will have to confine themselves to residents of the City and a $5.00 fine will be imposed for any infraction of this rule.

The Cubs, who have played at Cabot Park for several years have changed their home grounds to West Newton Common and will play there Wednesday night.

Over the protest of the majority of teams of the senior circuit the Garden City A. are to be given a chance to compete in that circuit and see if they measure up to the other teams.

The schedule for the week of June 2nd follows:

Tuesday
Y. M. C. A. vs Our Lady's Alumni at Cabot.
Auburndale B. B. C. vs City Club at Auburndale.
Garden City A. C. vs Cubs at Victory.

Wednesday
Our Lady's Alumni vs Garden City A. C. at Cabot.
Independents vs Y. M. C. A. at High School.
Cubs vs West Newton Giants at West Newton (John W. Weeks).

Thursday
West Newton Giants vs Auburndale B. B. C. at West Newton (J. W. W.).

The schedule for the Junior Circuit—

Monday
Cabot Associates vs Sacred Heart at Cabot.
Nonantum Boys Club vs Newton Ramblers at Victory.

Tuesday
Sacred Heart vs Cabot Associates at Thompsonville.

Wednesday
Centre A. C. vs Nonantum Pals at Highlands.

Firemen Fail To Heart Victim

The crew of Ladder 2 of the Newton Fire Department tried without success on Thursday afternoon to revive Miss Florence Jones, 57, of 5 Hammond street, Chestnut Hill, who died of a heart attack. The woman collapsed about 3:30 and a call was sent from her home to the fire department in the hope that an inhalator might revive the woman. For over half an hour the firemen tried to resuscitate Miss Jones and then she was pronounced dead by a physician.

PAUL RICH STATE
SINGLES FINALIST

Paul Rich, number one player on the Newton High tennis team, was defeated in the final round of the state interscholastic tournament Tuesday at Brae Burn by John Power of Worcester North High. Power lost only one set in four, winning 6-3, 2-6, 6-0, 6-2. The final set was delayed ten minutes while Power recovered from a cramped leg muscle.

The Worcester champion reached the final bracket by defeating Joseph Harris of Malden, seeded ninth, by 7-5, 8-6. Rich won from John Scully of Winchester High 6-1, 7-5, 6-3 in the other semi-final, reversing the outcome of their match of the day before, when they met at Winchester in a team match, and Scully won.

Newton Players in Official Rankings
The official bulletin of the New England Lawn Tennis Association, released this week, has the official New England rankings for 1936. Albert Everts of Newtonville is ranked at the top in the boys' singles list, having won the state title last summer. Among the junior girls, Elena Ciccone of Newton Centre is ranked first and Carolyn Everts of Newtonville sixth. Elena Ciccone is ranked ninth in the women's list.

Donald Martin of West Newton, runner-up in the New England public parks championship at Springfield last year, is ranked twelfth in the men's singles. Robert Decker, former Waban boy who went through several rounds of the national boys' singles last summer at Culver City, is rated third in his division, and Tom Slatery, Newton High player from Newton Centre, is twelfth in the same list.

Elena Ciccone is praised highly in the report of the women's advisory committee, signed by Mrs. Wightman, who says, "The other reason for satisfaction was the fine play of Miss Elena Ciccone of Newton in the grass court championship for girls at Philadelphia. Miss Ciccone remained in the competition until the very end, being defeated in the final round by Miss Patricia Henry of California. Not since Mrs. Fabyan was Miss Sarah Palfrey, winning girls' national titles, has any representative from this section done so well."

HIGHLIGHTS

As a result of the recent Spring Field Day, Miss Virginia Fletcher of 57 Greylock road, Newtonville, was one of the five students to win the Athletic Association pin, awarded to those who make two All-Holyoke teams and two class teams in different sports in one year. Miss Fletcher won this distinction in speedball and archery.

Miss Carolyn Everts of 114 Kirk-stall rd. and Miss Catherine Ross of 10 Bemis st., Newtonville, both made the all-Holyoke tennis team. Miss Louise Kerr of 110 Woodward st., Newton Highlands, was the only student to make the all-Holyoke riding team; and Miss Ruth Sampson of 83 Pembroke street, Newton, made the all-Holyoke baseball team.

Robert Effe, 91 Wyman st., Waban, Mass., a sophomore at the University of Vermont, was awarded a Corps area medal for membership on the victorious rifle team. He also received a medal for shooting one of the five highest scores.

Y. M. C. A.

Thursday was "Eastman Night" at a meeting of Company "B" of the Prospectors, held recently at the Newton Y. M. C. A. D. F. Koughan, newly elected Chief of Company "B" paid a glowing tribute to Frederic B. Eastman for his leadership in the development of the Men's Program and his untiring efforts on behalf of the Boy Scouts and many other worthwhile movements in the Community. In replying, Mr. Eastman expressed his appreciation, and then spoke of the value that could be had from membership in the Prospectors. He made several important suggestions which he thought might prove helpful in outlining the program for next year.

Clifford K. Johnson was admitted to the group. Francis M. Tucker, the retiring Chief, was commended for his leadership during the past year. The new officers are as follows: Chief, D. F. Koughan; Adjutant, Henry C. Pierce; Recorder, Gordon G. Messinger; Bursar, John Boermeester.

Mr. Richard B. Simmons and Mr. V. A. Anderson represented the Newton Y. M. C. A. at the annual meeting of the Physical Directors' Society of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, held at Northfield, Mass.

At Camp Frank A. Day last week the Employed Officers of the Worcester Association held a week-end Conference. This week the Newton Hi-Y Club will be at Camp Day for their annual outing.

NEW PROTECTIVE SERVICE FOR
NEWTON

The inauguration of a new type of home-protection service, similar to one now existing in Cambridge, Brookline and several larger cities, has just been announced by the Newton Protective Patrol.

It is expected that the minds of many Newton residents, who go away for the summer, will be much easier, knowing that their homes are under the watchful eye of this organization. In consideration of a modest fee, the Protective Patrol contracts to call and make an inspection of a client's home, 4 or more times during the night and several times during the day, for any length of time agreed upon. A "Detect" watchman's clock is punched by the guard each time the home is visited, and a permanent record of the call is kept.

It is understood that the Newton Protective Patrol guards, are men of former police experience, and will carry with them in patrol cars, first aid materials, fire extinguishers and other equipment enabling them to meet any emergency which may confront them.

New Rector at Grace Episcopal Church

Rev. H. Robert Smith, for the past twelve years rector at St. Paul's Church, Malden, announced at the service in that church on Sunday that he has accepted a call to become rector of Grace Episcopal Church, Newton. He will succeed Rev. Tage Teisen who has resigned because of illness. Rev. Mr. Smith was born in Chelmsford, England, graduated from Illinois Wesleyan College in 1919 and from the Episcopal Theological School at Cambridge in 1922. He was ordained at New Bedford 14 years ago and for two years was curate at Grace Episcopal Church in that city. During the World War he served as a Second Lieutenant of Field Artillery at the Field Artillery School, Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville. He is a Past State Chaplain of the American Legion.

Rev. Mr. Smith is well known as a soccer player and is captain of the Malden Cricket Club. He is married and the father of three boys. He will officially assume his duties at Grace Church in Newton on July 1st, but will not take over the church services until the middle of August. During the summer he will be with his family at Rockport.

Six Schools To Get Fire Alarms

Six school buildings were selected by the School Committee at its meeting on Monday night as the structures where antiquated fire alarm systems will be replaced this year by the modern systems for which the Board of Aldermen recently appropriated $8000. The schools in order of preference for this safeguarding are—New Clafin, Newtonville; Williams, Auburndale; Horace Mann, Newtonville; Rice, Newton Centre; old Hyde, Newton Highlands; Bowen, Newton Centre. Supt. of Schools Warren doubted if $8000 will be sufficient to equip all six of these buildings. It is planned to appropriate another $8000 next year to install the systems in the remaining school buildings which require them. As several old wooden schools in the city will be replaced in the near future by modern buildings, the fire alarm systems will not be installed in them. These are the Franklin, Lincoln and Eliot Schools.

Arrested On Old
Swindling Charge

Saul Bloomberg, alias M. A. Shepard, for whom the Newton police have had a warrant for 3 years, was brought back to Newton on Tuesday by Inspector King from New York. It is alleged that Bloomberg swindled Mrs. Ettie Potter of 89 Charles street, Auburndale, out of $600 through transactions in stocks. New York police recently arrested Bloomberg. King took his prisoner to East Cambridge, where he is to be tried before the Superior Court. Bloomberg was bailed and then rearrested for the Quincy police who also had warrants out for his arrest on alleged stock swindling operations.

Oppose Pelham
Street Widening

word on the matter, he agreed that the proposal should have been made sooner. Mr. Scott said that if the city would now change the lot lines, Mr. Alvord would have to claim heavy damages because of the expense he would be put to and the loss of revenue from his prospective tenants. He said Pelham st. is now as wide as other streets in the Newton Centre business district, that the property will have a parking space for 50 or 60 cars, and that on a question of ethics, Mr. Alvord should be granted a permit to proceed with the erection of his building. He said that Alvord would have been willing two months ago to co-operate in widening Pelham st., but now he has proceeded too far with construction and leases.

Charles Woodward of 101 Homer st. objected to the petition for widening Pelham st. He said it would benefit only a few and would impose a large expense on the rest of Newton's taxpayers. Lincoln Alvord said he had given ample notice of his plans and done everything in the open. Mrs. Alden Speare of 69 Pelham st. also objected to the widening. She said it would spoil the street, eight large trees would be cut down and much traffic added. Edward Poulin of Everett st., associated with Mr. Alvord in the new building project said he had advised Alvord to tear down the old block which was an eyesore and unprofitable. He said that in January last he had told Alderman Temperley of the plans for the new building. He argued that widening Pelham st. will not make it more accessible, but will only create more parking space. Irving Paul of 1402 Centre st. objected to the widening as a taxpayer. He favored leaving some of our old, attractive streets as they are and not convert them into more speedways.

Former Alderman Norman Pratt said he spoke to officers of the Newton Centre Improvement Association last January about Pelham st., and that was the time for them to protest; not now.

Fined $50 For
Drunken Driving

Louis Thomas, 18, of 721 Washington street, Quincy, was fined $50 in the Newton court on Monday by Judge Weston for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested on May 17 at 3 a.m. by Serg. Sullivan and Patrolmen Barr and Cunningham after his car had hit a hydrant on Chestnut street, West Newton. Two companions of Thomas, who were allowed to depart by the police were later arrested after they had allegedly broken into a liquor store at Newton Centre.

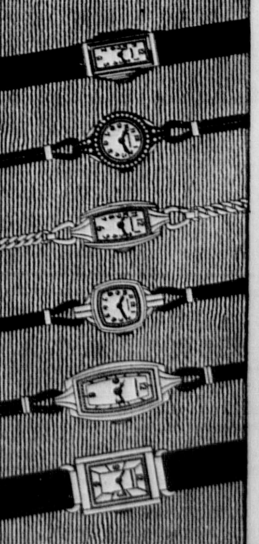

Newton Highlights

The Brown Varsity Tennis Team captained by Jackson Skillings won 8 of its 11 matches this year; being beaten only by M. I. T., Harvard, and Amherst. These were the only games Brown played away from home.

Gladys Gauvreau '37 as Queen of Dolores; Georgiana Whalen '37 as Star of the Sea; Rita Campbell '37 as the Mystical Rose. Following the Mystical Rose, will be Isabelle O'Grady as Faith, Mary O'Brien as Hope, and Mary Keane as Charity. Mary Kavanaugh will lead the Holy Innocents.

The American Flag, banner of Christ the King, and the school banner will be carried by the Senior boys. The four statue bearers will also be Seniors. The Crowning Exercises, which include the crowning, the singing of hymns, recitations, and the Act of Consecration will take place at the shrine erected in front of the High School; after which the procession will wend its way across the campus to the Church for Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

Memorial Day Exercises
On Friday morning, at 11:15 in the High School auditorium an assembly will take place to observe Memorial Day. A suitable musical program will be rendered by the ensemble, accompanied at the piano by Miss Mary O'Brien '37. Patriotic recitations will follow, closed by the Salute to the Flag.

During the exercises, Miss Margaret McDade of the class of '36 will be presented her award as winner of the Fidae Essay Contest, which was opened to all Newton Schools, Public and Parochial.

Mr. Julius Ramn, of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be the speaker for the occasion.

Our Lady's win 8-1 over St. Clements at Cabot Park, Newton. Captain "Chucker" Choquette, pitched his fourth victory of the season, by allowing three scattered hits and striking out 16 Somerville men from St. Clements' School. J. Vincent Tobin was the chief destroyer for the locals, getting three hits. Joe O'Grady pulled the best play of the game in the ninth inning. He went far back of second base and fielded a ground ball; then threw to first and got his man, Choquette in fanning 16 has a total of about 76 strikeouts. Paul O'Brien, popular second baseman, kept his high batting average by getting two hits.

Weeks Jr. High

On Tuesday, May 19, the eighth grade held a class meeting in the auditorium, at which time the class constitution was read and adopted. Upon vote of the class, President Charles Bradley appointed Ingrid Johnson, George Brett and Julia Ball to arrange a class amateur program to be given during the first week in June.

On Thursday, May 21, a group of girls from Miss McGrath's English classes visited Perkins Institution for the Blind, in Watertown. The next day Principal Andrews of Perkins Institution was introduced to the assembly by Richard Dinner. Accompanying Mr. Andrews were two young ladies, one a former student and now an Ediphone operator in the office at Perkins, and the other a student in the upper school. Mr. Andrews spoke on the work and life in the institution, emphasizing the fact that it is definitely a school and not an asylum as is commonly supposed. Explanations and demonstrations of Braille system of writing were given on the slate, the writing machine, and the Braille shorthand machine. Learning of music was also explained, followed by a Schumann selection played by one of the young ladies.

The varsity baseball team lost to the Alumni, 4 to 3, in a practice game played May 19.

The seventh grade tennis tournament came to a close last Friday, when Room 212 won the championship by defeating Room 107, 6 to 4.

Day Jr. High School

On Friday Miss Kennedy's Puppet Club put on an original puppet show, Pincocchio in America, before an enthralled assembly audience. The puppets were made, in most cases, by the pupils who worked them. The scenery was made by the person who worked the puppet for each scene. The following made especially valuable contributions to the show: Shirley Ried, Harold Jenkins, Lois Oliver, Walter Maloney, Donald Blackey, John Langlois, Mr. Read, who directed the radio broadcasting, and Miss Kennedy, who was in charge of the whole production. The final scene was especially well received: Pincocchio arriving at the F. A. Day in his private airplane, was greeted by Mr. Morse and Miss Lougee, and was granted the keys to the school by Mr. Burkhard.

Members of sixth grades in the schools of Newton who are bound for the F. A. Day next year paid the school an introductory visit, last Monday. Miss Paul, director of clubs, ably functioned as mistress of ceremonies. Members of the Student Patrol later escorted the visitors on a tour of the building. In the auditorium were exhibits by several clubs, including the Knitting, Sewing, Chef's, Daytonian, Fingerprints, Mechanical Drawing, Illustrators', Crafts, Checkers, Girls' Printing, and Model Airplane Clubs. Copies of past issues of the Daytonian were distributed. Phyllis Petrie addressed the group on the work of the Broadcasting Club. Frances Lombardi told of the Girls Hockey Club, Nancy McGill, of the Reading Club, and members of the Library Club presented three charades of books in the school library. Members of the Modeling Club repeated two scenes of their puppet show, while the marionette, Pincocchio, engaged Mr. Burkhard in conversation.

Tickets are out for the Day Spring Festival which will be held on the evening of June 4th. Members of the instrumental groups at school—the band, the orchestra, and other smaller groups, will play, under the direction of Mr. F. Tanner. There will, likewise, be a radio program by Mr. Read's Radio Club, a play by Miss Wright's Drama Club, and folk dancing which is under Miss People's supervision.

On Thursday, May 21, members of the ninth grade had their class picture taken. The picture has been on the school bulletin board the past few days and studying it has been a popular diversion of students in their spare time.

The F. A. Day came in second in the seventh grade and first in the ninth grade at the Annual Outdoor Track meet of all the Newton Junior High Schools. Bill Pescosolido made a record high jump of 5 feet 7 inches.

Bigelow Junior H. S.

The 9th grade Dramatic Club presented "False Pretenses" at the assembly May 20. A group of athletes, William Ford, William Baker, James Lowell, and Leon Kruger, attempted to increase their athletic equipment at the expense of a fellow classmate, Russell Dexter. The girls they attempted to dupe were Mary Underwood, Bernice Applebaum, Margaret Dwight, Elizabeth Hall, and Mary O'Donnell.

The program for the evening's Entertainment, June 5, will be as follows: Sailor group, with songs; Monologue, Rebecca Connolly; Song, Eleanor Luchini; Orchestra selection, Tumbling team; Violin solo, Albert Tashjian; German Band; "The Initiation," a play by the 7th grade dramatic club; orchestra selection, and Glee Club. The History of Beginnings

Leap Year

IN 1228 THE SCOTTISH PARLIAMENT LEGALIZED FEMININE LEAP YEAR PROPOSALS, PROVIDING A HEAVY FINE FOR HIM WHO REFUSED UNLESS HE COULD PROVE HIS PREVIOUS BETROTHAL. 200 YEARS LATER FEMININE WOOING IN LEAP YEAR WAS MADE LEGAL IN GENOA AND FLORENCE

In 1907 the Massachusetts law was passed making possible Savings Bank Life Insurance in this Commonwealth, safeguarded by the General Insurance Guaranty Fund. IT'S CHEAPER because no solicitors are employed, mortality and overhead are low, management is economical. Come in and inquire about it.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, De-nounced" the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 31.

The Golden Text is: "They that observe lying vanities forsake their own mercy" (Jonah 2:8).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up. . . . Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness" (II Peter 3:10, 13).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The compounded minerals or aggregated substances composing the earth, the relations which constituent masses hold to each other, the magnitudes, distances, and revolutions of the celestial bodies, are of no real importance, when we remember that they all must give place to the spiritual fact by the translation of man and the universe back into Spirit. In proportion as this is done, man and the universe will be found harmonious and eternal" (p. 209).

Remember All!

MAY 30th was originally set apart to decorate the graves of the soldiers who fought for the Union in the Civil War. Today, however, it has grown to have a larger significance and is also a living remembrance for soldiers of all wars as well as all other dear ones whom we have lost. Let us remember all this Memorial Day!

Fined For Auto Violations

A number of autoists were fined in the Newton court on Monday by Judge Allen. Most of those penalized were found guilty of speeding. The complainant in most cases was Traffic Officer Hammell. Included in the list were Clinton Carlson, Brighton; Elizabeth Clark, Amesbury; Betty Wills, Brookline; Risslyn Phillips, Jr., Waltham; Henry Atkinson, 276 Church st., Newton, fined $5 each. Ralph Blake of Watertown was fined $10, but the fine was suspended. Isabelle Boronski of Hatfield was fined $5. It was then explained to the judge that Isabelle had traveled over 100 miles from Hatfield to appear in court, and besides she had no money; so Judge Allen revoked the fine and placed the case on file. Ralph Tarrant of 18 Lowell ave., Newtonville, was fined $25 for speeding. It was his second conviction within a year.

For not stopping before entering a through way Elizabeth Leeds, 46 Waverley ave., Newton, was fined $3. Irving Ziemann of Brookline paid $3 for a like offence. Edward Flanagan was fined $10 for refusing to move his car on Commonwealth ave. when ordered to do so by Patrolman Phillips. The patrolman testified that Flanagan became abusive when requested to move the car. Walter Douglas of 44 Chapin rd., Newton Centre, was fined $5 for passing a car on Beacon st. when his view was obstructed. He made the mistake of passing a car containing Patrolman Arnold of the Metropolitan police. Joseph Hefetz of Chelsea paid $5 for driving the wrong direction on one-way Commonwealth ave.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE

Gary Cooper is coming to town! Well, not actually, though his latest picture, "Mr. Deeds Goes To Town," is scheduled to be shown at the Newton Paramount starting Sunday for four days. Gary Cooper, as seen in the role of Longfellow Deeds, is a simple small town boy who inherits the tidy sum of $20,000,000 from an eccentric uncle. His descent upon New York City is the signal for newspapers and grafters to come snapping at his heels. He outwits the chisellers by the mere expedient of using his old fashioned horse sense. Cooper with Cooper is the talented Jean Arthur, who in the role of a newspaper reporter wriggles herself into the good graces of the rural millionaire and succeeds in getting some priceless stories. It is through the stories that Jean Arthur writes from her vantage point that Longfellow Deeds gets into a mess of trouble over his twenty million. And more than that it would be unfair to divulge, except that the story carries a most unusual twist.

Included on the program with "Mr. Deeds Goes To Town" is Ann Harding's latest vehicle, "The Witness Chair" in which she is supported by the popular Walter Abel.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday the film-fare at the Paramount Theatre will feature Margaret Sullivan starred in the role of a screen star in "The Moon's Our Home." The supporting cast includes Henry Fonda, Henrietta Crossman, and Charles Butterworth. In "The Moon's Our Home" Margaret Sullivan portrays a tempestuous little spitfire controllable only by a person equally fiery, her grandmother. Henry Fonda plays the part of a famous author-explorer.

On the same program to provide complete diversion the Paramount will present Al Jolson and Sybil Jason in "The Singing Kid" a tuneful and colorful production that boasts a huge supporting cast of radio and screen stars including Cal Calloway and his orchestra the Yacht Club Boys, Edward Everett Horton, Allen Jenkins and many others.

President, Senate Make

Treaties for Uncle Sam

The Constitution of the United States, in defining the powers of the President, declares in Section 2 of Article II that "he shall have power, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, to make treaties, provided two-thirds of his senators present concur."

Under the original interpretation of this section, observes a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer, the senate itself undertook to share in the actual treaty negotiations. The executive branch assumed the direction of foreign affairs, however, and the first executive department to be created by congress was the Department of Foreign Affairs, which soon had its name changed to the Department of State.

It has been the practice ever since for the executive department to take the initiative in treaty making (although it has sometimes acted at the suggestion of the senate, or of both houses). Through the State department, representatives are named to conduct negotiations, and the treaty, when drawn up and approved by the President, is submitted to the senate for ratification.

The President, if he is not satisfied with the results of the negotiations, has the right to withhold a treaty from the senate, or he has the right to withdraw it after submission. The senate, on its part, has the right to accept or reject, or to make amendments or reservations. Not infrequently the senate has made amendments, and often so radically as to make the treaty unacceptable to the other power.

Wild Elephants Live in Communities or Parties

In the wild state the elephants live in communities or family parties which may number anything up to forty animals. Herds of a hundred have been known, but are unusual in that strength. These herds remain together for years, and exist in a state of continuous friendship that is rare among any other animals. Because of this fondness for company elephants are rarely kept solitary.

In elephant country, the natives will tell of "rogue" elephants and their doings. These animals travel alone for the simple reason that they have made themselves objectionable to the community and have been driven out. They go savage and will charge men or other animals on sight, trample crops, raid villages, and wreck huts. They remain a menace to the natives until hunted down and killed. Other elephants of the African species become solitary for a different reason.

The tusks of elephants continue to grow through life, and the more aged find it difficult to carry the weight of 200 pounds and more of ivory and keep up with the younger members of the herd. They have to drop out and take to the solitary life.—Montreal Herald.

Friendly Trees

On the edge of the vast African desert, where no grass or other vegetables can grow, the date palm supplies the wants of the North African races to a wonderful extent, says a writer in Pearson's Weekly. Its ripe fruit is delicious; camels feed on the stones; baskets, mats and brushes are made of the tree's leaves, thread and rope from its fibers, and a spirituous liquor from its sap. There is also the Traveler's Palm, which grows in Madagascar, often in the most arid parts of the country far away from rivers. The thirsty traveler has only to pierce a leafy branch of the palm and at once he can obtain a pint of pure, cool water.

Find No Elephant Graveyards

There is the tradition in all elephant countries that the aged or sick animal senses the approach of death, and goes away to some secret sanctuary in the jungle to die. Searches have been made time and again in Africa for these mortuary places, but always without success, says a writer in the Montreal Herald. The object of the search is the discovery of the immense treasure of ivory that is supposed to have accumulated at the secret sanctuary.

Literary Note

A German novel is a book in which two people want each other in the first chapter, but do not get each other until the last chapter. A French novel is a book in which two people get each other in the first chapter, and from then on to the last chapter don't want each other, and about this 450 profoundly melancholy pages are written.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

An Early Almanac

In 1725, when but seventeen years old, Nathaniel Ames published the first number of his almanac, which he continued to issue annually until his death. It was the most famous New England almanac of the day, with a circulation running as high as 60,000 copies. In form and arrangement it became the general pattern for American almanacs.

The Suwanee River

The Suwanee river is more than 200 miles long, rises in Okefenokee swamp, southeast Georgia, and winds through north Florida to the Gulf of Mexico. Its name was given by chance to Stephen Foster's famous song, "Old Folks at Home," or "The Swannee River," and in Foster's honor a marker has been placed at the source of the river.

Newtonville Man Ordained Priest

add Nvie Man Celebrates First Sol Rev. Peter F. Hart, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hart of 153 Edinboro st., Newtonville, celebrated his first solemn-high mass at Our Lady's Church, Newton last Sunday morning. His cousin, Rev. John Hart, served as deacon; and another cousin Rev. Joseph Shea, served as sub-deacon. Both were former residents of this city. The sermon at the service was delivered by Father Hilari of the Franciscan Friary, Brookline.

Father Hart was born in Newtonville 26 years ago and graduated from Our Lady's High School. He attended Boston College for 2 years and then entered St. John's Seminary at Brighton where he spent two years in the House of Philosophy and five years in the theological school. He was ordained last Friday in Holy Cross Cathedral, Boston by Cardinal O'Connell. He has been assigned as a curate at the church in Hough's Neck. Father Hart has three sisters, Misses Helen, Elizabeth and Rose Hart, all of Newtonville; and a brother, John Hart of Saugus.

SCOUT NEWS
BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA
COURT OF HONOR

On Tuesday night, May 26th at the Levi Warren Junior High School, the Norumbega Council, Inc., Boy Scouts of America, conducted one of the largest of the awarding Courts that has ever been run in the history of the Council. Seven hundred and fifty Scoutmasters and parents saw some 200 awards given to the Scouts of Newton and Wellesley.

At 8:00 p. m. the Court opened by singing "America" led by the Levi Warren Junior High School band with Mr. Tower conducting. A. C. Blunt, Jr., Vice-President of the Council, presented to the Scouts, the Second Class Awards, to some 79 scouts from all over the Council. Following this Mr. Leigh M. Nisbet, the new Scout Executive, presented First Class Awards. W. R. Speirs, the Asst. Scout Executive, awarded certificates for the Hikeeoree and the Camporee. Ralph Emery of Troop 5 awarded the Star Scout Awards and Douglas B. Francis, Director of the Division of Cubbing, awarded the Training Certificate to those Scouts who had taken training to help in the younger boy program. G. D. Marcy, Director of Senior Scouting, presented the Life Awards. Samuel P. Allison, Scout Commissioner, presented the Veteran Awards. In this award it is worthy of note at this time to call attention to the fact that E. C. Hillard received his 20 year Veteran for 20 years of willing service to Troop 2, Auburndale. Also Troop 5, Newton Centre, the oldest Troop in the Council, received its 25 year Veteran award. There are only a few 25 year old Troops in America. For five merit badges higher than the Eagle award, called the Eagle Bronze Palm, two Scouts received this award.

Scouts Norman Ross of Troop 1 and Philip Phaneuf of Troop 5. This award was made by John M. Bierer, leader of the Lief Ericson Rover Crew and Scoutmaster of Troop 10, Waban.

The five Scouts to receive the Eagle award, the highest award in Scouting, were Hugh Van Roosen, James Klein, both ex-Cubs, John Rourke all three of Troop 20, Trinity Church, Newton Centre. Also to James Bierer and Ernest Gould of Troop 10, Waban. In the Seascouts the highest award that can be made is the Quartermaster award. This was given to Seascout Robert Rocktescher of Ship 13, A. L. Harwood, Jr., in making these awards told these Scouts that they had done a great job in giving leadership to the Troops that they were working with and knew that they would feel pleased that they had reached one of the goals of Scouting.

The Levi School band played a selection following this. Lowell D. Macnutt, Chairman of the Court of Honor, presented Mr. McKean, Chief of the New England Division of the Department of Justice. Mr. McKean spoke to the Scouts on the work of the G-men here in New England and in other parts of the country.

Present at the Court of Honor were the 1935 Jamboree Scouts who are making plans to go to the Jamboree in Washington in 1937. A number of these Scouts will be at Camp Quinlan this summer to get some real backwoods training in the mountains and in the canoes on the Connecticut river trip.

The Court closed with an impressive singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" under the leadership of the Warren School band.

"ACCENT ON YOUTH"

The play, "Accent on Youth" which was presented Tuesday evening by the Newton Dramatic Club was an instant success. The capacity audience was carried along enthusiastically by the well-acted swift-moving plot. The stage was most effective and appropriate for such a smart comedy by being set with extremely modernistic furnishings and with a Van Gogh picture on the wall. The outstanding work of the leads Lillian Kunath, Henry Irving Dale and Tildon Perry marked a new high for the excellent presentations of this club. The perfect control of the lines, the tempo to insure dramatic effects and the moving interpretations were most finished. Ernest Braithwaite as the inimitable Flogdell nearly "stole the show." As excellent in acting though in lesser roles, were Mrs. Crossley, Mr. Sawner and Mrs. Stanger and the two young men.

Between acts Mrs. Everett W. Varney who has recently returned from a season abroad was the recipient of bouquets and acknowledged with a short speech her pleasure in again being with the club. Mr. and Mrs. Varney had "open house" after the play at their home at 34 Tyler ter. and welcomed very many in a social hour who met there the actors of the evening.

Christian Science Lecture

the strength to be tender. (Some time ago I read a poem entitled "The Ascension" by Edwin Markham. In his description of the journey out from Jerusalem that morning he wrote, "Near the green quiet of a little wood The Master halted silently and stood. The figs were purpling, and a fledgling Had fallen from a windy bough above, And lay there crying feebly by a thorn. Its little body bruised and forlorn. He stooped aside a moment, from the nest And put it safely back into the nest." True, this is only a poet's description. It may not be historically true. It may not be literally true. But it is indicative true. He had the strength to be tender.) His affection went out to all to gather them unto the truth of their spiritual manhood. One instance: You will remember that toward the end of his ministry it is recorded he said, "O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou that killest the prophets, and stonest them which are sent unto thee, how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not! And all who would minister successfully to the sick to-day must have this Christly affection.

Jesus indicated another necessary qualification of the would-be helper of another in his story of the good Samaritan, the story of the stranger or outcast who so compassionately assisted a member of a race which usually regarded him as an enemy. How compassionate should we be to all those who are in distress. How patient should we ever be with their doubts and fears, and how conscientiously should we endeavor to equip ourselves to remove them.

NEED OF THE HOUR
Mankind must be saved from sickness and sin; from unemployment, improper environment, poverty, and failure. Through the Science of healing Jesus taught and demonstrated, and which has been again discovered in this age, men and women are being healed of these daily. Multitudes are testifying to this fact. Witness the testimonies of healing voluntarily given every Wednesday evening in every Christian Science church throughout the world, as well as those which are published weekly in the Christian Science periodicals. Sickness which is rooted in ignorance is usually more easily healed than sin which is voluntary, intentional, or willful. Therefore, any system which cannot cope successfully with disease is not equipped for the overcoming of sin.

To-day, as never before, humanity is appealing for help, yearning to be shown the way out of the bondage of false theories. There is only one way out. The system or Science of healing Jesus taught and demonstrated for us needs no amendment. It needs only to be practiced.

The call is imperative to-day for such practitioners. In Christian Science the term practitioner, while it refers specifically to those who are giving all their time to the healing practice, includes everyone who practices the teachings of Christian Science, whether he be regularly employed as a lawyer or an artist, a merchant or a mechanic. The call is loud to-day for such practitioners: those who are willing to consecrate their lives to the task of doing what Christian Science teaches can be done, and what our beloved Leader, Mrs. Eddy, has proved can be done, namely, the healing of all phases of inharmonious.

"When we have learned to love our fellow man
As Jesus loved, and truly understand
The nothingness of error, sin, and pain,
We can go forth with joy and peace
And power
And prove Christ's living presence hour by hour,
With comforting and healing works
again.

When we have learned that God is our supply,
We do not fret, nor fear, nor question why
We cannot see the path that lies ahead;
But we can happy be each busy day,
And trust, as does the little child at play,
The Love that meets every need, instead.

When we have learned to know the Father's care
Encircles His reflection everywhere
And is unfailingly benevolent,
We do not strive to right a world of woe,
But leave to boundless good the phantom foe,
And just to mirror Love are well content."

(The Christian Science Journal, February, 1931)

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Artistic Exhibits Viewed By Many

There was a large attendance at the Spring Flower Show of the Newton Centre Garden Club which was held at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House on May 19th and 20th. Fourteen classes and the exhibits were unusually beautiful and artistic. They were judged by parallel gradation, and awards were made for individual excellence rather than by competitive rating.

The stage of the Auditorium was transformed into a "birch walk" with wild flowers bordering the path. Five large windows of the Hall held the window boxes. Four Sunday night buffet supper tables were shown by the West Newton, Auburndale, Newtonville, and Newton Garden Clubs. The table of the West Newton Club, with Chinese silver, pottery, and coral lilies, and the table of the Newton Club, with Italian pottery and old silver, attracted much favorable attention. The two classes of still life in flowers and fruit of the Rose family, and an arrangement of two or more kinds of material from the Heath family, had educational appeal in addition to their beauty. The shadow boxes held three classes—flowers in the modern manner, tulips in wooden containers, and leaf arrangement—some of these showing especial merit.

A large stand held Class 9 tulips in combination with other spring flowers, and many handsome arrangements were shown here on the stands where members of the Newton Centre Woman's Club exhibited spring flowers in their favorite containers.

The Reception Room of the Club House held living-room arrangements, tables, mantels and plain stands, and the ceramic exhibit and large collection of very handsome pottery made by the Club, one showing a bowl in four stages, from the clay to the finished product. Adjoining this was a large exhibit of specimen blooms, and hundreds of tulips of spring bulbs. There was a class of plain or flower material of special interest from members' own homes, among these a dwarf orange tree one hundred years old, a poinsettia blooming in May, and a dish garden of wild flowers.

Among the exhibitors who received high ratings, or honorable mention, were Mrs. George Hannauer, Mrs. Eliza Philbrick, Mrs. Frederick C. Rising, Mrs. Clifford P. Smith, Mrs. George I. Engle, Mrs. Frederick D. Knight, Mrs. Thomas Johnston, Mrs. Austin C. Benton, Mrs. C. D. Sage, Mrs. S. C. Newton, Mrs. Raymond Hanlon, Mrs. Holcomb J. Brown, Mrs. Fred Shaw, Mrs. Isaac Dillingham, Mrs. Louis E. Phaneuf, Mrs. G. R. Breitzke, Mrs. John W. Cooke, Mrs. E. A. Andrews, Mrs. Walter H. Dietz, Mrs. E. D. Leonard, Mrs. Herbert Kelway, Mrs. Bessie Taylor, Mrs. Don MacPherson, Mrs. George Crosby, Mrs. Thomas D. Booth, Miss Edith B. Read, Mrs. Gordon Hall, Mrs. Roy Hewitt, Mrs. James H. Orr, Mrs. W. H. Lothrop, Mrs. H. S. Smith, Mrs. A. M. MacIntire, Miss Emily Young and Mrs. Sarah R. Comer.

The Judges were Mrs. Richard Warner, Mrs. Henry Richards, and Mrs. L. J. Eno.

Each day will have special features. Mr. William McCarthy, Director of the Department of the Blind in the Commonwealth, will open the sale Tuesday morning. Wednesday, Miss Goodwin with her seeing dog Mitt, will be present part of the day, and Thursday, Miss Learned, with her seeing dog Flossie, will visit the sale.

Attractive and useful articles such as towels, aprons, household supplies, knitted and crocheted goods, scarfs, fancy bags, rugs, toys, baskets, pewter, and copper ware, will be for sale at prices ranging from fifteen cents upward.

What They Did And Said At Swampscott

It may sound very startling to state that at the end of the three-day session of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, immediately following election, the new officers were removed from Convention Hall in a truck! To be sure there was one contest for office, that of the fourth vice-presidency, but it was conducted with the greatest decorum and courtesy. Far from being a shocking conclusion to the Annual Meeting, therefore, it was a most unusual and attractive feature, this exit from Convention Hall, of the highest officers of the State organization, seated in state in the huge truck that had been backed in skillfully to the head of the centre aisle, and surrounded as they were by a bower of beautiful flowers that had been showered upon them by admiring and loyal clubwomen!

Clubwomen crowded about to view the breath-takingly beautiful chariot, and to applaud and cheer and laugh with amusement as the new president, Mrs. John H. Kimball; the former president, Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, and the vice-presidents, Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth, Mrs. David A. Westcott, Mrs. Herbert F. French and Mrs. Olaf Hoff, Jr., climbed precariously up the steps provided (as for a train) and took their places upon chairs in the truck, and were then banked with the flowers that had been presented to them on the platform a short time before. Four members of the Meetings committee, of which Mrs. Charles R. Storey, of Brockton, is chairman, which committee was the mother of the bright idea so to convey the vast bouquets to the Hotel, for their owners, also were riders in the triumphal chariot. Flashlights gleamed as news photographers tried to record the charm of this unusual scene. As the truck made its way down the steeply inclined platform to the road from the Hall, the directors, outgoing and incoming, and other officers, whose arms were filled to overflowing with bouquets of roses, snapdragons, lilies, and every colorful flower that grows, it would seem, fell into step behind it, and the procession made its queenly way to the porte cochere of the hotel. (Among them were two Newton women, Mrs. John F. Capron, of Newton Centre, and Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, of Waban, the outgoing and incoming directors of the Clubwomen District.)

Up on the roadside on the hotel steps saluted them as they passed and arrived. And not the least interesting was that Club husbands and mothers, waiting in automobiles in front of the hotel, had the pleasure of seeing this colorful parade come directly toward them!

This arrival at the hotel had the added advantage, too, of prolonging the effective climax, so that officers entered the New Ocean House between rows of clubwomen still paying homage, and to be greeted affectionately and merrily inside the hotel corridors, instead of experiencing something of an anticlimax in their sedate return to the hotel, after the great crowd of women who had paid them tribute at Convention Hall had disbanded and dispersed.

To go back to the events of Thursday morning, the 21st, which led to the presentation of flowers and gifts to outgoing and incoming officers, it was not only a very beautiful sight to view the ushers, dressed in white—members of the Meetings committee—bearing these brilliant floral tributes, it was also a period of emotion in appreciation of what these outpourings signified. So many were the bouquets it became necessary for a "mysterious request," as Mrs. Walker playfully termed it, for clubwomen wearing white coats to go to the back of the room, where they were drafted to assist the Members committee, which found the task of carrying so many flowers beyond their number.

And then they came from the back of Convention Hall to the platform, and the names upon the card was spoken, which was the signal for the officer or director or chairman to step forward. Hardly could many of them carry the lovely bouquets, and the white-wrapped packages of candy and gifts. The "usher" presenting the gift in many cases gave a cleverly worded message, such as: "From Santa Claus," in handing out a white-wrapped package, or "Merry Christmas," or changing the name of the same person, from formal married name to the more familiar "Maud," or "Maria," or "Bess," which brought a quick laugh from all who heard.

The platform was a bower of roses of every hue; of gorgeous flowers, bouquets and baskets, artistic in exquisite colors, and with decorative ribbons.

And still to go back a step when Mrs. John H. Kimball accepted the gavel—sign of her new high honor and place as leader of the State Federation of Women's Clubs—from the outgoing president, Mrs. Walker. With her always ready wit and easy grace of speech, Mrs. Walker paid her successor tribute for her qualifications; her wit and judgment, her invaluable experience, but she added the words that made her audience gasp:

"She will always go us all one better. You will discover this in the next two years. She has today. She has two husbands here!" She had to pause for the murmur of dismay and wonderment that swept the room. "One is named Mr. Kimball. And one is named Mr. Walker." Again she had to wait for the relieved laughter to subside. And then she added: "But Mr. Walker did not come here today to see his wife pass out. He came to see his good friend Maria (Mrs. Kimball) come in!"

Amazement certainly changed then to merriment!

Yes, Mrs. Kimball and Mr. Walker were there to view this final gala, thrilling scene. And Mrs. Kimball's daughter, too, Miss Louise Gray Kimball. They were seated with the clubwomen from Danvers, Maria Gray Kimball's own home town clubwomen, who have seen her climb the ladder of club office, and who stood and waved lovely sprays of lilies above their heads, and sang a delightful little personal song pledging their loyalty, as Mrs. Walker handed her the gavel. It is these little personal tributes that touch the heart and start the tears in one of these moments of changing officers, when flowers and gifts and thronging friends who have come to show their friendship make these women who have served with hard and faithful work realize that while they served they have won their way to the affections of their clubwomen.

The delegates not only were greatly interested in Mrs. Kimball's induction into office, and in her simple but effective speech—in which she urged remembrance of the welfare of the State Federation as the next years pass, whatever individual differences of opinion; and in which she addressed as well as the Federation members, her own family, whom she humorously declared "must be long suffering" because of the new responsibilities she had assumed—but they were frankly keenly eager to learn the outcome of the vote upon the one contested office, that of the fourth vice-president. The Nominating committee had presented for this office the name of Mrs. J. Anton deHaas, president of the Belmont Woman's Club, wife of the Harvard professor who has lectured before women's clubs on many occasions recently. The delegates from the western part of the State expressed the opinion that their section should be represented on the ballot. Since 1930 no vice-presidents have been selected from the western section, when Mrs. Axel A. Packard (now Mrs. John Van Etten Westfall), of Springfield, retired as president. The name of Mrs. Olaf Hoff, Jr., of Turners Falls, whose term as District Director for the Fifteenth District, was just expiring, was put in nomination from the floor.

She was given a great ovation when presented by Mrs. Walker as elected. Of 719 accredited delegates voting, she was victorious with 563 votes, while about a fourth as many, namely 131, voted for Mrs. deHaas. Mrs. Hoff made a most pleasing appearance when she expressed her appreciation by her modesty, gentleness, kindness, and yet quite evident ability. Very tactfully she began: "I think I was elected as the 'Spirit of the West.' It's a very humble person whom you have chosen as your fourth vice-president." And then she gained a laugh when she continued: "You may not believe it, but I go to church regularly. I was brought up a Scotch Presbyterian," with which statement she went on to make her point of how she worked out her problems while at church (by spiritual inspiration), and what she hoped to give of her love to the Federation, as a work of best. She paid tribute to the ability and good sportsmanship of her opponent, Mrs. deHaas, and wisely made her point of an impersonal contest.

Mrs. Hoff was graduated from Cornell University, as was also her husband, in 1913, specializing in the arts and sciences. She received her degree of Bachelor of Arts. She has worked actively with the Extension Service Council of Franklin County for three years and she has been actively affiliated, also, with the Girl Scouts.

(Account of events of the Annual Meeting will be continued next week.)

What They Did and Said At Miami

"To study taxation as it affects them, whether they live in hovels or palaces, is the duty of American women as citizens," Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson, president, told delegates to the General Federation of Women's Clubs National Council Convention at Miami Biltmore Country Club Tuesday afternoon, April 28th.

Mrs. Clarence Falm, Wilmington, Del., chairman of the Public Welfare department, the largest department in the Federation, embracing child welfare, public health, community service, Indian welfare, and crime prevention and correction, presented facts on the Patman-Robinson Act, which caused the delegates to endorse unanimously the recommendation she offered, requesting President Roosevelt to name an Emergency Committee to study this bill now pending before Congress. Mrs. Fain declared that it would increase the cost of foodstuffs alone probably $750,000,000; and that it would prevent large chain stores from receiving discounts which the smaller dealer can not get, thus requiring the larger dealers to increase their retail rates.

This caused Mrs. Lawson to exclaim: "It would seem that the consumer is the 'forgotten man' of the Patman Bill. I believe that it is fitting that the consumer's side of the bill be presented."

The clubwomen were deeply touched by an appeal from the Princess Tshah, of Addis Ababa, to the women of the world for their aid in preventing the use of poison gas in the Italo-Ethiopian war. It was answered by the Federation with a cable sent to Ethiopia saying: "General Federation Women's Clubs respond to your appeal for peace."

"Peace never will be handed to any people on a platter," declared Miss Alice Long of St. Louis, Mo., chairman of the Federation's International Relations Department. "Peace can only come through intelligent, concerted action."

Miss Long made an impassioned plea for the women to organize their efforts to banish war from the world through education in the art of living together harmoniously in a world community.

"This means finding a peaceful solution to the common economic and political problems now threatening to engulf the world in the catastrophe of another war."

"Women are rejecting such worn phrases as 'war is inevitable' and 'you can't change human nature,' and are saying instead, 'war ought to be abolished.'"

"Women are seeking to educate themselves and their communities in the knowledge that war is not the way of salvation for overpopulated countries."

Bertha Howe, high school girl of Baker, Ore., was awarded first prize of $25 in an essay contest sponsored by the International Relations Department, on "The Truth About the World Court," Miss Long announced. Honorable mention was given to Floramas Hull of Pratt, Kans., and to Myrtle Howard of Augusta, Ga.

In the competition open to clubwomen, Mrs. Orville Anderson of Iredale, Ill., was awarded a trip to the 1937 Conference for her paper on the "Cause and Cure of War." Mrs. E. K. Bowman of Helena, Mont., and Mrs. George L. Newlin of Lawrence, Kans., were given honorable mention.

Mrs. Poole, vice-chairman of the department of International Relations, was one of their speakers. Among her outstanding points, she pictured the present age as one to challenge courage and ingenuity to the limit.

"Small incomes, uncertain employment, congested areas and mounting costs, make the establishment and maintenance of home-making and child-rearing an adventure fraught with major perplexities and problems," Mrs. Poole declared.

"Pioneers of sturdy stock, mental clarity, and moral courage are needed for the task," she continued.

The interesting announcement was made that the American Women's Club in Denmark has recently joined the Federation. Ruth Bryan Owen, American Minister to Denmark, is honorary president. Mrs. Margaret Tolvborg Jensen, of Copenhagen, is president.

A delightful hour of music was given to the visiting clubwomen by the Miami Music Club, from 4:30 to 5:30 Tuesday afternoon, a refreshing program for its beauty and appeal. The Music Club had the inspiration to give Florida Composers this entertainment of the guests.

Equally enjoyable—and unusual—was the dinner for officers, directors, and Juniors at the Pan-American Airport. The tables featured a red, white, and blue motif, with covers marked with miniature airplanes and tropical fish. After dinner, Junior Tropical Night was staged in the Biltmore Pool Stadium, in an "Aquatic" program. The program was brought by Juniors from Florida, Iowa, Indiana, and Vermont, and Miss Ruth V. Griffin represented Massachusetts. Olympic swimmers delighted the audience in an unusual feature presentation, vying with the music of drum and bugle corps, school cadets, and an Harmonica Band that gave stirring music for "youth."

At the Airport dinner, there was real interest in the appearance of Miss Lena Madsen Phillips, an editor of Pictorial Review, who spoke. And Mrs. Poole who spoke later at the hotel on "Far Horizons" was welcomed with keen interest likewise. Her keynote might be quoted as follows, bringing out "Right Thinking":

"As a nation we are rapidly becoming insurance conscious. There is a kind, really the most important and best paying of all, that every life needs. This insurance plots the direction of our everyday living; it builds and strengthens our characters; it insures us the ability to meet every crisis of life and to come through victoriously and gloriously. No life can really be called complete and successful without it. Its name, ethical and religious living. It's fashionable these days to say we believe in nothing, but no greater untruth was ever uttered. The fact we live and plan and achieve is proof of our belief in something. And it is just as easy to believe in the things of the spirit as in the things of the flesh, once the habit of right thinking is established."

OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by George F. Richardson to Mary Frances, dated June 28th, 1930 and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 1981, folio 198, of which the undersigned is the registered assignee, Public Auction will be held at 10 o'clock A.M. on the eighth (8th) day of June, 1936, on the premises described in said mortgage, to-wit:

"A certain parcel of land situated in that part of said Newton called Newton Centre, and bounded and described as follows, viz: beginning beginning at the northeasterly corner of Lot 2 on a Plan of Lots at Newton Centre belonging to S. D. Garey, E. S. Smille Surv. December 1886" on the southerly line of Marshall Street, and thence running southerly on said Lot 2, two hundred and seven and 33/100 (207.33) feet to Lot 10 on said plan, thence turning and running easterly on said Lot 10, seventy five (75) feet to land of one Ellis, thence turning and running northerly on said land of Ellis, twenty and 23/100 (20.23) feet, thence turning and running northerly on land of one Claffin, one hundred eighty nine and one (189.51) feet to said line of Marshall Street, thence turning and running westerly on said Marshall Street, ninety feet to said Lot 2, to the point of beginning.

Being S. D. Garey, by deed dated June 17, 1886, and subject to the restrictions in said deed contained in a strip of land, twenty feet wide, adjoining said lot 10 on the east, conveyed to said S. D. Garey by deed dated November 6, 1888 and recorded with Middlesex S. Dist. Deeds in Book 1894, folio 1894.

There is excepted from the above described premises so much thereof as was released from the operation of said mortgage by instrument dated December 28, 1935, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds in Book 4928, Page 211, to which instrument reference may be had for a more particular description of the portion so released.

Said premises will be sold subject to any and all unpaid taxes or other municipal liens and assessments, and to all taxes outstanding, if any.

Five Hundred ($500) Dollars will be paid in cash or certified check to be paid by the purchaser at the time and place of the sale, and the balance of the purchase price within ten days of the delivery of the deed.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE
By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Perley F. Crosby and Florence E. Crosby, his wife, both of Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, to the Cape Ann Savings Bank of Gloucester, Massachusetts, dated December 27, 1927, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 5182, Page 85.

Will be sold at Public Auction on the premises hereinafter described on Wednesday the twenty-fourth day of June, 1936, at two o'clock in the afternoon for breach of the condition of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, all of the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and therein described as follows:

"A certain parcel of land with the dwelling-house and garage thereon, situated on the private-way called Homer Circle, leading southwesterly from Mt. Vernon Street in that part of said Newton called West Newton, and shown as Lot 3 on a plan entitled 'Subdivision of Land in West Newton, Mass., owned and developed by Perley F. Crosby', made by E. M. Brooks, C. E., dated November 30, 1927, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 5182, Page 85.

Said parcel is conveyed subject to all restrictions of record so far as the same be now in force and applicable.

Together with all furnaces, heaters, ranges, mantels, gas and electric fixtures, window screens, screen doors, awnings and other fixtures of whatsoever kind and nature now contained in the aforesaid buildings.

Said premises will be sold subject to any and all unpaid taxes, tax titles, assessments and other municipal liens.

Terms, $700 in cash or by certified or cashier's check at time and place of sale; balance of purchase price on tender of deed at No. 109 Main Street in Gloucester, Massachusetts, within twelve (12) days thereafter unless other terms agreed upon at sale.

Master Six 4-Door Touring Sedan—$745*

Impressive victory in famous economy run officially confirms Pontiac's superior economy!

THE annual Yosemite Valley Economy Run is the year's big test of economy claims—and here is what it revealed: Under American Automobile Association supervision, the 1936 Pontiac traveled 352 miles at an average of 23.9 miles per gallon (no oil added), defeating all entrants in its class.

That settles the matter of Pontiac's economy. Pound for pound, you can't do better. A quart of oil goes farther in a Pontiac, thanks to finer engineering. As for dependability—many Pontiacs have now traveled over 200,000 miles! Buy a Pontiac for economy. Buy it for dependability. Buy it for anything else you want. You won't be disappointed, for Pontiac asks no odds of any car at any price.

ZONTA CLUB

The Intercity Dinner of the Zonta Clubs of this vicinity was held at Brae Burn Country Club, on Monday evening, with one hundred members and guests present.

The Newton Zonta Club was the hostess club and every effort was made to make the evening a memorable one for Zontians. The favors were wrist bouquets for each guest. Mrs. Hattie U. Hutchinson of the Newton Club as chairman of the Intercity Committee presided and introduced Mrs. Teresa Anderson of Augusta, Maine, the retiring Director of District One; Emma Maurice Tighe of Boston, the incoming Director and Mrs. Anne Hourin of Framingham, chairman of Region A. Miss Caroline Freeman, president of Newton Zonta presented flowers to Mrs. Cora Sadler of Newton Centre in recognition of the Newton Zonta Song which Mrs. Sadler had written for the local club and which was dedicated at this meeting. Cora McKenzie, chairman of the International Convention, to be held next month at Swampscott told of the plans in progress for the pleasure and profit of those attending. The speaker of the evening was Mrs. Royal G. Whiting of Weston, whose subject was "Women at the Cross Roads," the trend of her talk being what women should do to further the cause of Peace. Club singing was heartily indulged in by those present with Mrs. Amy Burns of Wellesley acting as song leader and Alice Drayton as pianist.

Arrest Man For New Jersey Murder

Charles Boville, alias John Mazza age 29, was arrested last Thursday night at Watertown, at the Newton lines by Watertown police on charges of murder and robbery. For several days prior to the arrest, G. A. Kallman, a Pinkerton detective from Boston had been watching at the Newton postoffice for Boville. Mail for 145 Galen st. where Boville had been rooming, is delivered from the Newton postoffice and the Pinkertons had learned that Boville was stopping at the Galen street address. He had been working at a nursery on Watertown st. Boville's trail was picked up by a letter mailed to him at the Newton postoffice from his wife in Brooklyn, New York. On July 13, 1935 a 56 year old storekeeper was murdered at Avon, New Jersey when his market was robbed. Boville a former resident of Long Branch, New Jersey, is accused of having been one of those involved in the robbery and murder. He was taken back to New Jersey last Friday by police from that State.

Newton Centre Baby Causes Excitement

Diana Van der Voort, age 1, of 706 Beacon st., Newton Centre, caused much excitement last Monday on Bedford st., Boston. The baby's mother, Mrs. Mary Van der Voort had taken the child to Boston in her automobile. She parked the car near the Jordan Marsh store and locked it while she went on a business errand. The baby was in a swinging seat suspended from the roof of the car. While the mother was absent one of the chains suspending the seat broke and the infant fell head downward. Passersby observed the child's plight and notified a policeman who broke a window in the car to rescue the baby. A fragment of glass slightly cut the baby's forehead. It was taken to the Haymarket Relief Hospital for treatment.

Gave Firearm To Minor, Fined $200

Theron Gleason of 171 Melrose st., Auburndale, was arraigned in the Newton court last Friday on the charge of giving a firearm to a minor. On April 19 George Brown of 25 Riverside st., Auburndale, was shot in the arm while leaving his home by a bullet which came from a revolver accidentally fired by William Armstrong of 17 Riverside st. The police learned that Armstrong had obtained the pistol from Gleason in exchange for an old German firearm. Gleason told Judge Allen he did not know he was violating the law. He was given a suspended fine of $200.

Charged With Drunken Driving

Everett Hopkins of Great Plain ave., Needham, was arrested on Sunday night charged with drunkenness and driving a car while under the influence of liquor. About 9 o'clock a car allegedly driven by Hopkins hit a car driven by William Doull of Needham on Needham st., Newton Highlands. Doull stopped Hopkins and asked him for his license and registration. It is alleged that Hopkins presented a license issued to his wife, Doull notified police headquarters and a police cruising car with Patrolmen McCormick and Murphy picked up Hopkins on Oak st., Newton Upper Falls. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Monday and his case continued until May 29.

Automobile Accidents

Cars driven by Priscilla Jones, 21 Standish street, Newton Highlands, and Muriel Ferrington, Somerville, collided at Washington st. and Commonwealth ave. on Saturday at 4:30 p. m. Mrs. Jones' car overturned and she received an injury to her back.

William Hogan, 11, of Broadway, Cambridge, was hit by a car driven by Forrest Ross of Brighton on Sunday afternoon at Commonwealth avenue near Sumner st., Newton Centre. The boy was riding a bicycle when the accident occurred. He was slightly injured.

Two children were hit by automobiles in this city on Saturday. Thomas Ormsby of 204 Ward street, Newton Centre, was struck by a car driven by Sterling Thomas of Newbury st., Newton Centre, and slightly injured. The accident occurred on Commonwealth ave. near Norumbega park. A car driven by Elvira Maconi of Walnut Hill rd., Newton Highlands, hit and slightly injured Martha Merrill, 3, of 130 Warren street, Newton Centre, on that street. Miss Maconi in trying to avoid the child steered the car into a tree.

In Court For Not Removing Rubbish

Mrs. Ida Bornstein of Dorchester, owner of a business block on Union st., Newton Centre, was given a suspended fine of $10 in the Newton Court on Friday for failure to remove rubbish from the rear of the building. Leo Quint of Watertown, occupant of an upholstery store in the building, charged with a similar offence, had his case placed on file. Inspector House of the Newton Health Department testified he had warned the defendants several times.
